Mrs. Margaret Dale, who was visiting the family of Officer Chas. Weldy, departed Tuesday for her home in Blakesburg, Iowa.

Frank Hawksworth and wife returned to their home in Lincoln yesterday afternoon, after a pleasant visit with relatives here.

Among the list of marriage licenses issued in Omaha Tuesday we note the names of Richard A. Roe and Miss Julia Kalina of Plattsmouth.

Notwithstanding the warm weather, and the prospect of warmer yet, the matrimonial market does not seem to be in the least on the decline.

Among the list of graduates from the Omaha High School, we note the name of Vallery White, son of Frank E. White, formerly of this city.

Lee Mayfield was down from Louisville Tuesday, and of course called at Journal headquarters, where he always receives the glad hand of welcome.

James Sage and Dr. A. P. Barnes departed yesterday for Davies county, Mo., in which Mr. Sage owns a fine stock farm of 200 acres, which he has well stocked with horses and cattle.

Makes digestion and assimilation perfect. Makes new red blood and bone. That's what Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea will do. A tonic for the sick and weak. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. Gering & Co.

George J. Stohlman, one of the prominent German farmers who receives his mail at the Louisville postoffice, was in the city Tuesday, and made the Journal a pleasant visit. While here he renewed for the Old Reliable, of which he has been a patron for many years.

D. H. Landis was here from Waverly yesterday on business.

Mrs. George Hawkins is down from Havelock visiting friends.

J. T. Porter, a prominent young farmer of near Murray was in the city yesterday, and paid his respects to the Journal headquarters.

D. O. DWYER, Attorney-at-Law

Office in building east of court house, Plattsmouth, Nebraska.

O. M. (Dick) Straight was down from Lincoln Saturday, and while here handed the Journal man a dollar and ordered the Old Reliable for one year.

Mrs. Charles Grassman and children have gone to Alliance, where they will make their future home, where Mr. Grassman is in the employ of the Burlington.

David Simpson, living south of town, has disposed of his property interests and moved to near Brunswick, Antelope county, where he recently purchased a farm.

Our old democratic friend, John D. Ferguson, one of the staunch friends of the Journal, was down from the vicinity of Louisville today, and paid his respects to this office.

The practice of playing ball on Main street should be prohibited. A lady came very nearly being hit on the head from a stray ball the other evening. The police should abolish this nuisance without any orders.

Miss Ida Pearlman was attacked Sunday morning with something that threatened to be a serious case of appendicitis, but we are glad to note that under the skillful care of Dr. Cook she is rapidly recovering.

An infant child of Mr. and Mrs. James Wampler died on Monday, June 5, and was buried at 2 o'clock Tuesday.

The little one was a twin, born to Mr. and Mrs. Wampler about two months ago, and the other child has also been seriously ill.

J. H. Fallis, of Kansas City, Mo., is here visiting his brother-in-law, Sheriff J. D. McBride. Mr. Fallis resided in Nebraska City a number of years ago, and is a contractor in house painting and decorating. The Journal was pleased to meet him.

Mrs. W. S. Waters, who was here visiting the family of County Clerk Tyson, departed for Lincoln Friday to attend the graduating exercises at the state university, her daughter being one of the graduates, from which point she went to her home in Stanford, Neb.

The following marriage licenses were issued Monday: George P. Mickel, aged 34, of Elmwood, and Miss Mary V. Barnes, aged 26, of Weeping Water; Solomon C. Kieckler, aged 21, of Manley, and Miss Hulda Pauleni Brunkow, aged 18, of Wabash; James Leslie Wiles, aged 23, and Miss Louise Domingo, aged 23, both of Weeping Water.

Members of the local fire department are agitating the question of organizing a running team to compete for prizes at state tournaments. And, pray, why not? Under an ordinance now in effect, the city council is authorized to appropriate $80 per year for this purpose, which will go to defray the expenses of the boys while attending such tournaments. And we have the material to make good runners. Wake up, boys, and get ready for the next tournament.

The hard and fast combination of the counties outside of Lancaster was a cause of some wonderment to the Lancaster politicians who have been managing things so freely and who have thought their power invincible. "I explain it this way," said Doug Frye. "The outside politicians got all the candidates in a room and made them swear that they would not assist Lancaster county and then they made each one draw a little blood and subscribe to the oath with a little of his own life fluid. Pollard got sick during the contest. They drew a little too much of his blood." Perhaps it was those railroad passes which he carried in his pocket having the same left over from the last legislature, that made him so sick.—Lincoln Journal.

"Gut Heil," the favorite cigar Rev. J. W. Swan was in Ashland yesterday on a business trip.

J. W. Edmunds, of Murray, was a county seat visitor Tuesday.

R. J. Tate of Plainview, Neb., was a Plattsmouth visitor Tuesday.

Judge Travis and Judge Sullivan went to Lincoln Tuesday on business in the supreme court.

Henry Donat departed yesterday for Gallatin, the county seat of Davies county, Mo., on a business trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Brantner spent several days the past week visiting friends in the vicinity of Kenosha.

Judge Newell, accompanied by his son, departed yesterday morning for Marquette, Neb., on a business trip.

John M. Leyda, we are pleased to note, is able to be at his office again, after an illness of nearly two weeks.

Our old friend, Norman Slocum, of near Murray, was here Tuesday on business with the county commissioners.

Miss Amelia Stohlman was down from Louisville Tuesday to receive medical treatment from Dr. Livingston.

Mayor Henry R. Gering departed Tuesday morning for York, to attend the annual meeting of the state druggists' association.

The M. W. A. of Mynard will serve ice cream and strawberries at their hall on Friday evening, June 16. Everybody invited. Don't forget the date.

Miss Rae Dolph of Mills county, Ia., was here Monday and Tuesday visiting her cousin, County Superintendent Wortman. Miss Dolph's home is east of Malvern.

According to the statement in the last issue of the Journal, Commissioner Banning departed for Omaha Tuesday to accompany the lumbermen's excursion to the Pacific coast.

E. A. Shafer, of Nehawka, was a caller Saturday for the purpose of advancing his subscription to the Old Reliable another notch. Mr. Shafer is one of the staunch supporters of the Journal.

The Burlington has had several car loads of crushed rock and gravel in the switch yards, preparatory to the construction of a new culvert under the tracks near the depot.

Mrs. B. F. Laughlin came down from Greenwood Monday to keep house for her daughter, Mrs. T. J. Rhoder, while she is absent at Omaha receiving medical treatment, to which point she was taken by her husband yesterday.

Charley Banning was in to see us Saturday. Mr. Banning and his wife came up to visit at the Morrow home, south of town, over Sunday, and Charley thought he would run on into town and attend the convention.

Knee pants for boys from the age of 3 to 14 years old, worth 50c to 75c, for 45c as long as this lot lasts at Henry Baker's, Cedar Creek, Neb.

C. S. Wortman, sr., came in from South Bend Saturday afternoon and visited with his son and family until Sunday afternoon, returning home via Omaha, accompanied by the county superintendent, who went to Wahoo on business.

The 6 o'clock picnic dinner, given by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Presbyterian church at the Garfield park Tuesday was enjoyed by all who participated. The ladies had prepared plenty to eat, and it is unnecessary to remark that the male attendants had all they wanted to eat this time, if they never do again.

Mrs. Asher Clark departed for her California home Tuesday morning. She has long been a resident of Plattsmouth and her departure is regretted by our citizens. Mrs. Clark is a most excellent lady, and society circles lose one of their most popular members.

The Journal will follow her to her new home to keep her posted on events that transpire in the home she so much regretted to leave.

Judge A. W. Crites of Chadron, Neb., came in Sunday afternoon and remained until Monday afternoon visiting his sister, Mrs. B. S. Ramsey. The writer had the pleasure of meeting the judge for the first time as he was en route to the depot to take the train for Lincoln, where he went on business with the supreme court. We were very much pleased to make Judge Crites' acquaintance.

Mrs. Morgan Waybright, accompanied by Mrs. G. C. Dodd and the latter's little son, Marion, called on the Journal last Friday. We were very much pleased to meet Mrs. Dodd and her son. The little fellow is quite a favorite among Plattsmouth people, and has won the praises of all for his wonderful ability for one so young. Mrs. Dodd in her younger years was a resident of Plattsmouth, but her present home is at 790 Central avenue, Kansas City, Kan.

S. C. Patterson, of Columbia, Texas, was a caller at the Journal headquarters this morning. Mr. Patterson came up from the Lone Star state to visit his wife at South Bend, who has been quite sick, and thought he would run down and see how his old friends were getting along. Mr. Patterson is well pleased with Texas, where he went six years ago. His wife will return to Texas with him. We were very much pleased to meet him.

Pollard's Declaration.

Pollard's declarations in the Louisville and Falls City conventions stamped him as a man of too small calibre to represent this district in congress. Like a school boy he hollers: "I stand with President Roosevelt on all questions effecting corporations." That is Mr. Pollard's idea of a candidate for congress in the big First district, with its capital and monied interests.

In the first place Mr. Pollard does not know what President Roosevelt stands for. In the second place a man who makes such declarations for a nomination does not stand for anything himself. He simply crawls; and this little fellow is trying to crawl between the legs of the president. He is only fooling himself, and is not fooling anybody but himself.

What a thundering platform that is: "I stand with the president on corporate questions!" The thunder you do, little fellow!

Ends Her Career by Suicides.

A special to the World-Herald from Des Moines, under date of June 6, says: "Sarah Kuhn, one of the most famous inmates of Iowa penitentiaries is dead at the Anamosa prison after seventeen days of intense suffering caused by lye poisoning, taken in capsules with suicidal intentions. She was sentenced to life imprisonment January 8, 1901, for the murder of her husband who died on September 4, 1900, of arsenic poisoning." Mrs. Kuhn was formerly Miss Sarah Miller and her childhood days were spent near this city. Her parents removed to Iowa some eight years ago, and her imprisonment was for life. This is the last chapter in a murder case, made famous at the time the crime was committed, of which no doubt many readers of the Journal read at the time the trial was in progress and the woman convicted.

Will Get a New School House.

D. K. Barr of Greenwood, was in the city yesterday, and made the Journal a brief visit. He reports the farmers very busy and the prospects bright for a large corn crop. The people of the little city have been clamoring for a new school building for some time, the old shell being inadequate for the present demands. A petition has been circulated and nearly all the school patrons have signed it. Mr. Barr thinks there is no doubt about the matter, as it is opposed only by a few. There is no village in the state that needs a school building worse than Greenwood, and the Journal hopes they will get it.

Hard to Satisfy.

The Stalwart Republicans are disturbed by the appointment of Charles J. Bonaparte as Secretary of the Navy. They remember him as a Mugwump, scolded, and think he lacks a sufficient degree of party loyalty. But they ought to be careful. One Theodore Roosevelt was once upon a time on the very edge and brink of Mugwumpism. He managed to keep "regular" but for a long time his stalwart friends were apprehensive. At any rate, Mr. Bonaparte seems to be a man after the President's own heart and ought to be a great improvement over Paul Morton.

Another "Clincher."

Nebraska City News: "Detective DeLong of the Missouri Pacific was in the city Friday evening and made a search through a certain private residence in company with Deputy Sheriff Downing, and found a pair of shoes that had been buried by Ed Goff. The finding of this pair of shoes clinches the case against Goff and Burnell and when they are released from the penitentiary for the offense committed in Cass county they will be brought back here and tried on another charge that may land them in the penitentiary again."

Will Be Improved.

At the annual meeting of the Grand Lodge A. F. and A. M. of Nebraska, in Omaha this week, the board of directors of the Masonic home in this city submitted a proposition for the improvement of that institution in the way of adding a new wing to that building and installing steam heat, which no doubt will be ordered done, as the inmates of the home are gradually on the increase. There are now about twenty patients at the home.

If you are a judge of a good smoke, try the "Acorns" 5 cent cigar and you will smoke no other.

Wedded Bliss.

At the home of the bride's parents, in this city last evening, occurred the marriage of Miss Emma Edwards and Mr. Charles S. Johnson. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Benjamin Prather of Malvern, Ia., and in the presence of a number of relatives of the bride and a large number of friends of the contracting parties.

The groom is well known in this city, where he is employed in the capacity of yardmaster for the Burlington road, while the bride for a number of years has been a successful teacher in the public schools. Both have a large circle of friends in Plattsmouth, where they are quite popular in society circles. The Journal joins the friends of the newly wedded in wishing them a long, prosperous and happy career.

The happy couple departed on the 8:27 train soon after the ceremony for Rock Island, Ill., where they will visit a short time.
