THE SENATE WORK

STATEHOOD DEBATE HOLDS BUSINESS BACK.

MANY BILLS ARE HELD UP

Ten Cash Measures Still to Deal With—Only Eight Days are Left in Which to Make Appropriations—Long Sessions Seem Certain From Now to Close.

WASHINGTON.—The course of proceedings in the senate during the present week will depend largely upon the statehood bill. If there is no agreement the bill will continue to cut a figure in the proceedings whether it be under consideration or not, just as it has done for the greater part of the session. If the canal treaty is proceeded with the statehood bill it will do much to shape its course; if the treaty is put aside and the appropriation bills taken up, the statehood question will present itself in the shape of riders on those bills.

According to the present program, the postoffice appropriation bill will be the first of the supply measures to be considered. It is indeed the only one of those bills not yet passed, which has been reported from committee. It carries the statehood bill as a rider, and unless an understanding is arrived at before the bill is taken up the question of its retention will immediately confront the senate. That will be the critical period in the statehood bill's career. Some of the anti-statehood senators contend that it can be beaten as a rider and advocate an invitation to this test of strength.

In accordance with the annual custom in the senate on Washington's birthday, the proceedings will begin with the reading of Washington's farewell address. The reading this year will be performed by Senator Dubois (La.). At the conclusion of this ceremony Senator Cullom (Ill.) will move that the senate proceed to the consideration of the canal treaty in executive session. If in the meantime a compromise on the statehood bill has been effected it is believed the ratification of the treaty can be secured within a day or two. But whether there is an adjustment on the statehood bill or not, it is intended that many more days will be allowed to elapse before taking up the appropriation bills. With only eight working days of the session left, all senators appreciate that it is essential that there should be little more delay in voting the necessary supplies for the support of the government for the next fiscal year.

Of the thirteen appropriation bills, six have so far been considered by the senate proper, but several of the remaining seven have had the attention of senate committees. Three have not, however, been received from the house of representatives.

Two of the appropriation bills, namely, the pensions and the diplomatic and consular bills, have passed both houses and received the signature of the president. The legislative, executive and judicial bill is ready to go to the president; the army bill is in second conference; the Indian and the District of Columbia bills are both in conference with many differences to adjust; the postoffice bill has been reported to the senate; the agricultural bill and the military academy bill have received final consideration at the hands of the committees having them in charge and are ready for report; and the sundry civil bill is undergoing the scrutiny of the committee on appropriations and will be reported during the week. The naval bill, the fortification bill, and the general deficiency bill are still in the house of representatives.

THE NAVAL BILL

Measure Passes the Lower House of Congress.

AS TO STATEHOOD

COMPROMISE MEASURES PRACTICALLY REJECTED. OUTLOOK IS NOT FAVORABLE

Cortelyou Submits Large Estimates—Lays Before Congress Details of Money Needed to Carry on Work of New Department.

WASHINGTON.—All day there was talk of compromise on the statehood bill. It was generally understood that what was known as the compromise bill would be satisfactory to the republicans.

The democrats, while talking in a conciliatory spirit, said they had little hope that the republican proposition would be acceptable to them. It is quite likely that when this proposition is submitted, the democrats will have a conference.

Probably a counter proposition then will be made providing that when Arizona has a population which is the average for a representative in congress, it shall be admitted as a state and also that a census shall be taken every year. The democrats say they want a provision fixing the date which will bring Arizona into the union. This would not be satisfactory to the republicans. While efforts for a compromise continue, there are only a few senators who expect an adjustment to be reached, and the prospects of statehood legislation are still remote.

There was an earnest conference in the senate chamber after the adjournment, participated in by Senators Aldrich, Quay, Hanna, Foraker, McComas, Beveridge and Keam, when it was definitely decided that propositions for a compromise on two states should be submitted to the democrats.

Senator Quay presented a memorandum of the improvement features of the compromise to Senator Bate, who will present it at a conference of democrats called for 10 o'clock today. It is expected the republican proposition will be rejected and a counter proposition made.

Democratic leaders say they cannot accept the compromise suggested and the republicans say that no further concessions will be made.

A scheme for the organization of the new department of commerce and labor has been laid before congress by Secretary Cortelyou, in the estimate transmitted to that body through the secretary of the treasury.

In addition to twelve branches of the public service transferred to the new department from other departments which have been appropriated for, Secretary Cortelyou asks for appropriations for salaries aggregating $665,690. The salaries are for the secretary's office, the bureau of corporations and manufacturers and subordinate divisions as follows:

Secretary's office, twenty salaries, $38,000; under the chief clerk, seventy-one salaries, $61,500; appointment division, twenty salaries, $26,016; division of mails and files, twenty-one salaries, $21,300; division of stationery, nine salaries, $12,360; library, seven salaries, $8,340; office of solicitor, eleven salaries, $19,100; bureau of transportation, 116 salaries, $150,000; for compensation of special examiners in the field, $296,960; bureau of manufacture, twenty-one salaries, $30,980; in connection with the new duties imposed on the bureau of statistics, $5,570.

CORNER STONE OF SEA WALL. Great Structure to Protect Galveston From Tidal Waves.

GALVESTON, Tex.—The corner stone of the $125,000 sea wall was laid Monday with impressive ceremonies and a parade of citizens and marines and officers from the United States battleships at anchor in the harbor here. The work of the wall has progressed satisfactorily since its beginning last October.

The wall will be three miles in length and will give absolute protection to the city, even from a stage of water equal to the great and disastrous tidal wave of the 1900 storm. The funds for its construction were raised by popular subscription to a bond issue, most of the money being subscribed by local men. The city has been exempted from state taxes for a period of eighteen years as assistance in the erection of the great wall for its protection.

Outlook for a Settlement. TOPEKA, Kan.—The outlook for a peaceable settlement of the Santa Fe wage dispute is looking rather unfavorable. More conferences have been held, but the only development is a more persistent unwillingness on the part of either side to give in. The national officers of the conductors and trainmen, who are here, appear to be firm in their determination not to accept less than a 20 per cent increase or wages.

President Vetoes the Bill. WASHINGTON, D. C.—The president on Monday sent to the senate a veto of the bill to place Francis S. Davidson, lately a first lieutenant of the United States cavalry, on the retired list. He points out that the official was dismissed twenty-seven years ago and has rendered no service to the government since, and says it would be an injustice to other officers with honorable records to retire Davidson.

Schley Enthusiastically Received. NEW ORLEANS.—Admiral Schley Friday visited the New Orleans cotton exchange in company with Colonel A. K. McClure. The admiral was given a wildly enthusiastic reception and made an address expressing his pleasure at being in New Orleans.

Eulogize on the Sabbath. WASHINGTON.—The house held a session Sunday to pay tribute to the memories of three deceased members, the late Representatives Tongue (Ore.), Ruple (La.) and Moody (N. C.). Mr. Moody of Oregon presided, in the absence of Speaker Henderson. The customary resolutions were adopted.

Cattle Disease Serious. BOSTON.—According to Dr. D. E. Salmon, who has come on from Washington, the foot and mouth disease in southeastern Massachusetts is of a more serious nature than has been realized in this state.

NINE LIVES LOST.

Fatal Fire in a Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Hotel.

THE LIVE, STOCK MARKET.

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia.—Nine lives, according to the best information obtainable under difficulties, were lost in a fire which Friday morning destroyed the Clifton hotel in this city. The fire started at 2:30 and at 10 the smoldering debris furnished so fierce a heat that search for bodies was impossible. The list of the dead may prove longer than the number given, but it is hoped that the information which accounts for all but this number is correct.

Two persons were fatally injured and forty-two more hurt more or less severely, mostly by jumping from windows. The work of identification is complicated by the loss of the hotel register, which was burned.

The hotel, a three-story veneer structure, is said to have been a veritable fire trap. The flames started in a pile of rubbish in the basement, presumably ignited by defective electric light wires.

The night clerk was on the third floor when the cry of fire, raised by a bell boy, startled him. He took up the cry and in an instant the hallways were choked with frightened guests. A rush was made for the stairways. It was then that the crowd already collected in the street heard heart-rending cries of anguish and desperation, for the fire, feeding ravenously on the tinderlike material of the lower floor, had completely cut off escape.

There followed a stampede for the windows, the only means of exit left. The street below was now filled with a crowd scarcely less frantic than the despairing ones in the fast burning building.

"It was like a Dore picture of Inferno sprung to life," said one spectator in describing the scene. "The flames, looking blood-red from reflection against the snow, lit up the pale, drawn faces of the people in the windows, with a glow that was unearthly."

The victims were literally driven by the flames to jump. Nearly every one of them lingered to the last moment, urged by the people below to wait as long as possible in the hope of assistance. Then a cry would tell that the fire had reached them or the smoke had made it impossible to breathe, and one after another jumped, some to the street, and some, more fortunate, to the roofs of buildings adjoining.

In a short space of time the street was filled with men and women, bruised and battered, with broken limbs and half crazed. All were in their night gowns.

In an hour St. Luke's hospital contained fifteen injured, while many more, chiefly those who had escaped with comparatively slight hurts, were being cared for in buildings near the scene of the tragedy.

Some who jumped owe their lives to the fact that their falls were broken by telegraph wires which interposed in their downward flight. A number of the guests who were able to converse calmly following their escape declared that they had stumbled over prostrate bodies as they rushed to the windows.

CUBA WILL RATIFY TREATY. Would Have Been Done Sooner but for Delay Here.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Herbert G. Squires, minister to Cuba, arrived here Sunday direct from Havana and had an audience with the secretary of the navy. Mr. Squires said his mission here is to "clean up" certain matters connected with the Platt amendment.

Awaiting him at his hotel was a cablegram stating that on Monday next the Cuban congress would take up the consideration of the reciprocity treaty and Mr. Squires expressed the opinion that it would be ratified during the coming week.

It was learned that this treaty would have been acted on sooner but the Cuban government was awaiting action by the United States senate. Now, however, that the matter has been delayed, the Cuban government will use every means in its power to expedite action on the treaty in the hope of favorable action by the United States senate.

The flames literally were chasing them, and the smoke made it almost impossible to breathe. The proprietor of the hotel placed his estimate of the number of people in the building at over seventy and eighty. Many of them were delegates to the state convention of the Young Men's Christian association.

N. P. Merger Case Reacts. NEW YORK.—Camille Weidenfeld, a member of the stock exchange, was on Monday suspended for one year. The exact character of the "charges and specifications" against Mr. Weidenfeld were not disclosed, but it was accepted as a matter of fact that he was regarded as the author and instigator of the Peter Power merger suits, and that the brokers believed these suits to have been conceived in bad faith.

Say Member Asked Bribes. OLYMPIA, Wash.—A formal charge against Representative Louis Levy of King county was filed in the house Tuesday, charging him with soliciting bribes in connection with the investigation of the state printing contract. The speaker appointed a committee of five to investigate the charges. The senate passed a high liquor license bill and the house defeated the anti-trust bill.

PROSPERITY IN CANADA.

The Farmer in Western Canada Achieves Wonderful Success. One of the first things that the man who wishes to change his residence endeavors to find out is where he can go and succeed. It need be a matter of little doubt or indecision now. During the past four or five years the development of Western Canada has been so rapid, and the conditions of life there so widely known, that up to their homes there, and the experience of these people is that they are thoroughly satisfied with their choice of home.

The methods of farming there are similar to those adopted in the United States, but the operations are simpler, the yield of grain greater and the profits more satisfactory. Ranching is carried on with lots of success. Mixed farming is always profitable, while the results in grain-raising are as certain as splendid soil, excellent climate and lots of sunlight can give.

The yields of grain, but nothing is as satisfactory as the experience of the farmer himself, and extracts are selected from one.

A good, intelligent farmer named Mears, John Mears to be exact, left Cavalier county, North Dakota, two years ago and followed the thousands who had already gone to Canada. He had twenty-five years' experience in Minnesota, in buying grain, including flax, but in all his experience he never saw a district so well suited to the growth of flax as Western Canada.

The financial results of Mr. Mears' operations in a single year are as follows: Wheat, 3,000 bushels, 1 hard, at $1.75; 2,680 bushels 1 No. 1, at $1.45; 54c, $1,457.20; Oats, 1,750 bushels, at 75c, $1,312.50; Speltz, 154 bushels, at 75c, $115.50; Flax, 324 bushels, at $2.628. Total, $4,598.20, a return of more than $4,500 from a little over 250 acres, an average of $18 per acre, in surely testimony sufficiently strong to satisfy the most incredulous as to the money to be made out of the soil of the Canadian West. It is to facts like these—arguments expressible and demonstrable in dollars and cents—that the steady northward movement of American farmers is due.

Mr. Mears is settled near Arcola, Assn. A number of Americans who have chosen Western Canada as a home had the idea that a man enjoyed less freedom in Canada, but they soon found their mistake, and say the laws of Canada are the most liberal in the world, and such as prevent the litigation which breeds so much bad feeling between people in the United States and costs them so dear in lawyers' fees.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Among the callers on Herbert W. Bowen, Venezuela's representative, Friday, was Ferdinand Van Derheid, formerly charge d'affaires of Belgium to Venezuela, who came with the Belgian minister, Baron Moncheur. Mr. Van Derheid has been designated as charge d'affaires to Chile, but has stopped in Washington to give what assistance he can to Baron Moncheur in drawing up the Bengian protocol with Mr. Bowen.

The representatives of the various peace powers are having cable exchanges with their governments to guide them in the drafting of the protocols for the settlement of the claims of citizens of their countries against Venezuela. None of those protocols are yet in shape for signature.

Minister Bowen, accompanied by Mrs. Bowen, made a formal call on the various diplomatic officials with whom he has been conducting negotiations.
