Wash your mouth or beard a beautiful brown or rich black. Then use BUCKINGHAM'S DYE for the Whiskers.

Railroad Notes.

The following we clip from the Omaha World-Herald, which no doubt will prove of interest to Plattsmouth citizens and the traveling public in general.

General Passenger Agent Francis of the Burlington, yesterday morning gave out these changes in local train service:

"Train No. 4, which now leaves Lincoln at 7 a. m., and is due in Omaha at 9 a. m., will be discontinued. A new train, leaving Lincoln at 4:15 p. m., and arriving in Omaha at 5:55 p. m., will be put on. This change has been necessitated by a change in the time of the Burlington train from Seattle, Billings and the Black Hills, which will hereafter arrive at Lincoln at 4:15 p. m., instead of at 1:50 p. m., as at present. The new afternoon train will, therefore, start from Lincoln for Omaha as soon as passengers from the west are transferred.

"The train for Plattsmouth which now leaves here at 7:50 p. m., will be discontinued altogether. Mr. Francis states that there is not enough evening traffic between Omaha and Plattsmouth to make this local pay.

"It comes from railway men at Chicago that the Burlington road proposes to abandon Pacific Junction as a terminal point, and that its shops and round house will be moved away.

"Commencing with next Sunday the Pacific Junction stub passenger and fast mail train to this city via the Nebraska side, will be discontinued. The fast mail No. 7, which now stops at Council Bluffs, will run to this city via Plattsmouth.

"Commencing next Sunday, also, train No. 6, Chicago special from Denver, will be discontinued, and train No. 1 from Chicago to Denver, going via Ashland, will also be discontinued."

Easter Millinery.

On account of the delay in getting the new glass front completed at M. Fanger's department store, the extensive stock of millinery carried has been put on display on the second floor of the store. As soon as the painters and paperhangers complete the work they are doing it will be brought down stairs, but in the meantime all ladies who wish to buy stylish, Easter bonnets and other millinery goods, will call at the store and be escorted through the room where the trimmers are at work. This spring's styles are beautiful and the prices such as will please everybody. Don't be bashful of not calling because the store is slightly "up-side-down" at present. In a few days the department store will be bigger and better than ever.

Doings in District Court.

The case of Dennis O. Dwyer against William H. Pickens was dismissed at cost of plaintiff on motion in open court.

A motion for a new trial was overruled in the case of William D. Cannon against Chelsea Goodale, and judgment was ordered on the verdict returned by the jury in the case.

In the case of the Bank of Cass county against George S. Upton a motion to require the defendant to give additional security on appeal bond was overruled.

John M. Carter against Benjamin A. Gibson. Dismissed at cost of plaintiff.

In the case of the Citizens' State Bank of Lawton, Okla., against Chas. D. Cummins, et. al., Judge Jensen decided the issues generally in favor of the defendants.

The case of the First National Bank of Plattsmouth, against Francis N. Gibson, et al., was continued on application of the defendant.

Henry J. DuBois vs. Eli M. Smith. Decree issued quieting title to property described in plaintiff's petition.

The two cases in which Wm. Braunter is defendant, growing out of the shooting in the Murray hotel several months ago, have been continued to the November term of court. C. G. Parmele, Philip Thierolf, F. G. Fricke, Fred Range and H. M. Soennehen gave recognition for his appearance at that time in the sum of $1,500 in each case.

Inflammatory Rheumatism Cured.

William Shaffer, a brakeman of Denison, Ohio, was confined to his bed for several weeks with inflammatory rheumatism. "I used many remedies," he says. "Finally I sent to McCaw's drug store for a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, at which time I was unable to use hand or foot, and in one week's time was able to go to work as happy as a clam." For sale by all druggists.

A report was in circulation Saturday that Roe Craig, living south of the city, had been seriously injured and rendered unconscious from the kick of a horse. Roe came in a day or two later to show his friends that the horse must have got in his work on someone else.

Alexander B. Baldwin of Cedar Bluffs, Nebraska, and Mrs. Julia L. Monroe of this city, were married at the rectory of St. Luke's church, in this city on Thursday afternoon, March 23, 1904, Rev. H. B. Burgess officiating. They will make their future home at Cedar Bluffs.

The citizens of Nehawka are made of the right kind of material. They went to work last Monday and raised $150 to increase the reward offered for the arrest of the thief who stole Louis Ingwerson's team of mules, buggy and harness on Thursday night, March 24. The reward now reaches the sum of $300.

People should be more careful in burning trash. Some have gone to bed and left burning the rakings off of their gardens and front yards. This is carelessness. If the wind was to blow hard in the middle of the night it would scatter the fire in every direction, and the damage then can be imagined.

Fred G. Egenberger, who has been absent for two months' touring California, Mexico and other southern points, returned home last Thursday afternoon, coming by the way of St. Louis. Fred reports a pleasant trip, and feels very much better in consequence. He says it will do any one good to make a like tour.

The happy musical comedy "Weary Willie Walker" with its load of laughter, and song, comes to the Parmele Theatre Tuesday, April 5th. All of the latest song hits including the new fad "Navajo" will be introduced. The announcement is made by the management that a year's supply of laughter is crowded into the three acts of mirth and melody.

Mr. Thos. Keckler of Manley, while here Monday, reported that William Schleifert was very low, and his life despaired of. Mr. Schleifert is one of the old settlers of Cass county, is a retired farmer and very wealthy. He has been ill with that dread disease, consumption, for many months, and his life has been slowly ebbing away. He is past all human aid, and his death is looked for at any moment.

It doesn't do your town any good to air to the world the short comings of its inhabitants. If we were all saints one wouldn't want to live in Plattsmouth. It takes all kinds of people to make a live town and besides you wouldn't appreciate us good people if it weren't for some bad ones. Plattsmouth, taken as a whole is far ahead, morally, of most towns of its size. A good, religious gentleman recently told us that Plattsmouth was heaven beside the town he had just left, and we believe him.

—IN CASS COUNTY.

George W. Snyder, one of Cass county's best farmers, dyed-in-the-wool democrat and excellent citizen, called yesterday and renewed the subscription of Henry Meyer, who receives the Journal at Bethany, Neb. Mr. Meyer, like everybody else, likes the Old Reliable.

Thomas Keckler, the Manley grain dealer, was in the city Monday, and made the Journal a pleasant call, and while here renewed for the Old Reliable. He has rented his elevator for the summer. Mr. Keckler is a thoroughbred democrat and we are always happy to meet him.

J. W. Johnson went to Lincoln Friday to be with his son Ed, while the latter was being operated upon for appendicitis. Mr. Johnson returned Saturday and says Ed went through the operation very nicely, and hopes are entertained that he will be his former self in a short time.

Dr. T. J. Todd, the dentist, has disposed of his business here, and contemplates removing to some point in Michigan. Dr. Todd was raised near Plattsmouth, and is a most deserving young man, a splendid dentist and wherever he goes, the best wishes of the Journal go with him.

Geo. Elliott, a former saloon man of Plattsmouth, died at his home in Central City, Neb., Friday, March 24, from the effects of a paralytic stroke received a year ago. Mr. Elliott will be remembered as carrying on the business in the Riley House basement, and as being a very quiet man.

Mrs. J. A. Walker of Murray, A. W. Atwood, Isabel Richey and L. A. Moore of this city, attended an entertainment given in Omaha, by the Dixie club Thursday evening. The club is composed of some 500 members who were born in Kentucky, or some one of the southern states.

T. E. Parmele departed Tuesday for Phoenix, Arizona, and will return with Percy Agnew, who has been sojourning there for several months for the benefit of his health. His many friends will regret to learn that the change of climate has not benefited Percy to the extent that was anticipated.

The family of Friedrich Stohlmann, deceased, of Louisville, consisting of Mrs. Kondegunda Stohlmann and her sons George, William, Friedrich, August, Andrew and Henry, and two daughters, Mrs. Louise Kupke and husband and Miss Emilie, were in attendance at probate court Saturday to make final settlement of Mr. Stohlmann's estate. While here they were warmly greeted by their old-time friends and neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Schlater and son Frank.

Last Saturday as William Jones, the young horse thief sent to the penitentiary from this county, was released from that institution, he was confronted by the sheriff of Lancaster county on another charge of a similar character, alleged to have been committed on or about May 17. Sheriff Holcomb, of Andrew county, Mo., was also on hand with papers for the arrest of Jones, but concluded to wait until the authorities of Lancaster get through with him.

The supporting of a newspaper costs a town scarcely a cent. Though papers may be well patronized and the business men may spend sums of money in advertising, the cash very quickly gets back into the channel from which it came. Nearly every cent a paper gathers in is spent at home and it goes to the merchants who delight in benefiting themselves and the community by liberal advertising. Hoiled down the facts are that a newspaper returns all the money it gets to those who give it, and its work for the town and country is thrown in as good will.

Advertisements are really news for the housekeeper, business men, young man and woman and often for the boys and girls. They tell you where you can get the best to supply the larder, to furnish the home, to assist you in business and to make your person neat and attractive and where you may save a few dollars for merchants buying in larger lots some special class of goods can secure a lower rate and can therefore offer to sell them cheaper. Because an advertiser pays us for the privilege of telling you about his goods is no reason why it cannot be considered news.

The following are the names of those who attended the assessors' meeting at the court house Tuesday: T. N. Bobbitt, J. A. Stottler, H. E. Coleman, Wm. Minford, N. A. McCrory, F. A. Creamer, George Woods, A. Jenkins, Wilson Gilmore, John Albert, Henry Kropp, Geo. N. LaRue, Crend F. Harris, Ben Horning, J. G. Elchey, William Weber and Wayne Twitchell. The assessors begin their work tomorrow.

There is not a democrat in Cass county that can truthfully say that the Journal did not give every candidate upon the democratic ticket its most hearty support last fall. One man in particular, in whose interests we worked harder perhaps than we would have otherwise done, had it not been for the opposition in his own party ranks, is now engaged in repaying us for the "benefits we made" in so doing by getting his printing done at an opposition printshop. Why, we are unable to say. We simply done what we considered to be our duty last fall—is he doing his now?

We have already had a touch of spring, the warm sunshine and the southern breezes pushing back the rigors of winter and showing evidences of the early changing of the season, in which all sleeping nature will take on new life. First appears the grass, painting the bosom of the earth in a beautiful coating of green. Next come the wild flowers in their fragrance and beauty. Then the buds on the bushes and trees, and in the meantime the birds which at the approach of winter flew to southern climes will return to chatter and sing and build homes among us. The changing from the bleakness and desolation of winter to the buds and blossoms of spring is the most beautiful transformation afforded us by the passing of the seasons.
