Teach The Children

to save; instill into the young mind the spirit of thrift. Take care of the pennies, the dollars will take care of themselves. This is an old maxim, full of wisdom.

The great fortunes of present day had their foundation of meagre savings. No safer banking system could be devised than that upon which we do business. We receive any amount, however small, and it begins drawing interest at once.

genuine good time and relieving the deep waters of a few of her treasures. Frank Moore was duly elected Captain of the squad, whose duties was made known to the four only, all orders issued by him were promptly carried out except those given to John Durman, who was appointed fish stringer; John was perfectly willing to do the work allotted to him, but the boys failed to furnish the fish, business was poor for General Children. John Cook was appointed chief cook, while Tom Hansen was elected "bait digger," and you bet the last two individuals had their hands full. The boys returned with a few fish, but the word seems to be "mum," and just how they caught them still remains a mystery, at least until we see Frank Moore, who we believe will give up the straight story.

The Late Dennis Danniher.

The remains of the late Dennis Danniher accompanied by a large cortege of friends, were conveyed from the home, two miles northeast of this city, to St. John's church here last Saturday where regular high mass was conducted by Father W. F. Bradley. Many beautiful floral offerings adorned the casket and altar. After the services the remains were taken to the Holy Sepulchre cemetery where they were interred. The pall bearers were Messrs. Coffey, Morley, Whalen, McEntee, Loughbridge and Beckman.

Dennis Danniher, died at his home two miles northeast of Murray, Wednesday evening, July 28, after an illness of several months. The deceased had long been a patient sufferer from heart trouble, and his death was not altogether unexpected. Mr. Danniher was a native of Ireland but coming to America in his youth he readily became adapted to the conditions of American life and customs, and became one of its best citizens. The deceased was a resident of Plattsmouth for many years, where his family of two daughters and one son were reared, namely: Mrs. Anna Evans, of Chicago; Mrs. E. F. Grimes, of Omaha and B. B. Danniher, who, besides a wife, survive him. The deceased was the owner of a fine farm, upon which the wife and son will continue to reside. He was a faithful Catholic, an honorable, upright citizen, in whom his neighbors and those who had business dealings with him had the utmost confidence. His word was as good as his bond. A good man has gone to rest. Peace to his ashes.

A Bad Runaway.

While in Murray Wednesday afternoon Walter Sans experienced quite a serious runaway, and as a result he is minus a fine rubber tired buggy that was completely demolished before the runaway team could be stopped. The team was tied in front of the postoffice, when they broke loose and took east, down Main street toward home, running at a terrific speed, keeping the middle of the road until they reached the first hollow east of the Loughbridge residence, when they became detached from the buggy, and passed on to the top of the hill when they were stopped. No one was in the vehicle, consequently no one was injured.

"Bums are Quite Numerous."

Murray has certainly been having her share of genuine first-class bums for the past few weeks and some of them are of a mighty tough character too. Tuesday morning's through freight train No 175 made a stop at Murray to pick up some cars, something it seldom does, and two negroes were either endeavoring to board the train or being put off by the train crew, it being early in the morning and very few people were astir in our little town, so no one witnessed the proceedings, but it is reported that the negroes became angered at not being permitted to ride and one of them pulled a gun and opened fire upon Conductor Marshall, who had charge of the train. The shot fell wide of its mark, and we understand the "coons" took to the woods, and have not been seen since. We are of the opinion that the proper thing to do on an occasion of this sort, is that train crews be given the power to stop their trains, arm themselves with shot guns and secure sufficient help to catch such individuals, either dead or alive, it would not make very much difference.

The following night station agent Martin, who lives in the second story of the depot was awakened by four individuals of a similar character, who were swearing and telling of their experiences bumming over the country, and what they were going to do when the first train came along. Agent Martin gave them orders to leave, which they complied with when being informed that no train would stop there before daylight.

A Birthday Party.

The birthday dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Patterson in honor of their little daughter, Edie Marie, was a grand success. The little lady's birthday was on the 27th of July. The dinner was given on Sunday to make it more convenient for her friends. There were present Mr. and Mrs. John Hall, Ruth Hall and Clifford Forbes of Plattsmouth; Mr. and Mrs. I. S. White, Mr. and Mrs. Mark White, Mr. and Mrs. Will Barker, Rosy, Freddie and Cleo Barker and Marion Thomas. Among the many presents was a lovely red silk dress from Mrs. I. S. White; a pair of silk stockings from Mrs. Mark White; a lovely sash and glass from Miss Ruth Hall; a nice handkerchief from Miss Rosy Barker; a nice doll from Marion Thomas; a present from I. S. White, and a present from Mrs. Dane Blatt, of Sidney, Ia. The dining table was loaded with good things and everybody enjoyed themselves. They were expecting to take a boat ride but the wind was in the north, and this was a great disappointment.

A Tedious Trip.

William L. Kelly and wife and Jas. Richardson and wife of Omaha were in Murray Sunday evening, the guests of Mrs. Kelly's cousin, Mrs. Hatchett. They came to the Platte ferry at Oregopolis in the morning but owing to the mud at the approach it was impossible to reach the boat. They then started for Louisville, but upon reaching Papillion they learned that the bridge at Louisville was impassable. They returned to Omaha, came down on the Iowa side and crossed the Missouri on the Plattsmouth ferry. After a short stop in Plattsmouth they came on and arrived here in time for a good supper prepared at the home of Mrs. Hatchett. They left about 9 for their return to Omaha. Mr. Kelly is supervisor of agencies for the Travelers' Insurance Co., of Hartford, Conn., and a clever gentleman. He says their trip was tedious, but they were determined to make a visit if it took all summer.

DEEDS, NOT WORDS

Plattsmouth People Have Absolute Proof of Deeds at Home.

It's not words, but deeds that prove true merit.

The deeds of Doan's Kidney Pills. For Plattsmouth kidney sufferers. Have made their local reputation.

Proof lies in the testimony of Plattsmouth people who have been cured.

J. S. Hall, of 118 South Sixth street, Plattsmouth, Neb., says: "I can vouch as emphatically for the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills as I did three and one-half years ago. In 1896 I had a fall, strained my back and this brought on kidney trouble, at least I attribute the original of the complaint to the injury. From that time on, I suffered a great deal from pain in my back. To stoop caused sharp twinges through my loins and it was most difficult at times for me to raise from a chair. I tried several remedies but found no relief. Finally I had the good fortune to learn of Doan's Kidney Pills and got a box at Gering & Co.'s drug store and using as directed, the pain was absolutely removed in forty-eight hours. This was in 1902 and from that time on, I have hardly ever been without a box of Doan's Kidney Pills in the house to have in case of need. When I take one and as the result feel any pain or soreness in my back, I take a few of Doan's Kidney Pills and the troubles are quickly ended."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

The many Murray friends wish him success.

While in Murray Wednesday we met our excellent friend, Lloyd Gopen, and in conversation with him he tells us that he has just finished his oat harvest, including the threshing, and he was really surprised at the outcome, as a few weeks ago the oat crop was considered almost a failure, to realize about thirty bushels to the acre, and an extra good quality, is certainly a very pleasant surprise.
