This centenarian is an ardent friend of Peruna, having used it many years. In speaking of his good health and ex-treme old age, Mr. Brock says: "After a man has lived in the world as long as I have, he ought to have found out a great many things by experience. I think I have done so.

"One of the things I have found out to my entire satisfaction is the proper thing for ailments that are due directly to the effects of the climate. For 115 years I have withstood the changeable climate of the United States.

"It exactly meets all my requirements. It protects me from the evil effects of sudden changes; it keeps me in good appetite; it gives me strength; it keeps my blood in good circulation. I have come to rely upon it almost entirely for the many little things for which I need.

A Tall Story from London. A New Yorker who is now in London declares that one of his greatest pleasures here is the number of people who speak English, says the London Chronicle. At home his grocer comes from Holland, his butcher is a native of Brazil, his chemist is an Alsatian, his chof is a German, his valet was born in Tokio, his servants are Irish and Swedish, his coachman is a Cuban, his barber comes from Trieste. and his fruiterer from southern Italy. A few months ago, when he had to call in a doctor suddenly to attend to one of his servants, a Persian answered the summons. He is clothed by a Cockney, has a Canadian for a business partner, and expects to be buried by a Scotchman.

Old Coachmen Obsolete.

Perhaps it's fashion, perhaps it's precaution that has brought about a change in the age and appearance of New York coachmen. That "old and trusted" individual who, according to fiction, has bowled the family up and down Fifth avenue for more years than any ordinary coachman could possibly exist in the borough of Manhattan, is wholly obsolete. It takes strong arms and steady nerves to guide a prancing pair through the maze of vehicles of the carriage districts of New York, and men below middle age are found far more suitable for such service than older ones
