Is cheapest in the end. Poor whiskey is not only disagreeable to the taste, but undoubtedly injurious to the stomach. A little good whiskey is a fine tonic, and helps instead of harming. Such a whiskey as our Kentucky Yellowstone for instance, will do you just as much good as a doctor's prescription. If you don't know good it is call in and try it at

Shooting Affray at Nehawka.

The Nehawka Register says: Last Monday evening some of our citizens were witnesses to a fistie encounter between Joe McCunahae and Earl Griffith, two young men who have been working in this vicinity for some time. It seems as though the whole affair originated over a game of poker, and also some threats made by one of the parties. So they both went at it in the above manner to see who was in the right. A few blows were struck by each, when they were separated. But no sooner had this been accomplished than Griffith went home and got a revolver and started out to find McCunahae. They again met and had some words, and the gun was soon in play, which was used by Griffith as a defense. Three shots were fired by him, but all were wide of the desired mark, and we are glad to know that nothing more serious happened than a few bruises for both men.

Culled From the Courts.

Frank Kohodak, Frank Newman and Anton Kalacek were arrested on Saturday by Marshal Slater, charged with disturbing the peace. On being brought before Judge Archer for trial Kohodak was discharged and Newman and Kalacek fined $1 each and the costs, amounting to $6.75, were also taxed against them, each paying half. Mont Robb has commenced an action in Justice Archer's court against W. C. Nye, to recover the sum of $65.10 alleged to be due on a note. The case will be heard this morning at ten o'clock.

John L. Young has also brought suit against W. C. Nye, to recover the sum of $79.25 alleged to be due for goods sold and delivered. This case is also set for hearing today.

Ed Fitzgerald, the liveryman, has begun suit in Justice Archer's court against the D. M. Ferry Seed company and F. S. Thomas, their agent, to recover the sum of $100, the value of a horse hired to Thomas, which died as a result of being over-driven. The case is set for hearing on August 10th.

Judge Jesson and Court Reporter Dixon came up from Nebraska City on Wednesday and held a brief special session of district court to hear the Union road case. This is the case wherein Henry F. Taylor seeks to permanently enjoin the board of county commissioners from locating a road in a certain place east of Union. The testimony of witnesses was duly taken and arguments made, and the case was taken under advisement by the court.

Wanted at Nebraska City.

On last Friday afternoon Marshal Slater arrested a young man giving the name of Thomas Carr for being drunk, and locked him up. Later on Deputy Sheriff McBride looked the man over and concluded that he answered the description of a man wanted at Nebraska City for highway robbery. He investigated the matter, and the authorities of Otoe county informed him that Carr was wanted down there for assaulting and robbing a man named Early, of Syracuse.

Carr's jail sentence for drunkenness here expired on Tuesday, when he was taken down to the city by Sheriff Brower, of Otoe county, to stand trial for highway robbery. A woman named Varney was also concerned in the case, and at their preliminary hearing she and Carr were bound over and in default of $1,000 bail were committed to jail to await trial.

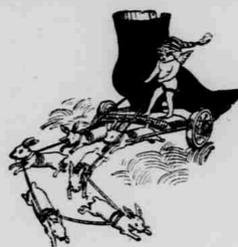

Republican Convention Called.

The members of the republican county central committee met at Weeping Water on Saturday last and made preliminary arrangements for the fall campaign. The date for holding the primaries was set for Saturday, August 17th, and the nominating convention will be held one week later, Saturday, August 24th, at Weeping Water. The representation decided on gives the convention two hundred and twenty-two delegates, of which number Plattsmouth city is entitled to twenty-six.

Fishing Party Has Grief.

A fishing party composed of Messrs. Hans Goos, Otto Bookmeyer, Henry Jess, Anton Hudecek, James Rebal, Otto Wurl, Ben Elson and Frank McElroy went up on the Platte last Monday, with all the necessary paraphernalia and supplies for a royal good time. The party was transported to the fishing grounds by carryall, which they chartered from Ed Fitzgerald. They arrived at their destination all right, and proceeded to enjoy themselves as is customary on such occasions. Before long one of the horses showed symptoms of being sick, and in spite of the efforts of the entire party to relieve the animal's distress it laid down and died. This naturally caused a cloud of gloom to settle down over the joyous spirits of the fishermen, which was intensified about supper time, when it was discovered that some of the natives had consumed almost all the lunch that remained from the noon-time meal, and had made heavy drafts on the liquid portion of the commissary department. A farmer who lived in the neighborhood was paid $2 to drag the dead horse down to the river and dump it in, and $3 more to hitch his team to the carryall and haul them home. But the usual jogginess was sadly lacking, and the few fish which they secured were not very highly prized. Ben Elson's share of the damages caused by the death of the horse is modestly reckoned at $15 by the other members of the party, but Ben won't stand for it.

An Attempted Hold-Up.

An attempt was made to hold up and rob George Sayles, of Cedar Creek, last Saturday evening. Mr. Sayles was returning in his buggy from Weeping Water, when he overtook a man walking along the road who asked for a ride. His request was about to be complied with, and the team was stopped to allow him to get in the buggy. But instead of getting in the stranger put his foot on the hub of the front wheel, and producing a revolver which he pointed directly at Sayles' head, demanded that he hand over his money and valuables. Although taken completely by surprise, Sayles did not lose his nerve and comply with the highwayman's demand. Instead he handed the fellow a stunning blow in the face, which knocked him down. In falling the highwayman discharged the revolver, which frightened the horses, causing them to run. The robber was thus left alone, lying in the road, while Sayles gave his attention to checking the team, which he succeeded in doing when out of range of the highwayman's gun. No clue as to the identity of the man who attempted the hold-up has been discovered.

Brings Suit for Slander.

The Young-Alford scandal, which has been more or less discussed about town for the past two or three weeks, has at last got into the courts, where it will be duly reviewed and determined. Mrs. Lavina Alford, by her attorney, Judge Chapman, has commenced an action in district court against Mary Young, claiming damages in the sum of $10,000 for slander. The petition alleges "that on July 9th, and at various other times since, the defendant has wickedly, wantonly and maliciously spoken and published certain false, scandalous and malicious words, leaving the impression that said plaintiff had criminal and illicit relations with the defendant's husband."

The plaintiff, Mrs. Alford, has been a resident of Plattsmouth for many years, and has always borne a good reputation. Since the death of her husband, several years ago, she has earned her livelihood by doing washing, and is a hard-working woman. The reports concerning her, which she complains of, has distressed her to such an extent that she has left her home here and removed to Omaha, where she has found employment.

The defendant, Mrs. Mary Young, is the wife of George W. Young, who was formerly county commissioner. Mrs. Young is said to be a woman of very jealous disposition, so much so that at times she appears demented or out of her mind. Since the culmination of this affair, on July 9th, she has kept the neighborhood in which they live in a constant uproar, and has undoubtedly furnished food for considerable gossip.

George W. Young, who is also involved in the case, is well and favorably known throughout Cass county. He is an old resident here, and served for six years as a member of the board of county commissioners. He is a man of good repute and correct habits, and people who know him would not for a moment believe him guilty of the acts charged by his wife. He is simply the victim of his wife's jealous hallucination, and has the genuine sympathy of all his friends in the domestic trouble that has been thrust upon him.

The parties involved in this case reside on the south side of Granite street, between Eighth and Ninth, and their property adjoins. On the evening of the 9th of July Mrs. Alford's cow became afflicted with some kind of complaint, and Mr. Young, acting in a neighborly spirit, and as any man would under similar circumstances, tendered his services to assist in caring for the cow. While he and Mrs. Alford were thus engaged Mrs. Young appeared on the scene, and immediately proceeded to create a disturbance, yelling "Now, I've caught you," and accusing them of being criminally intimate. She has since repeated her accusation, until Mrs. Alford could stand it no longer, and removed to Omaha.

Touched for Thirty-Five Dollars.

Henry Jess was one of the fishing party which went up to the Platte on Monday, and shared equally with the others the grief, discomforts and expenses of the trip. But this was comparative slight to the unpleasant surprise that awaited his return home, when he discovered that during his absence some one had abstracted an envelope containing $35 in bills from his cash register and left no clue behind. The grief of the fishing trip paled into insignificance at this discovery.

Making Arrangements for Picnic.

The four A. O. U. W. lodges in this city are making arrangements for a grand picnic to be held on August 17th, and the indications are that it will exceed in magnitude any similar event ever held here. The grounds selected is what is known as "Fitzgerald's Forty," the beautiful tract of land owned by C. C. Parme, on Chicago avenue. The affair will be liberally advertised, and a crowd of several thousand people from out of town is expected to be in attendance.

The day's program has not been definitely decided on, but it will include the usual games and contests for prizes, a base ball game, and music unlimited.

Messrs. Frank McElroy, Henry Ofe, John A. Gutsche, John Fasbender and Geo. C. Hawkins are on the committee of arrangements.

Bonded Debt Reduced.

The semi-annual report of County Treasurer Barton shows a balance on hand June 30th of $69,544.98, and in general a healthy condition of the finances of Cass county. On January 1, 1900, the court house bonds to the amount of $80,000 were outstanding, but this amount has since been reduced to $57,000, and $4,000 more will soon be paid. At this rate of reduction the bonds will soon be paid off, and thus one more burden will be lifted from the shoulders of Cass county tax payers, which will allow of a material reduction of the tax rate for the county. These bonds are held by the State of Nebraska, and the money thus invested is a portion of the state's permanent school fund.

Death of Mrs. Emma Rockwood.

Mrs. Emma Rockwood died at her home in this city at 2 o'clock Saturday morning. She was one of the early settlers in Cass county, having come here in 1878, and resided here almost continuously since. She was an earnest and enthusiastic member of the W. C. T. U., and was a woman of considerable business interests, being the former owner of Rockwood block, which she built, and considerable other property in this city and other places.

During recent years she made her home with her sister, Mrs. Roba White, at the corner of Sixth and Oak, where the funeral services were held on Sunday afternoon, Rev. Burgess officiating.

Have Agreed on Legal Separation.

The domestic troubles of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Young have reached a point where a legal separation has been effected, and the property of the family divided. The exact terms of settlement have not been learned, beyond the fact that Mrs. Young is deemed forty acres of farm land near Nehawka and the residence property in this city.

Mrs. Young was already the owner of forty acres of the Nehawka farm, and has since the settlement decided to her daughter, Mrs. Hattie J. Davis, the eighty acre farm for a consideration of $4,000, and the town property at the corner of Ninth and Granite streets for a consideration of $1,000.

Pollard's Elevator Burned.

Sunday morning at about 5 o'clock, the elevator belonging to Henry Pollard, at Nehawka, caught fire from some unknown cause, and burned. There was about $500 worth of grain stored in it, and with the elevator the loss will amount to $2,500. Insured in the Mercantile Mutual, of Lincoln, for $1,000. We have not learned whether Mr. Pollard will rebuild.

See Yellowstone Park in August.

August is the best month in the year to make the trip through Yellowstone Park, and the last half of the month is better than the first. The climate is perfect. The middle west may be sweltering with heat, but Yellowstone Park is as cool as cool can be. It could hardly be otherwise, for it is 8,000 feet above the level of the sea and completely surrounded by snow-capped peaks. Write to J. Francis, general passenger agent of Burlington Route, Omaha, Neb., for folder giving full information about the park. It contains a large map of the park, as well as a description of the principal points of interest. Excursion rates daily, ask the ticket about them.
