Why Not Judge Parker?

The eyes of the Democrats of the entire country are directed to New York, and there is wistful speculation upon the movements of the party leaders on the Empire state. Occasionally a western enthusiast ventures the assertion, and proves it to his own satisfaction, that New York is not necessary to democratic or republican success, but many conservative and observant persons cling obstinately to the belief that as New York goes, so goes the nation.

New York is necessary to democratic success, and wants to name the candidate. That Judge Alton B. Parker would lead the democrats to victory is not here asserted, but if any man could do this next November Judge Parker could. This is the candid opinion of the Journal. But even if he were defeated, his nomination would be most wholesome for the party, for it would unite under a strong and sagacious leader the scattered masses that are now floundering upon a sea of factional differences, and in this country would be immeasurably benefitted. The republican party has had its own way too long; because the powerful restraint of a well organized and vigilant majority is lacking, it has become excessive and insolent. It is not good for the nation that the democrats are demoralized and mutinous. The conditions so necessary to preserve the wholesome political equilibrium are wanting, and will be wanting until the democrats become sane and rally to the support of a standard-bearer who can sweep the country. The democrats owe it to the country as a patriotic duty to unite under some man who represents high ideals and can command the confidence and support of a united democracy; and we believe that these much desired and necessary qualities are in Judge Alton B. Parker, of New York.

Are You Affected?

"The big head" is a popular way of expressing a common and frequent ailment. It arises from various sources but the real foundation is the lack of sense. A little money develops it in some people, a few good clothes gives it to others, a chance to exercise a little authority is often the cause of it, while others will have it from having a better job than their associates. The truth is, no sensible person ever gets the "big head." The one who becomes stuck up and stiff-necked from success of any kind is a weak-minded mortal who should go away back and sit down.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident is narrated by John Oliver of Philadelphia, as follows: "I was in an awful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite, growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Then I was advised to use Electric Bitters; to my great joy, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents, guaranteed, at F. G. Fricke & Co's drug store.
