Few Duplicate Copies of the Declaration of Independence. Several communications have recently reached the Record asking if the original copy of the Declaration of Independence was in existence, and if duplicate copies could be had. It is a rather curious fact that while facsimiles of the Declaration were common enough several years ago, and were largely used for advertising purposes, they are now very scarce-so scarce that a Philadelphia collector only last week paid $10 for one bearing the advertisement of a western railroad. The original document, preserved in glass, is still to be seen in the possession of the Department of State in Washington, but it has become so faded as to be nearly illegible by reason of which a photographic reproduction would be valueless. James D. McBride had plates made and secured a copyright on them in 1874, but these plates were later destroyed by fire, and none is now in existence. Consequently the copies that have been preserved are constantly increasing in value.-Philadelphia Record.

Among the possessions of Senator Dietrich of Nebraska are a silk hat and a frock suit. The other day he put the outfit away, he thinks, for good. The senator, who usually dresses much like a farmer, first wore the regalia named on the day he was inaugurated governor of Nebraska. It rained and snowed that day. He wore them a second time when President McKinley was sworn in a second time. It rained heavily. On the day the Rochambeau statue was unveiled he once more tempted fate and got the full benefit of a shower that interrupted the exercises. The following Sunday he again arrayed himself, only to be caught in a heavy thunderstorm. Now he has laid away his suit and hat, convinced that they act as a hoo-

 NEGRO RACE IS DYING OFF.

Ere Many Years the Africans Will Have Disappeared From Cuba.

There is every indication that the negro question will settle itself in Cuba. In a report on the vital statistics of Havana and Guanabacas Maj-Gorgas, a physician as well as a soldier, says that during the month of January in those cities the native whites showed an excess of 188 births over deaths, that is, the figures were 457 and 269, whereas the native negroes showed an excess of 58 deaths over birth-that is to say, the figures were 128 and 70. The figures for the year 1901 are even more significant. During the twelve months the native whites gained 1,740 and the native negroes lost 513, making a total gain for the natives of 1,227 inhabitants.

The deaths of foreigners brought the difference down to exactly one, although it must be remembered that the number of foreigners dying indicates that the city is gaining rapidly in population by immigration. If this keeps up for a reasonable length of left in Cuba.

Useful Contrivance. As all other motors have been applied to the bicycle, it would have been very strange if the sail had been omitted-the sail, the oldest of motors, the invention of which an Egyptian tradition ascribes to Isis, who, weary of the slow progress of her rowers, snatched off her veil and allowed the wind to distend it. S. G. Smith, of Bloemfontein, devised a yacht bicycle, with a lateen sail which, with a favorable wind, would sometimes go for hours without the aid of pedals, and these vehicles were quite fashionable among South African sportsmen be-

Twenty-five years ago a very similar machine was devised and essayed in hicles. The earliest contrivance of the sort, probably, was the "flying coach" devised by Don Jose Roscasa, a Spanish officer of artillery, in 1892. This was a boat, with masts and sails, mounted on three wheels. It also had cranks, so that it could be driven by hand. It was therefore a motor-tricycle with a compound motor.

In his message to the Cuban senate President Palma stated: "Together with our own heroism is the attitude of the great people, impelled by their own love of liberty, to put themselves on our side in our tenacious fight for the independence of the country. Impelled by this sentiment, the powerful republic of the north recognizes through its illustrious president, the republic of Cuba. The promise formally made has been carried out. In this moment, when we feel our right | ministration has hauled down the flag as an independent nation, it is impossible to suppress our gratitude to the United States. To recognize this debt of gratitude to the great nation is an act which exalts us and which makes us worthy of the consideration and respect of the other nations of the world." Every time a tribute is paid by the Cubans to the United States, because of the attitude of this government toward the new republic, the American people are reminded of their humiliation with respect to the Philippines. Would it not be gratifying to the American people if the Filipinos could pay us the tribute which the Cubans do at this time?
