See Sting! Cure for Rheumatism.
 Dr. Terz, a medical man of much repute in Vienna, advocates an effective remedy for rheumatism, the saturating of the patient's body with the venom of bees. For the purpose he extracts the venom, treasuring it up in quantity, and applying it artificially in the way of punctures. He found this treatment on his discovery that rheumatic patients do not suffer from a bee's sting to anything like the same degree as other people. He found that the tumefaction or swelling that follows the stinging of a bee does not appear in the rheumatic patient unless he has been stung several times, while in some cases the stinging is hardly felt. When the patient suffers himself to be stung repeatedly his immunity against the poison of the bee becomes complete and he feels no pain whatsoever. What is more, he gets cured of his rheumatism.

For the Dumb Brute's Sake.
 The Animal Rescue League of Boston has been in existence but three years. The good work it has since done will have been summarized by Mrs. Hunting Smith, its president: "From the 110 members with which we started we have reached over 1,300, and from being called upon to care for 2,395 animals in the first year of our work we have cared for 5,089 in six months." Mrs. Smith said that she hoped for the establishment of a home of rest for horses similar to that which has been successful in Acton, England, where the yearling colts are occasionally sold to green grass and an outing, and where they can spend their declining years in comfort.

as the Japs Smoke.
 The Japanese smoke in a very peculiar manner. The pipes have very small metal bowls, with bamboo stems and metal mouthpieces and only hold enough tobacco for three or four whiffs. They use a tobacco which is cut extremely fine and looks more like a light blonde hair than anything else. It is a very good quality, however. The Japs take a whiff of smoke and inhale it, letting it pass out through the nostrils. They rarely smoke more than one pipeful at a time.

Levy Damages.
 In a West Chicago street railway damage case a verdict of $36,000 has just been rendered for the loss of an arm. The plaintiff was a young surgeon with an income of $10,000 and a growing practice. It has taken five years to bring the case to a conclusion.

TALKS ON ADVERTISING.
 The best way to advertise is just to advertise. Get at it with a view to having the man who knows what you most desire to sell, and incidentally letting them know that the specified items do not represent your full stock. Say interesting things about interesting goods and have the goods to talk.

Men talk of the secret of successful advertising, but it is all very plain. The essentials are to offer what people want, at fair prices, and to offer it in a way that will make readers know they want it. The art in writing an advertisement is to speak as the interested and well-informed merchant would speak to a prospective customer. The mere appearance of a business man's name and address in every issue of a leading newspaper will do work to increase his trade. Every business man, however, is able to give facts about his establishment which will encourage people to deal with him. To state such facts clearly in a newspaper is the principal secret of successful advertising.

The idea that it takes a number of impressions to make the average advertisement effective is a new, forty years ago an English advertiser said to the publisher of the Cornhill Magazine: "I don't consider that an advertisement seen for the first time by a reader is worth much. The second time it counts for something. The third time the reader's attention is arrested; the fourth time he reads it through and thinks about it; the fifth makes a purchaser of him. It takes time to soak in."

White Deer Scarce.
 Specimens Now Rarely Seen in the Adirondacks

An albino deer is so rare a sight in the Adirondacks that when one does appear it is regarded with superstitious feelings by some of the natives. Many of the so-called natives of the Adirondacks are French-Canadians. A white deer is never killed by one of the French-Canadian and he does not molest it, although he believes there is an evil influence about him while the albino deer remains in his neighborhood.

Some white deer have been killed in the Adirondacks in the last few years. In 1898 a white deer frequently visited homes of natives in the Keene valley. It appeared in the fall and became remarkably tame. It was a beautiful creature, having a neck and tail of pure white, while the upper parts of the body and the back were nearly white. The eyes of this deer were white, although usually the eyes of an albino are pink.

By common consent the albino of the Keene valley, a doe, was left unmolested, and it was decided to await a heavy snow, when it could be run down and captured alive. But the dogs got after it and chased it until it passed in an exhausted condition near a traveler, who caught it and cut its throat. The traveler was not aware of the agreement among the hunters to preserve the doe as long as possible, and deeply regretted his act when he was informed of their plans.

The guides of the Adirondacks say that within their memory not more than a dozen white deer have been reported, and the appearance of one is sufficient to excite them greatly. Men of the staidest nerves under most hunting experiences are sometimes upset at the sight of a white deer or an albino bird.

Many visitors to the north woods scout the idea that there is such a thing as a white deer. At the same time the superstitious prefer not to see one, as they believe it indicates danger. So deep-seated was this superstition among the natives at Wild Cat pond, in the Cranberry lake region of St. Lawrence county, that they left an albino deer alone when it appeared there three years ago. It was frequently observed, accompanied by a fawn of the usual color. What became of it has never been known, but the native tells the inquirer that he did not shoot it, nor did any of his relatives. They all admired it too much to think of killing it, and while they don't admit that they were superstitious about shooting it, they will say they preferred to take no chances so far as that white deer is concerned.

Followers of Jainism
 Description of Ideal Religion Which Comes from the Mystical East.

San Francisco, having already become familiar with Theosophy, the mystic religions of Brahma and Buddha, and with the lofty philosophy of the Vedantist Swamis, it only remained to learn of Jainism, perhaps the sanest and most of all the ideal West Indian religions, says the San Francisco Chronicle. Yesterday, before a large audience in the rooms of the Laurel Hall Club, Jainism made its first bow to the people of California, the lecturer being Prof. Emlin Lewis, until recently a resident of London. Prof. Lewis is a scholar of striking personality and the only English-speaking authority on this most ancient of religions.

Jainism, as explained by the speaker, is the Protestantism of India, as opposed to the Vedas, Brahmanism and the soul-paralyzing caste system. It aims at the perfection of character, not through faith, but through correct conduct and systematic intellectual activity or concentration as opposed to the Yogi system of intellectual vacuity. The speaker said:

"If a religion may be known by its fruits what shall we say of this one, which though now numbering 2,000,000 votaries and dating its origin long prior to the entrance of the Aryans into India, in prehistoric times, has never yet produced a murderer? Though regarding kingship as the greatest injustice still the Jains do two-thirds of all the financial business of India. They never eat meat, and the monks often carry brooms and sweep the paths to avoid crushing the insects. They believe in the advancement of women, in reincarnation and the eternal persistency and progressive evolution of each ego and hold that the atrocities of the soul and intellect, such as sense knowledge, clairvoyance, telepathy, the emotions, the physical constitution and the power to achieve are all under the obscuration of Karma, which to the Jain is a substance. The object of their study and effort is to shake this Karma clog out and to liberate the soul by vibrating in a certain way. This may be done by concentration on such ideals as benevolence, charity or wisdom, by analyzing the teachings found in their enormous and as yet untranslated libraries, and then by synthesizing and immediately acting on these truths. Jainism then is the religion of intelligence, utility and action. The Jains marry at the age of 9 or 10 and live ideal married lives, all unions being regulated through astrological affinity."

Tattooing as a Social Fad
 Japanese Makes Money Adorning New Yorkers.

In the Japanese colony, which is situated in the neighborhood of Sixth avenue and Twenty-eighth street, there is a little bright-eyed, courteous man who describes himself as a "puncture needle artist." He is what might be called a boss tattooer. His business is prosperous and he looks forward to making a fortune from the fashionable people of the metropolis, says the New York Sunday Telegraph.

"Who are my customers?" he said, as he repeated the question of the writer. "The best people of the city. I don't want any others and will not waste my art upon them. It is ridiculous to expect a professional like myself, who has decorated the bodies of the most distinguished people in Tokio, to descend to the level of a common sailor or a vulgar bartender. Tattooing varies in popularity from year to year, but is always more or less in vogue. It applied to all, from babies up to middle aged people. Four times I have tattooed twins. This was to prevent their getting mixed. At the present time there is quite a fad for a Japanese fashion which is very beautiful and consists in emblazoning a butterfly, a rose, a forget-me-not, or some other delicate design upon the arm, shoulder or chest."

"I have more women applicants than men. The latter seem to consider it as effeminate. I do not mind telling you a secret. Many society belles who have tattooed decorations upon their frames employ the latter to conceal some blemish. One beauty of the tattoo is that it can be applied to scars, birthmarks, moles, moth patches and strawberry marks. In many cases a slight blemish is of great advantage in this respect, because it gives a handsome background."

A Filipino Graverd.
 "I saw a great many peculiar things in my travels in the Orient this summer," observed Mr. Kahn of California to a Washington Post reporter, as he paused a moment in the House corridor, "but the most gruesome of all was the Paco cemetery near Manila. 'Do you know that they follow the custom of many Spanish communities there in the interment of their dead?' asked the ex-actor. 'The poor people, of course, fare worst. Those with wealth can buy a niche in the cemetery for $25 Mexican, which is approximately $65 in our money. There they bury their dead permanently. But those who are unable to purchase a niche secure a place temporarily for something like $39 in Mex, the short word for that kind of silver in the east. At the expiration of five years the skeletons of those poor people are taken out of their resting places and dumped into a black hole, a veritable boneyard. I don't know when I have seen anything that so impressed me with its horrifying phases as this dumping ground for all that remained of the poor Filipinos. I visited the Paco cemetery on a rainy day, and the ghastly heap in this depression of the earth rises before me in my dreams and haunts me."

Choice of Locality for Home.
 Thoughtful parents are often guided in their choice of a home by the character of the school district into which it will bring them. I have known families to move from the edge of one district to the outskirts of an adjacent one simply for the purpose of changing school associations. "The teachers are all right," they will say. "I have no fault to find with the school; but I want my boy and my girl to be thrown with a better class of children. And the feeling that prompts it is to be honored always. One can hardly do better for his children than by giving them the best and most elevating daily associations obtainable.—Caroline Abbot Stanley in the Ledger Monthly.

A Friendly Tip.
 "Young man," said her father, "I don't want you to be too attentive to my daughter." "Why—er—really," stammered the young man. "I had hoped to marry her some—." "Exactly, and I'd like to have you marry her, but if you're too attentive to her you won't have money enough to do it."—Philadelphia Press.

The citizens of Amesbury, Mass., are planning to erect a monument in honor of the good citizen John G. Whittier, long a town.

Exhaustive Competition.
 Before the Australian flag was chosen more than 23,000 designs were carefully examined. The competition was originally started by "The Australasian Review of Reviews," and as many of the designs were well worth notice, the covers took the matter up and offered a reward of £200 for the best suggestion. A board of naval experts was appointed to examine those sent in, and a decision was reached on October 3.

Wasn't Sure as to that Kind.
 A visitor to Washington entered a store where books, periodicals and stationery were displayed in the show windows. To the first "saleslady" he said: "Do you keep stationery? I want some envelopes." The "saleslady" looked puzzled and uncertain for a moment, then walking rapidly to the rear of the store she called out to an assistant: "Sally, do we keep stationery envelopes?"

Looking for an English Bride.
 The story about the visit to England of the Grand Duke and his brother of the czar, is that he is seeking a bride and has the lady picked out in the person of the Princess Margaret, daughter of King Edward's only surviving brother, the Duke of Connaught. The grand duke is 22 years old.

These are Plain Words.
 Marshfield, Mo., Jan. 20th.—Mr. J. F. King of this place makes the following statement: "I have suffered untold agony for twenty years with lame back and Acute Kidney Disease, and in that time have never been two days together clear of misery, and for some of the time I could not walk a step or even sit up at night." "Last spring, after trying many doctors and every remedy that could be thought of, I began a treatment of Dodd's Kidney Pills. The good results were almost immediate and for the last seven months I have seen more comfort and pleasure than I have for twenty years before." "Any one with Kidney Disease or Lame Back that will not try Dodd's Kidney Pills deserves to suffer."

Deafness Cannot Be Cured
 by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out of the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Miss Marion Cunningham, the Popular Young Treasurer of the Young Woman's Club of Emporia, Kans., has This to Say of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Your Vegetable Compound cured me of womb trouble from which I had been a great sufferer for nearly three years. During that time I was very irregular and would often have intense pain in the small of my back, and blinding headaches and severe cramps. For three months I used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and aches and pains are as a past memory, while health and happiness is my daily experience now. You certainly have one grateful friend in Emporia, and I have praised your Vegetable Compound to a large number of my friends. You have my permission to publish my testimonial in connection with my picture. Yours sincerely, MISS MARION CUNNINGHAM, Emporia, Kans."

THE CHILDREN ENJOY

Life out of doors and out of the games which they play and the enjoyment which they receive and the efforts which they make, comes the greater part of that healthful development which is so essential to their happiness when grown. When a laxative is needed the remedy which is given to them to cleanse and sweeten and strengthen the internal organs on which it acts, should be such as physicians would sanction, because its component parts are known to be wholesome and the remedy itself free from every objectionable quality. The one remedy which physicians and parents, well-informed, approve and recommend and which the little ones enjoy, because of its pleasant flavor, its gentle action and its beneficial effects, is—Syrup of Figs—and for the same reason it is the only laxative which should be used by fathers and mothers.

Syrup of Figs is the only remedy which acts gently, pleasantly and naturally without griping, irritating, or nauseating and which cleanses the system effectually, without producing that constipated habit which results from the use of the old-time cathartics and modern imitations, and against which the children should be so carefully guarded. If you would have them grow to manhood and womanhood, strong, healthy and happy, do not give them medicines, when medicines are not needed, and when nature needs assistance in the way of a laxative, give them only the simple, pleasant and gentle—Syrup of Figs.

Its quality is due not only to the excellence of the combination of the laxative principles of plants with pleasant aromatic syrups and juices, but also to our original method of manufacture and as you value the health of the little ones, do not accept any of the substitutes which unscrupulous dealers sometimes offer to increase their profits. The genuine article may be bought anywhere of all reliable druggists at fifty cents per bottle. Please to remember, the full name of the Company—CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.—is printed on the front of every package. In order to get its beneficial effects it is always necessary to buy the genuine only.
