The Plattsmouth Journal

SPECIAL TAX-LIST EDITION.

You do not want to forget that E. B. Craig, the democratic candidate for coroner, is a gentleman who will fill the position as it should be filled, by one who will not put up with any "monkey business" and will always be found where duty calls him.

JOHN SVOBODA and Adam Kirtz are the democratic nominees for constable. Mr. Svobeda is a young man full of energy, is well fitted to perform the duties of the office, and will do so in a business-like manner. Mr. Kirtz is so well known to the citizens that most of the voters will support him because they know that he will perform his duties to the letter.

H. M. SOENNICHSEN, democratic nominee for county clerk, is just such a man anyone would be glad to know, and to know him will mean to vote for him. When you meet him you will have the pleasure of meeting a most elegant gentleman, one who will enter upon the discharge of the duties of the office well prepared to perform those duties. Few men in Cass county are better qualified for this important position.

The democrats have placed before the voters of the city of Plattsmouth for justices of the peace and constable splendid men for the positions. John Cory and Col. Fred Kroehler, candidate for justices, are both well known to the voters of the city. Col. Kroehler is one of the present incumbents, and has done his duty. John Cory is well fitted for the office and will fill it with credit to himself and the people in general.

A CERTAIN republican candidate did not make any friends in Murray last Friday when he began to "run down" Sheriff McBride. He happened to be conversing with several republicans who are personal friends of Mr. McBride, and who have known him a great deal longer than they have known the one deriding him. It is always best for a candidate to attend strictly to his "own knitting" while appealing to voters in his own behalf.

JACOB TRITSCH, candidate for commissioner, was circulating among his friends in this city Monday. Mr. Tritsch has visited various sections of the county during the past week, and has met with a warm welcome everywhere. The people of Cass county have the utmost confidence in Jacob Tritsch, and they know that as far as the office of county commissioner is concerned their interests will be well guarded, no matter in what section of the county—east, west, north or south.

The gentleman whom the democrats have honored with the nomination for county clerk, is a good, clean man, whose special qualifications are patent to all who know him. It goes without saying that his election will provide the county with an obliging and efficient clerk, that he will fill the office with satisfaction to all and leave it without a stain. Those who desire a competent person as county clerk will vote for H. M. Soennichsen, a gentleman and scholar in the truest sense of the meaning.

It is but necessary that the name of W. D. Wheeler be kept before the voters of Cass county and a gentle reminder occasionally that he is a candidate for County Treasurer, to insure his election. He is a clean, capable man, and the expression is often heard, and never disputed, that "Billy Wheeler is one of God's noble men." He is a self-made man, honored by all who know him, and his election will assure the citizens of this county that an honest, capable man is in charge of their financial affairs.

H. M. SOENNICHSEN is making many friends gradually as he becomes known to the voters of the county. To know him is but to respect him. If you want to hear good things about Melchior, just talk to some one who has known him for many years. He is the son of honor, a most excellent gentleman and the Journal is prepared to say, and without the fear of successful contradiction, too, that Melchior Soennichsen is one of the best qualified men in Cass county for the responsible position of county clerk.

Many voters are of the opinion that the office of county assessor is an unnecessary one, but it is a condition, not a theory that confronts us, and it is very essential that, since the power formerly held by one citizen in each precinct is merged into one in the county, the best qualified candidate for the position should be centered upon. It is not disputed that the democrats present to the voters of Cass county the best fitted candidate in every conceivable way for this responsible position. Jake Falter's experience in affairs of the county make him such. His services as county commissioner thoroughly informs him as to the duties that will devolve upon him in case of his election. A vote can be cast for Jake Falter with the assurance that it is a vote for an ideal man for the office.

Nominated by the Republicans. The republicans of Plattsmouth have put up men for justices and constables who are well known to the voters of the city and with the exception of Mr. Nejedly, have all served the city in some capacity. JUDGE ARCHER and Wm. Weber the nominees for justices of the peace are so well known that little could better acquaint the voters with history or records.—News.

WANT EVERYTHING HIS WAY.

As Usual, Farley Again Rehearses the "Crawfish" Act.

Absent the mutterings of "Sissy" Farley and his legal advisers over the libel suit, the Journal will give its readers the true facts in the case, showing that it is utterly impossible for the News and its managers to tell the truth. Starting out with falsehood, that concern becomes "balled up" more and more as it attempts to extricate itself.

The facts are well known to the people of Cass county, that Sheriff McBride has made every overture possible to obtain a trial of his libel suit prior to the November election, even to waiving a jury.

The News backed down completely from its first proposition to go into court; for two weeks holding up Mr. McBride's letter to the editor, accepting the News' proposition for trial.

On the 12th of this month Mr. McBride's attorneys were approached with a fool proposition, showing the utter lack of either sense or a decent conception of the proprieties surrounding the litigation; the substance of which was that counsel should bind their client by an agreement to try the libel suit in a court without a jury, and at the same time waive any amendment of pleadings in case of informality or defects, which often arise during the course of any trial, so far as pleadings are concerned.

Mr. McBride's attorneys at once accepted the proposition to try the case to the court without a jury, striking out, however, the fool proposition that no amendments could be made to the pleadings on either side. Of course, such a stipulation would not be binding upon any intelligent court trying a case, for the purpose of arriving at the truth and justice of the matters involved; and, no court, we venture to say, would permit an attorney to stipulate away the rights of his client.

The Journal desires right here to remark, without desiring to be personal in any respect towards counsel, that no reputable attorney having a decent respect for his profession, or for the court before whom he practices, or for his client, would deliberately make or consent to such an agreement, especially in a case where the good name of a citizen is involved. The proposition is so utterly unprofessional, it could not be made in good faith and must be treated as a shabby subterfuge on the part of the News to avoid a trial.

Mr. McBride's case, so far as this libel is concerned, is unassailable. In that his accounts were itemized, at the request of the county attorney, then they were critically examined and passed upon by the board of commissioners, any one of whom stands head and shoulders above the News editor.

Mr. McBride has nothing to fear in his trial of the case in court. The voters understand this; and no amount of lying in a newspaper can change such fact. Therefore, we say to the people, when the News publishes an article stating that John D. McBride has refused to have his case tried, that paper simply, and again, falsifies the truth.

In this day of specialization in all lines of human endeavor it is incumbent upon the voters of Cass county to elect as superintendent of schools, a thorough, broad-minded educator who will carefully supervise the choice of teachers for our schools and who can be depended upon to weed out and keep out the incompetent ones. C. S. Wortman has proved himself beyond doubt the man for that important position. He brings to the office a broad, ripe scholarship, business ability of a high order, and a wealth of experience such as no other can show. The teachers in the county are almost unanimous for him, which is evidence sufficient that he is the right man for the place. Not only are the teachers for him, but the directors in the various school districts are also for him. His graduation from the law department of the state university, is that much more in his favor, because a full knowledge of the law does not come amiss in the administration of the duties of the office in a manner most satisfactorily to all interested in the public schools of Cass county.

A FARMER who has lived in Cass for thirty-five years, and who receives his mail at the Weeping Water post-office, was in the Journal office the other day. During his visit the conversation drifted upon Sheriff McBride and the unmanly fight the News man is making against that official, when he remarked: "The farmers in my section do not believe there is a more honest man in Cass county than John D. McBride, and we have had one of the best opportunities in the world to test his honesty in dealings that he could easily get the best of the farmer if he wanted to—that of buying hogs. Why, when Mac was engaged in buying hogs at Nehawka, we could send in a load of hogs by our boys and get as much for them as we could if we had taken them ourselves. We always found him honest, and we believe he is an honest and upright official, and should be re-elected." This is the way one feels who has had any business transactions with John D. McBride.

Candidate for Commissioner.

Jacob Tritsch was born June 17, 1849, in Germany. He came to America with his parents when eight years old and located near Pekin, Illinois. In 1866 he came to Cass county and lived for a number of years on a rented farm near Four Mile creek, after which he purchased a farm in Eight Mile Grove precinct where he has since resided.

Mr. Tritsch was elected county commissioner by the democratic party in 1890 and served for three years. He was twice a candidate for county treasurer, but being associated with the minority party was defeated by a small majority.

Mr. Tritsch has been nominated by the democratic party this fall for county commissioner from the First commissioners district, which nomination was tendered him by acclamation and without his solicitation.—Louisville Courier.

The voters of Cass county are sufficiently acquainted with the two candidates for county judge to know who is the proper man for the place. From reports from various sections of the county the general impression seems to exist that H. D. Travis is a sure winner. Mr. Travis' record as an attorney is well known to the people of Cass county. That he is an honorable man, and that the business of the office will be under his personal supervision, with no "power behind the throne" to guide him in his administration, they all know. He will be county judge in reality, and when it comes to the business of the office he will be found doing his duty without fear or favor to any "particular attorney." All will be treated fairly in his court, and there are enough common-sense voters in the county who believe that H. D. Travis will do his duty, regardless of "party, sect or creed," to elect him.

Ordinance No.

AN ORDINANCE, regulating the making of excavations in and upon streets, alleys and public grounds of the city of Plattsmouth for all purposes save and except for drain layers, and the laying, relaying and repairing of sewer pipes, and providing for the enforcement of the provisions thereof.

Be it enacted by the Mayor and Council of the City of Plattsmouth:

SECTION 1. That it be and hereby is declared unlawful for any person to excavate the earth in and upon any street and alley or public grounds of the city of Plattsmouth, except for drain layers, and the laying, relaying and repairing of sewer pipes, and except as hereinafter provided.

The street commissioner or chief of police when acting in that capacity, may make any such excavations in the performance of his said duty and order his employees to make any such excavations.

Franchised corporations authorized to excavate such streets, alleys and public grounds for the purpose of laying, relaying and repairing of sewer pipes, and for the purpose of laying, relaying and repairing of water pipes, shall be exempt from the provisions of this ordinance.

SECTION 2. It shall be the duty of the chief of police to file with the Police Judge complaints against every person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance.

SECTION 3. Every person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall upon conviction thereof be fined in any sum not less than one dollar nor more than five dollars and shall be directed to work out such fine and costs by the city unless such fine and costs be paid.

SECTION 4. All ordinances and parts of ordinances in conflict with this ordinance be and the same hereby are repealed.

SECTION 5. This ordinance shall be in force from and after its passage, approval and publication according to law.

Passed and approved this 18th day of October, 1903. J. E. DOUGLASS, Mayor. H. M. SOENNICHSEN, City Clerk.
