Broke Jail.

Harry Lovelady and Gray Yates, two prisoners in the county jail pried their way out early Wednesday morning, and up to the hour of going to press are still at large. The delivery was accomplished about three o'clock. The prisoners, in some manner secured possession of a crowbar, with which they broke the lock. The two were confined in the city department of the jail, which is separated from the open corridor by a high partition of iron bars of rather flimsy material. The lock was easily broken from its hinges by the pressure of the monster crowbar, and when once in the corridor the prisoners were not long in breaking the lock on the door leading to the street. Several other prisoners were confined in the steel cells, including C. E. Holmes who was convicted Tuesday evening in the district court of perjury, but it seems that the escaped prisoners made no effort to release any of the others. As soon as the discovery was made, Sheriff McBride took up the task of their recapture. Early in the forenoon word was received to the effect that two men answering the description of Lovelady and Yates, was seen going south.

After dinner yesterday bloodhounds were placed on the trail of the prisoners and they were traced to Murray. Here they boarded a freight train coming north, and it is presumed they are now somewhere in Omaha.

Lovelady is a youth of about 17 or 18 years. He was charged with being implicated with John Greeson in robbing a house here some time ago, but on account of his age he was convicted and sentenced to a term in the reform school at Kearney. He was brought here to testify against Greeson on the charge of grand larceny. Yates is about twenty years of age, and was serving a sentence for petty larceny, to which he pleaded guilty. The authorities expected to use him as a witness against George Rigby, who is now in jail charged with looting a room in the Perkins House, and appropriating clothing belonging to one of the guests.

From the jail the Beatrice bloodhounds went direct to the home of Birt Chandler, a brother-in-law of John Greeson, and from there south to the residence of Rev. Fred Warren, where they turned west, passed close to his house and barn and across the field to the road running south from Plattsmouth, then west to Mynard and then south to Murray, where the boys were seen to climb into a coal car of a freight train headed for Omaha. A telegram from the conductor of the train stated that he put them off the train before reaching Mynard.

Sheriff McBride, with his usual vigilance, will use every effort in his power to recapture the fleeing ones, and it is unnecessary to remark that he will let no grass grow under his feet while so doing.

This spring you will need a nerve food, one that will cleanse and reconstruct your nerve centers and waste energies. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea will do it. 35 cents. Tea or tablets. Gering & Co.

The Mendelssohn Quartette.

The only first class concert to be in Plattsmouth this season. You should be there. Read what others have to say of them:

The quartet of fine, rich male voices was very evenly balanced and the result was the perfection of harmony.—Jacksonville, (Ill.) Courier.

It would be difficult to get together four voices which blend so beautifully and are individually so excellent.—Nashville, (Tenn.) Daily News.

A strictly high-class company. One of the finest entertainments ever given in town.—Middlebury, (Vt.) Register.

Mr. Loder gave a scholarly interpretation of Schuman's "Aufschwung." He played all the accompaniments, and the influence of his experience was noticeable.—New York Musical Courier.

Miss Smith stands at the head of child impersonators. The facility with which she changes from the ordinary conversational tone to that of the six-year-old is little short of marvelous. Her readings were exquisitely true to nature.—Des Moines, (Ia.) Mail and Times.

Mr. Smith, the second tenor, not only blends well in the quartette but in some of the comic numbers he seems quite naturally to adapt himself to the funny situations with good effect. London (Ont.) Free Press.

Proper Treatment of Pneumonia.

Pneumonia is too dangerous a disease for anyone to attempt to doctor himself, although he may have the proper remedies at hand. A physician should always be called. It should be borne in mind, however, that pneumonia always results from a cold or from an attack of the grip, and that by giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the threatened attack of pneumonia may be ward off. This remedy is also used by physicians in the treatment of pneumonia with the best results. Dr. W. J. Smith, of Sanders, Ala., who is also a druggist, says of it: "I have been selling Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and prescribing it in my practice for the past six years. I use it in cases of pneumonia and have always gotten the best results." Sold by all druggists.

James M. Stander of Louisville, was in the city Thursday, bidding his friends farewell, preparatory to starting on his long journey to Jerusalem, where he goes as a delegate to the World's Sunday School convention, which occurs in that ancient old city, April 18 to 20. The Journal acknowledges a brief call from him, and joins his many friends in wishing a most pleasant journey and safe return.

R. W. Long called at these headquarters Monday and renewed for the Journal another year. Mr. Long is a prominent farmer who has been getting his mail on route 3 out of Mynard, but hereafter his postoffice address will be Plattsmouth. He says the farmers, as a rule, who have been getting their mail at Mynard, are not at all pleased with the change.

Gather the roses of health for your cheeks. While the parks are shining with dew. Get out in the morning early and bright by taking Rocky Mountain Tea at night. Gering & Co.

Everyone says it is a pleasure to trade at Gering & Co's drug store, for they are always pleased to give you the best service if it is 50c or $500 worth that you buy.

Mr. A. B. Taylor of this city, called this week and renewed for two copies of the Journal sent to W. B. Taylor, of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, and Dean Shrad, Brockton, N. Y.

E. P. Baehr, who is employed on a cattle ranch near Colorado Springs, was visiting in Plattsmouth last week. Mr. Baehr was at one time, several years ago, a resident of this city.

Dr. Richards will be at the Riley Hotel Monday, March 21. Those who need his services will please make a note of the date. Dr. Richards is no stranger to Cass county people, and his reputation as an optician is well known. Glasses fitted to the eyes.

A careful housewife is careful in the selection of wall paper for her home, but it is only a matter of taste to select your wall paper from the immense stock carried by Gering & Co.

The Journal acknowledges the receipt of $1.00 from Geo. W. Berger, of Elmwood, to be applied on subscription to the Old Reliable. Mr. Berger is one of the prominent democrats of Cass county.

If your eyes bother you and you need first class treatment, please bear in mind that Dr. Richards, the well known eye specialist, will be at the Riley Hotel in this city, on Monday, March 21, to treat all who may need his services.

Philip Cook called Friday, renewed and ordered the Journal sent to his address at Norfolk, Neb. He has removed to Pierce county, where he owns a quarter section of land, but Norfolk is his nearest postoffice—nine miles distant.

P. A. Hild of Mynard, passed through the city Tuesday enroute from Omaha where he had been to purchase some farm machinery. He stated that since the departure of Cox, who sold such goods, he was unable to get what he wanted at Mynard.

Every cent of money received from the sale of Plattsmouth Telephone stock will be invested in extensions to the system. Two hundred miles of farmer lines, nine exchanges, 1,200 telephones now in use. How is that for five years' business?

G. W. Baker died at his home in Sacramento, Cal., Saturday evening, March 5, 1904, at the advanced age of 88 years. Mrs. C. H. Parmele, Mrs. E. J. Austin and Miss Sarah Baker are sisters of the deceased, and Mr. B. D. H. Baker of Omaha, is a brother.

P. Pearson has recently repaired and renovated his store room throughout, and those who have been used to entering the store can soon perceive a vast difference in the appearance of things generally thereabouts—all for the better, of course. Our good friend is a thorough business man, and will have things to ship-shape to do business, regardless of the expense.
