BALL BOYS PULLED.

Those Who Participated in Sunday's Game Placed Under Bond.

For several days previous, the Evening News, of this city, contained squibs regarding the playing of ball on Sunday, knowing full well that a game had been quite extensively advertised to come off the following Sunday between a South Omaha team and the Plattsburgh team. The boys seemed to think that the editor of the News presumed a little too much for his weight and influence in the community, paid no attention to the hypocritical manner in which he endeavored to rite three-fourths of the populace with an iron rod, which they are not disposed to stand. Consequently the game was called as per advertisement, and several hundred people repaired to the ball ground to witness the contest. After playing several innings, Chief of Police Phillips, accompanied by several deputies appeared on the scene to arrest the participants, but it seems the boys refused to recognize his authority, and a riot seemed imminent. Sheriff McBride was then called, the boys arrested and brought down town, but before being placed in jail, it was discovered that several of the Omaha team had lit out in the direction of home and made good their escape.

A little later in the evening the boys were taken before Judge Douglass, who released them on giving bond in the sum of $50 each for their appearance on Monday, June 16th. Mr. Fred G. Egenberger and Henry C. McManis going on their bonds. While we do not exactly approve of ball playing on Sunday, we do not seriously think any particular harm could possibly result therefrom. We believe in people observing the Sabbath day according to the dictates of their own consciences, so long as they do not interfere with the rights of others. "Equal rights to all, and special privileges to none," is our motto, and we do not believe in any one man, or for that matter, set of men, endeavoring to force three-fourths of the people to do as they bid them to do. The people will not stand for it.

Plattsburgh is a city of 8,000 inhabitants, and to a great extent composed of laboring men, who have some rights that should be respected. If they choose to amuse themselves in various ways they have a perfect right to do so, so long as they do not interfere with the rights of others. If the people cannot be convinced of the error of their way, there is no use for a small minority to try to force them. Plattsburgh is no small village, where everybody is necessarily compelled to go to church, if they go anywhere in town. The laboring men, who work six days and choose to use the seventh in the way of amusing themselves, that is no business of ours, nor do we think it is anybody else's business so long as they do not disturb those who choose to observe the day otherwise.

The whole transaction is to be deplored, from the fact that it has engendered considerable ill feeling, which will take time to alleviate. And just so long as one fourth of the people in a community try to rule the other three-fourths it never will.

Enterprising citizens will endeavor to build up a city instead of trying to tear it down. The pontoon bridge is an enterprise to bring people here to do business, not to drive them away. Omaha, Nebraska City and other cities grant many privileges to their denizens, which no doubt many inhabitants do not endorse. Is Plattsburgh any better than these cities, that a little handful of citizens should attempt to rule it with the iron rod?

The Journal wants peace, and is here in the interest of all the people. We want to see Plattsburgh's business men prosper, and they will prosper so long as a majority of the citizens predominate, which is bound to be the case.

The News is the sole cause of the disturbance last Sunday, and there is no use for the editor of that paper to try to "scrawish" by saying he simply done so and so as "a warning" to the boys. The defendants have employed Hon. Matt Gerding, one of the ablest lawyers in Nebraska, and as to how the matter will terminate, we are not prepared to foretell. Suffice to say, the boys have placed their case in excellent hands.

Remember the Date.

One week from next Friday is the commencement of the State Tournament of the T. J. Sokols in Plattsburgh, which will continue for three days. It will occasion a turn-out of these societies from all over Nebraska, and in order that our city may present an appearance worthy of the honor, we would suggest that every place of business be decorated appropriately. And we believe a majority, if not all the business men of the city will do this.

Turn-Verien Picnic

The Turn-Verien picnic at Nick Halmes' place is a good place to go next Sunday to enjoy a day of recreation and have a good time. Everybody is invited.

ANNUAL PICNIC

Of the Omaha Foresters at Patterson Pond June 22.

Mr. T. R. Huston and Mr. Charles Remer, of Omaha, were in the city Monday making arrangements for the annual picnic of the Independent Order of Foresters of that city, which will be held at Patterson's pond, one and one-half miles north of Plattsburgh, on Sunday, June 22—one week from next Sunday. This order is composed of many of the best people of Omaha, and their annual outings have always proved very pleasant gatherings. They come out for recreation for themselves and families, and everybody is invited to attend and participate. There need not be any fear of molestation, as good order will be maintained in the strictest sense of the term. The Forester's Union Band, of Omaha, will furnish music for the occasion. The day's program of exercises will consist of bicycle races, tug of war contest between Iowa and Nebraska Foresters, and other amusements of various kinds, and a most pleasant time is guaranteed to all who attend.

The Independent Order of Foresters is a beneficiary organization that is recognized by all old line life insurance companies, as one among the best in the United States, and is in nowise connected with the Foresters who held a picnic in this vicinity ten years ago. We bespeak for the members of the order and all others who attend a most enjoyable event.

Breakman Injured.

Friday afternoon last, while a Burlington east bound freight was going through the big cut this side of the bridge, a car loaded with coal broke in two and dumped the entire load onto the track, causing the train to come to a sudden stop. E. F. Wright, a brakeman, by the sudden stop was thrown off a car, and in falling to the ground he struck the edge of the car with his chin, inflicting quite a gash. His right ankle was also so severely sprained that he was unable to walk for some time after. He was busily engaged in watching for boys who were in the habit of jumping on freight trains when going through this cut, when the accident occurred, which was about 4 o'clock. Several trains were delayed for about two hours, when the obstruction was cleared away. Mr. Wright went to his home, in Lincoln, where he will remain until he is able to resume his position.

Trying to Apologize.

If the game scheduled for Sunday isn't called off each and every participant should be promptly arrested and made to answer for the willful violation of the law. No other need fear but that the citizens of this community will not give him the necessary support.—Evening News, Friday, June 6.

Was this simply published "as a warning"? When the above was penned by the editor of the News, he knew as well as he knows he is alive what it would bring forth. Now he is going among those who take exceptions at the manner in which he and his "backer" are trying to coerce the people into their way of thinking, endeavoring to apologize by saying, "I simply done it as a warning." But the people won't have the "wool pulled over their eyes" in any such manner.

The Daily Journal.

The initial number of the Daily Journal will make its appearance next Monday evening. Already a list of over three hundred subscribers have been obtained, and without much effort, many coming direct to the office. The Daily Journal will endeavor to give all the news, and we shall also endeavor to keep its columns clear of anything that will be calculated to engender discord among those who are interested in the welfare of Plattsburgh. Many of the leading business men have signified their intention of giving the Daily Journal a fair support of which we hope to prove worthy. It is our intention to do everything in our power for the upbuilding of our fair city, with the hope that our earnest efforts will be appreciated by those who believe in law and order, but not at the expense of attempted coercion.

Gentry Bros' Show.

Notwithstanding the busy season for the farmers quite a number attended the Gentry Bros' pony and dog show, Tuesday. The parade at 11 o'clock was one of the finest ever witnessed in this city. In fact it came up fully to many larger shows. The wagons, cages and chariots presented a very neat appearance. The head band was simply out of sight, and was one of the best show bands we ever heard. The performances of the ponies and elephants was simply grand. About two thousand people attended the afternoon performances, while half that number was present in the evening. The show was all that possibly could be expected for one of its character, and it is one that the management need not be ashamed of. They have a herd of about 100 of the handsomest ponies ever looked at. Every man connected with the show is a gentleman, and the best wishes of the Journal are with the managers for their future prosperity.

A PIONEER CITIZEN GONE

Sudden Death of Frederick Goos From Heart Disease.

Frederick Goos, one of Plattsburgh's oldest residents, died quite suddenly at his home on North Eighth street, on Sunday last about three o'clock p. m. The deceased had been in poor health for several months, and his sudden demise was not altogether unexpected, as heart disease, of which he was badly affected, is liable to take one off without a moment's warning. The deceased was born in Owslog, Germany, and came to this city nearly thirty-two years ago, where he has been engaged in business of various kinds, first working in the mill of Coon Heisel. After which he opened the Goos House, on lower Main street, now the Plattsburgh Hotel, in which business he continued for sixteen years. For several years the deceased has not been engaged in any kind of business. He leaves a wife and four grown children, namely, Mrs. E. H. Heitzhausen, Mrs. Wm. Schmidtman, Mrs. Joseph Fetzer and Henry Goos. The funeral took place from the German Lutheran church on Tuesday, afternoon at three o'clock, Rev. F. H. Freund conducting the services. After which the remains were interred in Oak Hill cemetery.

True as Gospel.

When we look over some of the exchanges that come to this office from week to week, they remind us of some men and we are led to wonder what their mission on earth is. From all that we can discover of them, they are of no earthly value to themselves, nor anybody else. Humanity has never benefited by their creation, and is never likely to be. Even a "long felt want" that could be satisfied by them would be purely imaginative.—Sterling Semi-Weekly Sun.

There is more truth than poetry in the above. And the fact is that many of these "long felt want" papers are out of a bare existence and are only a thorn in the side of the better class of journalists, that strive to give the community papers worthy of their support. The people seem slow to recognize this fact, and some of them will give support to these little papers, when they feel within themselves that it is but simply a matter of time when they will "turn up their toes to daisies."

Rates to Grand Island.

LINCOLN, NEB., June 9, 1901. EDITOR JOURNAL.—I beg to announce that the chairman of the Western Passenger Association has advised me that, for the populist and democratic state conventions at Grand Island, the lines of railroad under his jurisdiction have consented to the following arrangement: "Rate of one fare from points in Nebraska to Grand Island and return; excursion tickets to be sold on June 23 and 24, good to return leaving Grand Island until and including June 27, 1902. Tickets limited for going passage commencing date of sale and for continuous passage in each direction."

This is an open excursion rate of one fare for the round trip, and it will not be necessary to ask for a receipt with ticket. Kindly publish the fact that this rate has been made, and about the 19th or 20th of June inquire if your railroad agent has received the necessary bulletins authorizing him to issue tickets in accordance with the above.

CHARLES Q. DE FRANCE, Chairman.

The Fourth at Murray.

From present indications, Murray will have one of the grandest celebrations in the history of Cass county. There has been no celebration in that town for two years, and as there will be none in Plattsburgh this year, Murray people thought they would get up a good one for the Fourth this year. Every effort is being put forth to secure good attractions, and among the features of the day will be speaking by men of state and national reputation, a procession of mercantile and industrial floats, balloon ascension, ball game, races and amusements of all kinds, to conclude with a grand display of fireworks in the evening. The committees appointed are as follows:

Finance—W. A. Cropp, H. M. Doolittle and E. W. Brown.
Grounds and Privileges—F. L. Pollock, W. H. McMaster and C. H. Wetzel.
Speakers—W. H. Benson, O. E. Garrett and A. H. Seib.
Music—Mrs. O. E. Garrett, Mrs. J. F. Hasty, Miss Laura Cook, A. B. Miller and W. J. Waters.
Amusements—F. S. Smith, A. R. Bishop, J. E. Rugg, J. F. Aldrich and A. J. Hoffman.
Advertising—C. B. Francis and C. E. Waters.

A Rich Strike.

The Mining Review says that rich ore has lately been discovered in the Garden City district, on the property of John Adams of Carbonate and James K. Pollock, late of Deadwood, but formerly of Plattsburgh, Nebraska. It is supposed that the ore was uncovered some time ago, but the owners kept quiet about the matter and the news of the strike did not reach the public until a few days ago.—Central City (S. D.) Register.

Special June Sale of

Mid-Summer Merchandise

Wm. Herold & Son's.

Some recent purchases made by us have given us a decided advantage over our fellow-merchants.

WASH GOODS BARGAINS.

We thought our select wash goods late, thereby getting full benefit of the great reduction in prices now being made by over-stocked jobbers, due to the backward season. We have just received two cases of Corded Dimities, in all colors—goods that sold at from 3c to 5c a yard. We offer the entire lot your choice for—10c Per Yard

145 pieces better grade Dimity, plain and printed lawn and organdy, printed foulards, etc. all this season's newest and most desirable productions. If bought early we would have had to retail at 15c, 17c, 20c and 25c a yard, but our advantageous purchase enables us to give you your choice of the lot for—10c a Yard

SOME UMBRELLA BARGAINS.

100 sun and rain Umbrellas, with pretty assortment of handles, the regular 2c to $1.25 kinds, we give you your choice for—39c

STRAW HATS!

We still have several hundred of "those 30c straw hats" that created such a sensation in the hat market last week—selling over 250 the first day we placed them on sale. We might have held them and retailed them out slowly for $1.50, $2 and $2.50 giving us an enormous profit, for they were worth these prices, but we bought them at a great sacrifice, and following our business motto of "quick sales and small profits," we sold them at our regular margin, giving our customers the benefit of our bargains.

Wm. Herold & Son,
303-307 MAIN STREET.

MEN'S NEGLIGEE SHIRTS.

Fifty dozen men's negligee shirts, which, at 49 cents each, are almost as great a bargain as the 25-cent ones.

One case men's home comb. Balbriggan shirts and drawers, a late purchase from an over-stocked jobber at half price. We give the customer the benefit of our bargain by selling them again at half price. They are worth 49 cents a garment. We sell them for—25c a Garment

SPECIAL SALE OF LADIES' GAUZE UNDERWEAR.

Silk, Lisle, Mercerized Cotton and Cotton underwear for ladies, boys and children, with long sleeves, short sleeves, no sleeves at all, and "body vest" (with no sleeves or shoulders). Gauze union suits, gauze corset covers, boys' knickerbockers, gauze drawers for ladies, Misses and children. A most complete line of all kinds and all prices.

DISCOUNT SALE ON Ladies' Shirt Waists.

We have a beautiful line of the best makes in the United States of Ladies' Shirt Waists. The backward season has retarded the sale, and to start them going at a lively pace we have decided to offer a discount of 10 per cent from our regular price. Remember, this is no take. Every one knows we do not put up any false advertisements, but this is a direct saving of 10 per cent to you by giving you an August and September discount in June. But as we say, the condition justifies it.
