Editor Olive of Weeping Water Talks About His Visit in Plattsmouth.

WAS MUCH PLEASED WITH RECEPTION

Plattsmouth Commercial Club Credit for Being a Live Bunch.

Why we print a portion of the many good things which Editor Olive of the Weeping Water Republican had to say after getting home from the meeting of the Cass county Editorial association in this city last week. Several other editors who were present have expressed themselves favorably with their reception, and in fact all of them have, but unfortunately we lost their papers in the mass of exchanges which come to our table and cannot publish the good things said by all of them.

It remained for the Cass county editors to break the cold spell which despoiled our fruit crop and bring about on Tuesday the 19th a nice warm day with the sun doing business. It was on that date that Commercial Club of Plattsmouth welcomed to the city and tendered a banquet to the editors of Cass county.

In the afternoon the visitors made the rounds of the B. & M. shops, inspecting the making and repairing of engines and cars.

The next place visited was the shirt factory and while not permitted to carry off a garment there was not a visitor who did not wish he had an extra clean shirt.

Bro. Barrows of the News then escorted his distinguished visitors (we had not arrived at that time) to the county jail. It had been planned we resume, to lock them all in and then let them work their way out, but this theme fell through as they remembered the jailer's wife always is Johnny the spot, and while they might gain liberty in a few minutes, the fear of poking into a gun was not a pleasant feature. It is really too bad that they did not let that bunch out.

At about seven o'clock the editors began business session and some important subjects were discussed that all result beneficially we hope, and bring about a better feeling among the newspaper men and patrons.

The meeting was followed by the amusements to the banquet hall in the oates block. It was a welcome arrangement and the hearts of the editors beat responsively and quickly they filed in and were conducted to the head of the tables, which looked very inviting as arranged by the ladies of the Presbyterian church to served the several course expeditiously and each course was dainty and tastily arranged.

On account of sickness Editor May was not present.

There was probably little more in 100 permitted to enjoy this feast of the body and soul, and we candidly confess that the hospitality there displayed by members of the Commercial club and by the editor of the News, Barrows will ever be remembered by the visitors. The M. W. A. orchestra supplied the music and the orchestra now to deliver the goods.

Barrows disclosed not only a friendliness on the part of the Commercial club for the Press, but the large number present showed a harmony of feeling and a tendency to get together for a bigger and better Plattsmouth. We trust they will succeed in making Plattsmouth succeed. The editor extends thanks for the reception and will only say that every thing else we have attended to since that feast at Plattsmouth week our opinion of newspaper men has gone up just 100 per cent. and has been on that and not lose a

What do our business men think of this city where 100 business men will be present at a banquet? It shows more interest than was shown at a meeting to elect officers was never held for lack of a sum. There is a good friendly feeling among the business men of Weeping Water, and they work together. That is good, but they should be ganized.

George Greenway, a traveling agent for the Olson Photo company, who has his home in Omaha, was in this city a short time on his way to southern part of the state where he is after the interests of the commercial photo printing business.

BRYAN NOMINATED FOR PRESIDENT

Illinois Prohibitionists Endorse Prominent Nebraskan.

At a county convention of prohibitionists held in Nashville, Ill., last Wednesday a resolution was heartily passed endorsing William Jennings Bryan for the presidency on a prohibition ticket.

Plattsmouth Man Elected.

R. B. Windham, the well known Plattsmouth man, had considerable honor bestowed upon him yesterday while in Lincoln, in being elected one of the two representatives of the First congressional district of the Knights and Ladies of Security. The election was made at the district convention which was held in the Bohanan block at Lincoln and Mr. Windham is to act as one of the four representatives of the state at the supreme council at Springfield, Ill., next June.

J. H. Kreps of Lincoln was elected as the other representative of the district and J. C. Vanier of Dubois and Mrs. Marie McCreary of Falls City were elected as alternates. All of the four persons above named were candidates for representatives and three ballots were taken in making the election. Delegates representing all the rest of the state were chosen at another meeting held in Omaha yesterday. It is quite a distinction for Mr. Windham to be one of the chosen four of the entire state who will represent the lodge at the big convention in the spring.

Burned a Pile of Rubbish.

"Bob" Bates was trying to get rid of his afternoon sheets in the usual manner this morning but he built his bon fire a little close to Waterman's lumber sheds and the gusty wind transplanted a few sparks of journalism into a rubbish heap adjoining the sheds and the result was the place broke out into a flame. The fire bell was rung up but before the hose cart arrived the fire brigade of the Journal force had come to the rescue and saved the day with a bucket of water. Had the fire not been discovered in time, it would have developed into a merry blaze with the strong wind to fan it through the dry frame buildings of the lumber yard. Following the recent action taken by the city council to get busy on the rubbish in the back yards, it served as a good reminder to clean up.

To Start Can Business.

Willis Sharp and Frank Johnson are laying plans for a new company which they expect to launch in a short time in Omaha. Mr. Johnson returned but a few days ago from an extended stay in Florida and other southern states where he was working as an engineer on one of the railroads, so the plans for the new concern have not had time to materialize to a great extent as yet. It is the intention of the young men to lease a building in Omaha and equip it with the necessary machinery for the manufacture of a patent tin can which is the invention of Lee Sharp, a former Plattsmouth man who now runs a machine and tin working shop in the metropolis. The can, when finished, is seamless and being made any size desired its uses are unlimited. The Plattsmouth boys expect to find a ready market for the product as soon as their plant is in operation.

At the Court House.

Final settlement was made today in the Dabner T. Thacker estate and the administrator H. N. Dovey was discharged. The estate has become well known to the court house officials for it has extended over a considerable length of time, the will being contested until the court costs have amounted to over $200. The estate consisted of quite a valuable farm near Union. The case was in the hands of D. O. Dwyer.

A case was started in district court today to quiet title on a piece of farm land south west of Murray, the plaintiffs in the case being John H. Spangler and John W. Lloyd the defendant Peleg Davis, et al.

Missouri Pacific Jumps Track.

The people who had planned on making an evening trip to Omaha yesterday were somewhat disappointed for Missouri Pacific train 103 which is due here about five, was delayed four or five hours by a derailment at Nebraska City. While traveling at a slow rate of speed just east of that city, the tender jumped the track carrying with it the baggage and mail car. Fortunately neither of the cars turned over and no injuries resulted. The derailment occurred just after the train had entered a deep cut and it was with some difficulty that the cars were reached and placed on the track.

ELEPHANTS HEAR THAT TEDDY COMES

Break Away From Their Keepers and go on a Rampage of Devastation.

TWO MEN SERIOUSLY INJURED BY THE BEASTS

Small Buildings Wrecked and Much Damage Done by Them in Their Frenzy.

DANVILLE, Ill., April 27—Several persons were injured and property damaged to the amount of several thousand dollars when eight bulls and one female elephant of the Ringling show stampeded here today. As the pachyderms were being unloaded after several hours ride from Chicago, one of the bulls made a break for liberty, bowling over the keeper, and escaping. He was followed by seven other bulls. Later when the entire force of trainers and keepers were engaged in the unusual sport of hunting elephants in automobiles, the female escaped. For several hours the elephants were at large, despite the fact that the entire force of police reserves were called into action and gave chase. After escaping the elephants moved for some time in a bunch, then separated. They stopped for nothing, except brick and stone buildings, and small frame structures, coal sheds, fences and trees in their path were pushed aside turned over, uprooted and thrown to one side.

At the home of William Miller, three elephants found that there was not sufficient room for them to pass between the summer kitchen and residence and pushed the kitchen aside badly frightening the persons therein. At the home of Joseph Peebles, after overturning a shed and killing a horse, one of the animals attacked Peebles and hurled him against the side of his residence. He is now in a critical condition.

Barney O'Neal, leveryman, was thrown from his wagon when the herd of elephants dashed down a side street and in front of his team. F. Krabbe, one of the keepers, who was assisting in the taking of three of the bulls into their quarters in the cars, after their capture, late today, was huled against the side of a nearby barn and seriously injured. Other persons were slightly injured when horses were frightened or through their own fright during the stampede. More than 100 homes were visited by the elephants and the damage will probably aggregate $9,000 or $10,000.

Truck gardens, orchards and many buildings were absolutely ruined in the north and northeast outskirts of the city by some of the elephants, while shade trees and residences were greatly damaged by those who went to the southward toward the business district.

Tonight one elephant is still at large two or three miles north of the city and a force of attendants with bulls and females were sent forth to effect a capture if possible.

MYNARD

Fresh breezes from the north has been the order several days last week. The wind blew very hard making it very unpleasant for the farmers working in the field.

The price of porkers has somewhat declined. Yet Gillispie and Snyder are in business shipping. They shipped a fine load to South Omaha last week.

John Schwartz living one mile north of town shelled and delivered his corn in Mynard last week.

Arthur Vilas of Omaha visited with W. B. Porter and family Arbor day. Arthur has a position in one of the Omaha banks.

Our M. P. agent returned his glittering charge "diamond ring" to the jeweler in Nebraska City Saturday. All News readers are familiar with the diamond ring case.

On account of the cold and dry weather no corn has been planted, although farmers are getting their corn ground in excellent shape for planting.

R. L. Propst transacted business in Ralston, Omaha and Council Bluffs last week, necessitating an absence of several days.

Some of our boys belonging to the Plattsmouth high school team played the Weeping Water nine last Saturday, got stung 14 to 3. Weeping Water had to use their academy team to down Platts.

Willie Propst drove to Ralston last Saturday by the way of Louisville. He visited with his brother Thayer over Sunday.

Coon Valley and Geo. Snyder were sight seeing in Omaha last week.

Nelson Murray's household goods have arrived from Tacoma, Washington, having been in transit almost a month and were considerably damaged.

Frank Marler has improved his residence by adding a nice large porch on the north side.

A number of Mynardites attended the picnic given by the Rogk Bluff school last Friday. Miss Eva Porter, teacher.

Henry Maxwell of Omaha visited friends and relatives several days last week.

Miss Eva Pertor has taken up a line of work in Nebraska city, so you

RUTH TO TAKE ENGLISH TREATMENT

Engaged to Marry an Army Officer in the Johnny Bull Army.

Morning papers announce that Ruth Bryan Leavitt, daughter of the three time presidential candidate, will try another shy at the matrimonial game. This time it is a British Army officer by the name of Lietenant Reginald Altham Owen. The wedding will be pulled off at Fairview next Tuesday and the happy couple will start right out on their spoonynhon, landing in England in the not far dim distant future. The American people will all join in wishing that her second venture will be prolific of much happiness for the poor girl deserves to be happy, as her first marriage was not a howling success.

Just Between us Girls (By Sister Mary.)

"How much can we marry on?" That is the question every man asks whether his salary be $10 a week or a hundred.

The question depends entirely upon the girl.

Of course if the lady of his heart is obliged to have six hats every season a new $75 tailored suit every time the styles change, and evening dresses, negligees, afternoon gowns, and furs and feathers in proportion, even the young man who makes his hundred a week had better run, for it's more likely that she will have a taste for expensive restaurants, matinees twice a week, maids and automobiles likewise, and five thousand a year, while it's mighty good salary, won't permit a young couple to live like multi-millionaires.

Now if, on the other hand, the girl is a sensible girl, who can cook her own meals, clean her own house, and make her own clothes, even the man with only $10 a week may take heart and feel that there is some hope for him.

But he'd better be sure that he's getting the real domestic article, and not a fake.

Many a young man has eaten salad and layer cake which Sadie's mama made, but which he thought was concocted by Sadie's own fair hands.

Seriously, a young couple can marry on a pretty small income and live on it too, if they will remember two or three important things.

The first of these important things is not to pay too much rent. Better are two rooms and a kitchenette at a decent rent than four rooms with all the improvements and two-thirds of the pay envelope going to the landlord.

Fix this point firmly in your minds—you should not pay more than one fourth of your entire income for rent—and not that if you can live in any sort of decency and comfort for less.

There's no use of my saying that a woman should always do her own marketing if she doesn't want to be cheated.

There are precious few butchers who won't add a few cents to the price of a steak when you are not there to see it weighed, and it's the small oranges and the dried up celery that the green-grocer sends around if you don't pick them out yourself.

There is a big saving in this way, and when the pennies must be carefully counted you'll find it pays to attend to these matters.

Now for one other thing—always live with a little margin of your income to save. If it's only a dollar a week, save it and put it in the savings bank, where you'll have it if sickness or trouble come to you.

If you don't need to draw it out, why, it will gather a little interest, and will be ready when the time comes to buy that little home in the suburbs that you're always dreaming of, with its garden and its comfortable porch and its cheery, homelike fireplace.

It's the worst thing you can do to live right up to the last dollar in your pockets every week.

And there's another pitfall for the average young couple and that is in trying to furnish all at once and often running into debt for a dining room set that is far too grand for you.

Buy a piece at a time and get only the absolute essentials. Your house will grow more perfect from week to week, and will be much more of a pleasure to you than if you buy everything at once.

It doesn't matter much what the salary is if the girl is all right and willing to be careful and economizing and make her simple little home a palace of happiness, with her neat ways and her cheery, heartening smile.

And O, isn't life good when you're young and love each other and you can live in and enjoy your little home.

Don't wish to be wealthy—happiness isn't bought with money. It must be purchased with sympathy, tenderness, forbearance and jollity.

Edward Johnson of Lincoln an engineer on the Burlington, was in the city today for a brief visit at the home of his father, J. W. Johnson.

ROOSEVELT FOR SENATE

Agitation in New York Started For the Purpose of His Election.

TO/SUCCEED THE HON. SENATOR DEPEW

Movement Made for Purpose of Strengthening Republican Ticket There.

WASHINGTON D. C. April 27—Theodore Roosevelt for the United States senate as successor to Chauncey Depew. This is the way the political prophets and wisecracks in Washington have the situation in New York state figured out today.

They arrive at this conclusion from many different viewpoints, but there is apparently a consensus of opinion that this suggestion offers a solution to a multitude of problems confronting the republican party, not only in the Empire state but the nation at large.

In the general discussion of the situation growing out of the appointment of Governor Hughes to the supreme court bench, it already has been agreed that his retirement from politics leaves Colonel Roosevelt as the probable dictator of the party in New York state.

The party leaders in Washington realize and they believe Mr. Roosevelt will come to realize the same thing that the exigencies in New York demand a strong factor in the race this fall if the republicans are to gain success at the polls.

With Roosevelt as candidate for the senate, it is predicted that the republican party would easily retain control of the legislature and that the Roosevelt personality in the campaign would bring success to the entire state ticket.

Farewells for Rev. Mr. Moore.

A farewell reception was given Rev. Luther Moore last evening by the members of the Christian church, from which he has recently resigned as pastor. The party was held at the residence of William Renner and was largely attended by the minister's many admirers in the church whom he so capably served during his work in the city. Light refreshments were served and it was with sincere feeling that the many church goers bade the pastor and his wife and daughter Laura farewell and wished them success at their new home. The family will leave on the midnight train Friday for Columbus, Kansas where Mr. Moore has accepted a church.

On Tuesday evening, the members of Mr. Moore's bible class "The loyal sons" held a farewell reception for him at the residence of "Diek" Osborn and toward the close of the meeting kindly remembered him, with a beautiful seal ring as a slight token of their esteem toward the pleasant gentleman. The minister has been in the city for nearly two years having come here from a town in Missouri. During his short service in the city he has won many strong friends and admirers by his loyal work for the church and his removal from the city is a cause of deep regret to the members of the Christian church.

Car Load of Crockery.

H. M. Soenichsen one of the leading grocers of the city, has received an unusually large shipment of crockery which he is having unloaded today. It is an entire car load of goods which he purchased direct from the factory at Whitehall, Illinois. The shipment consists of nearly everything that is turned out of a crockery factory, jugs, jars, flower pots, chures, etc., and the cost of the ware is well up in the hundreds. He has taken large orders from many different dealers in the city which he is filling today and the remainder of the car load he will have stored in a building on lower Main street.

Former Resident Sick.

Mrs. M. C. Hiatt received a telegram from her sister Mrs. C. M. Holmes of Havelock, reporting her condition to be very low. Mrs. Holmes will be remembered by many of the old residents here for she lived in the city many years prior to her removal to Havelock where she has resided for some time. She has been in rather poor condition since last fall when she suffered a paralytic stroke from which she never really recovered. Her condition is now thought to be very serious and Mrs. Hiatt will probably leave for her bedside either today or tomorrow.
