In any event he will be maimed for life. The unfortunate young man's name is Henry Weskamp, son of Joseph Weskamp, who resides at Avoca. The young man was feeding the machine and in some way his left hand was caught and drawn into the machine, and before Plattsmouth, Neb. any one could realize it or release him the arm half way up to the elbow had been drawn into the knives and cut to pieces. There was nothing to be found of the part of the arm that went into the machine, save his thumb nail with a small piece of flesh, so tine was the same ground up The flow of blood was stopped and the young man taken to Weeping Water, where the arm was amputated at the elbow. This is the second accident of this kind that has occurred in Cass county this winter, and in both cases the victims lost their arm. The young man stood the shock incident to the operation and unless blood poison sets in he will recover.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent)

Washington, D. C., Jan. 14, 1902.-That is an ideal country in which the least injury to the meanest citizen is an injury to all." said Representative Chas. R. Schirm, of Maryland, in explanation of what is known as his "tablet bill". Appreciating that every bill which Speaker Henderson could refer to the committee on naval affairs, and which was in any way favorable to Admiral Schley would be permitted to "die in committee," Mr. Schirm has introduced a bill providing for the erection in conspicuous places in the capitol, of six bronze tablets four by four feet. These tablets are to commemorate the naval victories of the United States over foreign foes, and each is to bear the urgent need of footwear, and then name of but one officer and that the name of the officer in command. The chases. Come at your leisure, and ast tablet is to commemorate the battle of Santiago and bear the inscription "Winfield Scott Schley. commander." This bill the speaker was obliged to refer to the library committee, from which Mr. Schirm hopes to secure its favorable report. Mr. William Sulzer, democratic representative from New York City. introduced a bill in the house which he believes will attract wide attention. By it the secretary of the treasury is instructed to deposit the surplus funds of the treasury in national banks having a capital stock of $500,000 and a surplus of $500,000 on condition that such banks apply for the deposits and that they pay to the United States interest at the rate of two per cent on such deposits, the deposit of the United States in no case to exceed the aggregate of the capital and surplus of the bank and to constitute a first
