

It is the Surer Way

Have your cake, muffins, and tea biscuit home-made. They will be fresher, cleaner, more tasty and wholesome.

Royal Baking Powder helps the house wife to produce at home, quickly and economically, fine and tasty cake, the raised hot-biscuit, puddings, the frosted layer-cake, crisp cookies, crullers, crusts and muffins, with which the ready-made food found at the bake-shop or grocery does not compare.

Royal is the greatest of bake-day helps.

Weeping Water

From the Republican.

The quarantine was raised Saturday from the home of Mr. Halmes.

John W. Cook, an old resident of this vicinity, moved his family to Lincoln Friday.

B. S. Torrence came over from Taylor, Iowa, last week to look after business matters. He has rented his farm to C. C. Baldwin.

C. Joyce has replaced the furniture and tools in his meat market by an $800 outfit nearly new, which he purchased at Plattsmouth.

A large number of friends gathered at the train Monday morning to see Mrs. Leach and the children start for their new home in Vermont, and bid them good bye.

Mr. Whitford and family left Saturday for Arlington, where they will reside in the future. Miss Whitford came down with them to help pack their goods. We are sorry to lose this estimable family.

John F. Kruger loaded a car Tuesday and started for his new home in Oklahoma, where he has bought a 160 acre farm, and says he expects to buy another. He was accompanied on the journey by his brother Harry.

Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Wehrman of Nelson, are the proud parents of a little baby girl, which arrived at their home the first of this month. Congratulations are in order as this is the first daughter and third child.

F. M. Richey, J. G. Richey of Plattsmouth, G. G. Martin, an attorney from Fremont, and A. B. Dickson of Elmwood, were here Thursday appraising the Weeping Water Lumber Co's business, so Mr. F. M. Richey could give bonds as guardian of the children of the late Frank Dickson, Messrs. J. G. Richey and Frank Barnes were the appraisers.

Word was received here last week from Lonoke, Ark., of the death of J. S. Tewksbury, an old-time resident of Weeping Water. He was a partner in the Valley mill of H. Hubbard and later with E. A. Kripatrik. Later he sold his interest in the mill and moved to town and ran an elevator a number of years being a member of the firm of Tewksbury & Cooper. Mr. Tewksbury will be remembered by all as an honorable, upright citizen, whom everyone loved and revered.

From the Herald.
Mrs. Fred Gorder and baby went to Omaha Monday to visit, and from there to Plattsmouth.

John Cook of Julian, was in town Monday for the purpose of asking the city council for a franchise to put in an electric light plant.

Wm. Sharp, who bought the old Stucker farm, moved down from near Eagle last week, and found his way to town Saturday, and to some trading.

Harvey Sargent has been sick for the past week with typhoid fever. He is having good care at the hands of a trained nurse, and it is to be hoped will pass the crisis safely and soon be on the mend.

Mrs. Anna Ramsey has sold her farm near Cedar Creek. Saturday she went from here to Manley to visit her son John, and from there in company with her sons, Jim and Laurence, leaves for Colorado to reside.

Charles Philpot says at first he thought his fall wheat was badly winter-killed, but is surprised to find that it is coming up nice, and it includes different plantings. The bare spots he noticed at first contains underneath wheat in good shape. Perhaps there will be others likewise surprised.

The neighbors and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schnell to the number of about sixty, and loaded as those people usually are, with good things to eat, gathered at their home last Friday for dinner, and helped them celebrate their fifth wedding anniversary. They had a fine time and presented their hostess with a purse of money to invest in something as a reminder of the visit.

There are a few things that happen in this world of ours that appeal to us in a touching way, and brighten our lives, as well as bind us more and more to each other. In another column we note the tragic death of Mr. A. D. Carpenter, whose father, and sister Mrs. Moulton, are residents of Weeping Water. In that far away place Mr. Carpenter was virtually a stranger, yet there was one person there formerly a resident of Plattsmouth and Cass County, who heard of the accident, and at his own expense immediately telegraphed, asking if he could be of any assistance. The sender of the telegram was James M. Patterson, and the act proves him a son like unto his father, whom all loved and respected.

Elmwood

From the Leader-Echo.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Cramer Tuesday.

A daughter was born Saturday to Mr. and Mrs. Deles Derr.

Willis Bartlett and wife left Tuesday for Seattle, Washington, and expect to look up a location somewhere in the northwest.

Those favoring a saloon in Elmwood held their primary at the Grand Army hall Saturday evening and nominated L. W. Roetger, Wm. Mueller, C. S. Hart and Geo. Carnahan.

Grandma Kunz died Tuesday evening from cancer of the stomach, after an illness of several months. Funeral services from the German Evangelical church this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Grandma Weber is quite sick and is falling rapidly. She was 92 years of age Saturday.

LATELY—Grandma died on Monday evening. Funeral services were held from the Christian church at 11 o'clock yesterday morning. Obituary next week.

Last Saturday evening about twenty of J. M. Bischoff's friends and neighbors gathered at his home near Alvo and gave him a rousing surprise on his 65th birthday. He was greatly surprised, and all had a good time. Music, games and pleasant conversation, followed by a bountiful supper, made the evening pass very pleasantly.

Joe Holderness had just pulled off his shoes and was getting ready to pull out for bed Monday evening, when suddenly about a dozen of his neighbors and their families appeared to remind him that he was 53 years old. The surprise was complete, and a very pleasant evening was spent in playing flinch, checkers and crokinole and a bounteous supper served. Mr. Holderness was presented with a handsome rocking chair and at a late hour the guests departed, wishing that he might live to see many more birthdays.

Louisville

From the Courier.

J. E. Perry will build a large basement barn 36x50 on his farm near Wabash. George Delezene has the contract.

Little Fred Huff had the second finger of his left hand almost severed Friday by getting it caught in the door jam at the school house. Dr. Worthman dressed the injured member and hopes to save it without amputation.

A citizen's primary was held at the council chamber last Friday evening. C. A. Richey was chosen chairman and L. J. Mayfield secretary. The following named were selected as the nominees for village trustees: H. E. Fankonin, M. N. Drake and L. J. Mayfield.

The Louisville school board held a special meeting Thursday night and re-elected the present corps of teachers for the ensuing year. The salary of Principal Sams was increased from $75 to $90 per month and the course will be taught in two grades. The list of teachers are: M. A. Sams, principal; Misses Mary McGrew, Emma C. Myers, Katherine Petersen, Tina Barrett and Merle Davidson. The seventh teacher was not elected.

A delegation from the Swedish Free Mission society of America visited Louisville Wednesday and took over the large stone house east of town, owned by G. W. Holdrege, with the idea of purchasing and converting it into a college for the education of Swedish ministers. The committee consisted of the president of the society, J. J. Hanson, Rev. Dahlstrom, Rev. Madge and Chas. Flood. The idea is to purchase the building and remodel it and move the institute here from Chicago. The committee was well pleased with the building, as well as the location, and will report to the national conference, which meets in Rockford, Ill., in June. This will mean a great deal for Louisville if we succeed in inducing this college to locate here. The Courier is informed that without solicitation one gentleman offered to donate $1,000 and another $500, providing the college comes to Louisville, and it is thought that the amount can easily be raised to $2,500. The building in question is the one erected by W. H. B. Stout, to be used as a boarding house for quarrymen. It cost $45,000 to erect. It has been used for a number of years as a farm house.

John Wade, who was dangerously wounded about seven weeks ago by the accidental discharge of a shot gun, has sufficiently recovered that he was brought home from the hospital, Monday night. He is able to be up part of the time and his many friends hope to soon see him out again.

T. N. Bobbit, our good natured friend living northeast of town, was in our sanctuary Friday and told us he was celebrating. He has good reason to celebrate for it was just 35 years before when he and his good wife moved on their farm. They encountered many hardships in the early days but braved them all, and can now live in ease.

Greenwood

From the Enterprise.

Lester Brittenham has an attack of erysipelas in his hand.

Little Clay Helm is quite sick. Dr. Miller is caring for him.

WEEDS

Consumption is a human weed flourishing best in weak lungs. Like other weeds it's easily destroyed while young; when old, sometimes impossible.

Strengthen the lungs as you would weak land and the weeds will disappear.

The best lung fertilizer is Scott's Emulsion. Salt pork is good too, but it is very hard to digest.

The time to treat consumption is when you begin trying to hide it from yourself.

Others see it, you won't. Don't wait until you can't deceive yourself any longer.

Begin with the first thought to take Scott's Emulsion. If it isn't really consumption so much the better; you will soon forget it and be better for the treatment. If it is consumption you can't expect to be cured at once, but if you will begin in time and will be rigidly regular in your treatment you will win.

Scott's Emulsion, fresh air, rest all you can, eat all you can, that's the treatment and that's the best treatment.

We will send you a little of the Emulsion free.

Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

She soon walked up and down the street. With the price mark still upon it.

Proper Treatment of Pneumonia.

Pneumonia is too dangerous a disease for anyone to attempt to doctor himself, although he may have the proper remedies at hand. A physician should always be called. It should be borne in mind, however, that pneumonia always results from a cold or from an attack of the grip, and that by giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the threatened attack of pneumonia may be ward off. This remedy is also used by physicians in the treatment of pneumonia with the best results. Dr. W. J. Smith, of Sanders, Ala., who is also a druggist, says of it: "I have been selling Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and prescribing it in my practice for the past six years. I use it in cases of pneumonia and have always gotten the best results." Sold by all druggists.
