DUKE OF CONNAUGHT.

The Man Who Will Succeed Earl Grey in Canada.

When it was announced recently that the Duke of Connaught was to succeed Earl Grey as governor general of Canada there was much rejoicing in the Dominion on account of the great social influence of the duke and because the appointment is expected to prove a distinct tightening of the bond between Canada and the empire. The Duke of Connaught is the only living brother of the late King Edward and one of the most popular men in England. He has lived the simple life of a soldier during all his career. With his wife and their three children,

DUKE OF CONNAUGHT. one of whom is the wife of the crown prince of Sweden, the duke likes nothing better than to pass his time quietly hunting and fishing on his country estate, Bagshot Park, in Surrey.

New Use for the Telephone.

The rural telephone is becoming more and more a thing of daily convenience and in one state is entering a field that is unusual and yet useful, for it is becoming the disseminator of the Sunday sermon. This experiment is being made in Olathe, Kan., and has so far proved a great success. Three churches in the town are using the service, which is especially for the old and sick. Each church is fitted with a transmitter containing an extremely sensitive microphone arrangement and provided with special batteries and coils. The transmitter hangs suspended from a rod in front of the pulpit without obscuring the congregation's view of the minister. As the sermon is delivered the transmitter takes in the tones and carries them over the wires to the various listeners.

WORLD'S RICHEST BOYS.

The Field Youngsters, Who Want to Come Back to America.

Most youngsters imagine that if they only had plenty of money they could be happy anywhere, but a month or two away from "ma" and "dad" soon changes this idea. Take the case of the two richest boys in the world, Henry and Marshall Field, grandsons of the late Marshall Field and chief beirs to the hundred million dollars left by the Chicago merchant. They have been at Eton college, in England, since last fall and have now become so homesick they threaten to run away to sea unless allowed to return home.

The eldest of the two boys, Marshall Field 23, is destined to become Chicago's foremost millionaire, the son-bearer of the name of Marshall Field. Until he reaches his majority he will be trained mentally and physically for the work of conducting the business of the largest mercantile house in the world. He has always loved the great interests of which his grandfather was the head and is known by scores of employees in the big Field establishment.

CARNIVAL CO. WILL BE HERE

Red Men Sign Papers for Brown Amusement Co. For The Fourth

STARTING JUNE SECOND WILL PLAY SEVEN DAYS.

Other Developments in the Progress of the Big Patriotic Celebration.

There is going to be some decided class to the Fourth of July celebration to be given in the city of Plattsmouth on the Nation's birthday, which is a week from Monday. Every member of the Red Men, under whose auspices the celebration is to be given, has got the one idea on his mind that the day is to be the biggest and grandest one that Cass county has ever seen. They are sitting up nights thinking up attractions and events that are new and will please the people; they are taking hours of time from their business to solicit subscriptions, work up the big parade, and arrange for scores of concessions that are going to crowd the streets. They are putting up a tin can full of cart wheels as prizes for the best floats, the best boxer, wrestler, etc. They have made a dozen fivers look like thirty cents in renting the ferry to operate it free during the entire day to make something interesting for the young folks, and to hook a good list of free attractions for the crowd in general. To make a long tale short, they are putting forth every possible effort, financially, mentally, and physically, to make the celebration perfect in every detail, and if they leave any stones unturned in making the day a most glorious one the city has ever experienced, it is because the stones are as immovable as a wart on the eye ball.

The committee having the different details of the celebration in charge, having been holding meetings frequently the past three weeks, the last one being held Monday evening, when nearly all the details of the day, powwow were definitely settled.

The most important action of the week was the signing up of the Brown Carnival company Wednesday afternoon, when Harry Lewis, representing the concern, was in the city conferring with the members of the committee. The contract for the appearance of the big company was drawn up at the attorney's office in the afternoon and calls for nine attractions with two free thrillers, a balloon ascension and a slide for life. The shows are:

- Nerva, the big snake.
- Melba's big show.
- James Boys in Missouri.
- Dixie Land Minstrels.
- McFadden's College of Anatomy, Skidoo 25.
- Feris Wheel.
- Carry-us-all.

The carnival company is holding up a fine reputation. It has just finished a money-mag week for Beatrice and is now being on at Wymore by the fire department. The first part of next week it is booked for Wahoo. It will land here Thursday, be set up Friday and open for business Saturday night before the Fourth. The streets have been blocked off and each show has been allotted a space, with a merry-go-round and one or two others at the intersections.

At Monday's meeting, the committee got their line on another attraction: they formed a healthy purse to put up for the competitive exhibition of the different turner societies of the city, but as the time for preparation is so short, the organization hardly feel they can go into the contest, although the T. J. Sokols will be secured to give an exhibition of mat work, setting up exercises and calisthenics. The class contains a good bunch of fifteen or twenty athletes.

Reports from Frank Schlater and Thomas Wahling of the parade committee showed that there would be at least forty merchants who would enter floats in the procession. The majority of the business men were keen about pushing the parade and after agreeing to be represented in the procession, they got busy reconstructing their outfits with the result that today several of the business houses have their exhibitions well blocked out. All the lodges in the city, with the exceptions perhaps of two smaller ones, informed the committee that they would bank on them being in line stronger than summer butter. With the merchants, lodges and shops Plattsmouth will have a parade of at least seventy-five entries which will cover a dozen or more blocks

The procession will be headed by the M. W. A. band which is to furnish music during the entire day, so there will be no lack of sweet strains to keep matters livened up.

One of the important reports was that of the concession committee made by Mr. McDaniel. The committee has decided to divide the available space on the streets for lunch counters, hamburger stands, cane racks, etc. into spaces of twenty-two feet, which are to rent at prices varying from $5 to $7.50, according to the nature of the concession. The lunch counters are to be placed at the top of the price list, but in order to protect those securing space, and the established city merchants, the number of refreshment stands and lunch counters will be limited to four of each and no stand will be erected that will seriously conflict with the business of any adjoining establishment. The Red Men mean to see that Plattsmouth gets the best end out of the deal whenever possible, consequently they will give local people the first choice of locations.

Messrs. Taylor and Monroe, who have the juvenile events in charge have been attempting to recall the games that used to give them pleasure when they were "fille brats" and have decided upon about a dozen different races and contests for the younger Americans, putting up neat prizes for the winners.

No contract has been made for boxers although quite a number has put their applications to give exhibitions of the manly art. Prizes of $20 on the wrestling match and $10 on the boxing bout has been hung up. These two contests will probably be held on the court house lawn and the speeches of the day delivered from the steps of the building. It is expected the speakers will be two prominent Red Men from Omaha, Judge Sutton and Hon. Hugh Meyers. It seems as though the boys have overlooked nothing in making their preparations for the day, but to put on some finishing touches and to bring up a few matters that are still hanging fire, the committee will have their last meeting at the hall Friday evening. It is Plattsmouth for a Fourth of July that will arouse the county!

Former Resident Here on Visit.

Mrs. Frank Olive, formerly wife of Captain Marshall, who was one of the well known old residents of the city, and a one time postmaster, is in town accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Robson. While in Plattsmouth they are guests at the residence of Mrs. J. G. Cummins. Mrs. Olive has been spending a short time with her daughter who resides at Birmingham, Ala, however, the climate of the country did not agree very well with Mrs. Robson and it was decided she should take a western trip with her mother. Monday the ladies were entertained at the home of Mrs. Louis Meyers of Cedar Creek, Mrs. Olive's sister. After remaining in the city and vicinity for probably a month, they will depart for Los Angeles where Mrs. Olive now spends most of their time.

A Break in the Hot Wave.

Washington, June 22.—The weather bureau today in a special bulletin gives encouragement to those in the northwest have suffered from the intense heat during the last few days. Local rains and normal temperature almost general are at hand. Continuance of warm weather in other sections, however, is predicted.

The bulletin says: "A break in the hot wave that has prevailed during the past week in Montana, South Dakota, Nebraska, and Western Minnesota is now in progress and the indications are that there will be local rains and several days of normal temperature in these states. Warm weather is forecasted to continue in the southern states the Mississippi valley and the eastern districts the next several days."

Wescott at Ad Club Dinner.

C. C. Wescott, one of the live ones of the city, was an invited guest at the Shirt Waist Dinner of the Omaha Ad club, given at the Hershaw cafe Tuesday. Mr. Wescott, on his return was most enthusiastic over the fine gathering of the cream of Omaha's boosters. The organization is one that has but recently sprung into the limelight, but already it has come to the front of its class. As an example of the wide-awake nature of the Omaha club, might be cited the sending of a delegate to meet ex-President Roosevelt last week. The booster representative sent a short telegram to his Teddyship welcoming him home and inviting him to visit the Gate City some time soon. Among the prominent members of the club is Henry Gering, the former Plattsmouth man, who is appearing as quite a leader among the metropolis pushers.
