Mrs. George Berger is sick with remittent fever.

Dave Amick was a county seat visitor Wednesday.

Art Pierceley from near Union, was in Murray Tuesday.

John Cook and family were Nebraska City visitors Sunday.

One of Gus Split's valuable farm horses died last Sunday.

John Cook made a flying trip to Omaha Tuesday evening.

Dr. Gilmore and Howard Graves were in Union last Friday.

Wm. Philpot shipped a car of hogs to South Omaha Saturday.

W. E. Dull was transacting business in the county seat Tuesday.

Mrs. D. C. West of Nehawka, was a Murray visitor last Saturday.

Harve Manners was transacting business in Plattsmouth Monday.

Miles Standish and daughter were Plattsmouth visitors last Friday.

J. T. Porter was transacting business in Plattsmouth Wednesday.

J. A. Walker and wife were visitors at the county seat last Saturday.

L. Rusterholtz and family were Plattsmouth visitors Monday of this week.

Mrs. J. A. Walker went to Omaha this morning for a short visit with friends.

Dr. Abbott and Dr. Newell made a professional trip to Murray Monday evening.

H. L. Oldham attended the democratic convention in Plattsmouth last Saturday.

Mrs. Fred Shoemaker and Miss Edith of near Nehawka, were in Murray Monday.

Both churches were dark last Sunday evening, no services being held in either of them.

F. M. Massie and Chas. Banning passed through here Saturday enroute to Plattsmouth.

Robt. Young, living four miles west of town, shipped a car of fine cattle to South Omaha Monday.

Mrs. Thomas Sullivan and daughter, Mayne, spent last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. John Spangler.

Chas. Stone went to Plattsmouth Wednesday evening to attend the Johnson-Edwards wedding.

W. E. Dull and Chas. Herron are new subscribers to the rapidly increasing Murray list since our last issue.

Mrs. John Campbell, who has been visiting at the home of her mother, near Union, returned home Monday.

L. B. Underwood and wife and J. W. Holmes and wife spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. Joseph Shera near Rock Bluffs.

J. M. Stone of Nehawka, passed through here Saturday enroute to Plattsmouth to attend the democratic mass convention.

Will Smith was an Omaha visitor Saturday, spending a few hours with his niece who is an inmate of the school for the deaf.

The strawberry crop this year is a dandy. Many of our people are making daily shipments to their friends in other localities.

L. Bailey of Omaha, who has been here for the past few days in the interests of the Royal Achatas has been meeting with good success.

Howard Graves has resigned his position with W. H. McDaniel. For the present Howard has not decided what he will do in the near future.

Dwyer Todd, who was injured last week by having a wagon pass over his limbs, is getting along nicely, being able to be up and around the house.

T. J. Rhoden went up to Plattsmouth Monday evening to see his sister, Mrs. Lloyd, who has been quite sick, but at this writing is improving slowly.

Joy Morton passed through Murray a few days ago enroute to Nebraska City for a few days visit with friends at the old friends at Arbor Lodge. He is now located in Chicago.

Pearl Shrader, who has been in Omaha for several weeks past, and experienced a serious sick spell, spending some days in the hospital in that city, has returned home.

McGinnis Churchill has joined the regular carpenter force and is now putting in full time at this work. Perl

Shrader is looking after the wants of the people at the tonsorial parlor.

H. L. Oldham is erecting a building on his place just west of town, to handle the business of the Beatrice Creamery Co. Those delivering cream to him in the future will be governed accordingly.

Harry Todd shipped 100 head of fine steers to South Omaha Sunday. They were indeed beauties, some of the finest that have left this station in many a day. Harry went with them, returning Monday.

Sam Pittman sold his fine, large team of farm mules to a traveling buyer this week for the beautiful sum of $375.00, and at that price was rather sorry of his bargain. "Mules seem to be mules these days."

James Loughridge got mixed up in a dog fight Tuesday morning and ere the bout was called off Jim had received quite a severe bite on the foot, and was compelled to remain at home the balance of the day.

Fate Davis had a pair of his gloves stolen last Sunday evening, but claims he was not long in locating them and if the purloined property is not returned in the near future someone will be compelled to suffer the consequences.

James Manners, the popular rural route agent, is pretty busy these days repainting his mail wagon. When Jim turns the newly decorated vehicle upon the road the patrons of the line will think he is the advance representative of the Barnum & Bailey circus.

Well, well, what do you think of this? Dave Amick has resigned his position as the champion Cass county fisherman, and claims that when he does snag a good one in the future he will keep it to himself without he can produce the fish. That's right, Dave, now you're "shoutin'."

Will Hamilton has completed the new addition to the Miles Standish residence, south of town, and in conversation with Miles we find that he is mighty well pleased, too. Mr. Hamilton has done all the work but painting and plastering, from the foundation up, but he draws the line on the paint and plaster. Will has commenced the erection of a new 24x20 barn for J. J. McNurlin in Mt. Pleasant precinct.

Mr. Frank Slagle met with quite a serious accident last Sunday evening. Mr. Slagle accompanied by his wife and little daughter were coming to Murray in a spring wagon and in passing down Rock Creek hill, southeast of town, the center piece of the neck yoke broke, causing the team to become frightened and run away. Mr. and Mrs. Slagle and daughter were thrown from the wagon, and Mrs. S. received a severe shock and quite badly bruised. The team completely wrecked the spring wagon.

Fate Davis and Chas. Boedeker shipped a car each of hogs to South Omaha Tuesday evening. Mr. Boedeker intended to go to Omaha with them, after the stock was loaded he told the trainmen he would go to the depot and get his contract properly filled out and would be ready in a moment. But as usual the "busy" freight men were in too much of a hurry and could not wait. Charley made a great race but could not catch them. He was almost too angry to ride the passenger train into Omaha, but he finally concluded it was better than to walk.

MARRIED THIRTY-ONE YEARS

Mr. and Mrs. Dr. B. F. Brendel Celebrate Their Wedding Anniversary.

Last Saturday occurred the happiest event in the career of Dr. and Mrs. B. F. Brendel, with the single exception, perhaps, the 4th of June thirty-one years ago, when they were made husband and wife in the little hamlet of Big Springs, Boone county, Ind. The affair took place on Saturday, June 3, in Murray, on account of the 4th coming on Sunday. It was so quietly planned as to make it a complete surprise to the Dr. and Mrs. Brendel, the invaders coming with well filled baskets of provisions. They were the recipients also of a set each of silver knives, forks, and spoons, as a token of the esteem in which they are held by their large circle of friends, and in honor of the event they were celebrating.

Dr. and Mrs. Brendel have resided in Nebraska for twenty years, where they have prospered and lived a life of usefulness, reared a nice little family, and are now surrounded by a large circle of friends in their comfortable home in Murray, where the Dr. has also been very successful in the practice of his profession, and is still in the enjoyment of a most lucrative practice, and his friends are numbered by the score.

B. F. Brendel and Miss Amanda Josephine Parr were married at Big Springs, Boone county, Ind., on the 4th day of June, 1874, and removed to Nebraska, September 3, 1885, locating at Murray, where they have since resided. Dr. Brendel had practiced his profession in his native state three years previous to his coming westward, and is a graduate of the Indianapolis Medical college.

The day was all that could be desired for the celebrating of such an event, and the many guests present were not slow in doing everything in their power to make it one long to be remembered, especially by the doctor and his excellent laigy. At the proper hour an excellent luncheon was spread, consisting of all the delicacies of the season, and if anyone went away without a sufficiency for the inner man, it was because he or she was too bashful to partake, for there was an abundance to feed the large attendance, and to spare. The young ladies who served were Misses Gussie Robb, Ella Virgin, Etta Nichols, Daisy Buck, Carrie Allison, and Viola Young.

It seems that the affair had been in contemplation for several days, and that the originators of the happy event were Mrs. Ida Baker, Mrs. Charles Carroll, and Miss Viola Young, who carried out their intentions to a successful completion. The collection of flowers that adorned the surroundings consisted of the finest display ever seen in this vicinity, and the fragrance emanating therefrom made one almost think that he was in the flowerland, reclining upon a bed of the choicest of them all.

What added much to the interest of the occasion, was that, on this same date, also occurred the twenty-ninth anniversary of Dr. J. F. Brendel, son of the Dr. and Mrs. Brendel, and it was an occasion to make the young man also feel glad that he was alive and in the enjoyment of excellent health.

As the large crowd of friends took their departure for their various homes, one by one, they each grasped the hands of those in whose honor the occasion was gotten up, wishing them long life, continued happiness and the return of many more such happy events, in all of which the Journal joins them.

Following is a list of those who were present to take part in the happy affair:

W. E. Dull and wife, Joseph Sands and wife, J. H. Norris and wife, William Smith and wife, John Thomilson and wife, James Allison and wife, James Holmes and wife, William Kloopping and wife, William McDaniels and wife, Phil Brisbin and wife, J. T. Cured of Bright's Disease.

Geo. A. Sherman, Lisbon Red Mills, Lawrence Co., N. Y., writes: "I had kidney disease for many years, and had been treated by physicians for twelve years; had taken a well known kidney medicine and other remedies that were recommended but got no relief until I began using Foley's Kidney Cure. The first half bottle relieved me and four bottles have cured me of this terrible disease. Before I began taking Foley's Kidney Cure I had to make water about every fifteen minutes, day and night, and passed a brick-dust substance, and sometimes a slimy substance. I believe I would have died if I had not taken Foley's Kidney Cure." F. G. Fricke & Co.
