An Owe-d
(Of $1,900 to the U. S. Treasury.)
'Tis known that your morals are slack;
Justice's hot upon your track;
You'd show a little knack,
If you'd only put it back.

Then put it back! Put it back!
Brightest hours to you are black,
Raven defeat croaks at your back;
Come! Rise from off that moral tack,
Bath your head in apple-jack—
"Nineteen Hundred—Put it Back!"

It's too bad we can't annex
Cuba just to quiet Senator Beveridge's nerves,
Instead of allowing him to make speeches
The republican party could better afford to pay his expenses at a sanatorium.

EVERY voter in Cass county who desires to be represented in congress by an able, clear-headed, conscientious gentleman, will go to the polls on Tuesday, November 6th, and vote for T. J. Doyle.

THE religious editors declare that the high rates of postage proposed by the postal commission would severely tax their piety. The high tariff rates also tax people's piety. They make the average man swear every time he thinks of them.

T. J. DOYLE, the opponent of "Easy Money" Pollard, has been engaged the past week in addressing enthusiastic audiences in Otoe county, and the reports from that section of the district are very encouraging for the democratic candidate.

THERE is not a better man in Cass county for commissioner than George W. Snyder. He is just the man to look after the interests of taxpayers of the First district in a manner in which they should be looked after. He is a reliable business man, a farmer and knows the needs of the farmers.

BILLY WEBER was defeated in the Louisville convention because the Plattsmouth ring thought they could not use him as they boasted they could do with Martin L. Frederich. If the taxpayers want a man who will serve them all alike they will vote for George W. Snyder for county commissioner, who will give all a square deal.

WHEN you vote for D. O. Dwyer for county attorney, you can rest assured of voting for a gentleman who will do his duty in that office without fear or favor. He is well known in Cass county as a lawyer who understands the laws and will see that they are properly enforced, and that all law-breakers will be punished accordingly.

PLATTSMOUTH is to be favored with the presence of Hon. W. J. Bryan for a few hours on Monday evening, November 5—the night before election. The simple announcement that Nebraska's favorite son and the nation's greatest statesman will be with us on that night is sufficient to call forth the yeomanry from every nook and corner of Cass county.

D. O. DWYER will make a record if elected county attorney, and the books will show that he has made some convictions, also. He is fearless in doing his duty.

All American citizens are entitled to equality before the law, or, as the constitution expresses it, "the equal protection of the laws." They have never had this under the republican regime.

ACCORDING to press dispatches from Washington, the republicans fear serious losses in New York, Ohio, Illinois and Pennsylvania this year. The president is said to be exceedingly uneasy.

JAMES STANDER, democratic candidate for state senator, is home from his New York trip and will begin a round of seeing the "dear people." He will visit every section of the county possible between now and election day.

POLLARD and his friends are trying very hard to get out something against T. J. Doyle, the democratic candidate for congress, to offset that $1,900 salary grab of "Easy Money's." You can't do it, gentlemen. The people won't stand any lies in this campaign.

"EASY MONEY" POLLARD is having a hard time to explain his salary grabbing fiasco; and but few auditors come out to his meetings to listen even to his attempt at explaining why he took $1,900 that he knew did not belong him. This is the report that comes from every section of the district.

THE democratic legislative ticket is composed of four as good citizens as can be found in Cass county. Their names are James Stander, for senator; Dr. C. W. Jester, for flot representative, and L. F. Langhorst and F. M. Massie for representative. These are gentlemen who will perform their duties to the taxpayers of Cass county; and keep watchful eyes over their welfare in legislative matter.

GEORGE W. SNYDER, the democratic candidate for county commissioner is a man of the people. The people of Cass county never had an opportunity to vote for a better man. He is a gentleman and scholar, and will perform his duties in the interests of the people in every section of the county. No "boss" or "ring" will govern his action on the board. You can bet your bottom dollar on that.

THE Journal is pleased to learn that George W. Snyder is making friends wherever he goes. If the people of Cass county want an unprejudiced member on the board of county commissioners, and a gentleman who will guard well the interests of the taxpayers alike, they will have no hesitancy in going to the polls on Tuesday, November 6th, and voting for the man in whom they can place the utmost confidence—George W. Snyder.

L. F. LANGHORST, democratic candidate for representative, attended the Shallenberger meeting at Union Saturday, and also came to Plattsmouth to the meeting Saturday night and to spend Sunday with friends in this city. Mr. Langhorst is a thorough business man, having made a success in mercantile pursuits in Elmwood for a number of years. He is demonstrating every day that the democrats made no mistake in selecting him as one of their standard bearers, as wherever he goes he makes friends. He is just such a man as is capable of looking after the interests of the people of Cass county in the legislature; so well are the voters satisfied of this fact that they propose to elect him to look after their affairs this winter in Lincoln. A vote for Langhorst means a vote for a gentleman who will be found doing his duty in every particular.

THE captains of industry have such complete control of the republican party that every republican state and congressional convention has declared for the tariff that protects the trusts.

What Republicans Done.
The Twenty-seventh legislature, for instance, republican in both branches, and with a republican governor—what did we get out of that?

Or the Twenty-eighth session, still more heavily republican, and again backed with a republican governor—what did it do to ameliorate conditions?

Or the very last session, the Twenty-ninth? It was so overwhelmingly republican that there were none but republicans in the senate, and there were but nine fusionists in the house. Again there was a republican governor. What happened?

It killed every anti-pass bill.
It killed every direct primary bill.
It killed every bill to increase railroad taxation.
It killed every bill reducing freight rates.

It was so saturated with railroad bossism that it was a stench in the nostrils of the voters of the state.

Is it some more of the same we need—another republican governor or another republican legislature? Can they again "best handle" the questions that most concern the state?

George L. Sheldon was a senator in the two last legislatures, and is now condemning the railroads for many things which that legislature had the power to prevent. He was an acknowledged leader of the senate in both sessions, and now wants to be governor. If they want another "sheep in wolf's clothing" in the gubernatorial chair, the people know how to vote. If they want a good, square man for governor—A. C. Shallenberger is the man.

Embarrassing Questions for Sheldon.

The Blair Pilot, one of the number of Nebraska republican papers that have been driven away from the support of the republican ticket because of the too evident hypocrisy and insincerity of the fake reformers, asks these pointed questions of the republican nominee for governor in its current issue:

"When and where, and in what way, did you exhibit any opposition to the railroads prior to the time, in your second term as senator, when you 'turned turtle' because they did not support you for president pro tem. of the senate?"

"Is it not a fact, Senator Sheldon, that the notorious sifting committee of the senate of the legislature of 1905 was selected in a secret meeting in your private room in the Lindell hotel? Is it not a fact that this committee, selected in your private room, was composed of men known to be friendly to the corporations? Is it not a fact that this committee, selected in your private room, was composed of men known to be friendly to the corporations? Is it not a fact that underlying the selection of this committee was a bold scheme to strangle and defeat legislation objectionable to the corporations?"

Senator Sheldon, you are telling the people now that they are being robbed by high freight rates.

The rates in force now are the same rates in force in 1903, when you were in the senate, and the same as in 1905, when you were again in the senate.

"Turn to the senate files, Mr. Sheldon, for either or both of these sessions and point out if you can one single bill introduced by you reducing these rates. Turn, if you can, to any page of the records, and point out any bill voted for by you reducing these rates."

A REPUBLICAN farmer wants to know why the Journal does not have something to say about C. A. Rawls' record as county attorney? Now if we could only find any record that he has made in pursuing his official duties we would be happy to say something, but when we look down the page we fail to see one act he has done worthy of commenting upon. We will soon enumerate the many things he ought to have done—but didn't.

SHALLENBERGER, Saturday, October 20—at Plattsmouth, 7:30 p. m.

"Buster" Brown's Friends Disgusted.
The Blair Pilot, which is a well known republican newspaper and which carries at the head of its editorial columns the republican state ticket, regretfully admits that the republican candidate for United States senator is unfit. It says:

"One of the main objections against Norris Brown's candidacy for the United States senate is that he is not qualified for the position."

"We regret to note that his public utterances indicate that the objection is well taken. Though a United States senator has nothing whatever to do with state issues, Mr. Brown confines his speeches to local matters and does not refer to national issues, the subjects he must deal with in the event of his election to the senate. Is this because Mr. Brown is not big enough man to deal intelligently with great questions? Is it because he is not informed?"

Our Blair contemporary has asked a pertinent question and those who have heard Mr. Brown or read reports of his speeches will agree with the conclusion reached later in the same editorial. With another deep sigh of regret, Editor Williams of the Pilot continues:

"But Mr. Brown is the republican candidate for senator and what do we find? We find him talking with less intelligence than a school-boy about issues with which he, as senator, will have nothing to do, ignoring the issues he, as senator, would have to meet and solve."

Hit Him Again,

"Already we have forgotten the name of the democratic candidate for lieutenant-governor." So says Bixby in the Lincoln Journal. Indeed we are surprised at the general paragrapher of the Journal. W. H. Green is the gentleman's name and he is editor of one of the best and most widely known papers in the state. Perhaps the reason the Journal employe forgot him is because Green has been waging a successful fight on the Harvester trust and will yet make that combine comply with the laws of the state. When it comes to obeying the laws the Journal can always be counted on being on the opposite side. But if Norris Brown had fought the trusts as hard as Green, would that paper be supporting Brown? We guess not. Not by $85,000.—Nebraska City News.

The Trouble in Nebraska.

The trouble in Nebraska is not with the laws, but with our cowardly and knavish public officials who refuse to put the laws into effect when men of prominence stand in the way of getting hurt.

Joe Bartley committed a great crime when he looted the state treasury—but Joe never allowed his own notes to be advertised for sale, and then bought them in for five cents on the dollar.

Joe Bartley ought to have served many years in prison for the part he played in dissipating the sacred school fund, but Joe Bartley never broke the criminal arm of the law to keep it from striking men who were supporting his candidacy for the United States senate.

Yes, Joe Bartley is a bad one—but he never sought nor won the friendship of a Lincoln newspaper by permitting that newspaper to touch the state treasury for $85,000.

And "Buster Brown" who is now a candidate for United States senator has "laid down" in his protracted efforts to have this $85,000 paid back into the state treasury, from which it has been illegally taken, simply because he is a candidate and does not desire to prosecute the case until after the election. This is the kind of a man who desires to represent the people of Nebraska in the United States senate, and his name is Norris Brown.

THE bad trusts do not seem to fear the administration any more than the good trusts do, if there are any good trusts.

Where Does the Money Go?

Keep it before the voters of Cass county that state taxes in this county has more than doubled in the past five years as follows, to-wit:

In 1902, state tax.....	$24,865.50
" 1903	36,729.95
" 1904	43,334.33
" 1905	50,598.02
" 1906	51,091.02

The tax-payers should put on their thinking caps and think twice before going to the polls on the 6th day of November and voting with a party that has put such a burden upon them. The republican party is responsible for this increase, and the only way to stop a further increase is to vote for men like James Stander, for senator; Dr. C. W. Jester, for flot representative, and L. F. Langhorst and F. M. Massie, who will prove faithful to the trust reposed in them; and will guard the interests of the tax-payers of Cass county in the legislature, as those who have represented this county should have done.

A REMARKABLE climax closed the political meeting at the Parmelee theatre, in this city, Saturday night, at which time Hon. A. C. Shallenberger, democratic candidate for governor, addressed the people. After Mr. Shallenberger had finished his talk, a number of gentlemen went forward to congratulate the speaker, and among them were several republicans. One of the latter, as he grasped Mr. Shallenberger by the hand, said: "I want to congratulate you, Mr. Shallenberger, and I am here to tell you that while I am a life-long republican, I am going to vote for you for governor." Mr. Shallenberger did not seem surprised, as he meets republicans every day who declare their intentions of supporting him.

D. O. DWYER, our candidate for county attorney, is one of ablest members of the Cass county bar. His whole time has been devoted to the study and practice of law, and if elected will not be compelled to enlist some one else to prepare his complaints and to assist in prosecuting violators of the law. In the candidacy of Mr. Dwyer, the people of Cass county recognize a gentleman who in every way is well fitted for the position of county attorney, and also an official who will not let his prejudices carry him beyond that of his duty.

GEORGE W. SNYDER is a conscientious and capable business man and a farmer, who will at all times serve the peoples' best interests. He will prove a member of the board of county commissions whose movements in county affairs will not be governed by the advice of such ringsters as secured the nomination of his republican opponent.

THE democrats have placed before the voters of Cass county a clean ticket in every particular, and no voter need hesitate a single moment when he goes to the polls about putting X after the names of every one of them. They will serve them well and faithfully.

CANDIDATE SHELDON may kick and howl against Shallenberger's demand for a 2-cent passenger rate in Nebraska, but the 2-cent rate must come just as 2-cent postage came a few years ago.

Can you win? You realize that to win in anything these days requires strength, with body and mind in tune. A man or woman with disordered digestive organs is not in shape for a day's work or a day's play. How can they expect to win? Kodol For Dyspepsia contains the digestive juices of a healthy stomach and will put your stomach in shape to perform its important function of supplying the body and brain with strength building blood. Digests what you eat, relieves Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Palpitation of the heart and Constipation. Sold by F. G. Fricke & Co. and Gering & Co.

I have several good propositions in quarter and half sections in Duell and Cheyenne counties at a bargain. Lands are increasing very rapidly in value in that country so you had better buy now if you want to buy cheap land. J. P. Falter.
