THE APPOMATTOX CAMP FIRE

McConihie Post G. A. R. Observes the Anniversary of Lee's Surrender.

On Saturday evening last McConihie Post G. A. R. of this city observed the anniversary of Lee's surrender on April 9, 1865. The campfire was held at post headquarters and was a most enjoyable affair.

The headquarters was profusely decorated with banners and flags, and the old representatives of the war of the rebellion were generally in attendance with their families. Among those present could be noticed a number of ex-confederate as well as union soldiers.

Commander Glenn had his meeting well in hand and proved a successful presiding officer. The music was furnished by Mrs. Clara Westcott's Young Ladies' Glee club, and the many patriotic numbers given were highly enjoyed—indeed, we may truthfully say, this feature of the campfire was a rare entertainment of itself. Another feature of the entertainment was a recitation entitled, "Jim's Defense," by Mrs. Moore of Omaha, a daughter of Adjutant Fair of the Grand Army post. Mrs. Moore is an elegant elocutionist, so pronounced by competent critics, and her delineation of the confederate judge and ducky chicken rustler was keenly enjoyed by her audience, she being encored time and again. Her recitation of "Barbara Fritchie" was also enjoyed by all.

The addresses of Judge Chapman and Mr. Windham were well received, and were above the ordinary plane of campfire speeches. Such addresses are worthy of a much larger audience than can be accommodated in the post headquarters, especially the sentiments uttered by Judge Chapman in the opening address, in which he traced the growth and greatness of our country from Appomattox to the present time, congratulating his audience upon the cordial relations existing between all sections of the American union, in-stancing the warm reception the Chief Executive was then receiving in the state of Texas. And, admonishing his hearers of the duty of all good citizens to speak respectfully of our nation on all occasions and cultivate the virtue of patriotism, were highly appreciated and enjoyed. Mr. Windham's remarks were equally patriotic and well chosen.

This campfire marks a prosperous era in Grand Army circles in Plattsmouth.

N. B. Since the above was put in type the Journal notices the four or five line mention of the campfire in the Omaha Bee, by the Plattsmouth correspondent of that paper, in which Mr. Windham is the only feature mentioned—Judge Chapman and all others being ignored. The G. A. R. people and everybody else in Plattsmouth know the man whom Mr. Edward Rosewater maintains in this city; therefore, further comment is entirely unnecessary.

A Grand Success.

The box social and entertainment given by the Rock Bluffs school last Saturday night was quite largely attended, and proved a great success socially, financially and otherwise, the receipts being more than was expected. Miss Tutt wielded the birch at this school, and is one of the most competent and successful teachers in the county.

Frightful Suffering Relieved.

suffering frightfully from the virulent poisons of undigested food, C. G. Grayson, of Lula, Miss., took Dr. King's New Life Pills, "with the result," he writes, "that I was cured." All stomach and bowel disorders give way to their tonic, laxative properties. 25c at F. G. Fricke & Co. drug store, guaranteed.

THE LAST MEETING OF OLD COUNCIL

At the Suggestion of Mayor Gering the Council Increases Wages of Street Laborers.

The council met on Monday night, it being the last session of the old council.

A canvas of the vote of the recent city election was made, and the following candidates declared elected by the following majorities: White, First ward, 61; Sattler, Second, 64; Larson, Third, 26; Ballance Fourth ward, 30; Vondran, Fifth ward, 14. Members school board: Morgan, 113; Cummins, 33, to all of whom certificates of election were issued. Tippens, Steimker and Ebinger were the committee appointed by Mayor Gering to canvas the returns.

The council refused to adopt the ordinance giving one man the sole right to post bills and circulars advertising matter within the city limits.

It was agreed that the members of the council will meet with the county commissioners on Tuesday next one o'clock p. m., at which time the matter of purchasing a road grader will be placed before that body.

At the suggestion of Mayor Gering street laborers will from this on receive an increase to 17½ cents per hour, instead of 15 cents as heretofore. This will be appreciated by the boys.

The matter of engaging the services of the regular street commissioner was left with the incoming council.

The report of the city treasurer shows that on March 31, there was a cash balance in his hands of $7,623.

Mayor Gering reported that there are at present no contagious diseases in the city—all quarantine having been raised.

Councilmen Larson, Buttery and

Tippens, who went to Malvern, Ia., to inspect the street crossings in that city, reported favorable to the system.

The judiciary committee reported unfavorable upon the petition of I. Pearlman, asking that the street in Mercertown be closed.

The license committee recommended that the council in the future revoke all saloon and druggist's licenses where such parties are found violating the written instructions to refrain from selling liquor to parties in such instructions named. The recommendation was adopted.

The resignation of Charles Gradoville as chief of the fire department was accepted, which action promotes the former assistant chief, Alf Edgerton, to that position.

The ordinance prohibiting the maintaining and keeping of houses of prostitution, as well as the leasing or renting of houses for such purpose, was recommended by the judiciary committee for adoption. The report was accepted, the ordinance read for the second and third times, and adopted.

Session Tuesday Night.

A session of the council was held Tuesday evening, at which the newly elected members were sworn in.

Councilman Ebinger was elected president of the council.

The question of selecting a new street commissioner came up, and the council decided in favor of a change by a vote of 7 to 3, and Mayor Gering was requested to submit his appointment for the vacancy at the next meeting.

The question of a committee to meet with the county commissioners came up, and Mayor Gering was requested to appoint a committee, which he did by naming every member on said committee.

A vote of thanks was extended to the two retiring members, Messrs Fitzgerald and Buttery, and Mayor Gering and Councilman Steimker extended some very complimentary remarks in favor of these gentlemen. It must be said to the credit of Mr. Fitzgerald, that during his services of six years as a member of this body, he has attended every meeting but four. Mr. Buttery has also been a very faithful attendant.

The following committees were appointed by Mayor Gering:

Finance—Ebinger, Ballance and Steimker.
Judiciary—Steimker, Vondran and Sattler.
Fire and Water—Neuman, Larson and Slater.
Claims—Larson, White and Tippens.
License—Vondran, Steimker and White.
Streets—Tippens, Ballance and Sattler.
Police—Slater, Tippens and Ebinger.
Lighting—Sattler, Neuman and Slater.
Hospital—White, Vondran and Neuman.
Cemetery—Ballance, Ebinger and Larson.

He Was Satisfied.

A young farmer came to the city a few days since, intending to go to Omaha to purchase an outfit of household furnishings, because, as he said, he could buy what he wanted cheaper in that city. But he was finally induced to step into the furniture house of Sattler & Fassbender and see what they could do in the way of suiting him in quality and prices on such articles. After going through the store and pricing the various articles he needed, he was soon convinced that he was making a great mistake in his intentions of going away to purchase what he wanted. It is unnecessary to say that he bought quite a bill of furniture from these gentlemen, and went back home feeling, no doubt, that he had performed a good day's work in buying at home and getting what he wanted cheaper than he could have done at Omaha.

Now, if everyone who desires an article that can be had in Plattsmouth, will only follow the example of this gentleman, and first try the home merchant before he goes to Omaha, they will soon learn that going to Omaha to get goods cheaper is simply a "fad" long established, and that the same quality of goods can be bought right here at home as cheap, if not cheaper, than in Omaha.

Advertising Bad Debts.

There is one man in this city who certainly has a peculiar way of advertising his bad debts. He posts in his show window the bills of those of his customers who refused to pay what they owe him and in this way gives notice to the people not to trust these people. It is certainly rather a unique way of calling attention to his bad debts.—Nebraska City News.
