MIXED POETRY

January and February have passed through
And the pleasant month of March too;
But April, with its dusty showers
Its end so close can count it by hours.
And May is coming soon,
Followed by the month of June.
Some do say that one day in May
We will all see a very discouraging day.
We hope that all prophets fail
In saying that we'll be dashed with Halley's comet's tail,
It certainly is our earnest desire
That our end shall not be in a monstrous fire.
But we will leave it as it is.
'And will say something that may not come amiss.
'Tis very true, we all know
That in a city they have much to show.
When you go to the city, go only for pleasure,
Trade at home to benefit your own treasure.
In a town there is always a throng,
But divided; some for right and some for wrong.
Try and exterminate the obnoxious weed
And thereby "See Plattsmouth Succeed."
A few words more and we are through
'Tis for the benefit of you and you.
We have Furniture, Carpets and Rugs galore
Please remember you're welcome at our store.

Respectfully yours,

Special Council Meeting Called

A special meeting of the city council has been called by Mayor Sattler for Saturday evening at eight o'clock in the council chamber for the hearing of Gering & Co., against whom a remonstrance was filed for a druggists permit at the last council meeting. It is claimed by the signers of the paper that the said company have failed to make the required semi annual report of the amount of spirituous liquor sold, to whom it was sold and for what purpose. A permit for the dispensing of the wet goods was given the other druggists of the city but the Gering permit was held up pending the hearing which has now been called for Saturday night. Mr. Gering of Omaha was in the city yesterday seeing about the matter and considerable interest has been aroused among the citizens to see what the outcome of the affair will be.

Good Rains in Missouri.

J. P. Falter returned today from a visit at Tusculumbia, Miller county, Missouri, where he owns a large amount of farm land. He reports the condition of a large crop in that section are ideal. The cold snap did not penetrate into that country and they were having an abundance of rain. It rained a little every day he was there and many days before he arrived so the roads were quite muddy. The outlook for the coming fruit crop was fine and the farmers in the "Show-me" state were in fine spirits. Reports from many sections in the east and south show bountiful rains but still no prospects are visible for moisture in this part of Nebraska and the small grain are said to be set back nearly a month in their growth.

The Water Wheel.

The water wheel is probably the oldest method of obtaining mechanical force apart from the employment of animal force. This wheel was no doubt at first worked by a flowing river and then by a falling stream, and it would not be a very great advance on this method to dam back the stream so as to obtain a continuous supply of force even in times of drought. Such storing of water at a sufficiently high level is the simplest method of storing force. If carefully arranged the loss by evaporation and leakage is small and may be partly or wholly replaced by rain, so the force is always available, and but little labor is needed to keep such works in repair. The water clock of the Romans was an elaboration of this method of storing force and was for them the only form of "motor."

Two Friends Fall Out.

Adam Zawfox—They say Rockefeller's income is $24,000,000 a year. What'd you do if you had all that money?
Job Sturky—Gosh, I know wot I'd do with part of it! I'd treat you to a Turkish bath.
(They fight.)—Chicago Tribune.

Cheating Father Time.

"So," remarked a gentleman who was calling on a fascinating widow, "you are mamma's little man?"
"Not when they's gentlemen calling," answered the widow's young hopeful. "Then I'm mamma's baby boy."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

The teak, which has passed into proverb as the best material for shipbuilding, is superior to all other woods from the fact that it contains an essential oil which prevents spikes and nails driven into it from rusting. This property is not possessed by any other wood in the world and furnishes an explanation of the fact that ships built of teak are practically indestructible. Some have been known to last for 150 years, and when broken up their beams were as sound as when first put together.
