

International Press Bible Question Club.

We commence today the publication of a series of suggestive questions on the International Sunday School Lessons. For some time past these weekly questions have been stirring a great deal of national interest. They are published in nearly a thousand newspaper towns and are studied by million of readers. They are received warmly by the public and enthusiastically endorsed by clergymen of all the churches. Sunday school superintendents, teachers, and adult Bible class scholars use them in every town where they are published, and the general public are much interested.

Contracting for this unique Bible study question service forms the Daily News and its readers into a local club of one of the classes of the International Press Bible Question Club, and gives the right for all our readers to compete for some very valuable prizes. There are four classes organized each year composed of the newspapers which take up the publication of these questions at four different periods, viz.: Those that commence April-June are Class A; July-September are Class B; October-December are Class C, and January

March are Class D. Hence the Daily News local club belongs to Class A. There are fifty valuable prizes to be given to our class. Five solid gold medals, five sterling silver medals, five teachers' bibles, price $5.50 each, and thirty-five copies of the book "The Heart of Christianity," price $1.50 each. The medals are specially designed and engraved and each will be inscribed with the name of the winner. The conditions of the contest are so simple that any person can comply with them. The contest will not commence until the questions have been published thirteen weeks, in order to give everybody a chance to become familiar with them. One condition is that the questions must be read each week and as the Daily News will be necessary for this, you had better send in your subscription on the attached coupon, getting the advantage of our special price for new subscribers.

The Question Club Contest lasts sixty-five (65) weeks. Fill out coupon and enclose money for subscription. Covering the Entire Period at the rate of $3 for out of town subscriptions and $1 for city.

Burned at Foundry.

Fred Gerber, a young man whose home is at Avo, Mo., was painfully burned yesterday afternoon at the brass foundry of the Burlington shops. He had been employed in the machine shops as helper for several months and was transferred to the foundry but two days ago. The helper was working over a piece of brass when the warning was given to look out for the metal pot. In hurrying through the doorway, he saw an iron rod in his way, taking both hands he pushed it from him, not realizing for a few seconds that the bar was nearly red hot and that the palms of his hands had been frightfully burned. The rod which he had taken in his hand was a skimmer's stick used in skimming and stirring the molten brass. Gerber was hurried to the company physician who dressed the burns and partially relieved him of the pain. He was not able to report for duty but is remaining in his room at the Perkins House.

out into the yard to feed the chickens and the sheriff was standing at the back door, when Allen picked up a pair of trousers and asked the sheriff how they would do for the trip. Mr. Quinton replied they were good enough for any man, and with the garment over his arm, the man stepped into a bedroom across from the kitchen saying "I'll put them on and be with you in just a second." He pulled the folding door of the room partly shut and proceeded to change his clothes. The man had been in the room but a few minutes when a report startled the officer who was standing a few yards from the door. He hurriedly entered the room and beheld the man sitting on the floor in front of the dresser, his head in a drooping position and a smoking 58 in his right hand. As the sheriff opened the door the little boy came into the house, having finished his chores. Quickly pulling the door in order that the lad could not see his father, the sheriff hurried him across the street to the home of R. E. Contryman, returning a moment later with Contryman and Wm. Cherry, County Coroner B. J. Clements, of Plattsmouth and undertaker E. Ratnour were immediately summoned and the body was not touched until the coroner arrived a short while later. It was found that Allen had taken off his shoes changed his trousers, placing his money and keys into the pockets of the new ones, and was evidently about to put on his coat when he noticed the revolver in the trunk, and on the impulse of the moment, he pressed the muzzle against his right temple and pulled the trigger. Death was instantaneous. In the opened trunk in one corner of the room lay his coat and vest all ready to put on when it is supposed, his eyes fell upon the weapon.

The coroner on arrival did not deem it necessary to hold an inquest, but on account of family troubles and the members of the household being in different parts of the country, some of the men present thought it best to have a jury name the cause of the death. The jury was immediately impeached from the people at the residence and verdict was given that he had met death by a revolver wound in the head caused by his own hand.

Allen was a man of about sixty years, having lived in this section of the country for years and at one time being very well to do. He was a miller by trade and had owned a large mill at Plattsmouth and later worked in the mills at Cascade and Weeping Water. He had been married twice, having by both marriages, eight or nine children. The deceased has been in the state insane asylum and in the inebriate asylum about two years ago. The last few years of his life he had spent dealing as a junk man and at the time of his death he had over $500 worth of old metal at his place. Interment will probably be made tomorrow in a cemetery near Rock Bluff.

Played Joke at Louisville.

A bunch of practical jokers over at Louisville the other night tried to scare the natives out of a few years of their growth by setting off a quantity of dynamite about the time Halley's hobo was due to commence its capers. Six or eight former quarry employes made a haul of several sticks of dynamite from the company powder house and buried it under some big rocks in the south part of town. About 11 o'clock at night the charge was set off with a report which shook the town from one end to the other as though the comet had struck the town pump. A number of residence windows were broken by the explosion and many of the citizens got on their knees for the first time in years.

At the Court House.

M. H. Anthony, government inspector of naturalization papers, was in the city today conducting hearing on the admitting of aliens to full citizenship of the United States. Sven A. Alexen of Louisville was given his second papers, but citizenship was not granted Max Horman on account of one of his witnesses, Nathan Horman, not being a naturalized citizen of this country.

Final settlement was made today in the Anna Krowlek estate, the administrator, Wm. J. Streight, being discharged.

An order was made this morning by District Judge Travis, directing the city council to revoke the druggist's permit granted by them to Gering & Co., on April 50.

J. A. Lloyd of Cedar Creek was a caller at the county seat last night.

GOOD NEWS FROM REPRESENTATIVE MCGUIRE

He Writes that Work on the Post-office Building Should Begin Soon.

D. O. Dwyer of this city has received a letter from Representative McGuire stating that work on the new post-office building should begin about July 1st. The letter has been handed us for publication and is given herewith:

House of Representatives, Washington, May 9, 1910.

D. O. Dwyer, Esq.,
Plattsmouth, Neb.

Dear Sir: I am again awaited upon by J. K. Taylor, Supervising Architect, in the Treasury department, today to ascertain what progress was being made on the drawings, etc., on the proposed Plattsmouth postoffice building and to urge that no delay be had. I was informed that the architectural drawings and plans were just completed and would be checked over in time to advertise for bids on the contract next week. He also advised me that under the regular order of procedure work should begin on the building about July 1st.

Very truly yours,
John A. Maguire, M. C.

Gering Case Goes to Court.

The transcript of record in the matter of application of Gering & Co., for permit to sell malt spirituous liquors in the city, was filed in district court today and the case will probably be brought before Judge Travis for settlement at the first meeting of the court next week. The permit was granted the company by the city council but the prosecuting attorney has entered the case in district court on the grounds that they are not legally entitled to a permit on account of violating a section of the Slocumb law. The complaints that were looked for from the assaults at the special council meeting have not been filed and it is not expected the matter will be revived.

Cigars Pleasd Firemen.

The city firemen met in their regular monthly meeting last night at the council chamber and their customary routine of business was gone through. Before the meeting had progressed very far, it was turned into a smoker by the arrival on the scene of a big box of cigars presented to the boys for their quick work in preventing a serious conflagration at the residence of Frank Cummins a short time ago. The treat greatly pleased the fire boys and they got busy with the weeds until the atmosphere looked like they might have been called to the place for duty. Mr. Cummins, token of appreciation of the firemen was the big hit of the evening and before the meeting was adjourned the boys unanimously gave him a vote of thanks for his remembrance of them.

People with kidney ills want to be cured. When the sufferer has the cure of an acid ing path, relief is eagerly sought for. There are many remedies today that relieve, but do not cure. Here is evidence to prove that Doan's Kidney Pills cure, and the cure is quick.

Frank S. Brinkman, Eleventh st., Plattsmouth, Neb., says: I can vouch for Doan's Kidney Pills, knowing them to be a good kidney remedy. My back at times became so lame that the simplest movement was painful and I had frequent headaches and dizzy spells that caused me no end of annoyance. Mornings on getting up, I could hardly drag myself about. In spite of the many remedies I tried I found no relief until finally I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from Gering & Co's. Drug store. They effected a prompt and permanent cure.

Peanut Stand Makes Trouble.

A little squabble ensued last evening between a well known newspaper man and a prominent ball leader that threatened for awhile to disturb the harmonious and peaceful condition of the base ball situation in our city. The trouble arose over the placing of a peanut stand at the ball grounds by, local confectionary man. The newspaper man had his idea of the stand as well as did the ball fan, and before the argument was settled there was some mixing that looked like bent countenances would result before the dust had cleared. However, things were squared up without any lives being lost but it remains to be seen whether the man will sell his peanuts and chewing gum at the location he desired near the grandstand.

It Didn't Happen. "Miss Zackly," says the inquisitive lady to the schoolteacher, "I have often wondered why you never got married. How does it happen that?"

"It doesn't happen," interrupts the teacher tartly, "because it never happened to happen. I couldn't happen not to be married, could I? If anything happens it has to be a happening, and if a happening does not happen then it neither may happen to happen nor happen not to happen. I trust this explains matters to you, Mrs. Quizzle, and now I understand why it is that your children happen to be so backward with their studies."—Life.

Common taters. One morning a popular young minister was presenting his view upon an important subject under discussion and insisting that he held certain things to be true, the commentators notwithstanding. He contended, "I hold this to be true even though the commentators disagree with me, and again I say even though the commentators disagree with me." At this point an old lady was seen to leave the church. On his way home from the service the minister was met by this old lady bearing a basket. She stopped and handed it to him, saying, "Dear brother, I heered you say the common taters disagree with you, so I've brought you a basket of Virginia vams."—National Month-
