Dr. B. F. Brendel and Mrs. Jeff Brendel were Omaha visitors Wednesday evening.

The cold nights during the past week has injured gardens and the fruit to a great extent.

T. J. Rhoden shipped two cars of cattle, F. M. Massie one and J. W. Philpot one to South Omaha Tuesday.

Ray Burton claims that it is not right to throw cold water on a good thing, but he thinks Billy Brown did.

Mrs. Nettie Lindsay departed last Saturday for San Francisco, Calif., she goes to view the ruins of the great city.

J. W. Edmunds has the material on the ground for laying a new cement walk and porch in front of his residence property.

A car load of mules were brought in here for sale Tuesday, but as they were not well advertised they will be held until Saturday.

Jesse Pell and son Fay from near Union were in town Tuesday. Fay had his arm broken two weeks ago, but is getting along nicely.

Dr. Jake Brendel went down to Avoca Monday to relieve his brother J. W., who was attending the meeting of medical association in Lincoln.

The spirit of village improvement has taken possession of our citizens; especially for new fences and cement sidewalks. Let the good work go on.

Pasture—300 acres; blue grass and white clover; running water; plenty of shade; charges reasonable; 6 miles southeast of Murray. Enquire of Edward Graves, Murray, Neb.

Mr. and Mrs. Manner from Chase county are visiting with their son-in-law and family, Mr. Art Balyss, living two miles west of town. They are on their way to Indiana, where they will spend the summer among friends and relatives.

Whenever you see some one on the streets that reminds you of "The Wandering Jew," "The Outcast," or "The Man Without a Country" you can bank on it that his heating stove has been taken down and that life is not worth living this cold weather.

Great preparations are being made for the celebration at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Todd on Saturday of this week. Everybody in this part of the county are figuring upon attending, and we venture the assertion that they will not be disappointed upon having a good time.

James Manners has certainly been proving an excellent man for the Plattsmouth Telephone Co., in looking after the interests of the Murray exchange. We understand that he has been given a $10.00 raise in his monthly check. There is no better evidence that his work is very satisfactory to the company and the patrons of the line.

Robert Fitch was in Plattsmouth Sunday evening. We wonder why?

I. S. White received three car loads of cattle at this station Thursday of last week.

Miss Gussie Robb went to Wyoming Wednesday morning for a short visit with friends.

In the card contest between Otoe and Cass county, the score stood 12 to 2 in favor of Cass.

Miss Carrie Allison, James Manners and Miss Marie Berger attended the play at the Parnelle Tuesday evening.

J. W. Edmunds received a message Monday announcing the sudden death of his brother at his home in Schoolcraft, Mich., after undergoing an operation for an ailment of long standing. The deceased brother is ten years older than our Mr. Edmunds. J. W. departed immediately for the home of his brother, driving to Plattsmouth to take the 10:28 train, but arriving in the county seat too late, so he was compelled to remain until Tuesday morning to resume his sad journey east.

The legend of the "Pied Piper of Hamelin," as a rat killing time was surpassed last week on Sam Pittman's farm, two miles southwest of Murray. In tearing up the bottom of an old corn crib Sam Pittman, Ed Kruger, Cecil Murphy, Roy Kline and Billy Shrader killed one hundred and thirty eight rats and one ground squirrel. There were one hundred and twenty-one rats with seventeen young ones. The sight of these might be a sweet dream to a Chinaman, but to a Nebraska farmer a nightmare, when it is estimated that it would take $15.00 per month to keep this batch of varmints in a sleek condition.

The train was an hour late Saturday evening and John Dermott wanted a shave. His face was well lathered when it was announced that the train was pulling in. A hot race was made for the train, but on arriving at the station he was told that the train was another hour late. He returned to finish his shave. The tonsorial operation was but half completed when the train came indeed. With some swift sprinting he caught the train with a half shave and enough lather on his face to complete the job when he reached Plattsmouth. John was determined in two things—that was to catch the train and to get a shave, but like Shrew's horse trade, he split the difference.

Mr. Allen Wilson, of the Jones Grain Co., of Nebraska City, who has made Murray at certain intervals for the past few years, and of course has become a great friend of J. A. Walker and D. J. Pitman, and has professed to them to be a great "pitch" player. Mr. Walker wishing to learn more of the game he has so much enjoyed most all his life, asked the Nebraska City gentleman to come up and give him a few lessons. Partners being selected, Mr. Walker and Mr. Wilson, to the opposite, the battle was started one day this week. After the smoke had cleared away the Otoe gentleman found that he and his partner had won 2 games out of a series of 10. The other gentleman will now be found at home endeavoring to learn the game.

The Yellow Plague.

An esthetic guy in our town. That his home might beautify, Kill, he would, the dandelions On his lawn and street near by.

He dug them up in the morning, And he sowed them at high noon, Waged he the battle late at night, By the light of a golden moon.

He sprayed them with kerosene, And some were turned upside down But next morning when he awoke, Thickly covered o'er his ground.

He laid a large flat stone on one, An old stove lid hid another, With ashes deep he buried them, Their lives he might smother.

Then he blew some up with powder, Up out of sight so very high, That at dusk, soon after sunset, Bright dandelions shown in the sky.

With fevered brain he raged at night, At morn his life passed out with pain, And five wise doctors, all agreed, He'd dandelion on the brain.

Dandelions—the lion's-teeth, 'Tis like the dragon's teeth of old, From each spring a thousand demons, Dark fiendish torture for man's soul.

With greed and graft on every hand, John D., Depew, Hyde and McCall, But this hoary-headed villain, Old Dan D. Lyon, beats them all.

A Happy Occasion.

A party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Cole last Saturday evening. At about half past eight o'clock the crowd began to gather in and soon the fun began with the playing of various games. Music was furnished by Mr. Purl Long and Mr. Charlie Cole, which was appreciated by all. They all regretted for the hour to approach when it would be time for them to retire for their homes, as they were undoubtedly enjoying themselves to the fullest extent. This was one of the most happy events of the season. It is well known to all that Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Cole are royal entertainers. Those present were as follows: The Misses Nora Standish, Myrtle Standish, Alice Oliver, Elizabeth Oliver, Lela Vallery, Mary Larensen, Maggie Conner, Edith Dill, Myrtle Cole; Mr. Geo. Patterson, Alex. Patterson, Rex Young, Herman Smith, Oscar Horback, Glen Vallery, Ray Dill, Harry Becknar, Will Oliver, Elmar Bodecker, Roy Bodecker, Will Baldwin, Purl Long, Mr. and Mrs. Wade Porter, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Cole.

Fractured a Limb.

The Flora (Oregon) Journal of May 4, contains the following: "While helping to get some horses for the Shelton ferry, Friday, Dr. Gilmore met with quite a painful accident. He stepped on a round topped stone in such a way as to be thrown down, and in such a manner as to break the outer bone of his left leg. His ankle was also badly sprained. E. A. Bodner brought the gentleman up from the river. Under the Dr.'s directions two or three men helped him to reduce the fracture. The sprain is still very painful." This is Dr. T. W. Gilmore, and a brother of our Dr. G. H. Gilmore of Murray.

Royally Entertained.

About twenty-five, that number being a very few, of Fats Davis' friends in this city and community, planned on short notice what might be termed a farewell gathering for him at the Manners & Loughridge hall on last Thursday evening. The evening was spent in playing cards, music and social conversation of the past, present and future of all the friends gathered upon this occasion. They were favored with a number of choice selections upon the piano by M. G. Churchill, Rob't. Fitch and W. C. Brown. Refreshments were served during the evening. Mr. Davis departed Monday of this week for Coney Island, where he will spend a few weeks' vacation. Following were those present, all of whom expressed their regrets upon losing Mr. Davis from their midst, and wishing him a safe return to Nebraska after his few months' vacation: Messrs. H. L. Oldham, Mont Robb, James Holmes, L. B. Underwood, W. W. Hamilton, M. G. Churchill, D. L. Amick, Ern Carroll, C. S. Stone, R. E. Stone, Rob't. Fitch, Less Hall, John Cook, James Loughridge, W. C. Brown, D. C. Rhoden, Roy Burton, Cecil Murphy, A. L. Baker, J. W. Berger, Prof. Earhart, James Manners, G. H. Gilmore.

Picnic Day For Schools.

Miss Stella Jewell, teacher in district No. 8, and Miss Lizzie Mason, teacher in district No. 7, closed their schools last Friday, and in honor of the occasion they gave their scholars a combined picnic, in the beautiful grove at the home of F. M. Young on the closing day. The little folks had a most pleasant time, which was a source of great pleasure to their teachers. Both ladies are to be congratulated upon the successful term just closed.

Died in Lincoln.

Mrs. Laura Snyder, wife of R. H. Snyder, died in Lincoln, Tuesday at 4 o'clock p. m., of consumption. The deceased is a daughter of Mrs. A. B. Fenn, of Omaha, and a niece of Mont Robb, of this city; she is twenty-nine years of age and leaves a husband and three children. The funeral will be held from the Episcopal church in Wyoming Thursday.

SAN FRANCISCO DISASTER

The First Invoice of the Books Just Received at This Office.

TO BE GIVEN TO JOURNAL READERS

Now is the Time to Subscribe for the Daily or Weekly and Get a Book.

The first invoice of the books giving a full history of the San Francisco disaster arrived this morning and will be delivered as rapidly as possible to those who are entitled to them. The book proper contains over 400 pages and is nicely bound. It is profusely illustrated and gives a full description of the greatest disaster that ever occurred on the western continent. The style of the binding of the copies of which the Journal gives to each new subscription is sold by subscription at $1.50 per copy, and we give the same to new subscribers to the daily for $1.50 which also pays for three months' subscription. Every new subscriber to the weekly will get the book by paying an additional 50 cents or $1.50 for both the book and the weekly Journal for one year. Now is the opportunity to secure this great work cheap. If you desire to examine a copy of this great work before subscribing, notify Kirk Bates or call at this office. The first invoice will probably not last long, but another invoice will soon follow.

Subscription agents are now selling the same work for $1.50 cash, while you get the Daily Journal for three months or the weekly for one year and the book both upon the payment of $1.50. Now is the accepted opportunity to secure a bargain, as it is not going to last but a few weeks.

Funeral of Mrs. Margaret Ellis.

The remains of the late Mrs. Ellis, escorted by a large funeral cortege, were conveyed this morning at 10 o'clock from the home of the daughter, Mrs. Utterback, to the St. John's church where a beautiful sermon was delivered by Rev. W. F. Bradley, who paid many worthy and touching tributes to the honor of the departed, who was always a devout Christian, and ever willing to aid the needy. After the sermon, the bier, accompanied by a long procession of friends and relatives, was taken to the Catholic cemetery for interment.

Teachers at Weeping Water.

The Weeping Water Republican says: "At a meeting of the Board of Education held Monday evening, the new board organized with the following officers: President, I. W. Teegarden; Vice President, S. F. Girardet; Secretary, R. S. Wilkinson. The remainder of the corps of teachers for the next year was then elected, which makes the complete roster as follows: Supt., I. N. Clark, of Sterling. Principal, C. H. Ratcliffe. Ass't. Prin., Miss Martha Peters. Sec. Gram., Miss M. Foster, Union. First Gram., Miss Elsie Sprague of Chadron. Second Intermediate, Miss Minnie Baier. First Intermediate, Miss Clara Fate. Sec. Primary, Miss Mildred Hart. First " Miss Lora McDonald."

A Lawyer's Duty.

There is a provision of the Federal constitution which reads as follows: "In all criminal prosecutions the accused shall enjoy the right to a speedy and public trial, by an impartial jury of the state and district wherein the crime shall have been previously ascertained by law, and to be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation to be confronted with the witnesses against him; to have compulsory process, for obtaining witnesses in his favor, and to have the assistance of counsel for his defense."

It then follows that no attorney has a right to refuse to defend one charged with the commission of a crime unless pressure of work or other unavoidable cause prevents. The physician must administer to the sick no matter how contagious the disease; and likewise the attorney is justified in defending the man on trial for crime no matter how odious the offense charged, for the above provision of the constitution and the rights of humanity make it his duty.

"He Who Sleeps, Dines"

so reads the proverb, but it is a poor way for a hungry man to dine. Any man who saves a little out of his earnings and places it in the bank, can both sleep and dine. His sleep will be free from financial worry and his dining satisfying.

The wage earner and the salary man are the ones who should save something out of their income. A little saved each week or month, as the case may be, will put you ahead at the end of the year, and before long you will have an income from the dollars you have saved.

A bank account helps you to save and gives you a safe place for your savings, until you find a good investment. The money is always available. Come in and let us open an account with you.

TAKE IT IN TIME

Just as Scores of Plattsmouth People Have.

Waiting doesn't pay if you neglect the aching back urinary troubles, diabetes, surely follow. Doan's Kidney Pills relieve backache, cure every kidney ill. Plattsmouth citizens endorse them.

Phil Sauter, harness maker, corner Sixth and Pearl street, residence 610 Marble street says: "Mrs. Sauter and I appreciate the value of Doan's Kidney Pills. We noticed them spoken about by people who had used them and to whom this remedy had been most beneficial. This induced us to go to Gering & Co's drug store for a box. Mrs. Sauter complained every now and then of a dull aching in her back and was more than pleased when it yielded to Doan's Kidney Pills. My son also obtained beneficial results from the use of the remedy. We have formed a very high opinion of this preparation and without hesitation endorse the claims made for it."

Entertains Schoolmates.

A very pleasant gathering occurred last night at the home of Mrs. Dawson, when her son, Fred, entertained his schoolmates who will soon be scattered over the country. The evening was most delightfully spent at various games, but the principal amusement was derived from a discussion which was participated in by all, in regard to merits and markings made by their teachers during the course of instruction that they are drawing to successful conclusion this week. The refreshing diversion in the form of a delicious lunch, which was served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Jessie Robertson, materially aided the social good time. Those permitted to enjoy the occasion were Messrs. Wade Miner, Max Adams, Walter Palmer, David White, Charles Mapes, Misses Ruth Houseworth, Zelma T'uey, Margaret Mauzy, Ione Dovey, Gertrude Hartman, Helen Dovey, Eleanor Wirt, Grace Montgomery and Catherine Dovey.

Who is He?

A man wearing a priestly garb came to this city and pretended to be a priest and asked and was given aid from a number of people in this city. He invested his money in corn juice and soon had a tank load. He fell into the arms of the police and today he is occupying a cot in hotel de Handley trying to sleep off his debauch. The police think he is no doubt a fraud, despite his statement that he was enroute to Auburn to visit a priest there, who would furnish him money with which to pay back what he borrowed while here.—Nebraska City News.

Nebraska Winter Wheat.

The crop report for the Lincoln, Wymore and McCook divisions of the Burlington, issued from the Lincoln offices of the road, says the Lincoln News, show an excellent condition of winter wheat all over southern Nebraska. This is the first report of the year, and it is much more flattering than the earlier reports usually are.

The report says that there is but one opinion expressed in relation to winter wheat. It is uniformly in excellent condition. There are no reports of Hessian fly or other damage. The acreage of this crop is about the same as last year on the Wymore division of the road; on the Lincoln division it is from ten to twenty per cent less; on the Kansas branches of the McCook division it is about fifteen per cent more than last year, and somewhat less on other lines of that division.

A Mean Trick.

Mr. William McGee reports that some evil minded person slipped into his barn and cut up portions of his harness. Mr. McGee thinks he knows who the person is that thus injured and destroyed his property in such malicious manner, and if it occurs again he will place the matter in the hands of the officers of the law.

Mynard

(Special Correspondent.)

Things are rather quiet about Mynard now days, as the farmers are busy planting their corn.

Gillespie & Snyder shipped two cars of stock to South Omaha, Tuesday.
