FRIDAY, AUGUST 2, 1901.

THE band concerts are a boon to music furnished, sweltering humanity. Besides the aesthetic enjoyment of the grown people, the small boy has bushels of fun playing tag among the eager listeners.

THE civilized powers invaded China with the purest and noblest purposes imaginable. They want to protect the benighted heathen against themselves. Their idea is to introduce law and order, together with the true theology, into a nation of 400,000,000 people with a civilization nearly fifty centuries old, and to charge them nothing for it except their freedom, their religion, their institutions, their self-respect and most of their portable property.

SINCE the swimming fever has struck town a distinction has apparently been made between swimming and bathing. If you take your plunge where clothes are necessary you are bathing, but if you go in clad only in nature's garments you are swimming. People can not be too particular in this matter.

Mynard

Weather cooler, since the rain of Saturday night. Corn is greatly benefited both by cooler weather and rain, and is now said to stand a show of making a good half crop. This means about twenty bushels per acre.

SO long as the political complexion of the senate remains as it is now it will be a perfectly safe proposition for the high protectionists to have reciprocity dangled before the eyes of the people. Commissioner Kason was so disgusted with the transparent fraud in the reciprocity game that he threw up his job in disgust.

THE lack of rain all over the western country, and right in the great corn belt, has affected business to some extent. For fear that the entire season will be dry, and the corn crop be almost a total failure, improvements of many kinds have been postponed.

IT will repay Americans to contemplate the changed attitude of the country as bearing upon their own and their children's safety and liberty. We are on dangerous ground in a most dangerous frame of mental thought. We are abandoning a creed that preserved our own rights and respected the rights of others.

THE Missouri river commission in its annual report complains that lack of funds has hampered the work of making the river navigable. Congress was kind, however, in taking the worry for this oversight off the minds of the commissioners for the future, but the members would probably have been perfectly willing to continue their lamentations if the pay-roll had not been stopped.

WHATEVER may be the desires of the shipping and ship-building syndicate backing the ship subsidy scheme, the needs of American ship-building in that connection are not apparent. This industry is increasing so rapidly even under our present antiquated shipping laws that the force of the ship subsidy argument is much diminished.

FROM present indications the state fair will be held at Lincoln for all time to come. The state board of public lands and buildings has purchased the old fair grounds as a permanent site for the state fair, paying $17,000 therefor. The state will spend $18,000 more on improvements.

not under the fusion shell, and will refuse to bite on the game again.

WALT Mason very truthfully remarks: The Commoner has a very ancient and sickly appearance. The paper is a bleached yellow in color, leaving the impression that it is mellowed by age; the type used is old-fashioned, reminding you of the time when public was spelled "pub-lick," and when an s looked like an f. The ink is evidently cheap, and it prints gray instead of black. The paper would be much more entertaining if it had a modern appearance.

AT the meeting of the republican committee in Weeping Water last Saturday among those present were Henry Boeck and J. I. Unruh, of Plattsmouth, which naturally suggests the inquiry, who will the republicans nominate for coroner this fall?

THE gigantic steel trust has a tariff subsidy of forty per cent on its products. This enables it to sell American-made goods abroad cheaper than at home. The extortion is openly defended and boasted of as protection to American labor, but in reality it taxes American labor to create dividends on watered stock.

SINCE the swimming fever has struck town a distinction has apparently been made between swimming and bathing. If you take your plunge where clothes are necessary you are bathing, but if you go in clad only in nature's garments you are swimming. People can not be too particular in this matter.

Albert Alford bought the John McBride property last week, paying $1,100 for the same. We are sorry to lose the McBrides, who will probably want to move back about January 1, but we are glad to hear that Albert's mother will occupy the premises.

whole trouble is in regard to the place for opening the road, and not as to whether there shall be any road established.

The editor of this paper has had many voluntary offers of support for the republican nomination for county clerk, and until recently we had some serious intention of being nominated and elected, but we have concluded that we cannot afford to abandon the work of running a good newspaper in one of the best towns in the best county in Nebraska, to devote time and expense to secure a nomination and election, and we make this statement that the other boys may know that we are not in the hunt.

Nehawka

On account of the heat these days some of the force employed are working half time at the rock quarry.

L. E. Stone shipped one car of hogs Monday and two cars Tuesday. Lester is getting to be quite a hog buyer.

Henry Bucholz's wheat went thirty-five bushels to the acre, but the banner yield so far as we have heard is Jim Easter's. His wheat went thirty-eight and one-half bushels per acre.

Chris Ross finished up threshing thirteen hundred bushels of wheat and seventeen hundred bushels of oats last Saturday afternoon. He surely can pull through if he doesn't get any corn.

A game of base ball between the business men of Union and Nehawka is scheduled to take place some time in the near future. Union had better come prepared as we have some mean ball players in our set.

Albert Alford bought the John McBride property last week, paying $1,100 for the same. We are sorry to lose the McBrides, who will probably want to move back about January 1, but we are glad to hear that Albert's mother will occupy the premises.

Grandpa West returned from Geneva, Neb., Sunday evening. He reports the drouth a little worse there than here, and says if no rain falls this week farmers will put their binders in the fields and cut and bind their corn for feed. He says they are not so badly off as they might be if they were depending on a corn crop, as they had a great amount of winter wheat in, which made a very heavy crop, running from twenty to forty bushels per acre.

Weeping Water

John Hess, of Wabash, was a caller Saturday. While in town he left with our carpenters plans for a new house he will erect there, 24x26.

August Gorder, of Plattsmouth, visited his brother Fred and family Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hobeck, living six miles southeast, were called upon to mourn the loss of their six months old babe last Wednesday. The remains were interred in the cemetery at Avoca, Friday.

Wm. Kraft, living near Louisville, while helping Stohman Bros, thresh last Saturday, got his thumb caught in a cog wheel and smashed. He came here and Dr. Hingate amputated that member just back of the second joint.

Last Friday, on complaint of her father, Miss Lucile Shepherd was taken to Plattsmouth, in custody of Constable Badgley, and a charge of incorrigibility entered against her. A hearing was had before Judge Douglas. Because of a change in the law it was found that this charge was not sufficient to send her to the reform school, and Mr. Shepherd not caring to enter a complaint of a more serious nature, let the matter drop and they returned home. Since then Miss Shepherd has found a home with Mrs. Vandekar, and that estimable lady will undertake the task of reforming the girl. This can be done with the girl's help, and it is to be hoped that in the future she will be true to her own best interests.

Elmwood

Will Deles is suffering from a severe cold, and is so hoarse he can barely speak above a whisper.

S. D. Eells is circulating a petition for the post office at the expiration of Postmaster Alton's term of office, and the petition is being liberally signed.

The citizens of Elmwood now have something to take up part of their time. Charles Rivett has announced himself as a candidate for assessor on the republican ticket. John Hart will also ask for the nomination again, and the struggle is on.

Mrs. J. Bischoff, of Alvo, called on Wednesday in company with her niece who is here from Omaha spending vacation. She said the corn about Alvo looked better than here, as they had had more rain.

Dan Fentiman and Wm. Lefler were at Omaha one day last week with a car of cattle, and struck a wild market. Out of 113 cars of cattle sold they were the only ones that received more than they paid for the stock, and they only received $1.80 each more than they paid.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Ferguson returned Thursday evening of last week from a delightful trip and visit of two and a half months duration in the east. They enjoyed splendid visits with relatives with relatives and old friends in Illinois, New York, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Ohio. They spent nearly a week in Boston, and several days at the Buffalo exposition. Mr. Ferguson says the exposition did not come up to the Trans-Mississippi, with the exception of the electrical display, which was away ahead of anything they ever saw. Mr. Ferguson said plenty of rain had fallen back there up until the time they left.

Eagle

Charley Venner suffered a severe sun stroke Monday, and it was feared for several hours that he would not recover. Fred Neu and Charley Gardner also had light attacks.

T. N. Bobbit was in Eagle Tuesday. He informed us that his son Charles, who is holding a good position for Uncle Sam as mail clerk, was home for a few days, and that he said the corn in this locality looked better than any place he had been, and he travels over considerable territory.

R. B. Morgan has sold his store in Alvo to George Frohlich, a hustling young man of Alvo. We are glad to note that Mr. Morgan will move back to Eagle.

Some of the leading republicans of the state are urging Byron Clark of Plattsmouth to be a candidate for supreme judge. We earnestly hope that he will be a candidate. He stands high at the bar throughout the west. A man of rare good judgment, he would certainly bring a great deal of prestige to our supreme court. His election is sure if nominated.

Louisville

From the Courier.

Gust Lehnhoff came to town the other day for a vacation, after an all summer sojourn at farming. He was arrayed in a new suit of clothes and said he had joined the salvation army and was now looking for a wife.

Jacob Keiser came in Friday and reported that a panther or some other wild animal has been tearing the bark from trees west of town. One large tree up the bottom was gnawed and the bark torn into shreds.

Last Tuesday afternoon Gabe Pribble fell from a moving flat car at the Cedar Creek stogie quarry where he was engaged in loading rock, and in the fall had the misfortune to break two ribs and bruising him badly about the chest. He fell on the track, and had it not been for the quick movement of a fellow laborer who pulled him from underneath the moving car he would have been killed.

The artesian well at Fort Crook should mean much to the future of the pretty barracks in Sarpy county. It largely increases the accommodations and utility of the fort, and the government is sure to enlarge its use of the ground. The well is proving to be one of the best in the country.

Greenwood

From the News.

W. J. Tinkham lost the end of his first finger on the right hand Monday last, the work being done by the hand cutter on Wes Barr's threshing machine. The boy didn't seem to find enough hands to cut.

D. K. Barr was overcome with heat Thursday while unloading lumber, and was taken to his home, where he was properly taken care of and it is thought will recover.

J. P. Falter, of Plattsmouth, Turner Zink, of Wabash, and J. W. Cox, of Weeping Water, county commissioners, were in Greenwood Tuesday and Wednesday, looking after county business.

A. L. Etheredge, who has just returned from the east part of Cass county, says the corn there is much further advanced than in the west part of the county, and is not suffering from the hot weather as the corn is here, the silk and tassels being green and vigorous, showing a prospect for a two-thirds crop if they have rain soon.
