Weeping Water

From the Republican.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Comp-ton, Monday March 7th, a daughter.

Ed Cole's little girl has scarlet fever and the family is quarantined.

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Mason has been very sick with pneumonia.

Dr. Rickards reports a very sick boy at John Groff's home, suffering with typhoid fever.

Mr. Halmas has scarlet fever in his family, his little child being taken sick last week.

Mrs. D. A. Miller, who has been very sick with the mumps, was gaining nicely until last week, when she had a relapse and has been dangerously ill ever since.

Mrs. S. M. Davis and son have moved over from Plattsmouth, and will make their home in Weeping Water. They rented F. M. Davis' large house on Randolph street.

George Gilmore, last Wednesday received a telegram from Calaway, Neb., announcing the death of his brother-in-law, A. P. Cox, who was a resident of this vicinity, and has many friends here who will read with sorrow of his death.

Dr. Jensen was unfortunate last Saturday in cutting his hand. He was operating in the hospital, and the knife slipped cutting a deep gash on the back of his left hand, severing the tendon that controls the first finger. The doctor was a little afraid of infection for a day or two, as he inflicted the wound with a hoof knife which was not very clean.

Wm. Mepel received word last week of an accident which happened to his son Hiram, who lives at Valentine. He was burning a gasoline lamp and inhaling the fumes for a cold, when the lamp exploded throwing the oil all over his face, burning it badly. Fortunately his eyes escaped and he could stand the pain so long as his eyesight was spared.

The Republican is advised from Battle Creek, Mich., that Miss Sadie M. Latta, of Weeping Water, won a prize in the cooking contest conducted by the Postum Cereal Co., amounting to five dollars, which has been sent to her, together with a diploma from the Postum Co. In this contest 735 cash prizes amounting to seven thousand dollars were offered, and the test period covered the summer and fall of 1903. Miss Latta is one of Cass county's proficient teachers and being a good cook as well adds to her accomplishments and we congratulate her upon winning in this contest.

Nehawka

From the Register.

Mrs. R. W. Kelley, of Shawnee, Okla., is here on a visit to her sons, Charlie and Edwin Hadley.

Mrs. J. M. Stone entertained at dinner Sunday Bertha Humphrey, Miss Davis and Lulu and Roy Davis.

Clede Harris was in town Tuesday. He has bought the old Wm. Elkenbary farm northeast of Union.

Mrs. Ely Pittman and I. G. Reynolds are down from York this week, called by the serious of Mrs. Reynolds.

Chas. Ballard left Tuesday morning for Sioux City Ia., after having spent the winter here with his daughter.

Mrs. Banning took her grand-daughter, Farra Sturm, to Omaha Tuesday to consult Dr. Gifford about the little lady's throat, which is giving her parents some worry.

Henry Hirtich's and wife, and Mrs. Schary of Wyoming, were in town Tuesday visiting Uncle Jake Gruber and wife. The women are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Gruber, and they all had a pleasant visit together.

Uncle William Kropp of Wyoming, was in town Saturday. He is looking quite hale and hearty. About forty-five years ago he owned the farm where Henry Schomaker lives. He sold out and moved to his present home at Wyoming, where he has lived ever since. He has grown very wealthy in land and money.

Friday last about fifty braves put on their war paint and leggings, and took their tomahawks and bows and arrows and went after the coyotes, which have become uncomfortably plenty lately. They have been making forages on chickens, geese and ducks, and the editor thought one day last week that they would carry his daughter away. So three drives were made: one west of Henry Knabe's, and one in the pasture south of town, and another by Charlie Brant's. One wolf was killed, and every other hunter wounded one, and quite a number were seen. One scalp was all that was secured; the scalpel, (sure-shot-in-the-brush) was the lucky man.

Happy, Healthy Children.

Any child can take Little Early Risers with perfect safety. They are harmless, never gripe or sicken, and yet they are so certain in results that robust constitutions requiring drastic means are never disappointed. Union

From the Ledger.

Winnie McNamee purchased the Frank Runyon residence on B street last week, and will have a real neat and comfortable home of his own.

Roy Rogers, the orphan boy who was stranded and sick here about three weeks ago, was able to travel Tuesday and went to Plattsmouth to make his home at the county farm until he regains his health.

Mrs. Chas. McNamee and the children, who spent the winter here, departed last evening for their home in Akron, Colorado. Miss Maggie McNamee accompanied them to visit a few weeks—or until she gets real "homestick for papa and mamma."

John C. Faught of Phillips, Neb., was here last Friday to visit some of his friends, and of course The Ledger was on his calling list. Mr. Faught resided in Rock Bluffs precinct a number of years ago, being at that time one of Cass county's leading teachers in public schools.

Born October 15, 1870, in Liberty precinct, Cass county, Neb. Died at 7:45 a. m., Saturday, March 5, 1904, at the home in Union, Neb. The announcement of the death of Mrs. Austin, wife of Almond A. Austin, caused a feeling of sorrow as well as surprise, for her serious condition was known to but few of the citizens. She had apparently been in usual health, although she had never fully recovered from a serious illness of eight years ago. On Friday, February 20, she was happy and cheerful until evening, when a sudden illness attacked her, and it was soon observed that it was of a very alarming nature. She continued growing worse in spite of the best that medical skill and tender care could do, and Saturday evening only a moment before death, as she was passing away she held her husband's hand and said faintly, "I'm going home." The funeral service was held at the residence Monday at ten o'clock a. m., Rev. J. W. Waldsmith of Nebraska City officiating.

The Nome Witch Hazel.

The name Witch Hazel is much abused. E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, are the inventors of the original and only genuine Witch Hazel Salve. A certain cure for Cuts, Burns, Bruises, Eczema, Tetter, Piles, etc. There are many counterfeits of this salve, some of which are dangerous, while they are all worthless. In buying Witch Hazel Salve see that the name E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, is on the box and a cure is certain. Sold by F. G. Fricke & Co.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Grimes, at noon on Wednesday occurred a very pretty wedding, at which time their grand-daughter, Miss Flora M. Smith, was married to Mr. David Murray. Promptly at the appointed time while Miss Daisy Buck played a beautiful wedding march the bridal couple entered the parlor, accompanied by Dorie Smith, a sister of the bride, and Edward Murray, brother of the groom. In a few well chosen words Rev. G. W. Ayers pronounced the marriage ceremony, after which the happy couple received the hearty congratulations of their friends. Dinner was soon announced, and the guests were invited into the dining room where the tables were flooded with good things. The bride is the accomplished daughter of Mrs. Talitha T. Smith, and has grown to womanhood near here. She is a young lady of excellent character and well deserves her large circle of friends. The groom is a son of L. C. W. Murray of Mount Pleasant precinct, where they have lived for many years and where the family has been raised. David has a reputation for honesty and integrity that any young man might be proud of. He is an energetic young farmer, and they will be "at home" to their friends after March 20, on a farm three miles west of Murray. There were present only the relatives and a few intimate friends.

D. L. Cartmell and wife departed Monday night for San Jose, California, where they will visit a few days, then go on to Eugene, Oregon. Their many friends here unite in wishing them good health and prosperity in their new home in the great northwest.

H. L. Clapp returned Monday evening from Chicago, where he was called to the bedside of his daughter, Mrs. Blanch Harger. Mr. Clapp left his daughter considerably improved, although still very weak from the operation.

M. J. Tyson and family departed Wednesday morning for La Grande, Oregon. They have not decided just where they will locate. Their many friends here are sorry to see them leave but hope they will meet with happiness and prosperity wherever they decide to cast their lot.

Early Tuesday morning, just as Ed Langhorst opened up his brother's store, two strangers entered—one at the east door and one at the north. Lou was on his way to the store and saw the men enter, and in some manner became suspicious of their actions and hurried to the store, reaching the north door just in time to meet one of the fellows coming out, his overcoat hanging over his arm. Lou lifted up the overcoat and underneath were four pairs of corduroy pants belonging to him. The thief, whose name we did not learn, was promptly nabbed and taken to the city jail and in the evening the deputy sheriff came after him and took him to Plattsmouth. The other fellow, having stolen nothing was allowed to go. He made a pretense of wanting to buy something while the other fellow did the stealing.

RUTS

The walking sick, what a crowd of them there are! Persons who are thin and weak but not sick enough to go to bed. "Chronic cases" that's what the doctors call them, which in common English means—long sickness. To stop the continued loss of flesh they need Scott's Emulsion. For the feeding of weakness they need Scott's Emulsion. It makes new flesh and gives new life to the weak system. Scott's Emulsion gets thin and weak persons out of the rut. It makes new, rich blood, strengthens the nerves and gives appetite for ordinary food. Scott's Emulsion can be taken as long as sickness lasts and do good all the time. There's new strength and flesh in every dose.

Louisville

From the Courier.

Philip Duhr will move back from Ashland and farm the old Tapper place west of town this season.

Cashier G. H. Wood, of the bank of Commerce, has been confined to his room this week with an attack of tonsillitis.

The Platte river is lower than ever before known here at this season of the year. It is now believed that unless heavy rains come that the ice will go out without damaging the bridges.

Among the visitors in Louisville this week is Edyth Tozier-Weathered of Portland, Oregon, a niece of Postmaster G. W. Mayfield. Mrs. Weathered is the lady commissioner from her state to the World's Fair and has been in St. Louis looking after matters in connection with her position. She served Oregon in a like manner at the Pan-American and also at the Charleston, S. C., exposition.

The funeral of George Bonemeier, the young man who died at Clarkston Hospital in Omaha, March 2, occurred from the German Evangelical church west of Louisville, last Saturday at two o'clock, conducted by Rev. Goetz. Deceased was a son of Mr. and Mrs. August Bonemeier, and was born and raised on the farm east of Murdock. He underwent an operation four weeks ago for appendicitis and was getting along nicely when he was taken with pneumonia and in his weak condition gradually sank to his long rest. He was a young man of good, moral habits and had many friends who grieve to learn of his death. His age at the time of his death was 29 years, 11 months and 14 days.

Cedar Creek

Special Correspondence.

Mart Williams shipped two carloads of fat hogs to South Omaha last week.

Mrs. W. H. Heil met with a painful accident last week which nearly cost her the sight of her eyes. While trying to remove the lid of an air tight syrup pail which contained some boiling hot tea, the pressure of the steam forced the lid up against the ceiling of the room and the hot tea splashed up in her face, severely scalding her about the neck and face. Dr. Livingston was summoned as quick as possible and upon examination found her eyes in better condition than was expected. She has suffered a great deal of pain and it should not be neglected to not keep a tight lid on a pail while the contents are boiling.

John Gauer shelled corn one day last week.

James Terryberry left last Saturday for Mumper, Neb., where he intends to hunt for a few days.

William Stobmann, from near Manley, was down in this vicinity last Thursday selling cream separators.

A few children in this community are sick in bed with the mumps.

Herman Boom is quite sick with pneumonia.
