GOLD ACROSS THE RIVER

Traces of the Precious Metal Found in the Wauonsie Hills South of Glenwood.

It may be startling news for most people that gold has been discovered in Mills county, but such is the fact, says the Mills County Tribune.

Traces of the precious metal have just been found cropping out on the farm of Chester A. Mayberry, 8 miles south of Glenwood in Lyons township.

Samples of the metal were taken to an assayer at Omaha. He pronounced the gold as running $250 to the ton. The presence of other valuable metals would, he said, bring it up to $12 a ton. Last week a geologist from Lincoln came down to make a personal investigation. He took back to Lincoln some samples to assay, but as yet no word has been received from him.

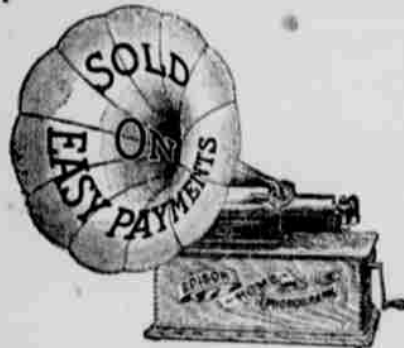

The discovery was made by A. W. Turner, the man who has been operating a coal mine near Thurman for the past two years.

It is said that Mr. Turner is backed by eastern capitalists and that he has been spending much time of late prospecting in the Wauonsie hills.

A valuable deposit of sand is reported to have been found on the Kephart farm, one mile south of the Mayberry place.

AN OLD PIONEER GONE

Mrs. Fredrick Stohman Passes Away at Eleven O'clock This Morning.

AT HER HOME NEAR LOUISVILLE.

A Resident of Cass County Almost a Half Century—Loved and Honored by Many Who Will Regret to Learn of Her Death.

The sad intelligence was received in the city today of the death of Mrs. Fredrick Stohman, which occurred at this home near Louisville, at 11 o'clock this morning.

The deceased together with her husband who died about two years ago, came to this country in the year 1858, from the state of Wisconsin. Her life has been a busy one and she has suffered for several years with cancer of the stomach, which was the direct cause of her death. She was possessed with a kind and loving disposition and was honored by all who knew. During early life she united with the German Lutheran church of which she has constantly been a devout and active member. Her brother, John Shoeman who came to say the last sad farewell to his dear sister, departed this morning at 10 o'clock for his home at North Prairie, Wisconsin.

Two brothers, John and George Shoeman; five sons, George, William, Fredrick, Andrew and August; two daughters, Louisa and Amelia, and many friends are left to mourn the loss of a dear sister, loving mother and kind friend.

STRIKES A VERY RICH MINE

Former Plattsmouth Man, After a Twenty-Five Years' Struggle, Has Rights Recognized.

While enroute from Cleveland, O., to his home at Oreville, S. D., Frank Herbert stopped off last night for a visit with old friends in this city, resuming his journey home this afternoon.

His struggle for his mining rights is worthy of mention, and will be read with interest by readers of the Journal.

About twenty-five years ago, in company with Chris Koehnke of this city, Mr. Hebert started out on an overland journey to South Dakota, where they contemplated securing an interest in the mining property of the southwestern part of that state. After spending sometime there Mr. Koehnke returned to Plattsmouth, and Mr. Hebert continued to work alone, finally securing a valuable gold mine. When he attempted to organize a company to promote and develop his mine, an English syndicate, owning the adjoining property, proceeded to freeze him out, but with a bull dog's tenacity he clung to his property for twenty years, and now has received his just reward.

A number of American financiers became interested in his mine and recently assisted Mr. Hebert in organizing a company with capital stock of $1,000,000. Mr. Hebert has realized over $25,000 on his gold mine and now contemplates promoting a company to develop a tin mine of which he is the present owner. The mines are situated one mile and a half from Oreville, and afford many facilities for shipping.

At the depot Mr. Hebert exhibited several specimens of the gold and tin from his mines, and is justly encouraged by the results of his trip to Cleveland where the company was organized.

Union

From the Ledger.

Mrs. Anna Young of Ottumwa, Ia., departed for home yesterday morning, after spending the winter with relatives here and in other parts of the county.

Douglas Jones arrived here last week from Tennessee, where he has been making his home and intends making an extended visit among relatives and friends here and in other parts of the state. Mr. Jones resided near this village for many years, and finds himself a welcome guest among his acquaintances, old and young, all of whom are always pleased to entertain him.

J. W. Pittman was able to come to town Wednesday, the first time since an attack of pleurisy took him down a few weeks ago. He is now gradually gaining strength, but remarked that he lacks some of feeling as good as new. Very glad to see Mr. Pittman out again.

Four cases of scarlet fever were reported in the family of Elmer Parks, who resides about four miles north-east of here, and Wednesday Constable Saxon went out and established quarantine restrictions by order of the Murray physician who is treating the cases. The patients are all reported as doing well.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Foster and daughters drove to Nebraska City last Saturday, and while there Mrs. Foster became ill quite suddenly and had to be brought home on the train. Her illness was not of very dangerous nature, and we learn that she has almost entirely recovered.

John P. Todd and wife went to Lincoln Monday evening, where Mrs. Todd was to undergo a surgical operation for appendicitis on Wednesday. Her many friends will be much pleased to learn that she is recovering nicely and hope for the permanent restoration of her health.

John Hoback, residing southeast of town, was seriously injured last Sunday evening by rather peculiar accident. He and two companions were at the creek when the heavy rain came on and they took shelter under a high bank, but as soon as they became comfortably settled the bank caved in and covered them with several tons of earth. Two of the men managed to extricate themselves, but it was necessary for them to dig Mr. Hoback out. He was found to be in a helpless condition and when a physician arrived he was suffering intense pain. His injuries are not regarded as dangerous, but no doubt he will feel the effects for some time.
