WOODMEN ENJOY GOOD TIME

A Class of Fifty Taken Into Full Fellowship Last Night.

A LARGE NUMBER OF VISITORS PRESENT

Refreshments Were Served and the Brotherhood Had a Good Social Time.

JULIUS PITZ MEETS WITH AN ACCIDENT.

The Modern Woodmen local camp last evening adopted a class of over fifty new members. The occasion was a special one and the work was put on in a most excellent manner by high officials of the order. Supreme organizer, Ralph Johnson of Lincoln, Neb.: special deputies, E. Pearman of Kansas City, Mo., J. L. Burgess of Hastings, Neb., and S. D. Woodley of Lincoln, Neb.: also district deputies, E. I. Littlefield of Council Bluffs, Ia., and E. N. Rymer of Lincoln, Neb., and in addition thereto State Deputy E. E. Kester of Lincoln, Neb., had charge of the ritual work. Three hundred or more members of the order were present, and the occasion was the most instructive and enjoyable affair ever held by the local camp in Modern Woodcraft, and would have continued so to the end of the session had it not been for the fact that Julius Pitz, who was taking part in the class adoption, accidentally slipped and his weight came suddenly on his right foot, thereby causing a slight fracture of the knee cap. It is hoped by all that his injury is only temporary and that in a short time he will be able to be out and fully recovered. The Woodmen are doing everything possible for him to assist in his farm work and otherwise.

The Order of Modern Woodmen of America is the largest and most progressive fraternal insurance organization in existence. In Cass county alone, it has a membership of over fourteen hundred. In the state over forty-five thousand and in the nation more than seven hundred and fifty thousand members. Its social features are instructive, pleasing and inspiring. It paid on benefit certificates of deceased members last year, six million dollars, practically all of which went to the wives and children of the middle and poorer classes. It is the insurance and protection of the family of the man who is not financially able to carry investment insurance in "old line companies." In fraternal insurance only enough money is raised to pay the death losses as they occur. One dollar a year from a member pays all other expenses No other insurance can be handled on such an economical basis.

That the membership of the order appreciates those facts was evidenced last evening by the large and enthusiastic attendance. Woodmen from the local camps at Mynard, Murray, Union, Nehawka, Cedar Creek and other points in the county were present and assisted materially in swelling the attendance and in adding to the pleasure of the occasion.

At the conclusion of the initiation refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed.

A Warning to Gamesters.

The press dispatches of yesterday relate that Col. William Simms, a well known stock dealer, fell dead in the Little Queen club rooms at Huntington, W. Va., yesterday morning, while playing a game of poker. The game was a big one and Col. Simms had been winning steadily. At 8 o'clock a big pot was on and several hundred dollars worth of chips were on the table before cards were drawn. When the dealer passed the hands Colonel Simms drew one card, and after looking at it gave a gasp and fell dead.

Examination proved that he clutched in his stiffening hands what is known to "professionals" as a "royal flush," having the ace, king, queen, jack and ten of diamonds. It is claimed his death was due to over-excitment. This should serve as a warning to gamesters who are of an excitiable nature.

Suspended From the Ministry.

Dr. Carl Hullhorst of Lincoln was suspended from the ministry yesterday by the Presbytery of Nebraska City. This affects only his ministerial standing. This was the result of a trial on charges preferred by Rev. B. C. Bailey, Rev. H. C. Swearingen and Elder C. M. Osborn. The charges, according to Dr. Hullhorst, were that he repudiated the Westminster confession, the tri-personality of God, the fall of Adam and the vicarious atonement.

The hearing was held behind closed doors, and according to those present it was of a peaceful nature. The voices of the accused and those of his questioners at times indicated that the hearing was at least interesting. The accused had prepared a lengthy address, but it was not delivered in full, owing to the fact that many interruptions occurred.

for Weak Hair

Caught By Smooth Trick.

The Lincoln Journal tells of how a thief was trapped as follows:

"Several days ago two men left a backage at Sprague's drug store to be sent by express to an address at Omaha. Suspicion was aroused at the drug store by the actions of the men and the police were called to inspect the package. They opened the box and found therein three overcoats that had been worn, but were still valuable. They took the overcoats filled the box with rubbish and had it forwarded to the Omaha address. Then they notified the Omaha police to watch for the man who called for the package. The result was that yesterday the Omaha police notified Chief Cooper that they had the man. Detective Malone went to Omaha to get him.

"The three overcoats have been identified by citizens of University Place. They were stolen from them more than a week ago. They have been held at the police station for evidence.

"The police believe they know who the second mon implicated in this deal is and they are making an effort to apprehend him."

Card of Thanks.

The undersigned relatives of George Stadler, deceased, take this method of returning our most sincere thanks to those liberal and kind hearted friends who so kindly assisted in the laying away of our brother, who was so cruelly shot down on Sunday morning last. Especially do we desire to thank Father Bradley of St. John's Catholic church for his services at the funeral.

MIKE STADLER,
JOHN ENGEL,
JOHN HOEGERL.

The relatives of the late George Stadler, deceased, who were present at the funeral desire the relatives and friends at a distance to understand that the remains were held at the expense of his brother-in-law, John Engel, until his brothers could arrive in order to give the deceased a decent and proper burial.

A REAR END COLLISION

Two Freights Going East Collide at Oreopolis.

TWO CARS WRECKED—NO ONE INJURED

About 1 o'clock this morning two freights—Nos. 72 and 74—collided at Oreopolis. The latter train running into 72, demolishing a flat car completely and dumping a car loaded with meats. Strange to say, however, no one was injured.

There were several in the way car at the time of the accident, and the engine that bumped into the same had the appearance of being in a more serious wreck as it passed through here. From its appearance it must have given those in the caboose a severe jolting, and some of the train men are at a loss to understand how the two cars in front of the way car could have been jostled up in such a manner and that car but so little damaged.

It is claimed by the crew on the train following that no lights were visible to indicate that a train was ahead of them so close. If this be the case, then evidently the head crew is to blame for the accident.

The wreckage was cleared away in a few hours and regular trains were running as usual.

Thieves In Town.

Two strangers arrived in town this morning and proceeded to make the rounds of the city. One of them entered Dovey & Son's store, and after looking around for a few moments started for the door, and on the way out picked up a bolt of calico and placed it under his coat, but before reaching the door, however, Oliver saw what he had done and took th bundle from him. He immediately proceeded across the street and entered the shoe store of Sherwood & Son, but Mr. Dovey followed him and told Bob what he had done and he was fired out of there.

He also went into Kunsman & Ramge's meat market and appropriated a choice piece of bacon, but was discovered by Mr. Ramge before getting away with hit.

The last seen of him he was going in the direction of the Burlington depot.

Doctors Said He Would Not Live.

Peter Fry, Woodruff, Pa., writes: "After doctoring for two years with the best physicians in Waynesburg, and still getting worse, the doctors advised me if I had any business to attend to it at once, as I could not possibly live another month as there was no cure for me. Foley's Kidney Cure was recommended to me by a friend, and I immediately sent my son to the store for it, and after taking three bottles I began to get better and continued to improve until I was entirely well.
