They Get Theirs.

Two drunks were brought before Hizzoner this morning and were given a chance to tell the judge their troubles, but neither yarn seemed to go especially strong with the judge for he fined them each $1.00 and trimmings. They were John Roach and Charles Bailey, the former from Creston, Ia., Roach said he had come here to look for a job in the shops but he got to rushing the growler yesterday afternoon too close to the main drag and he came under the eagle eye of the big chief who roped him in and placed him in the corral for the night. He plead guilty this morning of being somewhat polluted and decided to lay out his fine in the county jail. Charley Bailey was brought before the judge this morning for being mixed up in a family squabble last night and disturbing the peace in general. For this he was also given the stipulated amount for which he gave security, with a promise to fork over the cash within a few days.

Deputy Sheriff Manspeaker took a trip to Cedar Creek this morning and brought back with him Frank Podloek, a laborer at the stone quarries, against whom a dipomaniac charge was made a few days ago. He will have his hearing before the committee this afternoon. This makes nearly a dozen lodgers in the Manspeaker apartments which is nearly a full house at the old shack.

Miss Dovey In Play.

Miss Katherine Dovey is to hold one of the leading parts this spring and is to sing some of the main solos in "A Mid-summer Nights Dream" to be given by the Senior class of the Gerton school at Winnetka, Illinois of which Miss Dovey is a member. It is the big annual production of the Seniors which is always considered quite an affair by the different classes of the school. Miss Dovey's talent is well known in this city and there is no doubt but what she will take well in the old Shakespearian play.

At the Court House.

An order was given to David Sheeley of Alvo by the county judge this morning for the sending of his son Edward to an institution for feeble minded. The lad is about fourteen years of age and it is hoped that proper treatment may bring him out all right.

Waverly T. Allen of Weeping Water was brought before the board of insanity this afternoon at five o'clock and examined to determine the soundness of his mind. He has been confined in the asylum before and a complaint has again been made claiming that his actions are becoming very peculiar.

James Archer drew his first naturalization papers at the court house today having lived in this county since 1870 without casting a single vote. He hailed from England many years ago and once decided to become one of Uncle Sam's citizens but before his second papers were drawn, he moved from the place, lost the papers and no trace of them nor of their registration could ever be found. He has lived in Plattsmouth for about twenty-five years but has never gone through the legal process of becoming a full fledged citizen.

County teachers examination is being held in the office of Miss Foster today. Those who are laboring over the questions are Fern Kline, Cedar Creek; Ethel Hayne, Pacific Junction; Anna Rep, Minnie Jess, Anna Morley, Marie Hobscheidt, Bessie Edwards and Elizabeth Kerr, Plattsmouth.

Board adjourned to meet May 18th, 1910.

Board met pursuant to adjournment, present C. R. Jordan, L. D. Switzer, and M. L. Friedrich, county commissioners and D. C. Morgan, County Clerk.

The following was adopted by the Board after having viewed the proposed road: Whereas, on the 18th day of May 1910, at an adjourned meeting of the Board of the County Commissioners, upon verbal petition of the land owners adjoining, for a road on section line between Sections 21 and 28, Town 12, Range 13, east of the 6th P. M. Cass County, Nebraska.

It is therefore resolved by the Commissioners that a road be opened on section line as follows: Commencing at the S. E. corner of Sec. 21, thence running west on section line one half mile between sections 21 and 28, Town 12, Range 13.

Monday June 6th was the day set for filing remonstrances or claims for damages on said road.

Board adjourned to meet June 7, 1910.

D. C. Morgan, County Clerk.

from which were found yesterday by the officers at the home of Jesse Blunt. Last evening Sampson Karnes was located and sent to the county attorney where he told his story about finding the goods near the M. P. tracks, a short distance from the Platte river a few days ago. He explained that he and "Dump" Blunt were walking along the track when the goods were noticed by Blunt who called his partner's attention to it. Upon investigating they found the packages and bolts but they proceeded to LaPlatte without molesting the stuff, it not being known by Karnes that Blunt took the goods to his byother's home.

THE FIRST WOMAN.

An Old Eastern Legend That Tells How She Was Created.

The last section "Of a Finger of the Moon Reopened by the Setting Sun" in the Sanskrit work called the "Surging of the Ocean of Time" contains a legend concerning woman's creation which is commonly credited throughout India and which runs somewhat as follows: At the beginning of time Twashtri, the Vulcan of Hindoo mythology, created the world. But when he wished to create a woman he found he had employed all his materials in the creation of man. There did not remain one solid element. Then Twashtri, perplexed, fell into a profound meditation. He roused himself to do as follows: He took the lightness of the leaf and the glance of the fawn, the gayety of the sun's rays and tears of the mist, the inconsistency of the wind and the timidity of the hare, the vanity of the peacock and the softness of the down on the throat of the swallow, the harshness of the diamond, the sweet flavor of honey, the cruelty of the tiger, the warmth of fire, the chill of snow, the chatter of the jay and the cooing of the turtle-dove. He melted all these and formed a woman. Then he made a present of her to man. Eight days later the man came to Twashtri and said: "My lord, the creature you gave me reasons my existence. She chatters without rest, she takes all my time, she laments for nothing at all and is always ill." And Twashtri received the woman again. But eight days later the man came again to the god and said:

"My lord, my life is very solitary since I returned this creature. I remember she danced before my singing. I recall how she glanced at me from the corner of her eye, that she played with me, clung to me." And Twashtri returned the woman to him. Three days only passed, and Twashtri saw the man coming to him again.

"My lord," said he, "I do not understand exactly how, but I'm sure the woman causes me more annoyance than pleasure. I beg of you relieve me of her."

But Twashtri cried, "Go your way and do your best!"

And the man cried, "I cannot live with her!"

"Neither can you live without her," replied Twashtri.

And the man went sorrowfully away, murmuring: "Woe is me. I can neither live with her nor without her."

The Filipino Judge.

A former official in the Philippines tells this story of a native judge:

I came home one day just in time to see a thief climbing out the window with the better part of my wardrobe. I gave chase so earnestly that the thief finally dropped the clothes in the street and disappeared. As I gathered up my belongings a native policeman came along and insisted on arresting me. He took me before a Filipino judge, where I told my story very plainly and emphatically.

When I had finished the judge said, "You are dismissed, but you may leave the clothes here."

"But why?" I insisted angrily.

"Because," said he, with sage deliberation, "how can I tell that you speak the truth? When the thief comes back to identify these clothes as the ones he stole you may have them."—Youth's Companion.
