Merit is the Only Thing That Counts

ANY advertising not founded on merit is valueless. When we set forth any claims in cold type, it is because we seek your business, and in reaching out for your business, we make ourselves alive to its requirements. Your needs are sure of being met here. No delay, no doubt, no lack in quality or value. We are a dependable source to all who wish to secure the best that is going at the best prices. When to buy is controlled by inclination; where to buy is a puzzling problem. The best assortment usually decides it; this is undoubtedly with us, as we carry the largest stock of

Dry Goods, Shoes, Carpets, Notions, Furnishing Goods

Etc., to be found in any store in eastern Nebraska, outside of Omaha or Lincoln. This store has prepared to offer something more powerful than mere assortment—it has linked economy with its vast collection. For months the work of Price Pressure Buying has gone on to land on our counters the most remarkable values to be found in the world of retailing.

Oscar Allen, of Wabash, is out with an open letter to Tom Walling, in which he complains that Tom did not support him four years ago when he was a candidate for register of deeds, and intimates that a similar fate will overtake Walling this year. Oscar is usually considered to be a shrewd politician, but his present course is entirely wrong. Line up, Oscar, and forgive and forget. Post-mortem politics is neither a pleasant nor profitable business.

J. M. Boyd, a stockman of Wray, Colo., marketed a car load of cattle at South Omaha Saturday and came to this city Sunday evening for a visit with a sister. He claims that while waiting for the train at South Omaha he was held up by four masked men, who overpowered him and rifled his pockets. Mr. Boyd sent a check for $500 to a bank at Haigler, Neb., earlier in the day and his assailants secured only about $10. He was roughly handled, however, and his injuries may have serious results. His wife and several other relatives were notified by telegraph.

D. W. Reed was in town on Wednesday, selling large half tone pictures of the late President McKinley. Mr. Reed is quite a character, and for many years was a printer of the most pronounced "tourist" type. He is known in every office in the west, and enjoys an extensive acquaintance among the fraternity. Plattsmouth was formerly on his regular route, but of late years he has made his home at Omaha, where he has published several unique advertising novelties. During McKinley's visit to the Pacific coast Mr. Reed was several days in advance of the presidential party, selling large pictures of the late president for decorative purposes, and disposed of hundreds of thousands of them. He has an excellent picture of McKinley made from a late photograph, and since the latter's death the pictures have been in great demand and thousands of them have been printed and sold.

Corn husking has commenced in this neighborhood, and the crop is averaging from twenty to thirty bushels per acre.

Quite a number of people living in this vicinity attended the theatre performance "For Her Sake" at the Parmele theatre on Wednesday evening of last week.

John Ruby gave a dancing party in his new house on last Saturday evening.

A party was given at the home of Charles Christwiser on Saturday night, which was quite largely attended and the usual good time was had.

Will and George Wenke were shelling corn for William Puls last week, which was delivered to Walker & Pittman at Murray.

George Schaffer, of Manley, visited with Mrs. Schaffer and family here on Sunday.

Rumor has it that there will be a wedding in this neighborhood in the near future.

William Puls and family visited with Fred Engelke and family on Sunday.

Albert Pappé was hauling lumber from Murray on Monday, for the purpose of building a new cattle shed.

Miss Kate Morse, who has resided with the Barnum family during the past three years, left last week for Chicago, her future home.

James H. Herold, democratic candidate for treasurer, and Thomas Walling, democratic candidate for register of deeds, made up a social visit last Wednesday afternoon. They have been out over the county interviewing the voters.

Miss Nellie Chalfant who spent the summer with Wesley Wolfe and family on the ranch near Rawhide Buttes, Wyo., arrived home last week.

Bird Surface who removed from here to Pierce county several months ago, has secured a good position with one of the elevator firms at McLean.

The James brothers have had their steam corn sheller at work at William Eikenberry's, and the corn has been coming to town at a lively rate.

Mike Cavey, who has been in the west for the past two months, returned last week and informed us that he had purchased a farm in Boone county and would make that county his future home.

Mick Stokes and Will Shreve are said to have indulged in a lively scrap one night last week at the latter's home. Stokes is reported to have come out second best.

The Elmwood brick company are about ready to commence burning their third and last kiln of brick for this year.

A. D. Perry suffered a relapse last week, his fever being higher than at any time during his sickness. Fears are entertained for his recovery.

As an evidence of Elmwood's growth and prosperity we wish to state that nearly thirty new houses have been built so far this year, besides a large number that have had comfortable additions built thereto. And still there are not enough houses to supply the demand.

Harry Fender had the misfortune to step through a hole in the sidewalk last Tuesday night, and had to be chipped out.

Rev. Selby left last week for Frontier county, where he will make his home.

When Clint Berkshire left Eagle two weeks ago he forgot to leave a horse that belonged to Frank Debut, and also forgot to pay him a bill he owed. Frank promptly followed him and had

Manley

Special Correspondence.
Mr. and Mrs. T. Harms visited relatives at Lorton, Neb., this week.

Howard Calkin accompanied his mother-in-law, Mrs. Ireland, to Omaha Wednesday, on her way east, where she will visit for some time.

John O'Leary and William Huney were Plattsmouth visitors one day this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Jenkins have returned from their visit to Ohio. They report a very enjoyable time, visiting well remembered scenes, and old time friends and acquaintances.

Miss Rhoda Ward left for Kansas City on Saturday evening, where she will visit with her sister, Mrs. W. Critchfield.

Thomas Walling and James Herold, of Plattsmouth, attended the Gaebel sale last Thursday, and made a brief stop in Manley on their way home.

Miss Schurman, of Louisville, spent Sunday with the family of Fred Krecklow.

Miss Addie Davis, of Louisville, spent a few days last week with her uncle, Joseph Kennedy.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Coon are receiving congratulations over the advent of a baby daughter.

Roy Wiles, the young son of Isaac Wiles, is ill with typhoid fever.

Mrs. Clint Andrus' mother and sister are here on a visit from Kansas.

Rev. Father Hennessy spent a few days in Lincoln last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Register, of Atchison, Kan., moved to town recently, and have taken up their residence in the Essick house.

Among Omaha visitors last week were Joseph Kennedy, George Hamm, Mrs. John O'Leary, Miss Mary A. Murphy, Miss Lily Tighe.

Mr. and Mrs. Keedy spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ward at Sunnyside. James Murphy entertained his mother, Mrs. Edward Murphy, and sisters, Mrs. John Tighe and Miss Mary Murphy, at a dinner given in their honor one day last week.

Mr. and Mr. Charles Ward, of Wabash, are visiting friends and relatives in the neighborhood of Manley.

A few of the farmers around Manley have begun shucking their corn. The majority will not begin for another week or two, as very little of the corn is yet fully ripened.

Walnutting parties are making the woods merry these days, and bringing home great quantities of nuts for consumption when the cold weather sets in.

If some of the rain which has fallen in such abundance lately, had come during the hot dry spell of last summer, what a wave of rejoicing would have passed over the country.

Greenwood

From the News.
W. M. Penn broke the record for corn shelling on Monday last by shelling between 4,800 and 4,900 bushels. They kept four teams and ten scoopers busy while they were running. This seems like big work.

Dick Stone and George Sheesley, of Alvo, are shipping their last year's crop of broom corn, which they sold to eastern parties for $10 per ton.

J. C. Aaron, of Alvo, and Byron Black, of near Greenwood, have each secured a homestead of 160 acres of land in Oklahoma by filing a soldiers' declaratory statement. They received notice from their attorney several days ago of their success.

L. R. Allen, of this place, showed the writer a mammoth white sweet potato weighing three pounds, which was raised on his lots in Greenwood this season.

Louisville

From the Courier.
J. K. Lee has returned from Oklahoma, where he went to take up a homestead. He was much pleased with his luck in getting a piece of land. He and his brother Charles and father have each secured 160 acres of government land in the northwest corner of Oklahoma bordering on Kansas and Texas, and he says the land is better than any other he has seen in that country.
