

WEDDING BELLS.

Lee L. Atwood and Miss Grace Britt United in the Holy Bonds of Matrimony.

The home of the bride's mother, in Omaha, on Thursday evening last, was the scene of a most happy event, the occasion being the marriage of Lee L. Atwood, son of A. W. Atwood, the druggist of this city, and Miss Grace Britt of Omaha, Rev. Prinson, of Milford, officiating.

Mr. Atwood is an excellent young business man, and is at present employed in the supply department of the B. & M. railroad company at Omaha, while the bride is one of the most accomplished young ladies in Eastern Nebraska, very popular and highly respected by all of her acquaintances. She is a daughter of Dr. Leroy Britt, who several years ago had charge of the M. E. Church congregation, and afterwards Presiding Elder of Nebraska City district, but since deceased for several years.

Soon after the ceremony the happy couple departed for Chicago on a short bridal tour, after which they will take up their residence in Omaha.

Among those present to witness the ceremonies were Mr. and Mrs. Atwood, grand parents of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Atwood, Mrs. R. R. Livingston, Mrs. Anna Britt and daughter Doratha, Mrs. Will Clement, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Benson, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Snyder, of Plattsmouth; Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Atwood, son and daughter, of Lincoln; Dr. and Mrs. Prinson, of Milford; Dr. and Mrs. Gilmore and Mr. and Mrs. James Walker, of Murray.

The Journal joins the many friends of the bride and groom in wishing them continued happiness, and that their pathway through life may be strewn with choicest flowers.

Those Who Contributed.

H. C. McMaken has spent considerable time in the past month in collecting samples of fruit from the farmers of Cass county for exhibition at the national encampment at Washington this week. Through Commissioner Falter a number of views of the county poor farm orchard has also been sent. Mr. McMaken deserves great credit for his efforts in this matter, and we hope he will have the satisfaction of learning that his collection will make Cass county famous as a fruit-growing section. Those who contributed are Jacob Falter, Wm. Brown, Wm. Hill, Ezra Sampson, Herman Bester, Jas. Allison, Dan Touvenell, A. Schuldie, Louis Dose, Claus Jess, J. E. Leesley, Samuel Barker, Dr. J. D. Hall, Major Hall, Mr. Buckingham and H. C. McMaken & Son.

The Lincoln Daily Star.

The initial number of the above named paper made its appearance last Thursday evening with an issue that was most creditable indeed. This is called P. E. Thompson's paper, from the fact that he was the prime mover in the enterprise, and that he is president of the company establishing the same. The Star presents a very handsome appearance, and the issue before the writer contains sixteen pages with seven columns to the page. While the Journal does not have any use for the politics of the Star, it must acknowledge that it is a paper well worthy of the support of the republican party of the state of Nebraska. A great many of its party friends have long since become disgusted with the Lincoln Journal and its manner of "whipping in" those who would not conform to its wishes. The Journal has had everything its own way in Lincoln, and has become quite a rich corporation by charging exorbitant prices for state printing, almost like robbing the tax payers. The people will be glad of the establishment of the Star, on account of one thing, if no other. It will have a tendency to put a curb on the Journal's reckless manner of robbing the state in charges, simply because it was permitted to do so by those in authority. The Daily Star is backed by a strong syndicate, headed by D. E. Thompson, and it is the belief of many of the leaders of the republican party, that in the course of time it will succeed in eliminating the Journal which has become an eyesore to those who desire to become candidates on the republican state ticket, and haven't the where with to fee the Journal from the start, for its influence.

Pick-pockets at Omaha.

Uncle Henry Weckbach came with in an act of losing his watch in Omaha Thursday night last. Had it not been for the double chain attached to it some pawn broker would now have that time piece. The pick-pocket succeeded in cutting one of the chains when Uncle Henry discovered him, and kept the villain from getting it. It is also said that a lady from this city kept a light-fingered gentleman from getting her pocket book by warding him off with a hat pin. These are the only two experiences of this character heard from to date with Plattsmouth people.

Now is the time to paper your house. We have an immense stock of wall paper. Come and examine. Gering & Co.

Totally Blind.

The many friends of Jacob Valley, not only of the city of Plattsmouth, but throughout Cass county, will regret to learn that his eyesight has failed him entirely, and that since last Tuesday he has been totally blind, so much so that he is unable to discern the largest object, or even see the movement of anything that is passed forwards and backwards close to the eyes. This is indeed an unfortunate condition in which to be placed, and the Journal hopes that his sight may be restored to him. Uncle Jake resides in the northwest part of the city, and is visited hourly by those who endeavor to console him in his unfortunate condition. It is said that his sight left him quite suddenly, and without the least apprehension.

Ottmat Creates Trouble.

A special to the Omaha Bee, from Nebraska City under date of October 7, says: The union painters employed by J. E. Robbins walked out today because of the refusal of Louis Ottmat, a decorator employed by the contractor to do the frescoing on one of his contracts, to join their union. The trouble started yesterday, when Charles Bulger, one of the members of the union, went to Mr. Ottmat and asked him to join. When Mr. Ottmat informed him that he was a contractor and an employer of labor and therefore not eligible to membership, a quarrel ensued, in which Bulger hit the artist in the face. This morning a warrant was issued for the arrest of the man and Judge Hill imposed the minimum fine. When the hour for going to work came the men informed Mr. Robbins that they would not work with the nonunion man, and walked out.

Cass County's Exhibit at Washington.

The Sunday World-Herald in speaking of the fruit sent to Washington from Nebraska, has the following to say regarding the apples sent from this county: "The train when it left Omaha, consisted of nine sleepers and a baggage car. In the latter two-thirds of the space was taken up by a splendid exhibit of Nebraska fruits and other products which, properly labeled, will be placed on exhibition at the capital. The principal portion of this exhibit was collected by H. C. McMaken of Plattsmouth, and consists of fifty-three baskets of apples, potatoes and grapes. In this collection are thirty-three varieties of apples and two of potatoes. The fruit is the finest that could be gotten together in Cass county. Many of the apples are fourteen inches in circumference, while many of the potatoes weigh twenty-four ounces. Ten baskets of Jonathan apples, taken from the poor farm of Cass county, are to be presented to President Roosevelt. With this exhibit is a large photograph of an apple tree from which forty-two baskets of apples were picked this year. The tree is in the Cass county poor farm orchard."

Happy Brothers.

Mr. St. Kisdusak, of Leadville, Colo., wrote us that both he and his brother suffered from very painful rheumatism and without being able to find relief, until their attention was called to Triner's American Elixir of Bitter Wine. "I received your Bitter Wine," he says, "in good order, and must say, that it had an excellent effect on both of us. All pains in the bones disappeared and a healthy appetite returned. Accept our thanks. We feel well and happy." Triner's American Elixir of Bitter Wine always has the desired effect in such cases; it eliminates the rheumatic poison, makes the blood clean and strong and returns all organs to their natural activity. It creates good appetite and new vitality. For sale at all drug stores and at the manufacturer's J. S. Triner, 739 S. Ashland Ave., Chicago, Ill.

TOM SAYLES DEAD.

Drops Dead From a Stroke of Apoplexy at Grand Island.

Tuesday morning the Journal received a telegram from the Daily Independent of Grand Island, stating that Tom Sayles had dropped dead on the streets of that city, and desiring information regarding him. According to the account of his death below, the dispatch was received at this office very soon after his death. He is a brother of Wm. Sayles, living south of Plattsmouth, and from what the latter stated to a reporter of the Journal, Tom left here one week ago last Tuesday. Up to the time of his departure for the west he had for some time been making his home with his brother William, who also says that he enlisted for the Spanish-American war in Missouri, while the dispatch to the World-Herald states otherwise. Following is the dispatch to the World-Herald, which gives more light upon the matter, with the exception of what part of country he enlisted:

Grand Island, Neb., Oct. 7.—About 8 o'clock this morning a stranger, walking from the Koehler hotel to Third street dropped dead in front of the Kluge saloon. Dr. Sutherland, whose offices are not a block distant, was called and pronounced it apoplexy. The man came in on a stock train over the Union Pacific from Cheyenne last evening and stated that he was on his way to Omaha. Papers on his person indicate that he was Charles Selles, or Sayles, and that he was a member of the Fifth volunteer infantry of Ohio, enlisted at Cleveland in 1898, being honorably discharged in 1901. It is stated that he has a brother residing in Cass county and efforts are being made to secure word from the latter. If this statement, made by the deceased is true, the man was about 38 years of age. By occupation he appears to have been a railroad conductor. Other papers and a meal ticket indicate that he has been at work at Guernsey, Wyoming, and had also, some years ago, worked in the south.

Wm. Sayles departed Tuesday night for Grand Island, and will probably return this evening with the body of his brother.

Recklessly Managed.

If there ever was a recklessly managed institution in the state of Nebraska that one is the Lincoln Insane Asylum. Lon Smith who was sent from the county a few weeks ago, was in that institution just four days when he made his escape. Cass county is entitled to better treatment at the hands of the management of that institution, than it is receiving. But perhaps there are many other counties who could say the same, but think there is no use to kick as long as that institution is controlled by a republican administration. It is a shame and a scandal to the people of the state that the institution is permitted to be run by such a reckless outfit. There was no cause for Smith's escape; and more than that the authorities of that institution have made no effort to recapture him. Such is the condition of affairs in Nebraska under republican rule. "Turn the rascals out!" should be the battle cry from now on till the close of the polls on the night of November 4th.

Say, Mr. Preacher.

Written for the Journal.
Rev. Busche a Methodist preacher in the northern part of Hamilton county, a few Sundays ago, held up to his people one Mickey, instead of Christ, and told them what a grand man he had made. And no doubt, he may have told them what a lovely saint he would make them if they would take him on the throne in the state house. Say, Mr. Preacher, the next time you come before the people, you might take for your text: "And Judas, also who betrayed Him, stood with them," and then hold up this man Mickey before them as treasurer of Polk county; and then call up the expert accountant who examined the records made by Treasurer Mickey. Now, Judas had a clean record before he betrayed Christ, but say Mr. Preacher, this man Mickey may also have had a clean record before he became treasurer of Polk county. And, say, Mr. Preacher, Bartley may have had a clean record before he became treasurer of the state of Nebraska. Say, Mr. Preacher, there was also a certain superintendent of one of the insane asylums who is another of your beloved saints, and say, Mr. Preacher, hadn't you better hold up Christ instead of man? But if you must preach man, hold up one like W. H. Thompson—a man with a clean record. W. M. LARSEN, Co. A, 48th Indiana Infantry, Aurora, Nebraska.

Gained Forty Pounds in Thirty Days.

For several months our younger brother had been troubled with indigestion. He tried several remedies but got no benefit from them. We purchased some of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and he commenced taking them. Inside of thirty days he had gained forty pounds in flesh. He is now fully recovered. We have a good trade on the Tablets. —HOLLY BROS., Merchants, Long Branch, Mo. For sale by all druggists.

at 7:30 o'clock. Come out and hear the "Little Giant," one of the finest orators in the West.

Float Representative.

The float convention for Otter and Cass counties have placed before the people of the two counties Thos. E. Parmele, of this city, a young man of incessant energy and enterprise. A gentleman of sterling qualities, and Otter and Cass counties can depend upon him as a man who will represent the whole people, and not use his influence while representing them to further his own interests to their detriment. Tom Parmele is a production of Cass county, born and reared here, where he has been for years identified in the business circles not only of Cass county, but throughout Southeast Nebraska. He is just the man the people want, and if they will do their duty on the 4th day of November they will have a representative of which they will feel proud.

For Commissioner.

The democrats of Cass county in convention assembled, it appears, made no mistake in the nomination of W. B. Banning, of Liberty precinct. Mr. Banning is a citizen of Union, where he is engaged in the farm implement business, and in which community his friends are legion. He is a gentleman whose business qualities will compare favorably with any man in the county, and a citizen who will look well to the interests of the tax payers, not only of his own district but also of the entire county. He stands high, not only in the section of where he resides, but by every one who knows him. He is just the man for the position, and the Journal believes that with a "long pull, a strong and a pull altogether," his friends will land him into the commission.

Should Keep His Place.

Wilson, the pastor of Mt. Zion (colored) church of this city, appears to be troubled over the manner in which he was treated while going to Richmond, Virginia, on church business a few weeks ago by a Chesapeake & Ohio railroad conductor, who treated him the same as they usually treat negroes in the south. He was made to take his place in a coach carried on all trains for their use, when told to take that car he objected, but finally he was threatened with ejection and went in the "colored" car. Now, he has brought suit against the railroad company for $100,000, a pretty high price. The southern railroads are governed by the laws of their states, and the best thing to do when he goes south again, is to conform with laws of these states, or walk. He is no better than other people of his color who do so.

He Learned a Great Truth.

It is said of John Wesley that he once said to Mistress Wesley: "Why do you tell that child the same thing over and over again?" John Wesley, because once telling is not enough." It is for the same reason that you are told again and again that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cures colds and grip; that it counteracts any tendency of these diseases to result in pneumonia, and that it is pleasant and safe to take. PLENTY OF HARD COAL AT $9.00 A TON would be appreciated by nearly all of us poor mortals. But that's not of the question. So what will you do about it? Buy soft coal of course. You will need stoves—soft coal stoves. Democratic Hot Shot.

The "empty coal scuttle" is going campaigning this fall with the formerly "full dinner pail."

Most of the republican meetings in this county have been chilly enough to produce a coal famine.

The thinnest explanation yet is that the prohibitionists scared Uncle Dave Henderson off the track.

Chairman Babcock is doing his best to be cheerful. He feels that he has a duty to perform in that line.

The good citizen gets out and votes. The bad one stays away from the polls and damns the returns.

The man who started the Shaw resignation rumor was not at all acquainted with the mucilaginous patriotism of that particular Iowa.

The New York Sun is doing some hot shining on the president's trust policy these autumn days. Is the Sun about to flop again?

Some of the republican candidates for congress in the west are beginning to suspect that this is going to be a decidedly off year with them.

When coal gets 16 dollars to 1 ton there will be a renewal of kicking in the east over the divine ratio, as interpreted by President Baer.

Hon. Horace Boies doesn't think he will have much trouble in getting a tin-can attached to the gentleman nominated in Speaker Henderson's stead.

Why didn't the president make an omnibus job of it and invite all the other trust magnates to come up and arbitrate with him? That would have been the proper caper.

The Tom Johnson circus is doing a land office business in drawing crowds in the Ohio campaign. Evidently the republicans do not know how to stack up against that sort of canvass.

It must disgust Congressman Babcock to think that just after he had laid down his hand on tariff revision the whole community picked it up and is playing it for all in sight.

Secretary Shaw rushes to the aid of the Wall street gamblers with all the government cash available. He certainly deserves a good soft snap in that neighborhood when his present one expires.

When the coal barons of Pennsylvania decline to listen to the president of this great republic, the situation is becoming alarming indeed. Oh, for a president with the grit of Andrew Jackson!

The trusts are "doing" the republican party in great shape. They have gone so far in favoring these combines that to cut loose now would be death to the party.

Joe Manley, he of republican fame, and at one time one of the ring leaders of that party, says it would keep the party in power to lose the next house. He is probably fixing a soft place to light on after the eruption next month.

There is but little genuine hog cholera. A Chicago man has observed that, "Good deeds are better than real estate deeds—some of the latter are worthless." Act kindly and gently, show sympathy and lend a helping hand. You cannot possibly lose by it. Most men appreciate a kind word and encouragement more that substantial help. There are persons in this community who might truthfully say: "My good friend, cheer up. A few doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will rid you of your cold, and there is no danger whatever from pneumonia when you use that medicine. It always cures. I know it for it has helped me out many a time." Sold by all druggists.
