The Reformist

[Copyright, 1905, by Homer Sprague.] Just when Mr. Nickelby became a reformist he could not fix by exact date. He had always had a fellow feeling for his fellow men and had always wished them to walk in straight paths, but he had arrived at middle age before this feeling began to lie heavily on his mind.

"This house is defended by a burglar alarm, and I don't see how you entered it," replied the reformist, who couldn't get over his feelings in the matter.

"You can state the case if you wish, but tomorrow I'll raise hob with the police for not spotting you off before you got in here."

"Not a doubt of it, but I shan't be arrested. If I promise to mend my ways and you get me a job of driving an ice wagon at $30 per week?"

"It is a distinction without a difference. Instead of robbing the city I rob one residence. Instead of mixing half cotton with my wool I use false keys to enter a dwelling. You are in the cloth business. There are more tricks in your trade than in mine. Are you willing to reform?"

"Another glass of wine? No? Have a smoke? No again? Well, I'll bid you good night and be going. I stand ready to reform at any time, but I've got to have shoes for my feet and something for my stomach to work on in the new profession."

Our First Fire.

The first disastrous fire that ever occurred in the thriving little village of Murdock, happened on Christmas morning at about half past five o'clock in the morning. The residence property of H. P. Dehning, occupied by Mrs. S. Kitts, caught on fire in the most unaccountable manner possible, as there had been no fire built in the house later than seven o'clock the evening before.

inside of one hour after the first alarm was sounded.

Geo. Utt was a Lincoln visitor last week. Mrs. P. S. Crink is spending the holidays abroad. Mrs. Jacob Goehry was an Omaha passenger Friday. Mrs. Turner McKinnon is visiting relatives in Murdock. Geo. Gramlich's nephew is spending the holidays in these parts. Geo. Utt and family spent Christmas with relatives in Greenwood. Hare & Tool shipped a car of No. 1 hogs to South Omaha Friday. O. W. Gillespie is entertaining his father and mother this week. H. R. Neitzel and family spent Christmas with relatives in Plattsmouth. Adolph Kuehn and family of near Louisville spent Christmas with Aug. Kuehn's. W. S. Hare is taking in the sights in Omaha, having been there since last Saturday. A. S. Depner was an east bound passenger on No. 6, Tuesday, returning Thursday. Geo. Gillespie of Fairmont is spending a few days with relatives and friends in town. Miss Ward of Donovan, Neb., a niece of T. P. Eveland, is visiting relatives in Murdock. Miss Hattie Brunkow is improving rapidly, having withstood her operation in fine shape. Mr. E. T. Tool left for Ackley, Iowa, Saturday, to visit his dear old mother, who is past 90 years of age. He makes this annual visit every Christmas. We have not heard from Bob Crawford since he left for Oklahoma and some of his friends fear that Bob has got tangled up with a buzz saw again. Mrs. Mary Baumgartner's sale was well attended and nearly everything brought top prices. Two teams sold for over three hundred dollars per pair, and other things sold accordingly.

E. M. Jumper came back from the husking bee at St. Edwards, to spend Christmas at home. Mrs. S. Kitts went to Lincoln Tuesday evening to visit with friends for an indefinite period. Mrs. James Crawford pulled in from Mansfield, Ohio, Saturday evening, to spend Christmas at home. Miss Mina Goehry came in from Malvern, Ia., Saturday evening, to spend Christmas at home. Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Lindsay and family of Murray spent several days visiting relatives in Murdock. The infant son, born to Mr and Mrs. Paul Schay on Monday, Dec. 25, was buried on the Tuesday following. Erhart Goehry came in from St. Edwards Saturday, where he has been husking corn for the past three weeks. Our old friend, Will McNamara, who now lives in Fillmore county, reports the birth of a fine girl at their place recently. One evening of last week a couple of our boys got outside of a little too much corn juice and proceeded to shed their garments and prepare for battle. After an exchange of hot words the participants again pulled on their coats and went opposite directions, rejoicing at how they escaped getting a hemorrhage of the eye, a blood clot on the brain, or some other dire calamity.

relatives Christmas night. They had a beautiful Christmas tree and all the guests were served.
