The Plattsmouth Journal

ROOSEVELT and Hanna can disport on occasion, for the furtherance of national gayety.

The present administration deserves the title of the Twentieth Century School for Scandals.

SENATOR HANNA is now in Washington ready to take up the ex-slave pension bill and ship substby.

BEFORE long it will be necessary to search for a scandal-less department in the present administration.

TOO many corn-huskers stayad at home in Nebraska on election day. That's where Judge Sullivan got his black eye.

THE republicans will soon begin to explain the decline in business as the result of the fear of a democratic victory next fall.

THE president succeeded in keeping back the Bristow report on the postal frauds until after the elections, but the voters will remember it next fall.

AS to the first girl that sang Hiawatha, that is of no concern; but if anybody can point out the last one, and guarantee her to be the last, it is of international importance.

FINIGAN, the successful candidate on the democratic ticket for clerk of the district court of Otoe county, will be the youngest district clerk in the state. He is only twenty-three years of age.

AFTER the next inauguration, Mr. Roosevelt may go to France and lecture on race suicide. The death rate exceeds the birth rate in France and suggestions on the subject would be pertinent.

THE Ship Building Trust may have been an example of "high finance" but most people call it a great swindle. It might not be a bad plan for Schwab to take a trip to Europe and wait for the salvation of the statute of limitations.

DEMOCRATIC stock is soaring high in the east, and democrats west possess more cheerful countenances than usual. Indications point to democratic success next year, with the right man to lead the party on to victory.

ROOSEVELT may get the republican nomination next year, but the Journal will not believe it until after the work is done. The business interests of the country are afraid of him, and have been trembling in their shoes ever since the death of McKinley.

THE election in Maryland, Rhode Island and New York gives promise of a better day for democracy in the east. The election of "Little Mac," jr., was a direct slap in Roosevelt's face, who made a special effort in behalf of his pet, Seth Low, in New York City.

IT has been the success of the republican party to make millions of humble citizens believe that the "foreigner pays the tax" and that a prohibitive tariff is the sole guarantee of living wages and profitable commerce in the home market for the home producer. But that time is past.

To offer Cuba "reciprocity," even, is a practical concession of the trusts of free trade. If protection is desirable, looking to our own interests, why differentiate in favor of Cuba? Why not hold Cuba off at arm's length and make the most of our advantage?

THE many friends of W. H. Kelligar in this city and county will be pleased to learn that that eminent lawyer was elected one of the district judges for the first judicial district. The vote "Billy" received in his own county of Nemaha, was indeed complimentary, receiving a majority of nearly 500.

SEVENTY-FIVE members of one Nebraska family held a reunion at Union, Cass county, November 8. They were Mr. and Mrs. Frans, their eleven children and great grandchildren. They are all Baptists and all democrats, and death has never invaded their ranks. —Nebraska City News.

IT will be observed that if David Hawksworth had been a candidate in this district for commissioner, as under the old law, he would have been badly defeated, but being voted for by the entire county is all that saved the old gentleman's bacon. There is now a movement on foot throughout the state to have this abnoxious measure repealed at the next session of the legislature, and we believe sufficient influence will be brought to bear to do it.

THIS is not the first instance that the president has had nothing to say about a McClellen. One of the greatest generals the sun ever shone upon was a McClellan, and father of the newly elected Mayor of New York City. But Roosevelt, in speaking words of praise for other heroes of the civil war not many weeks since, refused to say one word in behalf of brave "Little Mac." But there is no possible comparison between Roosevelt, of Rough Rider fame and General George B McClellan, whose name and fame has gone down in history, never to be forgotten for generations to come.

WE have declared to Cuba that we shall not maintain our tariff walls impregnably against her and have lured her into submitting the offer of "reciprocity." What reciprocity means is for the trusts to decide. They were not in favor of making any concessions to her at the outset and it is just possibly that President Roosevelt in encouraging treaty negotiations has exceeded his power of fulfillment. The trusts through their politicians and legislators, may ultimately veto the proposed arrangement altogether.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

The Matter of National Boodle

For several months the leading papers of the country have been engaged in commenting upon what they view as the probability that a national boodle issue would evolve out of the times. In the interim many things have come to strengthen this view, and it would seem now that the probability seriously threatens the party responsible for conditions which apparently everywhere prevail in the national service.

That the scandal will have some political effect must in reason be admitted. Their magnitute calls for national and political action. The country is cognizant of them. In every point of the compass the fires of boodle send up their smoke—in Oregan the great land frauds, in the Territory the gigantic swindles, in Washington the department disclosures, new scandals in the great cities. "Boodle" has become since last June a stupendous presence of which the people are made aware almost every hour.

Inseparably republican politics and politicians have been bound up with the scandals. From the very first it has been seen that political motives delayed developments, and a great unknown hand repressed the truths. But the relation between the administration and the vast scheme of graft has been established by disclosure succeeding disclosure until it stands bared to public gaze—a tremendous political fact.

"Reform within the party" has been exploited by the party press for the very patent purpose of forestalling the cure which the people would naturally demand sooner or later. Grant the serious or sincere intentions of the party to reform within itself—has not graft been so interwoven with political influences as to make party reform virtually impossible? It would seem so, certainly. The only cure for graft upon so extensive a scale—a scale even greater than that of the graft in '76, when boodle was the prime issue—is the ballot.

Flaunting the "Bloody-Shirt."

One of the most bitter campaigns waged since the days of reconstruction was that in the enlightened state of Massachusetts during the past few weeks. The republicans started out by making an attack upon the war record of the democratic candidate for secretary of state, the Hon. Ezekiel M. Ezekiel. It appears that Mr. Ezekiel, against whose conduct as a citizen there is no just cause for criticism, is a native of Virginia, and during the civil war served in the Confederate army, as under the circumstances and his environments it is quite natural he should have done. For more than twenty-five years, however, he has been a resident of Massachusetts, and has proven himself to be a man of probity and honor, and has won the confidence and esteem of his neighbors, to say nothing of the favor of his party. Notwithstanding this, his opponents saw fit to revive the old, worn-out "bloody-shirt" issue and to flaunt the threadbare garment at the democrats. They evidently sought to rekindle the smoldering embers of sectional hatred, and to revive questions which the country is endeavoring to forget. Years ago congress granted amnesty to all who fought for the "Lost Cause," and since that time hundreds of capable men who wore the gray in the early sixties have held high positions under the government and rendered valuable service to their country. In the late unpleasantness with Spain some of them fought valiantly under the old Stars and Stripes. Many have been appointed to office by republican presidents and have proven themselves worthy of the confidence reposed in them. Why, then, should the republicans of Massachusetts seek to make service in the Confederate army forty years ago a barrier to official preferment? Maybe this is simply a forerunner of "blood-shirt" flaunting next year. That sort of a campaign would perhaps suit Teddy.

"YOURS for Defeat," according to threat, dropped in and "stopped the paper." But it will be perceived that the Journal comes out as usual this week, and as fresh as a blooming May flower.

President Roosevelt.

Just before the accidental president's nomination for the vice presidency he had almost entirely melted from view. With his ascendency to the executive post the "popular hero" was suddenly rehabilitated. Then after a time his appeal to the people waned, his popularity reaching its low ebb immediately after the congressional election of 1902. Enthusiasm was in a measure restored by his frank seeking of the nomination and his western tour in the spring of this year.

Mr. Roosevelt has made several mistakes in the interim since the last flare of enthusiasm. The difficulty of the department scandals confronted him immediately on his return from the west; and he failed to do what he should have done—to manifest a strong bare hand instead of temporizing with the scandals. His mistaken policy in federal appointments and his door-of-hope casuistry have been patent. Obviously he erred in the Russian incident. In the Beirut affair he has been made to appear nothing less than ridiculous—but it should be fairly acknowledged that a portion of the press behaved unjustly toward him in this instance. Other mistakes, none of them vital, but all them conspicuous, have rather detracted from than added to the strength of Mr. Roosevelt on the popular or personal side.

Whether his weakness for urging the undisputed moralities has affected his standing with the masses is difficult to judge. Safe to say, however, most people had heard of the Ten Commandments before Mr. Roosevelt discovered them and most people already possessed settled convictions upon the subject of babies, old maids, bachelors, divorce and various other questions more or less related to the fireside; and it is more than possible that his moral disquisitions have seemed a bit trite and unnecessary; and moreover that while he gave his time to these things a good many immediate and important problems affecting the nation were being neglected.

It is not easy to gauge enthusiasm or popularity now. Nothing has occurred recently which would afford a test. There has been no occasion for manifestations or expressions from the people. "In the air," nevertheless, are slight indications. That something which we know as the political atmosphere tells a story of declining favor.

Whether these conditions have induced in Senator Hanna the belief that Mr. Roosevelt may be beaten for the nomination is a political question of the hour. Hanna is admittedly one of the ablest men who ever filled the position of chairman of the Republican National Committee and news comes that he has decided not to serve in that capacity in the coming campaign. A reason he must have—a powerful reason—and a fair supposition is that he intends to come out for the presidential nomination himself. Should he do so the country will witness a wire-pulling contest of heroic proportions, and the Journal will wage cookies to doughnuts that Roosevelt comes out second best.

Doesn't Respect Old Age.

It's shameful when youth fails to show proper respect for old age, but just the contrary in the case of Dr. King's New Life Pills. They cut off maladies no matter how severe and irrespective of old age. Dyspepsia, Jaundice, Fever, Constipation all yield to this perfect Pill. 25c, at F. G. Fricke & Co.'s Drug Store.

To Back the Law.

The county assessors elected recently under the provisions of the new revenue law do not intend to sit idly by and see their jobs taken from them, says the Lincoln News. The two suits pending in the supreme court, attacking the validity of the law will have warm defenders in the county assessors whose places depend on the act. They are endeavoring to organize for the purpose of employing counsel to appear before the supreme court November 17, when the test cases will be heard before the three judges. T. C. Munger, of Lincoln, who appeared before the court last Friday in defense of the law, is said to represent the assessors.

Disastrous Wrecks.

Carelessness is responsible for many a railway wreck and the same causes are making human wrecks of sufferers of Throat and Lung Troubles. But since the advent of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, even the worst cases can be cured, and hopeless resignation is no longer nesessary. Mrs. Lois Cragg of Dorchester, Mass., is one of many whose life was saved by Dr. King's New Discovery. The great remedy is guaranteed by all Throat and Lung diseases by F. G. Fricke & Co., Druggists. Price 50c, and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

A Hurt Never Hurts.

After Porter's antiseptic healing oil is applied. Relieves pain instantly and heals at the same time. For man or beast. Price, 25 cents.

A New Generation of Giants.

Dr. Hatai, invented a certain food which he asserts, will create a new generation of giants. The experiments with this food were all very successful and we will await now how soon the world will be filled with men of enormous statute. If health and strength will not be combined with the size of the body, it will be of little value: we want to be strong and well, where these two fundemental conditions of life are deficient. Triner's American Elixir of Bitter Wine will create them. It will give strength to the digestive organs to readily accept and absorb food, to make new blood of it, to nourish the whole organism. It will make the whole system strong and healthy. In all disturbances of the regular action of the stomach, Triner's Bitter Wine will bring prompt relief and a decided cure. In cases of Anaemia, Chlorosis, eruptions or any malady caused by poor or unclean blood, it is the only natural remedy. At drug stores and at the manufacturers, Jos. Triner, 799 South Ashland Ave., Chicago, Illinois.

New Way of Using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Mr. Arthur Chapman writing from Durban, Natal, South Africa, says: "As a proof that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a sure cure suitable for old and young, I pen you the following: A neighbor of mine had a child just over two months old. It had a very bad cough and the parents did not know what to give it. I suggested that if they would get a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and put some upon the dummy teat the baby was sucking it would no doubt cure the child. This they did and brought about a quick relief and cured the baby." This remedy is for sale by all druggists.
