The Misses Dovey. Last Sunday's Chicago Chronicle contained half-tone photos of Misses Ethel and Alice Dovey, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Dovey of this city. Also an excellent sketch of their career on the stage. They are Plattsmouth girls and Plattsmouth people proud of them. These young ladies show what can be brought forth by the early training of a mother, a great deal of their success is due to that which was taught them by Mrs. Dovey from the time they could lip the name of "Mamma." The girls deserve credit, but really no more so than the mother who labored with them in their younger days. The Nebraska City Tribune has the following to say regarding these two young ladies: "The Chicago Chronicle of February 8th gives excellent pictures of the Dovey sisters of Plattsmouth, and an extended account of their success and achievements at home and abroad. The young ladies and their family are well known in this city where they claim many warm friends who will be pleased to hear again of the continued and increasing success of the talented ladies. Ailken's design has been accepted by the McKinley memorial monument committee of San Francisco, Cal. The London Hospital, referring to the introduction of lace making in a Cripples' Home and Industrial School for Girls, says the pupils proved remarkably apt and were delighted with their new task... As Usual—Woman to Blame. Blame for the accident to the president's party seems likely to fall in the same way that it did in the case of the first human trolley. The motorman on the trolley car says the driver of the carriage was at fault, while spectators say the motorman was at fault in driving his car at terrific speed. But it is said the women in the car were urging the motorman to "let her go," so that they might get a good view of the presidential party. And so the blame again falls ultimately on the weaker vessel as a last resort of man's successors... Milk Churned in Calf's Stomach. A Jersey calf at Galesburg, Mich., was treated to a breakfast of fresh milk and then turned out to gambol on the green. It frolicked to its heart's content, but suddenly dropped dead. A post-mortem examination showed that the stomach was full of butter churned from the calf's breakfast by the animal's activity. The stomach made a good churn, but failed to digest its own product... You Will Be Happy if Well. Paine's Celery Compound Bestows that Health and Vigor that Makes Living a Pleasure. If you are sick and out-of-sorts, it is in your power to make yourself healthy, strong, and happy... There is not the slightest reason why you should go through life feeling sickly, miserable, languid, and melancholic. To be well and strong, means happiness and true joy... If you are sleepless, rheumatic, neuralgic, dyspeptic, or have the shadows of disease hovering over you; if you are not as bright, energetic, and strong as you were some weeks ago, the use of Paine's Celery Compound will tone up and fortify your whole system, cleanse the blood, correct digestion, sharpen the appetite, and conduce to restful sleep. Thousands once in a half-dead condition owe their present good health to the use of Paine's Celery Compound. Mr. Wm. S. Gilson, of Pleasureville, Ky., who, through sickness and suffering, was brought near the dark grave, writes as follows, regarding his marvelous cure: "I have been broken down in health and strength, nervous system shattered, kidneys out of order, and nervous and trembling spells off and on for the last ten years. I have taken three bottles of your Paine's Celery Compound and all of the above-mentioned troubles have left me, and I can now do a good day's work. I go about my business all day long and I don't worry me, and I now feel better than I have in ten years. I have a good appetite, and can eat and get around on foot as active as when I was a boy. My age is 65 years."

Jack Roth, a stranger in this vicinity, is now reclining behind the bars of the county jail, under the charge of robbery. On Thursday of last week he made his advent to the city, and becoming quite intimate with Jacob Vallery and Jacob Luft during the day, it is presumed that he had no money, they took him home with them to stay all night. Early the next morning he borrowed ten cents of Mr. Vallery, and also his overcoat to come down town ostensibly for the purpose of getting his breakfast. When these gentlemen arose from their slumbers they found that Mr. Vallery's gold watch and glasses were missing and also $5.00 belonging to Mr. Luft. The fact was reported to Sheriff McBride, but the new-made friend by this time had departed. Sheriff McBride found that he had gone up the railroad track, and when he wired to Oresopolis the thief was at that time setting in the depot at that point, but before Mack could reach there he had departed for LaPlatte. To this point he was conveyed through the assistance of two section men and their handcar. At LaPlatte he was found about ready to depart for Omaha on a freight train. At his preliminary examination, Judge Kroehler bound him over to district court in the sum of $300. This is another instance wherein that excellent official displayed his usual alertness in capturing the thief. Mack is a terror to evil-doers... Have You Ever Thought of It? Probably not a half dozen farmers in Cass county ever dreamed even that it would pay them to advertise. Advertising is looked upon by them as the means only of disposing of goods of the merchants. The idea, however, is one quite natural for them to hold, for the reason that they never give any attention to the subject; and the reason that they never give advertising a thought is because it has never been suggested to them that printer's ink could be profitably used. It has never occurred to the average farmer, probably, that if he had a cow, a horse, a dozen hogs or a flock of sheep to sell, that a 50 cent advertisement would reach hundreds of people and probably be the means of sending him a dozen buyers. Not only would the ad. be profitable to him in disposing of his stock immediately, but it would be an advertisement to him for months. Buyers who do not want to purchase when the ad. appears will remember him and perhaps visit him in the future. When a farmer wants to sell a horse or a cow, how does he advertise the fact? He tells his neighbor something like this: "If you see anybody that wants to buy a fine cow or horse, send him round." This is as far as a farmer's advertising goes, and nine times in ten the neighbor never thinks of the "fine cow" or the "good horse" again. When anybody has anything to sell, advertising will bring results, and can be made profitable to the farmer as well as to the merchant... Another Pioneer Gone. August Krecklow, another old settler of Cass County, died at his home, one mile north of Manly, on Saturday, February 7, 1903, and was buried Sunday, the services taking place from the German Lutheran church, southwest of Louisville. Mr. Krecklow was a highly respected citizen of his neighborhood, and one who was loved by all who knew him. Both Mr. and Mrs. Krecklow have been ill for some time, and we regret to hear of the death also of the latter, which occurred yesterday, and in so few days after her husband. Both were very old people... Mean Business. Frank J. Morgan, of Plattsmouth, grand receiver for the Ancient Order of United Workmen, was in the city yesterday, the guest of Grand Master Workman Jacob Jaskalek. These gentlemen are striving earnestly, it is said, to make lodge No. 66 of this city the largest in the state. The membership is already over 800, and it is believed that a movement is now on foot to increase its membership to upward of 1,000 during the present month. Messrs Morgan and Jaskalek are doing some personal work in the matter which, it is said, means business.—Omaha World-Herald... Tendency of the Times. The tendency of medical science is toward preventive measures. The best thought of the world is being given to the subject. It is easier and better to prevent than to cure. It has been fully demonstrated that pneumonia, one of the most dangerous diseases that medical men have to contend with, can be prevented by the use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Pneumonia always results from a cold or from an attack of influenza (grip), and it has been observed that this remedy counteracts any tendency of these diseases toward pneumonia. This has been fully proven in many thousands of cases in which this remedy has been used during the great prevalence of colds and grips in recent years, and can be relied upon with implicit confidence. Pneumonia often results from a slight cold when no danger is apprehended until it is suddenly discovered that there is fever and difficulty in breathing and pains in the chest, then it is announced that the patient has pneumonia. Be on the safe side and take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as soon as the cold is contracted. It always cures. For sale by all druggists.
