THE MONROE DOCTRINE.
On another page will be found the Monroe doctrine as given to the world by the president whose name it bears. It was not intended, nor has it been used to defend the republic of Central and South America from the performance of international duties and obligations. It is more in the nature of a domestic or executive law. It is considered good policy to protect the family homestead from seizure and sale under execution and the law is defended on the theory that the state, if it must choose between the two, is more interested in the preservation of the home than in the collection of a debt. In like manner the United States declares that the maintenance of the homestead of the southern republics is paramount and while the collection of just debts will not be prevented, if collectible in ordinary ways, no execution shall issue against the national homestead of the southern republics in America. How important this doctrine is can be judged from two incidents within the memory of all. During Mr. Cleveland's last administration England sought to arbitrate our national boundary line dispute. Venezuela wanted to arbitrate and England refused to submit the question to arbitration; then our nation told England to arbitrate and she refused to do so in a diplomatic way that it was none of our business. Then the Monroe doctrine was called into use and England was informed that in case of her refusal to arbitrate our national boundary, ascertain the boundary line and then insist upon the recognition of that line. This was not a mere reason from an unjust demand that she could not, if left to her own strength, have resisted.

Just now several European nations are united in making a peculiar demand upon Venezuela. One of the allies has, without excuse or pretence of justification, sunk the Venezuelan navy and shelled a fort—thus wantonly declaring war in manner. The president of the United States Venezuela would be in danger of being divided up among greedy European land-grabbers; but for the Monroe doctrine all the South American republics would be in danger of being forcibly annexed to the monarchies of the old world, and we have some Americans so destitute of American spirit as to think that such a change would be desirable, but these unworthy citizens—call them monarchists, plutocrats, aristocrats, or what you will—are fortunately comparatively few in number. The great mass of the people, irrespective of party, believe in the Monroe doctrine—the national homestead law—and will not permit any surrender of it.

The Monroe doctrine was first defined without a big navy when our nation was feeble as compared with European nations and we do not need a large navy to defend the doctrine now. The administration has properly insisted upon arbitration in the present dispute and there is no doubt that arbitration will be resorted to, and in the finding Venezuela should be awarded the territory in dispute. The construction of her fleet and the unnecessary shelling of her forts.

SALEM, IND., Feb. 5, 1903.—"I received the trial package of Doan's Kidney Pills and I must confess they did me wonderful good. I had backache, pain in my bladder and scalding urine, and the sample package sent me stopped it all in a few days, and with the package I am now using from our drug store I expect to be cured permanently. It is wonderful, but sure and certain the medicine does its work. I was in constant misery until I commenced the use of Doan's Kidney Pills."—CHAS. R. COOK, P. O. Box 90, Salem, Washington Co., Ill.

Foreign-Born Senators. Senator John P. Jones of Nevada, who says he will retire from public life after March 3, has served his state in the United States senate for thirty years. The senator is one of the five members of the upper house who are not natives of the United States. He was born in Herefordshire, England. Senator Nelson in Norway, and Senators Willard and Kearns in Canada, while Senator Wetmore was born in London while his parents were abroad.

Expensive Colonies. France spends annually for her colonies a little more than $25,000,000 a year, while the aggregate of its business with them, export and import, is but $22,000,000, and but 100,000 a year emigrate to French colonies. But France has not been the least successful country in building a colonial empire, for Germany's geographically large possessions cost more than the aggregate of the exports and imports from them.

The truth is naturally feared in the courts because it convicts more than it acquits.

Nervous Man and Chess. Dr. Lasker, the chess champion, in a recent interview declared that chess playing, not carried to excess, improves a man's health. "Most of the prominent players," he added, "live to an advanced age. But nervous people shouldn't play chess at night. If they do they can't sleep. Nor in the morning, or they can't work. They shouldn't play at all, in fact. Chess is beneficial to the normal man, just as athletics is good for him. The chess player lives longer than the athlete."

A $100,000 Book. The Duke of Devonshire possesses an heirloom, Claude Lorraine's "Book of Truth," which is said to be one of the rarest and most valuable books in Europe. It is at an early date, worth six times as much as the famous "Mazarin" Bible, the costliest book in the British museum. The late duke refused $100,000 for it.

It sometimes happens that a wooden shanty is home and the brownstone front but a poor imitation.

Bay rum is a liquid that goes to the head but doesn't intoxicate.

LADY ON EDITORIAL STAFF OF LEADING RELIGIOUS WEEKLY

Sends the Following Grand Testimonial to the Merits of Cuticura Remedies in the Treatment of Humours of the Blood, Skin and Scalp.

"I wish to give my testimony to the efficiency of the Cuticura Remedies in what seems to me two very remarkable cases. I had a number of skin tumours—small ones—on my arms which had never given me serious trouble, but about two years ago one came on my throat. At first it was only about as large as a pinhead, but, as it was in a position where my collar, if not just right, would irritate it, it soon became very sensitive and began to grow rapidly. Last spring it was as large as half an orange, and I was very much alarmed, and was at a loss to determine whether it was a carbuncle or a malignant tumor.

"I consulted my physician; but dreading that he would insist on using the knife, I would not consent. Instead I got a small bottle of Cuticura Resolvent and a box of Cuticura Ointment. I took the former according to directions, and spread a thick layer of the Ointment on a linen cloth and placed it on the swelling. On renewing it I would bathe my neck in very warm water and squeezed and bathed, and fresh Ointment put on. Pus and blood, and a yellow, cheesy, tumorous matter came out. In about three or four weeks' time this treatment completely eliminated the tumor. The soreness that had existed down into my chest was all gone, and my neck now seems to be perfectly well. I have since had several other cases—small ones—on my arms which had never given me serious trouble, but about two years ago one came on my throat. At first it was only about as large as a pinhead, but, as it was in a position where my collar, if not just right, would irritate it, it soon became very sensitive and began to grow rapidly. Last spring it was as large as half an orange, and I was very much alarmed, and was at a loss to determine whether it was a carbuncle or a malignant tumor.

"I have great faith in the Cuticura Remedies, and I believe they might be as efficacious in similar cases with other people, and thus save much suffering, and perhaps life. I have derived so much benefit from the use of them myself that I am constantly advising others to use them. Recently I recommended them to an officer for his father, who was disabled with salt rheum. The man's neck had become swollen to an enormous size, and he had not worked for six weeks. Two bottles of Cuticura Resolvent and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment worked a perfect cure. You never saw a more grateful man in your life.

"I am very much interested in another case where the very dangerous tumor which had reached a very advanced stage. The doctors told her that nothing could be done; that she could live only two or three weeks, and that she would die of strangulation. She was confined to her bed, and was unable to speak when her daughter, at my suggestion, tried the effect of the Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Resolvent. Strange to say, she was very shortly relieved of the most distressing symptoms. The swelling seemed to be exterminated, and she is now able to be around her house, and can talk as well as ever.

"It seems to me that I have pretty good grounds for believing that Cuticura Remedies will prove successful in the most distressing forms of blood and skin humours, and if you wish to use my testimonial as herein indicated, I am willing that you should do so, with the further privilege of revealing my name and address to such persons as may wish to substantiate the above statements by personal letter to me."

Constipation Will Undermine Your Health. MULL'S GRAPE TONIC Cures Constipation.
When the sewer of a city becomes stopped up, the refuse backs into the streets where it decays and rots, spreading disease-creating germs throughout the entire city. An epidemic of sickness follows. It is the same way when the bowels fail to work. The undigested food backs into the system and there it rots and decays. From this festering mass the blood saps up all the disease germs, and at every heart beat carries them to every tissue, just as the water works of a city force impure water into every house. The only way to cure a condition like this is to cure the constipation. Pills and the ordinary cathartics will do no good.

MULL'S GRAPE TONIC is a crushed fruit tonic-laxative which permanently cures the affliction. The tonic properties contained in the grape go into every afflicted tissue and creates strength and health. As a laxative its action is immediate and positive, gentle and natural. Mull's Grape Tonic is guaranteed or money back.

Hot Stuff for the French.
A member of the staff of Figaro, a sprightly Paris newspaper, was sent to the United States to make "psychological and analytical" studies of America and Americans. The Gallie journalist has published his observations on our economic, social and political institutions. A day or two ago he gave the readers of Figaro his views about our great national sport, "Le foot ball." He saw the game between Harvard and Yale and describes it with a realism and a minuteness of detail which are said to be very impressive. The Gallie observer appears to have been startled by the ferociousness of our economic, social and political institutions.
