PUBLISHED WEEKLY AT PLATTSMOUTH, NEBRASKA.
R. A. AND T. B. BATES, PUBLISHERS.
Entered at the postoffice at Plattsmouth, Nebraska, as second-class matter.

To Friends of the Journal.

The Journal requests that the friends of this paper will make known their choice of papers to the county judge when they have probate matters to be published. The judge has kindly consented to place these notices in the paper that the parties interested desire. By so doing you help the Journal.

The republican party want credit for everything the shape of prosperity to the farmer. Now wouldn't it look just as sensible to blame the g. o. p. with all the misfortunes that have recently overtaken the country?

MR. CLEVELAND SAYS, "At no time since the close of my last administration have I been desirous of carrying the democratic banner for the fourth time in a presidential contest." This ought to settle the question with all fair-minded people.

It is indeed a happy sign when Tammany honors Joe Folk, the St. Louis terror to booters. He's the sort of a man whom Tammany was supposed to fight shy. With Tammany applauding Folk, we may claim a democracy absolutely united on one issue.

NOELMAN J. COLEMAN, who was Secretary of Agriculture under President Cleveland, referring to clamor for his nomination for the fourth time, said: "He does not want it; and he couldn't get it if he did want it." The last clause sizes up the situation. The party has new issues to face and needs new men.

GOVERNOR MICKLEY has not named the republican who offered him $1,000 for a job. Neither has he asked for a grand jury. Perhaps the governor is trying to reform the man in private.—Newark Democrat.

He will either be compelled to name his man, or the people will come to the conclusion that the governor prevaricated somewhat, just for a little notoriety, you know. Johnnie's a model, anyway, with some church people.

MR. ROOSEVELT got very indignant, and perhaps properly so, over the treatment of his mail in Seattle, and he promptly declared that he would order a rigid examination into the circumstances. The people of the United States would very much approve if Mr. Roosevelt would manifest a like concern for the treatment which the country's affairs have received at the hands of Mr. Payne and the Postoffice Department at Washington.

THE republican nominee for congress to fill a vacancy in the Fifth district of Kansas surely enjoyed a very flattering election. He carried every one of the ninety-six counties which would go to show that he is either exceedingly popular or that his opponent is very unpopular.—Plattsmouth News. That is an ideal republican editorial. The Fifth district consists of ten counties, and has been republican for years. Think of a district consisting of ninety-six counties!—Nebraska City News.

It was really amusing to a casual observer to note with what audacity the republican papers of Missouri referred to the next election in that state which they intend to carry. It was ever thus. For twenty-five years, in each election they have made their brags. When the investigation of the legislative bribery cases was commenced, and one or two democratic members were hauled over the coals, these papers were most loud in their denunciation of the state administration and democratic party in general. But as these investigations proceeded, several well known and very prominent republican senators were brought before the investigating committee, also, and indicted by a grand jury. With tear-bedimmed eyes they openly confessed to the charges of accepting bribes. Since which time these self-same papers have tucked their tails like a set of whipped puppies and have precious little to say about bribery in Missouri. Perhaps they have their hands full now in an effort to clear their skirts of scandal in higher places—the postoffice department at Washington, for instance.

DEMOCRATIC papers that claim Judge Sullivan will be a "non-partisan" nominee for the supreme bench are reconing without a host. Judge Sullivan has no claim to republican votes and will receive very few of them. The republican party of Nebraska need not go into the racks of the demops for a candidate and no one has given the question any consideration outside of the party that cannot expect to elect its man only on the "non-partisan" plan. The idea is too ridiculous to think about.—Louisville Courier.

Don't worry about Judge Sullivan, Bro. Mayfield. A man who has proved himself so eminently qualified for the position he is filling so satisfactorily, need have no fears about his re-election, whether on a non-partisan ticket or otherwise. The republican party of Nebraska are not all hide-bound, by any means, and thousands of them will be found voting for Judge Sullivan when the proper time comes, and several hundred of them will be found right here in Cass county liberal enough to vote for Judge Sullivan, no matter how loud they crack the party whip. And of course you have not the audacity to speak for the whole state, Bro. Mayfield, and neither has the Journal, only so far as to the complimentary terms in which the eminent jurist is referred to by leading papers of the state, both republican and democratic.

Little Johnnie Mickey.

Always very tricky
For a little notoriety to gain,
Hit upon a plan
To bring forth a man
In a way to disgrace the same.
Not in words direct
But it had the effect
To raise the ire of a man.
The Governor's little trick
Didn't prove very slick,
For a savage knocked out his plan.

Little Johnnie Mickey
Is a model little governor—
The way he would have it appear,
But is recent in the mistake,
Has proved a great fake
In way that's resulting quite dear.
He woke up the wrong man,
With the last trick he began,
And he had to take water like a fish,
There is such a thing,
As making men sing.
When one's gone after with a wish,
This was done the other day.
And all Johnnie had say,
"I never said any such thing."
Let this be as it may,
Savage in great array,
Made Johnnie dance and sing.

Hypocrisy in high places,
Is what greatly disgraces
Nebraska and her good name.
So little Johnnie Mickey,
With all his petty trickery
Has been called down all the same.

THERE was a suggestion of human intelligence in the way Mount Shasta, the chief asset of the copper trust, hid behind a cloud when the "trust-busting" President came its way.

THE "rascals" are unquestionably "in." What Mr. Roosevelt's course will be is occupying the people's mind. No longer than a very few days ago the public was practically in ignorance of the situation. Now the Washington scandal has reached such proportions as to attract and amaze the reading population of the country. Events seem to draw the President back to the seat of government, and the people are asking themselves: "What will he do with the rascals when he does return?"

"PROSPERITY" is the trust syndicate's exclusive possession, and from the trusts emanate all the warnings to keep hands off. A student of the conditions gives a lucid explanation of some current republican doctrine. Says he: "Wall street is 'chock full' of human nature—and that means that its self-interest is the dominant factor in its moral point of view. In the opinion of the 'conservative' big men of Wall street, any sort of attack upon a 'combine' is a wicked attempt to destroy the prosperity of the country."

BLIND BOONE, the negro pianist, went from Kansas City to his home in Columbia, Mo., on a special train over the Wabash railroad one day last week. While playing in the southwestern section of Nebraska he received a telegram which his wife had taken suddenly ill. He hurriedly cancelled his engagements and took the first train for home. Arriving at Kansas City away behind time and too late for a train over the Wabash, which runs into Columbia, and rather than wait till evening to get home, he went to Wabash headquarters, laid $200 on the counter and called for a special train. One coach and an engine was lastly provided, and in a few minutes the way was being cleared for the Blind Boone special as it raced to Columbia, taking a negro to the bedside of his sick wife.

THE Louisville Courier is a republican paper, but it is one of those kind that condemns improper acts of officers elevated to positions of honor and trust by that party. It is the only republican paper in Cass county that has dared to utter a word against Governor Mickey in refusing to disclose the names of the parties that attempted to bribe him. The Courier says:

It is much to the discredit of Governor Mickey in withholding the names of the parties, whom he alleges attempted to bribe him. The governor states that he was offered, indirectly, one thousand dollars to make a certain man chief deputy oil inspector, and another offered a similar sum to be made commandant of the soldier's home at Grand Island. If Governor Mickey was not in position to make public the names of the parties who attempted to buy these positions he should, in justice to himself and the high office to which he was elected, have kept the whole matter a secret. The public will look with discredit upon Governor Mickey until he produces the names of the parties guilty of this charge.

Often The Kidneys Are Weakened by Over-Work.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.
It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs.

The kidneys filter and purify the blood—that is their work.

Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases, and is sold on its merits by all druggists at one-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of Swamp-Root, by mail free, also a pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Do not make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

W. H. Thomson for Vice-President.

(Des Moines Democrat.)
Inasmuch as Hon. W. J. Bryan has emphatically refused to be a candidate in any sense of the word, for presidential honors, and the sulkers, soreheads and party traitors have practically acknowledged their weakness and inability to muster a corporal's guard to the reorganizers' camp, leaving Mr. Bryan with his associates and followers on the field of battle victorious and stronger because of the contest, there will now be no question about who will control the next national democratic convention. Having cleverly disposed of this disturbing element within the party lines without offending any one, we hope the next important business to be accomplished besides forming clubs and organizing, is to again adopt, at the proper time and place, a platform of principles in the interest of all the people, and to nominate candidates in whom the people have unbounded confidence. The first place is conceded to an eastern man, and in consideration of this concession the middle west, west and south are entitled to be represented by a man who will know our needs; familiar with our interests, because of birth and residence. We have in mind Hon. W. H. Thomson, of Nebraska, who was the democratic candidate for governor of that state in 1902, leading his party ticket by nearly 10,000 votes. He was born under democratic influences, and never swerved from the path of duty; has made sacrifices in the interest of harmony, and while a great organizer, is clearly not a place-seeker. Born in Ohio, reared and educated in Iowa, and now an eminent lawyer and a successful business man of our neighboring state. He is in the prime of life, conservative, with a clean record, possessing dignity of character and honest beyond suspicion of personal interests; a pleasing and convincing speaker; a popular and untiring campaigner; is well known beyond the borders of his own state, having served on the national executive committee from 1896 to 1900, and his suggestions and wise counsel have been sought for in party organization. We submit Mr. Thomson's name as the available and logical candidate for vice president, one who will add strength and dignity to the national democratic ticket in 1904.

Not Anxious For Him.

A number of Nebraska papers, among them the Lyons Mirror, Central City Democrat and Plattsmouth Journal, are commenting favorably upon the boom started by the Des Moines Democrat for W. H. Thomson of Grand Island for vice president in 1904. Nothing would please the Independent better than to see Billy presiding over the U. S. senate—but if he must go in as the tail to Cleveland's kite, and it looks as if he must if he is to be vice president, then the Independent would prefer some other candidate. Of course, the Des Moines Democrat was bringing him on as the assumption that the Kansas City platform democrats will win out—an assumption that is by no means a foregone conclusion, as it seems to the Independent at this time.

The Louisville Courier-Journal of May 29, devotes almost its entire editorial page to Grover's "takin' notice," and calls attention to its first editorial on the subject. June 25, 1902, after Cleveland had appeared with Hill at the Tilden banquet, and regards his mourning at Hewitt's funeral, his St. Louis journey, as evidence that "the Mugwump (sic) is going into place—the literary bureau adroitly at work—Mr. Cleveland is the grand old man shunning publicity, seeking nothing, not even deigning to utter the one word 'no' which would have stopped all question, have silenced all criticism."

And it will be found that his speech at the Kansas City meeting, May 28, is simply another step in the conspiracy. Meanwhile the eastern papers are either actively or passively helping along the boom—and if Billy Thompson wins for vice president, the democratic ticket it looks as though it would be Grover and Billy. This, the Independent is not anxious to see.

In view of the above that the Independent is getting a little uneasy over the presidential situation, and the Journal thinks without any cause, in so far as Cleveland's candidacy is concerned. In the first place, it is preposterous to even think of Grover Cleveland in connection with the presidency. Then, again, one of the great principles of the democratic party has always been opposition to a third term in either high or low positions. General Grant's friends tried to re-nominate him for a third term. Did they succeed? Not much. And when the republican party fail to carry out a scheme like this, where is the sense of Cleveland's friends endeavoring to force him upon the democracy? None in the least. The Independent, like many other papers, is too easily persuaded in a direction, in which there is the very least hope for democracy. Cleveland stands no more chance for the democratic nomination than does the editor of the Journal. Then why all this poppycock? The candidate nominated at the next democratic convention will be a clean man in every particular, a true democrat—one who has never deviated from the path of duty—a personage who can unite all factions, a man who will command the greatest respect and confidence of the business interests as well as the masses of the people of the land. In brief, he will be a man who will lead the democratic hosts on to a victory that will show Teddy Roosevelt under so deep that when he emerges it will be difficult for to tell which one of boys he is—Teddy, the Rough Rider, or Teddy, the Accidental President.

A MAJORITY of the people are supposed to be honest, and we believe the supposition is correct, but when public affairs are controlled by dishonest men and bootlers then a shadow of dishonesty is cast over the entire people. Weed out the bootlers and those who think "a public office is a private snap," and give the honest element a chance to assert itself.

The Situation in Tutshell.

The Omaha Bee sums up the situation of the unfortunate in the flooded districts as follows: At Kansas City the Kaw river has fallen several inches and is steadily falling. As it is also falling at upper points a continued fall is anticipated at Kansas City. The Missouri, however, is stationary, but indications from points further up the stream are that this river has commenced to fall rapidly. As it is the Kansas river which has done most of the damage, the fall in that stream has enabled the street car companies to resume operations, the gas works to resume enough to supply most pressing needs and the water company expected to resume yesterday. In the meantime a limited supply of water is being secured from a temporary pumping station.

The railroads have managed to get in a supply of provisions sufficiently for immediate needs and the packing houses have been reached by means of boats and the meat supply is now assured.

The large warehouse buildings in both Kansas City, Kansas, and Kansas City, Mo., are beginning to show the effects of the flood and many of them are settling, but it is too early yet to tell what the extent of the damage in this direction will be.

Only two additional deaths were reported, and these were two men who lost their lives in the attempt to rescue others.

At Topeka there is no longer any danger from flood, the principal difficulty now being to care for the homeless and guard against an epidemic among those who have been weakened by exposure.

In Iowa the floods are subsiding the entire length of the river and another day will witness the beginning of the restoration of normal condition. As the floods have receded the condition of the homes of the people is indeed pitiful. Many have lost everything except their lives, and are in need of assistance.

Fresh testimony in great quantity is constantly coming in, declaring Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds to be unequalled. A recent expression from T. J. McFarland, Bentonville, Va., serves as example. He writes: "I had Bronchitis, for three years and doctored all the time without being benefited. Then I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery, and a few bottles wholly cured me." Equally effective in curing all Lung and Throat troubles, Consumption, Pneumonia and Grip. Guaranteed by F. G.
