the Great Excitement.

Des Molmes, Ia., Aug. 2 .- The Republican state convention met in this city under circumstances that had been expected to make it one of the liveliest ever held in the state. Instead it was quite tame. The fight of Perkins against Cummins collapsed practically when the state committee declined to challenge a split by seating the Per-

NUB OF THE PLATFORM

What the Convention Declared with Reference to the Tariff.

The platform reported and adopted by the convention begins with referring to the prosperity of the country and a declaration of pride in the history of the Republican party and its achievements; lands President Roosevelt in the highest terms; expresses pride in the status ln congress and the work of the lowa delegation, and Cummins; pledges the state party to pression of preference for United States senators, and denounces the "corrupting influences of corporate power," pledging the enactment of aws to prevent corporations from influencing or contributing to politics. The plank on protection is as follows: "We are uncompromisely in favor of the American system of protection. Duties on foreign imports should not be levied for revenue only, but should be so adjusted as to promote our domestic interests, enlarge our foreign markets, secure remunerative prices for the products of our factories and farms, and maintain a su perior scale of wages and standard or living for American labor. Wise and unselfish tariff laws maintained in the interest of the general welfare, equally opposed to foreign control and domes tic monopoly, are essential to our commercial and industrial prosperity.

"We believe that all inequalities is the tariff schedules which inevitably arise from changing industrial and commercial conditions should be adjusted from time to time, and condemning without reserve all assaults upon the protective system we favor such reasonable and timely changes as will keep the tariff in harmony with our industrial and commercial progress. We favor the reciprocity inaugurated by Blaine, advocated by McKinley and Roosevelt, as recognized in Republican platforms and legislation.

A tribute is paid to the memory of the late Representative Henderson, and cordial greetings are sent to Senator Allison, regretting the circumstances "that deprive us of his genial presence and helpful counsels."
