NO PASSES FOR DELEGATES

An Old Law Unearthed Providing Penalties for Railroads.

According to the Lincoln Journal it is worth from $250 to $500 to any man who will detect a railroad company giving a ticket to any delegate to a convention. Providing the law is valid and the courts hold that the giving of a pass to a political convention is making a gift for political purposes and the attorney general does his duty and the evidence results in a conviction and the county board in the county where the conviction is had allows the claim of the complaining witness for one-fourth of the fine imposed. If all this is done, no railroad in Nebraska will dare give a ticket to a delegate to a political convention.

The present law was enacted in the legislature of 1897, the bill being introduced by Speaker J. N. Gaffin of the house of representatives. The law has never been repealed or enforced but it has made railroads careful about supplying transportation free to the various state committees. Formerly, it is said, railroads gave unlimited free transportation to state political committees, and it was used to promulgate political doctrine through the medium of stump speakers during campaigns. The giving of passes to delegates to state conventions has long been a source of political scandal in the Gaffin law was passed. Favoritism to state committees was charged by the populists and the Gaffin law was placed on the statute books.

The law also prohibits the giving of assistance or money to any political organization or to any individual to be used for political purposes. The act was passed just after "The First Battle," in which Mr. Bryan had been defeated for president, at a time when the democrats and populists charged that the republican national campaign had been conducted by means of funds contributed by corporations. The current charge was made that the "silver barons" contributed to the democratic national campaign in the hope of boosting the price of the product of their mines.

NEBRASKA CROP CONDITIONS

Corn Advancing Toward Maturity and Soil is in Good Condition.

UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA, LINCOLN, Sept. 12.—The past week was cool with maximum temperatures, quite generally below 80 degrees most of the week. The minimum temperatures, however, were not low for the season, and the daily mean temperature averaged 2 1/2 degrees below normal in eastern counties and 1 degree above in western.

The rainfall of the past week was above the normal in most parts of the state. It exceeded two inches in most of the southern counties and in some places exceeded three inches. In northern counties the rainfall was generally less than one inch and in some places less than one-half inch.

The heavy rains and cloudy, moist weather the first part of the week delayed haying and threshing. Some hay was damaged and in a few places grain in stack was injured by rain. Haying is nearly finished, with an excellent crop secured. The soil is in excellent condition for seeding and a little wheat has been sown.

Corn has advanced nicely toward maturity but not as rapidly as during the preceding week. Considerable corn is now beyond danger of injury by frost and immunity for two weeks of good weather will ripen all but very late corn. There is every prospect for a very heavy crop.

FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE Makes Kidneys and Bladder Right

The Food Value of a Soda Cracker

You have heard that some foods furnish fat, other foods make muscle, and still others are tissue building and heat forming.

You know that most foods have one or more of these elements, but do you know that no food contains them all in such properly balanced proportions as a good soda cracker?

The United States Government report shows that soda crackers contain less water, are richer in the muscle and fat elements, and have a much higher per cent of the tissue building and heat forming properties than any article of food made from flour.

That is why Uneda Biscuit should form an important part of every meal. They represent the superlative of the soda cracker, all their goodness and nourishment being brought from the oven to you in a package that is proof against air, moisture and dust—the price being too small to mention.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

PAT CROWE IN LINCOLN

He is Entertained by R. L. Metcalfe of The Commoner.

R. L. Metcalfe of the Commoner entertained Pat Crowe, the fugitive kidnapper, for over an hour last Monday afternoon, and then his guest, slipping past the watching sleuths, made his way out of the building and into hiding. The detectives are confident that the man is hiding in that city and believe that they will be able to effect his capture, states the Lincoln News.

Mr. Metcalfe refuses to divulge the nature of his conversation with the fugitive, but it is claimed that he is about ready to give himself up.

Detective Malone says that he knew the famous kidnapper was in town and laid plans to arrest him. He suspected that Crowe would call on Manager Gallagher of the Independent and there he kept watch, only to find too late that the man had called on Metcalfe and gone his way.

Crowe attempted to kidnap the young son of Cudahy, the Omaha packing house magnate, about four years ago. He demanded and received a $25,000 ransom and surrendered his captive and, then, began a chase which has lasted ever since. At the time of the attempted crime the father of the boy offered a $25,000 reward for Crowe's capture. Crowe has been reported from various parts of the world but has always managed to elude the officers. A few days ago an Omaha policeman was shot by a man whom he declares to be Pat Crowe.

Greatly Disappointed.

The friends of Senator Sheldon of Nehawka, who were disappointed at the failure of the executive committee to make him temporary chairman for the convention of September 14, are discussing the feasibility of making him the permanent presiding officer. This movement is based largely on a desire to control the convention in the interest of the anti-pass plank, which it is proposed to place in the state platform. It is considered practically an essential to the success of the movement to make a man in sympathy with the movement the presiding officer in order to secure a safe resolution committee. This is done on the theory that Lieutenant Governor McGilton, the temporary chairman may feel inclined to render aid and support to the opponents of anti-pass agitation.—Lincoln News.
