Must Have More Help.

The matter of help at the Burlington shops in this city is becoming a serious matter, and some prompt measures will have to be resorted to in order to get as many employes as is at present desired. Two hundred men can find permanent employment at the shops right now, and it seems almost utterly impossible to secure them.

The business men of the city, in order to relieve the demand for more help, will issue a large circular and send copies of the same broad cast over the country in order to assist in relieving the wants of the company. The business men will be called upon tomorrow for financial assistance to defray the expense of printing these circulars and mailing them.

MURDERESS AT LAST LOSING HER NERVE

Mrs. Le Doux, the Murderess of Albert N. McVicar, Who Heard Death Sentence Without a Quiver, Much Depressed.

THE EXECUTION SET FOR OCTOBER 19TH

Counsel Hope to Save Her by Impugning One of the Jurors at Trial.

A special from Stockton, Cal., under date of Saturday, August 18, says that Mrs. Emma LeDoux, who was sentenced to death for the murder of Albert N. McVicar, which tragedy bore resemblance to the Preller trunk mystery in St. Louis, seems to be losing her nerve. The special further says:

"She heard the sentence pronounced upon her by Judge Nutter without a bit of emotion. Her face never paled and her eyes never lost their steady gaze as she heard the words which condemned her to the gallows on October 19. She will be hanged then in the San Quentin jail unless the defense is able by October 15 to show cause in the bill of exceptions, which must be presented by that date, why the sentence of the court should not be carried into effect.

"The peg upon which her counsel hope to hang a plea for further delay is the alleged misconduct of a juror, who is said to have declared he would vote in the jury box to hang her.

"On the day of the sentence the courtroom was packed to its capacity. The majority of the auditors were women, and they showed more eagerness than the men to see Mrs. LeDoux brought to the bar. The expectation was general that she would break down and create a scene, and there was manifest disappointment when the little woman stood up boldly and refused to show as much emotion as some of the women who looked on and who trembled and wept as she was led forward to face the judge.

"After sentence was pronounced she walked from the courtroom with a firm step and her old characteristic swagger. In Judge Nutter's chamber, in the rear of the courtroom, she met her mother, Mrs. Mary Head. Mrs. Head did not dare trust herself in the courtroom to hear the sentence of doom passed upon her daughter. With wan face and tearful eyes she waited in the little ante-room to her the news. As soon as they saw each other Mrs. LeDoux's face broke into a smile and she fairly leaped into the arms of Mrs. Head. Mother and daughter kissed each other affectionately, spoke a few words of cheer and then parted.

"The motion for a new trial, which was denied by Judge Nutter, is based on the affidavit of Charles F. Murphy, who swore that Juror Ritter said he intended to hang Mrs. LeDoux. The prosecution attacked the character of the affiant, and the defense came back with a mess of affidavits testifying to the excellent character of Murphy and showing that his reputation for veracity was of the highest."

A Mystery Solved.

"How to keep off periodic attacks of indigestion and habitual constipation, was a mystery that Dr. King's New Life Pills solved for me," writes John A. Bennett, of Magnolia, Ind. "The pills that are guaranteed to give you that satisfaction to everybody or nobody refunded. Only 25c at F. G. Fricke & Co's drug store."

A New Jail.

Many of our farmer friends have recently expressed themselves favorable to the erection of a new jail. Of course it is a subject in which the taxpayers and farmers of the county are as much interested as the citizens of Plattsmouth. It has recently come to light that the old bastle is impure even to place the lowest grade of human beings, and under existing circumstances it may cost the county more some of these days than a new jail. If ever a man is incarcerated in it for any length of time, and that man should have relatives who are financially well fixed and they should bring suit against the county for putting their relative in quarters like those in the old bastle, it is the opinion of many that big damages could be recovered. This is one reason why a new jail should be built. We understand the county commissioners favor the erection of a new one on that ground also. The Journal would like to get an expression from the farmers in various sections of the county in regard to this matter. We are no more interested in the building of a new jail than anyone else, but everyone, and this includes many farmers, who have visited the old quarters, say it would be a disgrace to any county and does not reflect much credit upon the people of Cass county who will oppose the building of a new one. Let us hear from the taxpayers, and decide upon the matter before it is everlastingly too late to prevent the county from getting into a law suit that will perhaps cost them nearly as much as a new jail.

ANOTHER OBJECT LESSON

To Those Who Still Insist on Patronizing Sears, Roebuck & Co.

Not many moons since one of Cass county's good housewives came to the conclusion that under the present outlook for excellent crops of all kinds she could afford a new carpet for her best room. Consequently she prevailed upon her lord and master to supply her desire. He in accordance with her wishes sent to Sears, Roebuck & Co., for samples. The samples of course arrived in due time, viewed and the one to suit the good lady's wishes was ordered, the money of course accompanying the order. In due course of time the carpet arrived, was taken home, spread-out-upon-the-floor for which it was made, and lo, and behold, it was not anything like the sample from which it was ordered. It was packed up and returned to whence it came—the "great" department store of Sears, Roebuck Co., Chicago, Illinois, with a request that they send the carpet ordered or return the money. But up to the present writing neither the money or the carpet has been returned.

Moral—Trade with those who you know, and of whom you can get just what you want. With them you run no risk for you see just what you are buying.

Unnecessary Expense.

Acute attacks of colic and diarrhoea come on without warning and prompt relief must be obtained. There is no necessity of incurring the expenses of a physician's service in such cases if Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is at hand. A dose of this remedy will relieve the patient before a doctor could arrive. It has never been known to fail, even in the most severe cases and no family should be without it. For sale by F. G. Fricke & Co., and A. T. Fried.

"Home First—the World Afterward."

This is a motto that the Journal has always advocated, and we regret that it is not more strictly adhered to in Plattsmouth. Every kind of work done in this city should be given to home workmen when they are able to do it. We have as good mechanics in Plattsmouth as they have in any town on earth, and those who make their homes among us should have the preference over those of other towns. A kick has been registered at this office by several of our home mechanics, who say that the county commissioners, who imported a boiler maker here from Omaha to repair the court house boiler, have deviated from this rule. We have workmen in Plattsmouth who are just as competent to repair boilers as any that can be imported from Omaha, and at the time the work was being done there was a boiler maker here who was not doing a thing, and who had before been called upon to do the same work. He is a home man and the family pay taxes into the county treasury each year to the amount of $16.00 or $17.00. With all due respect to the commissioners we are not making this point directly them, but it simply serves as an illustration to some of our business men, who complain about people going away from home to buy goods, and at the same time will employ outsiders to do work that properly belongs to home mechanics. "What is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander."

Mrs. O. D. Robinson, 48 St. Felix St., Brooklyn, N. Y., writes:

"I have taken Peruna and it did me more good than all my two years' treatment by special physicians.

"I can really say that I feel like another person. No more swollen feet and limbs. No more bloating of the abdomen. No more shortness of breath. No more stiff and sore joints. You have no idea what your treatment has done for me. It has prolonged my life and made a new woman of me.

"O, such a blessing I have received through your kindness, Doctor, and the assistance of the medicine which you so kindly prescribed.

"I am able to work since I began your treatment, but before I was not able to help myself, much less do any work. All praise is due to Dr. Hartman and his treatment."

The Democrats of Otoe.
