

SIXTY-SEVENTH BIRTHDAY

And a Free Man But One Day—This is the Way Mr. Jones Puts It.

W. D. Jones, one of the pioneers of Cass county and for many years a resident of Plattsmouth, is celebrating his sixty-seventh anniversary.

Sixty-seven years ago today William D. Jones yelled his first yell in White county, Tennessee, and from there removed to near Fairfield, Iowa, when only two years of age, where, the next day after he attained his majority, he was united in marriage with Miss N. C. McGaw. A few years after this happy union Mr. and Mrs. Jones came to Cass county, where they have resided for over forty years. They have been residents of Plattsmouth for many years, having resided for some time previous at Rock Bluffs.

W. D. Jones says that he enjoyed but one day of freedom. He was under the control of his father until he became of age, and as but one day intervened between the second day of May forty-six years ago, and that of the day he was married. Since which time he says, Mrs. Jones has been boss. Let that be as it may, he couldn't possibly have spent his days more happily under such a system of "bossism," as Mrs. Jones is one of the finest ladies that ever drew the breath of life, and all who know her will agree with what we say. Friday, May 4th, of this week, Mr. and Mrs. Jones will have the pleasure of celebrating their 40th wedding anniversary, and it is the wish of the Journal, as well as that of their many friends, that they may continue to spend the balance of their days happily and pleasantly as down Time's rugged road they go, and may they live to be a hundred years old, or more.

Not as Rich as Rockefeller.

If you had all the wealth of Rockefeller, the Standard Oil magnate, you could not buy a better medicine for bowel complaints than Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. The most eminent physician can not prescribe a better preparation for colic and diarrhoea, both for children and adults. The uniform success of this remedy has shown it to be superior to all others. It never fails, and when reduced with water and sweetened, is pleasant to take. Every family should be supplied with it. Sold by F. G. Fricke & Co. and A. G. Fried.

In County Court.

The case entitled Mary Liner vs. J. W., W. E. and E. C. Tulene came up for trial Tuesday, and a jury composed of John Beeson, Hilt Wescott, Frank Svoboda, T. H. Thrasher and Perry Uutterback, heard the arguments. The plaintiff brought suit for $1,000.00 damages sustained for assault and battery by the defendants. After a short consultation the jury returned a verdict in favor of the defendants.

The first hearing on claims in the estate of Phoebe Robbins, deceased was, was postponed until May 15th.

Pirating Foley's Honey and Tar.

Foley & Co., Chicago, originated Honey & Tar as a throat and lung remedy, and on account of the great merit and popularity of Foley's Honey and Tar many imitations are offered for the genuine. These worthless imitations have similar sounding names. Beware of them. The genuine Foley's Honey and Tar is in a yellow package. Ask for it and refuse any substitute. It is the best remedy for coughs and colds. Sold by F. G. Fricke & Co. and A. T. Fried.

Fruit Will be Plentiful.

In referring to the prospects for a fruit crop this year the Lincoln Star says:

"Fruit in Nebraska this year will be most abundant and the prices will place it within the reach of the most humble. Present indications point to splendid crops of apples, peaches, cherries, plums and small fruits. During the last week, the trees have been loaded with fragrant blooms and most of the blossoms appear to have become fertilized and the fruit is now 'setting on' in abundance.

Mauer-Kildow Nuptials.

A marriage license was issued late Saturday evening to Frank Mauer, Jr., age 18, and Eva Kildow, age 16, both residents of this city. The young couple were united in marriage by Judge Travis, after which the blushing bride and happy young groom departed from the court house rejoicing. The groom, who is a capable and steady young man, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mauer, sr., and is employed by William Hassler at his blacksmith shop. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kildow, and is a very lovable young lady. The Journal joins the many friends in wishing them a happy married life.

A REPUBLICAN DEMOCRATIC TALK.

Some of the Men, Who Will Be Before the Convention.

The Lincoln Star, a republican paper, furnishes the following democratic information:

Chairman T. S. Allen of the Democratic State Central committee has called a convention to meet in Lincoln Aug. 15. A platform will be outlined and candidates nominated. No action will be taken in regard to popular endorsement of United States Senator.

And the aspirants for office are many. Usually nominations go begging but this will not be the case this year.

A. C. Shallenbarger of Alma will be in the race for governor. So will R. D. Sutherland of Nelson, G. W. Berge of Lincoln is an active candidate. Dr. P. L. Hall of Lincoln has many admirers but he cannot be persuaded to make the race.

P. E. McKillip of Humphrey and George L. Loomis of Fremont are considered aspirants for the place.

With these men after nominations there will be excitement enough in the state convention. So far the Populist cohorts have not been able to get together. It has been stated that the Populists have entirely disappeared. Joseph H. Miles of Falls City has been urged to enter the race for governor. He is well known as a business man and has many friends throughout the state.

G. M. Hitchcock, editor of the World-Herald and ex-congressman, is considered a leading candidate for the democratic senatorial honors. W. H. Thompson of Grand Island is considered his competitor. W. J. Bryan will not take any part in state politics. Edgar Howard has been mentioned as a candidate for senator.

For the other offices there is not so much competition. Candidates favorably located, will spring up when the more glittering prizes have been disposed of. There is one office that must be removed from the limit of the above statement. That is the office of attorney general.

'Trust busters' and others seeking national fame are eager for her honor. Among the aspirants for the nomination are Harry Dungan of Hastings, W. W. Wilson of Nebraska City, "Ed" Fallon of Falls City, H. D. Travis of Plattsmouth, C. E. Gilbert of York and A. S. Tibbets, of Lincoln.

It is Dangerous to Neglect a Cold.

How often do we hear it remarked: "It's only a cold," and a few days later learn that the man is on his back with pneumonia. This is of such common occurrence that a cold, however slight, should not be disregarded. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy counteracts any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia, and has gained its great popularity and extensive sale by its prompt cures of this most common ailment. It always cures and is pleasant to take. For sale by F. G. Fricke & Co., and A. T. Fried.

Free-for-All Fight.

The Journal is informed that a free-for-all fight occurred in Louisville Saturday afternoon, but outside of a few black eyes and bloody noses no serious harm was done. We are also informed that two of the men who were instrumental in raising the row at Cedar Creek one week ago last Saturday night, were in the fracas, and while one of them was getting neatly "done up" the other made for tall timber to save his hide.

DEATH OF GOVERNOR BOYD

Only Democratic Chief Executive of Which Nebraska Could Ever Boast.

Former Governor James E. Boyd died at his residence in Omaha Monday afternoon. The end came calmly and without pain after a long struggle for life. At the bedside were the governors three children—Mrs. Bierbower, Mrs. D. O. Clark and James Boyd of St. Louis. His brother, Thomas E. Boyd of Sioux City, who was with him up to Sunday, had left for his home in Sioux City.

Arrangements for the funeral have not been announced.

Governor Boyd had been in poor health peculiar to old age for over a year. For months his life had been in jeopardy. He took a trip to Texas in January in the hope of regaining strength, but returned to Omaha a little while ago worse than when he left. Since that time he had been closely confined to his home and bed. His death had been momentarily expected since Sunday evening.

James E. Boyd was born in county Tyrone, Ireland, September 9, 1834. In 1844 he came to America with his parents who settled upon a farm in Belmont county, Ohio. Later the father was employed in a mill at Zanesville.

When he was fourteen years old the boy worked in a grocery store, later entering a carpenter shop and learning the trade. With his brother, John M. Boyd, he came west in 1856, stopping first at Des Moines, where they worked as carpenters.

In August of that year they arrived in Omaha. They engaged in contracting and building, erecting the first court house in Douglas county and several other public buildings. In 1857 James E. Boyd was elected county clerk but resigned the office soon afterward on account of business engagements.

The following year he married Anna H. Henry and they took up a farm in Buffalo county, where they lived nine years. Boyd opened a general store at Gibbon and another at Kearney and filed large contracts for hay and grain for the government at Fort Kearney. Later he secured extensive grading contracts from the Union Pacific Railroad company which proved profitable. In 1868 he moved his family back to Omaha where he has since resided. He was twice elected mayor of Omaha and in 1890 was chosen governor of Nebraska, the only democrat ever honored by the people of this state. His induction into office was contested by the incumbent, Governor John M. Thayer, whose death occurred but a few days ago.

Governor Thayer refused to give up the executive office and Governor Boyd established himself in other rooms, the two governments being carried on for a week or longer. The claim of Thayer and the republicans was that Boyd had not been regularly naturalized. This claim was sustained by the state supreme court in May 1890 and Boyd surrendered the office to Thayer, but in February 1892, the United States supreme court reversed the decision and Governor Boyd was reinstated in the office.

Governor Boyd was for many years a leader of his party and in 1892 was a delegate to the national convention which nominated Cleveland for the third time. He was offered the nomination for vice president, but his foreign birth made him ineligible.

James E. Boyd established the first pork packing plant in Omaha. Later he engaged in various business enterprises of considerable magnitude. He retired from active business in 1902.

Junkin Law Has Joker.

The suit filed by Attorney General Brown Wednesday afternoon of last week in the supreme court against the alleged lumber trust has called attention to a section of the Junkin anti-trust act, enacted by the last legislature, which seems to have been overlooked even while the bill was under consideration, says the Lincoln News. The section reads as follows:

"Section 2—Monopoly—Penalty—That every person who shall monopolize or attempt to monopolize or combine or conspire with any person or persons to monopolize any part of the trade or commerce within this state shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $5,000, or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or by both, said punishment in the discretion of the court."

The fact that the law makes it a misdemeanor merely to attempt to control prices seems to make the case of the attorney general much easier than if he had to prove that the lumber dealers did combine and did control prices.

In an interview given last summer a prominent lumber dealer said the big dealers in Omaha had combined and he believed they owned the company which bid on various bills of lumber in the small towns of the state. This company, he claimed, was used to whip the little dealers into line. He based his assertion on an experience he had with the big dealers. He said the small concern had bid on lumber bills in his town and when he complained to the big dealers they fixed it for him.

A PRETTY HOME WEDDING

Mr. Albert Dutton and Miss Louise Osborn United in Marriage at 7:30 Last Night.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Osborn was the scene of pretty wedding Tuesday night, when their daughter, Miss Louise, was united in marriage with Mr. Albert Dutton. The guests were hospitably received at the door by Miss Lucy Arnold and ushered to the cozy rooms beautifully decorated with palms, ferns and other potted plants. After the singing of a beautiful selection by Miss Estella Baird, the bride accompanied by the bridesmaid, Miss Frances Mitchell and the maid of honor, Miss Caroline Baird, came forth, while the groom and his best man, Mr. Glen Phebus, advanced through the aisle of smiles, which the little Misses Sayles carried, and amid the gathering of about fifty near relatives and friends the young couple were joined in happy union by Rev. J. H. Salsbury. The wedding march was played by Miss Olive Gass, and after the ceremony delicious refreshments were served by Mesdames McCauley, Owen, Rawls, and Misses Ada Mann, Alma Larson and Addie Searl. The young couple were the recipients of many beautiful as well as useful presents.

The groom, who was reared to manhood in his city, is a capable and industrious young man, and has a host of friends who will congratulate him upon securing such a worthy young lady for his wife.

They departed last night on the 10:18 train for South Omaha, where the groom has a position with Swift & Co., and where they will be at home to their many friends.

The out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Long, the latter a sister of bride, and Miss Frances Mitchell, of Omaha, and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Davis, of Havelock.

Three Brothers Visit Plattsmouth.

The three Foster brothers, all old residents of Liberty precinct, Cass county, came up from Union Tuesday night, and are here today on a matter of business. This is the first time the three brothers have been away from home together in many years, and during their call at the Journal office we took the opportunity of ascertaining their ages, as follows: Nathan D., aged 78, was born in Washington county, Illinois; Reuben, aged 76, was born in Fayette county, Illinois, and D. W., aged 72, was also born in Washington county, and same state. They are now prominent and highly respected citizens of Cass county, and no better people reside on the face of the earth. We take considerable pleasure in conversing with them because they for several years resided in Madison county, Ohio—the birth place of the writer—and because they are among the best people in Cass county and polished gentlemen.

Two Suspects Nabbed.

Two suspicious looking strangers were taken in tow by the sheriff and chief of police this morning and placed in jail for further reference should they prove to be the parties wanted at Omaha for brutally assaulting a woman there on Sunday. The two boarders are very reticent, and nothing can be obtained as to their past life, except that they hail from Omaha. When questioned by the chief of police, they gave the names of Charles Seapeckie and Joe Benoski.

Mrs. Sylvester Johnson Dead.

The news reached Louisville this morning of the death of Mrs. Sylvester Johnson, an old resident of Cass county. Mrs. Johnson was a sufferer from asthma, and three months ago went to California in the hopes of gaining relief. She was in San Francisco through the earthquake and the disastrous conflagration which followed, all of which she survived and had started back home. She stopped in Denver to visit some friends and there it is supposed she died from the disease of which she had been so long afflicted, but the telephone message did not state.

The deceased was 75 years of age and had been a resident of Cass county for many years. It is not known as whether the remains will be brought to Louisville for interment or will be laid away in Denver. She died about 12 o'clock last night and while badly afflicted with asthma the sad intelligence of her demise came as a surprise to her relatives and friends. She was well known in the west part of the county.

Sciatica Cured After Twenty Years of Torture.

For more than twenty years Mr. J. B. Massey, of 3322 Clinton St., Minneapolis, Minn., was tortured by sciatica. The pain and suffering which he endured during this time is beyond comprehension. Nothing gave him any permanent relief until he used Chamberlain's Pain Balm. One application of that liniment relieved the pain and made sleep and rest possible, and less than one bottle has effected a permanent cure. If troubled with sciatica or rheumatism why not try a 25-cent bottle of Pain Balm and see for yourself how quickly it relieves the pain. For sale by F. G. Fricke & Co. and A. T. Fried.

Wants to Tell the Truth.

Mr. Louis Minarik, business man of Curtis Bay, Ind., wrote us the following letter which we gladly submit to our readers: "My family often pressed me to write to you and I have resolved to tell you the truth about myself. For three years I was sickly, pale and weak in fact, never felt well and at last was compelled to go to a hospital and to use all kinds of medicines. My condition not improving I began to use Triner's American Elixir of Bitter Wine and was greatly surprised noticing the quick effect of it on my system. My health returned and I wish to say that this remedy will always be in my household. I recommend it to my friends because it will keep them in health and strength." This is true. No remedy will do it in a more pleasant and a more effective way. It will bring the tired digestive system to the natural activity and will give strength to the whole body. Every family should use it as soon as loss of appetite, tired feeling, nervousness, malaise, paleness is noticed, in fact, always when you do not feel well. At drugstores. Jos. Triner, 799 So. Ashland Ave., Chicago, Ill.

Funeral of I. N. Gochenour.

The last sad services were held over the remains of the late Isaac N. Gochenour from the family residence on the island four miles south of this city yesterday afternoon. Many friends of the family were present to witness the last beautiful honors to the memory of the soldier who so faithfully served his country in the time of need, and who has gone to a world free from cares and sorrows. The sermon was delivered by Rev. D. A. Youtzy who impressed his audience with pathetic references to the life of the deceased. The music was furnished by a choir selected from the singers of Plattsmouth.

At the close of the ceremonies the remains were conveyed to the Horning cemetery for interment.
