

POPULAR WEDDING

Ceremony Solemnized Last Night at the German Lutheran Church.

SATTLER-WARGA WEDDING KNOT WAS TIED.

Couple Left This Evening For Month's Honeymoon Trip Through the East.

(From Thursday's Daily)
A pretty church wedding of one of Plattsmouth's most prominent young couples occurred last evening when Miss Ella M. Sattler and Mr. Jesse Warga entered the bonds of matrimony at the little German-Lutheran church in the city. The services of the evening were in charge of Rev. Mr. Langhorst of Nebraska City, who was very ably assisted by Rev. Mr. Steiger of the local church.

The ceremony was solemnized at the hour of eight, when the bridal party appeared at the rear of the church being led by the ministers the groom and the best man, who were followed by the flower girls prettily clad in white and carrying large bunches of pink sweet peas. The little ring bearer carried the gold circle in a beautiful pink rose, an unusually large and perfect one. At the rear of the bridal procession led by the ushers was the bride's father, bearing on his arm, the pretty bride, gowned in white satin, and wearing a long lace veil. In her arms she carried a fragrant bunch of large white roses. The maid of honor was dressed in white and lavender, and carried a bouquet, a cluster of white sweet peas. The bridesmaids wore gowns of lavender and of blue silk, and held in their arms bunches of rose blossoms.

To the well known strains of Lohengren's wedding march, most capably rendered by Miss Mumm, the party proceeded to the altar where they paused, forming a semi-circle with the ministers and bride and groom in the center. The pretty and effective ring ceremony was carried out according to the general custom and the happy couple were declared by the officiating minister as man and wife. Immediately following, the organist opened the stops, sending forth the joyful music of Mendelssohn's wedding march and the party left the little edifice, making their way to the home of the bride where a jolly reception was held until the roosters crowed this morning.

At the big gathering were hundreds of the couple's friends who joined in the feast which was spread and helped make merry until the hours of evening had stealthily crept away and the clock was announcing the midnight hour. During the evening a short program was carried out consisting of a reading by Miss Marie Douglass, instrumental numbers by Misses Pearl Mumm and Olga Sattler, and a vocal selection by Miss Ferris York. The fine refreshments, ice cream, cake and many other things, were supplied in bountiful numbers and there were good "hand outs" for the numerous charivari parties which surrounded the place.

The maid of honor at the ceremony was Miss Marie Longhorst of Nebraska City, the bride's maids, Misses Olga and Anna Warga. The flower girls were Frieda and Katherine Lutz, the ring bearer, little Marjery Chrissinger, Joseph Warga of Denver, brother of the groom, was the best man, while Peter Herold, of Pekin, Ill., and Carl Sattler acted as ushers. The bride is a very popular young lady in the refined social circles of the city. She was a wielder of the switch and rule until a short time ago. The groom is known as a "good Indian" among his many friends, not only with his younger acquaintances but also with the business men of the city, whom he has become intimate with during his connection with the Nebraska Lighting company. The popularity of the couple might well be judged by the scores of handsome presents which were sent them by their many relatives and friends. The gifts numbered in the neighborhood of 500.

The newly-weds departed at 5 o'clock this evening, amid a shower of rice and ancient foot gear, for a month's trip through the east, expecting to make visits at Pekin, Chicago and a number of places in Ohio. On their return, they will set up house keeping at the Davis house, corner of Eleventh and Vine streets.

M. D. Pollard of Nehawka was among the out of town visitors in the city today.

Burlington Crop Report.
"Winter wheat has shown marked improvement the last two weeks and is heading out strong over the entire territory. Wheat is thin on the ground and until harvest it is impossible to make any estimate.

"Oats in very best of condition over entire territory, were never better for this season of the year.

"Spring wheat on the O'Neill line and what little is grown in the rest of the territory is in very good condition.

"About five to ten per cent of the corn has been replanted and some of the replanted corn is now up. Corn is two or three weeks backward over the entire division, is a little uneven stand, but very good color. The past three or four days have made a decided improvement in corn.

"Have had heavy rains over entire grain belt the last two weeks and so could not be in better condition so far as moisture is concerned.

"First crop of alfalfa an average one. Pastures in excellent condition. Reports now indicate that about fifty per cent of the fruit crop in southern Nebraska. The only thing needed from now on is good warm weather.

Mother of Boy Burglar Here.

Mrs. Eva Morris of Union, mother of the fifteen year old lad, Earl Morris who is now confined in the county jail awaiting the filing of a complaint against him on the charge of store breaking, was in the city today consulting the county judge and attorneys and visiting her boy at the county strong house. No complaint has yet been filed against the lad and at present the county attorney is absent from the city, so no action will be started for a day or two. It is thought the youth gained entrance to a Union hardware store several months ago, making away with a revolver, some knives and several small articles which he later sold in Missouri. He returned home last week and was arrested by the marshall just as he was about to leave town Sunday night. He has been away from home for several years, but the mother is certain he is not guilty of the offence and will endeavor to put him through a course of sprouts at home instead of allowing him to be sent to the state reformatory. He made a complete confession of stealing the goods to the authorities at Union.

Signs of Summer.

The two good old summer signs have appeared in Plattsmouth today and they both are signs that seldom fail to tell the approach of real summer weather. They are the display windows of the novelty stores which make the little tad eyes sparkle with their heaps of brightly colored firecrackers and skyrockets—the forerunners of the Fourth of July and the merry-go-round which is now ready for business at the foot of Pearl street near the Burlington tracks. Tulene brother are again on the ground with their pleasure machine. It is not the new machine which the boys are having made this spring, but it is the old timer that has made many a Plattsmouth lad's heart glad. The machine has been on the ground for the past week, but the men did not get the last of the horses in place until this morning.

Kept Marriage Dark.

M. and Mrs. Charles Mapes were in the city last evening and during their brief stay in town, the news leaked out of their secret marriage which occurred some six months ago. The couple have been keeping this information decidedly on the Q. T. and it is said their parents are not sure that they have the straight of affairs. The bride of half a year used to be known as Miss Ruby Reynolds, daughter of one of the head switchmen on the Burlington. The young lady was one of the assistants at the Glenwood Home for the Feeble Minded until but a short time ago when she gave up her work there. The husband taught school during the winter months of this year, and is now holding a position at the local shops. The news of their marriage will undoubtedly be somewhat of a surprise to a great many Plattsmouth people who are well acquainted with the young couple and their parents.

Pallbearers at Funeral.

Funeral services of the late Andrew C. McMaken were solemnized yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock, from the home of the deceased's brother, H. C. McMaken, the particulars of which occurred in the columns of yesterday's News. The services were in charge of Rev. Mr. L. W. Gade, the music was given by the Episcopal choir. The pallbearers were chosen from the ranks of his old company, The First Nebraska Reserves, which met at the undertaking parlors at 4:30 o'clock. The pallbearers were: Ben Decker, Thomas Fry, James Thomas, Capt. Isaac Wiles, J. W. Johnson, and Ezra Bates.

NO CLUES YET FOUND

Sheriff Quinton Returned From the Search Last Night.

FIVE TRAMPS TAKEN AND EXAMINED, ALL RELEASED

Traces Left by Assault Fled Can Hardly Be Used as Tangible Clues.

Sheriff Quinton returned Wednesday from Avoca by way of Nebraska City, having been in the vicinity of the former place since early Tuesday morning trying to ferret out some tangible clues that might lead to the apprehension of the fiend who assaulted Mrs. Fredericka Schmidt at her little home during the early hours of Tuesday morning. The criminal is no nearer the jail doors today than he was before he committed the assault and there have been no developments that would lead to suspicion anyone. Five different tramps were taken in by the automobile parties that were dispatched through the surrounding country, but none of them seem to have any connection with the case. The belief still exists that the guilty one will not be found in the person of a tramp, but more probably a resident of Avoca or that immediate neighborhood. The two bums were examined at Avoca, three at Nebraska City and one at Dunbar, but in their examinations they clearly showed their innocence in connection with the case and were shortly released. The story which was circulated about a suspect being held at Louisville was simply one of the false tales that are always set afloat when a community is in an excited condition. A drunk was taken into custody but there was no suspicion that he was the man wanted at Avoca. He was released after spending a few hours in the city jail in which he recovered from the effects of his jag. The sheriff stated today that he had not been notified of the arrest there, and phone messages from the town, informed the News that the man was never in any way suspected as being the Avoca criminal.

The hairs pulled from the man's head in the struggle, make a very meagre handful, not numbering more than five bristles. Such a harvest as that might be gleaned from the pate of a bald headed man in the violent struggle which was made. The rope cannot be identified by anyone and the foot prints show no peculiarity. The instrument used in cutting the soft putty from the window casing was probably a pocket knife which was carefully replaced in the man's pocket, as a diligent search of the premises has disclosed no knife or instrument of any description. The injured lady is getting along very well and no serious results are expected.

Puts in Refrigerator.

Soennichsen, one of the city's top notch grocery men, installed a large ice chest and refrigerator today, an output of a Grand Rapids factory. The frigid plant is of sufficient size to hold a large quantity of butter, cream and other grocery articles that must be kept in a cool place.

The chest contains three separate compartments for the storing of goods, curved glass fronts and ice division which holds half a glacier of ice.

Mr. Soennichsen is one of Plattsmouth's old merchants, and he has always kept at the front of his class, holding the same customers for years.

Entertained Omaha Ladies.

Mrs. Thomas Bates entertained a half dozen Omaha ladies yesterday at her rooms in the Riley Hotel. The party arrived on a morning train and enjoyed a jolly dinner together at noon. In the afternoon the guests sat down to bridge tables and indulged in the game until the afternoon was nearly at an end, when a light luncheon was served and the guests left to take the five o'clock train for their return trip. The visitors from Omaha were Mrs. Guy Baker, Mrs. Guy French, Mrs. Ned French, Mrs. Charles Helmer, Mrs. Ralph Shephers and Mrs. Mont Harris.

MYNARD
Mynard, Neb., June 15, 1910.

Mr. W. F. Gillespie and Mont Robb the two Mynard grain buyers must have bulged the market last week as they are receiving and shipping out a large quantity of grain this week.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Probst are intending to drive through to Dillar, Neb., the latter part of the week in their car to visit the latter's brother a few days.

Mr. Dwight Probst the M. P. agent had a slight mixup last evening. His horse became frightened at two horses that were laying alongside of the road and upset the buggy but no damage was done.

Mr. Quinn of the Daily News was in Mynard a few hours with the Maxwell runabout that the News is going to give away. It being a very neat little machine and the lucky party that gets this machine in the contest can consider themselves lucky in drawing it as the Maxwell cars are known all over as being a first class car.

Devoe Versus Haugh.

The forcible detention case of Greenwood involving Edwin F. Devoe as plaintiff and John Haugh as defendant, which was continued from last Friday, was settled this afternoon in justice court, the decision of the judge being found in favor of the plaintiff. Notice was at once given that an appeal would be taken. The property in question is a seven-room house and six lots situated in the village of Greenwood. The place was rented for a period of one year to Haugh by Devoe and notice was given later to vacate the property at the expiration of that time. The renter did not heed the notice, and deposited the next month's rent in the bank; however, the amount was never accepted by the plaintiff, and the money still remains in the bank.

Attorneys Barr and Ramsey had the case in hand. Witnesses for the plaintiff were Albert Welton, Edwin Devoe, Salina Devoe and J. J. Andrus; for the defendant, John Haugh and Maria Haugh.

Red Men Initiate.

The Red Men held initiation last night at their regular meeting at their hall, five braves being put through the cutting process of the big chief's goat. There were several others whose application had been accepted but were not present to take the prescription handed out by the medicine man. Those initiated were Harry Messersmith, Frank Boette, Robert Windham, Jr., Chas. L. Graves of Union and Wm. Slera of Rock Bluff. A light banquet followed the goat's performance. A report from the Fourth of July committee showed the celebration was going through with the vim that is usually connected with the order's movements and that over $300 was in the hands of the treasurer for the starter on the fund. Two different carnival companies are under consideration. One of them will probably be decided on this evening at the meeting of the committee which has the celebration in charge. At the meeting of the Eagles last night it was decided to enter a float in the Independence Day parade and a committee was appointed to arrange for it.

Bride and Groom at Depot.

Jesse Warga and wife left yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock for their honeymoon amidst a shower of rice and good wishes. The carriage in which the couple drove to the depot had a large placard on the back "Just Married" and by the time it had proceeded the length of Main street a large crowd of the couple's friends had assembled. They nearly secured a corner on the rice market and had there been a Chink in town he could have lived on easy street for some time to come for the grains were scattered along the track for many rods. The couple carefully guarded their trunks and suit cases so that no antique foot cases nor rice might be loaded into them.

Nebraska Graduates.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., June 15—The University of Illinois graduated today 580 students from its various departments. Among those receiving degrees are: Fred H. McLain, Lincoln, Neb.; J. E. Palmer, Neligh, Neb.; and Olive Maggard, York, Neb.

Fred McLain was formerly a Cass county boy, living with his parents at Louisville. His father was J. O. McLain, well remembered by old residents of this community.

Henry Speck left for points in Iowa today where he will visit friends and incidentally look for a situation in the printing line. Hank is a good fellow and an earnest worker and we hope he lands something good when he finishes his outing.
