Weeping Water
From the Republican.
Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Gilbert, a son on Monday, November 20, 1903.

Miss Schaffer, of Manly, spent last week here, the guest of Mrs. Vandeker, returning home Monday morning.

Raymond Ward, son of I. M. Ward, shucked 109 bushels of corn on Tuesday in eight hours and a half, on Wednesday 102 bushels. How is that for a sixteen year-old boy?

Miss Lena Burns went to Omaha Monday and brought her sister, Miss Mary, home in the evening. Miss Mary was able to come home last week as far as her operation was concerned, but she has been suffering from rheumatism and was unable to walk.

Mr. Sorber, an old gentleman 87 years of age, is lying very sick at the home of his son, on Main street, near the laundry. He is suffering with asthma and lung trouble. Mr. Sorber's people are strangers and our people should see that they do not lack for friends in their trouble.

Ed Cleghorn, the 16-year-old son of Mr. Cleghorn living north of town, was badly hurt Saturday evening. He was working in the barn loft when a beard gave way and let him fall a distance of ten feet. When picked up he was unconscious and remained in that condition all night. Dr. Hingate was called and found his shoulder broken and internal injuries, which made the case a serious one.

J. W. Sperry met with a painful accident Friday morning. While getting into his delivery wagon at the mill his young team started and Jim grabbed for the lines but succeeded in getting hold of but one; this pulled them around in a circle and Jim fell out and the wagon turned over onto him. He was carried to Orton's drug store and Dr. Hingate was called. It was some little time before Sperry came to and he was bruised up considerably but was able to go to his home in the country later in the day. Geo. Laird is delivering goods for the merchants during Mr. Sperry's confinement at home, and that new delivery wagon is at the shop for repairs. We hope Jim will soon be all right again.

From the Herald.
Chris Johnson, a former citizen of this county, spent a week here visiting friends and relatives, returning to his home in Iowa, Friday.

Will Marshall's daughter Sarah, was looking over the new house last week, and while upstairs was attracted by the chimney hole above. With her eyes on that she walked into the one below, took a fall of ten feet, and was carried home sick from the shock, but no bones broken.

Ernest Jameson thinks he established a record Thanksgiving. His wife wanted something different for dinner, and Mr. Jameson with his gun started out, killing four rabbits and one chicken, and prepared them for cooking. Time one hour and fifteen minutes.

L. D. Critchfield went to Omaha, Friday. He said he had his corn all gathered, about 6,000 bushels. His getting through so quick is due in a great measure to a hired man named Frank Atwater, who for twelve days shucked 120 bushels per day. To make a record like that must require two or three ears flying in the air all the time.

W. W. Powell is feeling rather joyful. He had a cancer on the lip for a long time, and Sunday it fell out. For several days Dr. Rickard has been treating it with a remedy that he had prepared, and the result is most gratifying. He thinks he has a sure and all-painless cure. As a warning to others we mention that the cancer was caused by the weight of his pipe on the lip.

The claims made by some of the state papers that the weather this November was colder than for thirty years past during the same month is not quite correct. S. W. Orton fished out his little book and finds that in November 1875, the thermometer registered one degree below zero, and on November 26, 1877, it registered six de-

"I had a most stubborn cough for many years. It deprived me of sleep and I grew very thin. I then tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and was quickly cured."
R. N. Mann, Fall Mills, Tenn.

Sixty years of cures and such testimony as the above have taught us what Ayer's Cherry Pectoral will do.
We know it's the greatest cough remedy ever made. And you will say so, too, after you try it. There's cure in every drop.

greens below zero, and there is no going back on his record.
Died, at the hospital in Colorado Springs, Col., November 22, at 6 a. m., Mrs. Martha J. Brown, of throat paralysis, aged 65 years, 3 months and 14 days. Deceased was a resident of Weeping Water for about seventeen years before going to Colorado a year ago, to make her home with her son and daughter, Mrs. Allen Lamb, the latter of Denver. The body arrived here Thursday evening and interment made in Oakwood cemetery beside her husband, Friday morning. Rev. Worley conducting a short service at the grave.

Fresh air is a good thing, and some times it is quite necessary. One night last week Miss Joyce was pumping water with his engine to fill the pond. That is how he gets ice for our summer's use. There was a leak in the engine from which the gas escaped, and about the first thing Mr. Joyce knew he had tumbled out of a bunk he had in the little room in which the engine is located, and as it happened fell with his mouth close to a crack in the building from which he imbued enough fresh air to reach consciousness and later open the door. In the meantime the engine had stopped, and shut off the flow of gas. Mr. Joyce had reason to be thankful Thanksgiving.

Elmwood
From the Leader-Echo.
Elder Martin's little son, who has been down with typhoid fever is reported considerable better.

Mr. Simons and wife, of Hamburg, Iowa, were Elmwood visitors. This week, the guests of their son, Principal W. H. Simons and wife.

Earl J. Bailey has a new wagon on which he rides down the steep hills, even if he does set on himself once in a while. Just ask him to take you riding girls.

Harvey Moddox came up from Kansas City Thursday morning to spend Thanksgiving with relatives, returning home that evening. This was Harvey's first visit to Elmwood in five years.

Paul Marshall and family moved last week into their commodious new residence in the northwest part of Elmwood. The Leader-Echo cordially welcomes this estimable family to our rapidly growing city.

Willis Cory and Homer Abel loaded their possessions into a car and left Wednesday for Wood River, Nebraska, where they have purchased farms and will make their future homes. Necessary to lose two such good citizens from our midst, but wish them all kinds of success in their new location.

One of the saddest days in the history of Elmwood occurred Wednesday when Grandma Schlotman, over 80 years of age, and one of the pioneer residents of Elmwood, perished in a fire that destroyed her own little residence and almost caused the destruction of the home of her daughter, Mrs. R. E. Yeoder.

A deal was consummated Friday evening whereby Wm. Lefler became owner of the meat market business of Delmar Saxton, taking possession Saturday morning. The deal was considerable of a surprise to many as it was not known that Mr. Saxton was desirous of selling. He has been in the meat business here for years, and had built up a splendid business. He has not yet made up his mind as to what he will engage in in the future, but we trust he will remain here. We do not like to lose him as he is one of our best citizens.

Nehawka
From the Register.
Dr. Gilmore is attending Grandma Hansen, who is quite sick.

For the past week Lou Todd has been cribbing from 400 to 600 bushels of corn daily.

Born, on Sunday, November 29, 1903, to Mr. and Mrs. Bucholz, a daughter.

The editor's family feasted on the last watermelon of the season, December 1st.

Mrs. L. E. Stone and children got away from the farm long enough to come to town Friday.

Jacob Wessel's little ones has been seriously ill for some time, but is out of danger now.

George Holmes, who has been at home on the sick list the past few days, returned to work again Wednesday.

Hon. E. M. Pollard was threatened with lung fever the first of the week. He is better now, but not able to be out of the house.

Mr. Claf Lundborg has taken the foremanship of the quarry, made vacant by the death of Gus Rood. This is a good job, and a good man has got it.

Often The Kidneys Are Weakened by Over-Work.
Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.
It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that these most important organs have their beginning all the other organs of the body.

The kidneys filter and purify the blood—that is their work. Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and refreshing effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases, and is sold in its original form, and in one-dollar size bottles.

Would you like to hear more about the goo-goo eyes and the? He came home late last Sunday night, weary, and all alone. His dog lay by the kitchen door. A knocking on a bone. He looked up at him in great surprise. As if to say, "Where's goo-goo eyes?"

Union
From the Leader.
Miss Jesse Todd and Miss Mary E. Strahl departed Sunday evening for the Pacific coast, intending to spend the winter in California.

A. H. Austin has been quite sick the past week and confined to the house several days, but thinks he will be good as new in a few days.

Otto Wurl, of Plattsmouth, was in town yesterday, supplying the dealers with the Wurl Bros' cigars for the holiday trade.

Col. Daniel Burris departed on Tuesday for Okarche, Okla., where he expects to make his permanent home.

Prof. J. W. Gamble and family are now living in town, having moved into the DuBois residence last Friday.

Mrs. L. N. Applegate departed Tuesday evening for Villisca, Iowa, in response to a message informing her of the dangerous illness of her sister who resides in that city.

Henry Hoyer departed Sunday evening for a trip to California, to see what effect the climate will have upon his health, and thinks he will remain there all winter.

Rease Delaney could not have lived another week without making a horse deal, and his horse was saved Wednesday by F. M. Richey coming down from Plattsmouth and buying his line team.

Mr. Delaney and Frank Lynn took the team to Plattsmouth yesterday afternoon.

Ray Upton and Floss McCarthy, two of our gay young bachelors, do not care to be considered on the matrimonial market any longer, as they have established a bachelor's den in the Aubrey building. The boys arranged their rooms to suit themselves, with nice new furniture and everything necessary to make a neat and comfortable place.

Eagle
Elza Lewis has again committed forgery. He forged a check on Branch & Miller, of Lincoln, for about $5.

Dr. Townsend reports the arrival of a great big baby girl at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claud Benz on Wednesday, December 2. It is no wonder Claud was such a long snore.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Stall departed Sunday morning for California where they expect to make their future home in hopes that the change of climate will benefit Mrs. Stall.

Louisville
From the Courier.
Somehow we never had any sympathy for the man with horse on his hat when we find him smoking a cigarette.

The Missouri Pacific bridge gang are here repairing the bridge across the Platte river at this place. It will take them the entire winter to complete the work.

T. Frank Whites, who once was a candidate for the office of county judge in this county, has gone to St. Joseph, Mo., where he has secured a position with the Burlington.

The local Workmen Lodge has done a humane act in caring for Jacob Cain and family, who have been down with typhoid fever for the past six weeks.

Mrs. Cain was taken down first and the local lodge secured a trained nurse to care for her. About two weeks later Mr. Cain was seized with the same disease and shortly after his 12-year-old daughter was taken down. The local lodge lent the family every assistance possible as the danger line. Yet you will hear people say fraternal orders are not a good thing and that they are an enemy to religion. It seems to us that the fraternal order is simply taking up a work left undone by religious organizations—caring for the sick, providing for the widows and orphans and teaching brotherly love.

Mr. Cain will readily admit that he owes his life, and perhaps that of his wife and child, to the care received at the hand of this fraternal organization. He has a right to thank much of the order.

Greenwood
From the Enterprise.
Al Jardine and wife were at Plattsmouth this week, called there by the sickness of Mrs. Jardine's father.

W. E. Hand left Wednesday for Peoria, Ill., where he was called on account of the illness of his father.

Mrs. William Laughlin had the misfortune of running a blade of corn stalk in her eye one day this week and it was thought at first that she would lose the use of the eye, but under Dr. Talcott's care it is improving nicely.

It is stated that one elder in Cass county has united in marriage over a thousand couples. It is better that a milestone had been tied about his neck.

Gertrude Baldwin died at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Armstrong, Saturday morning, November 28. Funeral services were held from the Christian church Sunday, conducted by Elder Uterback. The remains were interred at the Jourdon burying ground, five miles west of town.

City Marshal James has been earning his salary this week. Wednesday (Chas. Helen and Tom Laughlin were locked up for being intoxicated. On Thursday George Dillon, a stranger who has been around town for the past week, thought the boys were probably getting a little dry and took them a bottle of liquor. The marshal caught him in the act and within a short time he was looking through the bars. They were arranged before Judge Foster Thursday and fined as follows: Helms, $5 and costs, which he paid; Laughlin, $10 and costs, and in default of payment was taken back to jail; Dillon was fined $50 and costs, and in default of payment will be taken to the county jail at Plattsmouth today.

Maple Grove
Special Correspondence.
Alfred Gansemer left for Halleem, Neb., last week, where he will visit for a few weeks with relatives and friends.

Mr. Fred Engelkameier met with a painful accident last Tuesday. He was riding a wagon out of the drive way of a corn crib and the wagon got his arm caught between a big cotton wood tree and the wagon bed and cut a hole in his arm.

Mr. John Boek is putting up quite a few new improvements on his place this fall, among them are a cattle shed, cob house and wash house.

Mr. J. R. Cathey and John Pickett attended the funeral of the late Louis Cole, at Murray, Thursday.

Otto and Louie Puls were Plattsmouth visitors Friday.

Mr. Cameron, of Illinois, is visiting at the home of J. R. Cathey this week. Quite a number from this vicinity attended the dance at Mynard Saturday night.
