PLATTSMOUTH AND VICINITY.

Dr. Marshall, Dentist, Coats' Block.
Dr. Elster, Dentist, Waterman Block.

"Gut Heil," the favorite cigar
Dr. Frank L. Cummins, dentist, Office with Dr. E. D. Cummins.

Mr. George Weaver arrived from Tabor, Iowa, to assist in the tabernacle meetings being held on Eighth street.

Mrs. A. B. Todd, who came in from Denver to attend the funeral of Jacob Vallery, went to Omaha Wednesday to undergo a medical examination.

Mrs. Jacob Tritsch returned from her trip home with her mother to Pekin, Illinois. She reports having enjoyed the week very much among relatives and former neighbors.

Louis Otnatt has just finished a very attractive sign on the new addition to J. V. Egenberger's coal and fuel store. Louie can "get there" when he wants to, and he generally wants to, too.

O. W. Laughlin, of near Greenwood, was down to rectify a mistake in his assessment, and dropped in and ordered the Old Reliable sent to his address. They all have to take the Journal.

Mrs. A. D. Gould returned from Hastings Wednesday accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Scarritt. Mrs. Gould was visiting with Mrs. Scarritt and both came to Plattsmouth on account of the illness of their mother, Mrs. James.

Marcella, an Allerton-Wilkes full blood mare, was received by August Gorder Saturday. Marcella is a beautiful chestnut-sorrel. Mr. Gorder received her from Peoria, Ill., and she was formerly owned by W. H. Town, of Council Bluffs, Ia.

Knee pants for boys from the age of 3 to 14 years old, worth 50c to 75c, for 45c as long as this lot lasts at Henry Baker's, Cedar Creek, Neb.

Makes digestion and assimilation perfect. Makes new red blood and bone. That's what Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea will do. A tonic for the sick and weak. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. Gering & Co.

Miss Edna Adams of Cleveland, Ohio, is visiting Mrs. Oliver Dovey. Miss Adams is head of the typewriting department of the Spencian Commercial college, of Cleveland, one of the best institutions of its kind in the world.

The so-called cabbage snake has been analyzed by chemists in the agricultural department at Washington. The report says the "cabbage wire worm" or snake is harmless, and is in some instances beneficial. The good housekeeper may now save her kraut and rest assured that it is wholesome food.

Hon. Geo. L. Sheldon was in the city Monday on business and made the Journal a pleasant call. While here he paid two years in advance for the Old Reliable. Unlike Pollard, Senator Sheldon has a record of which he should feel proud, and had he received the nomination for congress, but very little opposition would have been found in Cass county.

James Allison, of Murray, was in the city Saturday and ordered the Journal sent to his daughter, Miss Eva, at Medford, Okla., where she has taught school for the past year, and where she will teach the coming year. Miss Eva is one of the most successful teachers that Cass county ever produced and the Journal is proud to record this fact.

Dr. G. H. Gilmore, W. H. McDaniel and James Loughbridge came up from Murray Monday to attend the Masonic lodge. They came overland and were compelled to leave their team on account of the rain and return on the midnight train.

The many friends of Mrs. Asher Clark, who went to California some days ago, will be pleased to learn that she had a delightful trip and is enjoying herself immensely. She was met at Sacramento by her daughter, Loretta. From there they went to Los Angeles, where they will make their home.

Chief of Police Joe Fitzgerald received a notice from Sheriff L. Carpenter of North Platte, reporting the theft from a residence in that place of one gold hunting case watch, old, Swiss movement, No. 22,457, case U. S. Watch Co., No. 234, 383; one Water-ville razor, one pearl handled Iver, Johnson 38-calibre revolver. A liberal reward is offered for the arrest of the thief.

The sheriff received a letter Wednesday from C. F. Hurburgh, sheriff of Knox Co., Ill., offering $25 reward for the arrest of one, E. O. Jackson, alias E. N. Roberts. The man is described as 23 years of age, 6 feet, 2 inches in height, weight 160 pounds; wears his hair long and parted in the middle, smooth face, stoop-shouldered. The man generally works on farms, but sometimes fires an engine on the railroad.

One of the striking coincidences in connection with the marriage of Senator Clark of Montana is that the "snubbery" of so-called society in Butte is treated to a dose of its own medicine. Not many years ago the woman who is now Mrs. Clark was mercilessly snubbed by the "smart set" at Butte. Now that she is the wife of the millionaire they are trying to pay their respects to her. She remembers those who mistreated her when she was poor, and now refuses to receive such into her home, although some of them are the wives of leading business men who are wealthy. We glory in her spunk, and hope she will give due consideration to young ladies of her city who are poor but worthy.

Russel York went to Omaha yesterday.

Dr. Marshall, Dentist, guaranteed work.

Ralph Swan returned from a trip to Omaha today.

Emil Wurl was an Omaha passenger this afternoon.

Judge Travis today allowed the petition of the Brown-Scovill Co. to reopen the estate of Emma Jenks for the hearing of that company's claim.

Rev. J. E. Houlegate and family arrived in the city today from their former home, Peru. Mr. Houlegate is the new pastor of the Methodist church.

Mrs. Maria Gajen left this morning for Iowa points to visit relatives and friends. She expects to stop first at Fairfield and go on latter to Burlington and will be away from home two months.

Peter Madsen went to Omaha today to see his daughter, who last Friday had an operation performed at the Immanuel hospital. He reports her in a most serious condition. The Journal hopes for her speedy recovery.

A. E. Jenks of South Bend, was in the city Thursday on business connected with his mother's estate, of which he is administrator. Mr. Jenks gave the Journal a pleasant call while here and subscribed for the Old Reliable.

Billious Bill the sleepy head, Dearly loved to lay a-bed
Couldn't wake him if you shook him;
When his slumbers overtook him,
Suddenly he started waking
Every morn when day was breaking,
What's this magic necromancer?
EARLY RISERS, that's the answer.

Miss Elizabeth Rothenberger, of Leavenworth, Kas., arrived in Plattsmouth yesterday evening to assist in the wedding ceremony of Miss Myrtle Levings. Miss Rothenberger and Miss Levings are very dear friends although they have not met for the past eight years.

F. P. Todd, of Jamestown, N. Y., arrived Tuesday to visit his brother, A. B. Todd, of Denver. The latter came in to attend the funeral of Jacob Vallery, whom he has known for nearly fifty years. Mr. Todd expects to remain here a week or ten days renewing old acquaintances.

Mr. James Shultz of College Corner, Ohio, who has been visiting his cousins, Miss Maria Gajen and Henry Eichenbery, here since Saturday, left Tuesday for Duluth. Mr. Shultz is a hearty looking man of 79 years. He left home nearly a month ago, and has stopped at points in Illinois, Iowa and Missouri.

Mr. J. W. Anderson and son, Hugh, of Mills county, near Silver City, Ia., accompanied by Mr. J. I. Berger of Glenwood, passed through Plattsmouth this morning enroute to Murray, where Mr. Anderson and Hugh are contemplating purchasing a farm for Hugh. Mr. Anderson is one of Mills county's most substantial farmers and we trust a deal may be made whereby Mr. Anderson, jr., will become a resident of Cass county. Mr. Berger is a real estate agent of Glenwood, and has many relatives in this county.

ASSAULTED AND BEATEN BY HIS NEIGHBORS

Exciting Experience of Rack Bluffs Farmer this Mornng.

TROUBLE STARTED OVER LAND DISPUTE

Sam Smith, a farmer living on the outskirts of Rock Bluffs, was attacked at an early hour this morning by Guy Patterson and his brother and beaten almost into insensibility with the heavy end of a whip.

Smith came to Plattsmouth as soon as possible and swore out a warrant for the arrest of his assailants. Sheriff McBride went out with a buggy this afternoon to bring the accused man and boy in for a hearing.

Smith's farm lies west of the public square. The house is just one block from the square. The Patterson house is only a few hundred feet from the Smith place. Smith has several lots adjoining the land which he farms. These he acquired by tax title and they are the cause of the trouble.

This morning Smith was cultivating the corn in the field in which these lots are included, when he was set upon by the Patterson boys. Guy Patterson is about twenty-one years old. He was armed with a butcher knife and the heavy end of a whip. Following him was his brother, Bob, a boy of about twelve years. Smith did not see his assailants until they were nearly upon him.

Patterson's first words, as reported by Smith to a Journal reporter, were: "D— you, I'm going to kill you."

Patterson then struck at Smith with the whip. Smith had the lines around his back and was between the handles of the cultivator. Disengaging himself as quickly as possible, he grappled with Patterson for possession of the knife. Patterson then dropped the whip in order to take hold of his knife with both hands, calling at the same time to the smaller boy to pick up the whip and "Beat his head off."

The boy picked up the whip and struck Smith with all his strength, laying on the blows thick and fast on head, neck and back while Smith was unable to protect himself.

Meantime the horses attached to the cultivator had run away. They made for the gate and then came down the road. Seeing them coming, Smith threw off his assailant, leaped the fence and caught his team. He had been shouting for help and his son, Ray, arrived on the scene and also Mr. Will Baker and Mrs. Will Baker. Upon these people Smith called to witness the weapons in the hands of the Patterson boys.

Smith is a man of about forty years, inclined to stoutness. His back was one mass of thick, red welts, a livid line ran across the right ear and side of the neck and the hair on the top of his head was clotted by blood from a wound. The elder Patterson boy is of much lighter build.

Since the above was put in type Sheriff McBride has returned with Guy Patterson, for whose arrest the warrant was sworn out. But we have not learned the time of his preliminary examination. A. J. Graves is the defendant's attorney.

W. M. Ossenkop and Lee J. Mayfield were down from Louisville last evening on important business, and made the Journal a visit. While here Mr. Ossenkop enrolled his name for the Journal.

Mrs. J. W. Swan went to Omaha this morning where she will meet Mr. Swan and go with him to University Place to visit her sister. She will return Friday evening.

Miss Francis De la Vega, came down from Omaha today with her mother, to see H. E. Becker about the district school west of town. She just closed a successful year of school near Emers, Iowa. The ladies gave the Journal a pleasant call while in town.

Five members of the Hezibah Faith Missionary Association held an open air service at the corner of Fifth and Main last evening at 7 o'clock. An audience was rather shy about gathering but the ardor of the apostles is not dampened by such small circumstances.

Little Miss Fern McBride returned from Nehawka where she had been visiting. She brought home a very choice selection of flowers in form of a beautiful bouquet, given to her by Mrs. C. D. Keltner, which she in turn presented to the editor of the Journal. The little lady will please accept our thanks.

Mrs. Underwood went up to Omaha this morning to spend the day.

The following Chicago excursionists returned home last evening: C. E. Wescott, Mrs. C. C. Wescott, Clara Brown, Earl Wescott and Alice Eaton. They report a very pleasant trip.

Philip Theroff received a load of Anheuser-Busch beer today, in one of the company's handsome refrigerator cars, which was viewed with as much curiosity as an advance car of a circus.
