The Plattsmouth Journal

PUBLISHED WEEKLY AT PLATTSMOUTH, NEBRASKA. GEORGE B. MANN, Publishers, W. K. FOX.

FRIDAY, JULY 19, 1901.

FRIENDS of W. H. Heil, of Cedar Creek, are urging him to become a candidate for the nomination for county treasurer on the democratic ticket, and his availability as a candidate is being quite generally recognized by everyone who takes an interest in things political.

DEPUTY Labor Commissioner Watson has just completed a compilation of the value of farm lands in Nebraska, based on the figures returned by the county assessors.

Little Fritz Wagner, the 13-year-old son of Fred Wagner, met with a very painful accident Friday forenoon while plowing corn. The team he was driving undertook to run away and the boy was jerked down, striking his face on one of the shovels and cutting a gash an inch and a half long on the left side of his nose.

Two more spans of the old Platte river bridge at South Bend tumbled into the river Tuesday from decay, and floated away. This was one of the first and best bridges crossing the Platte in the state, and the fact that it is allowed to go down in decay is a source of much disappointment to many farmers who live in the vicinity and have crossed it almost daily for years going to and from town.

Editor Witherow, of the Plattsmouth Tribune, writes us that he is a candidate for sheriff; Editor Bahr, of the Weeping Water Advocate, that he is in the race for county superintendent of schools; Editor Morrison, of the Eagle Beacon, that he would like to be register of deeds, and we have been watching every mail for a letter from Editor Graves, of the Union Ledger, stating that he will accept the nomination for county clerk.

CHARLEY GRAVES' paper, the Union Ledger, was not up to its usual standard of excellence last week—all of which causes us to believe that while Charley keeps one eye on his newspaper he has the other trained on the county clerk's office.

THE officers of the big steel combine as well as those of the Amalgamated association are realizing what a disaster to all concerned the strike which involves the great industry really is. As a consequence an effort is being made to settle the pending trouble and there is every indication of success.

THE Omaha Bee says: Superintendent O'Brien, of the state fish pond, has been partially vindicated and reinstated with the admonition that he is expected to take better care of his sea legs. If well-defined rumor can be depended upon the state has really no use for a fish commission, since there are no fish to bite or breed in the state fish pond.

to hear a howl from the trusts. A little tip from these great combines to the effect that the protective tariff must be abolished, when it is no longer a protection to them, and you will hear our republican friends howl themselves hoarse for free trade—Schuyler Quill.

Greenwood

Sheriff Wheeler, of Plattsmouth, was in Greenwood Thursday, looking after official business.

The B. & M. flyer going east at 11 o'clock Tuesday set fire to wheat in shock on the farm of Harry Coleman, about two miles northeast of Greenwood, burning about three acres.

Monday evening two men engaged in a lively debate on the streets of Greenwood, which soon grew more forcible than polite, and one invited the other out of the town limits to finish the discussion.

Louisville

Miss Lillian Shryock and Miss Helen Cox, of Plattsmouth, are Louisville visitors.

Crede Harris and Forest Cunningham each sold a span of mules to Kansas City parties this week. Harvest has begun in earnest in this neighborhood, and the small grain is not turning out very good.

Maple Grove

Wm. Puls shelled corn on Wednesday and delivered it to Zach Shrader.

Plattsmouth, Neb., July 16, 1901.—Board met pursuant to adjournment. All present. The following claims were allowed on the general fund:

Nebraska Epworth Assembly. Thousand of Nebraska Methodists look forward with keenest pleasure to the annual sessions of the Epworth assembly, at Lincoln Park, August 7 to 15.

Weeping Water

Harry Evans has for the past week been carrying for Louis Foltz, Mr. Foltz's condition does not seem to improve, although he is said to be convalescent.

to be well pleased with his reception all along the line, and we regard him as a pleasant gentleman to meet and an energetic and hustling worker.

Elmwood

Elmer Woodruff has decided not to enter the race for county superintendent this fall, having been offered an excellent position at Kearney. It now looks very much as though George L. Farley would be the republican nominee for that office.

John Baird drove to Murdock Wednesday morning, going from there to Plattsmouth, having been called as a witness in the Langhorst-Bornemier case.

No doubt our friend George A. Hay will again be a candidate for register of deeds on the republican ticket this fall. If he is all the other candidates may just as well throw up the sponge right now, as Mr. Hay has made an ideal officer, and his re-election by a large majority is an absolute certainty.

The location is ideal, and the program can always be depended on to instruct and elevate. This year's assembly will maintain the high standard of previous years.

Maple Grove

The Lusk, Wyo., Herald says: Gil Hobbs was up from the ranch Monday marketing several crates of strawberries, his own raising. He said it was so cold at the ranch Sunday that Grandpa Hobbs had to toast his feet in the stove oven, and the hired man had to wear an overcoat and a pair of mittens while picking strawberries.

Call for Exquisite, 5c cigars. Hammocks at Lehnhoff's, 50c up. Dr. W. B. Elster, Dentist, Waterman Block.

About Town.

Robert Mauzy and Wm. Leuchtweis have put in a bowling alley at Shenandoah, Iowa.

When you get warmed up nicely, just call up Patts. Tel. 72-73, Neb. 72, and get block of COLD ICE—just the thing.

Henry Huckins, publisher of the Nebraska Bizzard, at Lincoln, was in town on Tuesday, in the interest of his valuable paper.

When you want to enjoy a good smoke call for the Exquisite 5c cigar. None better. Home made, union made. All dealers sell them.

Frank Faiman, the young man who attempted suicide by shooting last Saturday afternoon, has gone to the home of his brother at Lawrence, Neb.

The republican county central committee is called to meet in Weeping Water on Saturday, July 27th, to arrange for holding their primaries and convention.

Don't forget that Ptak & Bajek are manufacturers of several lines of fine cigars, which have just been put upon the market. Try them for a fine, sweet smoke.

Messrs. John Hayes, of Red Oak, Ia., and a Mr. Eastman, of New Hampshire, representing the bondholders of the gas and electric light plants, were in town on Thursday of last week for the purpose of looking over the property and to inquire into the terms of the city's contract.
