Imperial Gallantry.

How the pleasant eccentricities of one generation will persist in breaking out in another, defying time and ridicule and the change of manners. It was the playful way of Frederick the Great when he came across a buxom wench to marry her forthwith to the tallest of his grenadiers, and It stands to the credit of his intuition that these marriages rarely proved a failure. Now, either in emulation of his great predecessor or else because he cannot help it, the kalser has just had a similar attack of gallantrygallantry, mark you, on a truly imperial scale. He was visiting Crefeld lately, that busy town of silks and velvets on the lower Rhine, and learned from the pretty girl inhabitants that all they wanted in the world was a handful of lieutenants to dance with them. Hey presto! the autocratic mandate has gone forth that Crefeld is to have its garrison in the shape of a crack Hussar regiment. and the burgomaster is busy preparing it accommodation. That regiment is lucky if it is not christened in future Fraunhusaren, or worst of all, Tanswehr.--Pall Mall Gazette.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.-Secretary

The Professional Women's League, of New York, has brought out some curious facts regarding the physical proportions of women. The league has advertised for fifty young women stx feet tall to act as "policemen" at the women's exhibition in Madison Square Garden next October. Most of the women who answered fell fully six inches below the required standard. one woman stood six feet high, but she was built so much like a tape measure that the secretary declined to furnish her with a mace. Another came forward with the argument that, while she was only five feet tall, her literal proportions were vast enough to make her an object of terror to wrongdoers at the exhibition. Of the cret. Parade Reviewed From a Stand in Front of the White House-Pension Commissioner Ware Tenders the Veterans a Reception.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8 .- The sunshine which ushered in the opening of the Grand Army of the Republic encampment Monday morning was succeeded yesterday by cloudy weather. But the change had no effect on the spirits of the vast crowds which early swarmed into the banner-decked streets and hurried to Pennsylvania avenue to take their places for the big naval parade, which was to be the principal event of the morning.

Before 9 o'clock the roped-off side walks were packed with blue-coated veterans and other visitors, while the air was filled with the blare of bands and the steady tramp of uniformed soldiery, sailors and marines, marching to their alloted places in the line. It was estimated that over 100,000 visitors were in the city. The parade was under the command of Gen. Heywood, commandant of the marine corps, as marshal of the day, and consisted of all the troops located in and about Washington, marines from the Washington Guard, District of Columbia National Guard, the Spanish War Veterans, Sons of Veteranas High School Cadets and the associa tion of ex-prisoners of war, acting as escorts for the naval veterans.

The column started at 19 o'clock and marched through the densely packed streets to the accompaniment of al most continuous cheers to the White House, where the escorting bodies halted and formed to review the naval veterans, who filed past and disbanded near the state, war and navy building. About forty-five naval veterans' associations participated. How Greeley Settled It.

James C. Fernald, the lexicographer, has written a little pamphlet called "Better Say." which contains may interesting examples of the correct and incorrect use of words. Among them is the following:

News. "The latest news are good." Better say: "The latest news is good." News, while plural in form, is singular in construction. Two friends at one time having a dispute on this matter agreed to refer it to Horace Greeley. As he was out of the city, the question was telegraphed to him, "Are there any news?" Greeley promptly flashed back the answer: "Not a new."-Brooklyn Eagle.
