DANGER OF A MISTRIAL

Wife of One of the Thaw Case Jurors Seriously Ill of Pneumonia.

MAKES IT HARD ON THE JUROR

May Incapacitate Him from Giving Proper Attention.

That Would Mean All the Past Labor Lost — Dr. Evans Concludes His Testimony for the Defendant.

New York, Feb. 14.—The Thaw trial was limited to an afternoon session of less than two hours' duration, the morning sitting of court having been abandoned because of the illness of the wife of one of the jurors—Joseph B. Bolton. Bolton was allowed to visit his home in company with two other jurors and two court officers. He found his wife suffering from double pneumonia and two physicians certified by District Attorney Jerome that her condition was very serious. Bolton returned to the jury panel in time for the afternoon session, which began at 2:10 p. m. and adjourned at 4:05 p. m. There was a stipulation of counsel by which the juror might again visit his home, accompanied by bailiffs.

It is hoped that the trial will go on, although Juror Bolton appeared distracted, apparently taking little interest in the proceedings. If Mrs. Bolton's condition should continue so critical that her husband cannot be expected to give proper consideration to his duties as a juror there may be an indefinite postponement—all the other jurors meanwhile remaining locked up, or possibly a mistrial. Every one connected with the case expressed the hope that events will permit of the trial being carried forward to a rapid conclusion.

Evans Concludes His Testimony.

Dr. Britton D. Evans, superintendent of the state hospital for the insane at Morris Plains, N. J., was the only witness of the afternoon. He concluded his direct examination, and District Attorney Jerome reserved the right to cross-examine the expert at a later stage of the trial. Dr. John T. Deemar, of Pittsburg, Pa., was recalled to the stand just before adjournment and asked to state what he knew of the mental condition of John Ross, a first cousin of Harry Thaw. Jerome objected to the question on the ground that the relationship was too remote to permit the drawing of deductions as to hereditary insanity. Both question and witness were withdrawn temporarily.

THAW'S PULSE WAS PECULIAR

Great Variation of Beats in the Space of a Minute.

Dr. Evans detailed the results of his various examinations and physical tests in his visits to the defendant following the tragedy. He declared that there was a depression in the back of Thaw's head of a most unusual character. "I am unable to state its significance," declared the witness, "for the reason that I never saw anything like it before." Dr. Evans also stated that Thaw's pulse action was the most extraordinary he had ever encountered. The pulse would change beats four times within one minute, the variation being from twelve to twenty-four beats. The pulse indicated, he said, that the sympathetic nervous system was seriously at fault. Dr. Evans declared finally that he found no traces of drug habits nor any of the tremors characteristic of excessive indulgence in intoxicants.

Dr. Evans took occasion to say that he felt it was extremely unfair to him as a physician to require him to separate his physical examinations of the defendant from the questions and answers as to his mental processes. He was interrupted by both Jerome and Delmas, and Justice Fitzgerald said: "Will you kindly confine yourself to answering questions and not giving expressions of opinion. There is some limitation even to the province of an expert."

As the result of a conference between counsel just before the early adjournment was ordered Jerome announced that Thaw's attorneys had turned the will of the defendant over to him for examination before it should again be formally offered in evidence. Jerome said he might, or might not, offer further objection to the "voluminous document." He did not wish to take up the time by reading it over in court, so counsel had agreed that it might be examined at the district attorney's office.

Counsel also agreed that Jerome should have the privilege of talking freely with Dr. Deemar, and with Dr. Bingham, the Thaw family physician, about certain testimony they have to offer. Jerome said that if he knew the nature of this testimony he might not have to occupy so much of the court's time and crowd the record with technical objections. In order to give him the opportunity to learn the nature of their testimony and to expedite the trial the early adjournment was ordered.

Delmas will offer the will in evidence today. If it is accepted it will be read to the jury. If it is not accepted by consent of the district attorney there is likely to be an extended argument. Following the disposition of the will Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw will resume the stand.

Heart Weakness

The action of the heart depends upon the heart nerves and muscles. When from any cause they become weak or exhausted, and fail to furnish sufficient power, the heart flutters, palpitates, skips beats; and in its effort to keep up its work, causes pain and distress, such as smothering spells, short breath, fainting, pain around heart, arm and shoulders. The circulation is impeded, and the entire system suffers from lack of nourishment.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure makes a heart strong and vigorous by strengthening these nerves and muscles.

"I had palpitation and pain around my heart, and the doctors said it was incurable. I don't believe it now, for after taking six bottles of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, three bottles of the Nerve and Liver Pills I am entirely cured, and feel better than I have for five years, and it is all due to these remedies. I want you to know that your medicines cured me. I relieved me from the first dose, and I kept right on till the pain in my chest was gone, and I kept on feeling better even after I quit taking it." JOHN H. SHEPHERD, Reading, Mich.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails he will refund your money.

The Gibbon House has changed hands again. It is now owned by Carl Frank of Springfield, who traded some land for it. The new proprietor will not take charge himself but says he will rent to some one.

Miss Maud Wilson went to Lincoln Saturday to visit her sister, Mrs. Burt Canfield, and assist in caring for the baby girl which recently made its appearance at the Canfield home.

N. E. Calkin last week sold his 320 acres of land, two miles west of Manley, to F. H. Stander, for $100 per acre. The sum of $32,000 is quite a lot of money, yet that 320 acres of land is worth that much to Mr. Stander, else he wouldn't have purchased it.

M. L. Peterson and family departed for Denmark, Tuesday, where they will visit for the next three months. Mr. Peterson has a father, brother and sisters living there. It has been nineteen years since he left the old home and it is with pleasure he looks forward to this visit. America has proved to be the country of prosperity to Mr. Peterson.

Farmers Organize to Manufacture and Market Their Own Product

If you are tired of milking cows and getting small returns; If you want more money for your butter; If you want to be freed from the danger of combinations to keep down the price paid you; If you want to get the most for your cream and to have a voice in its manufacture and sale, you will join the great movement for that is sweeping over the state like wildfire and become a member of the

Farmers' Co-operative Creamery and Supply Company

It is your only hope of getting your fair share of profits from your cows. You do the work—you ought to reap the profits. Organize! Co-operate! Control the manufacture and sale. That's the only way. This movement will unite 5000 cream producers in a purely co-operative movement. The society—incorporated under the laws of Nebraska, has already purchased the immense plant, equipment and business of the Harding Cream Co. of Omaha, with more than 3000 patrons and a well-established trade. So we start with a growing, paying business. No money need be spent in experimenting or in idleness work. Our plant has a capacity of 40,000 pounds of butter, 5000 gallons of ice cream, 25 tons of ice per day, and a good market for every pound we produce. Members of the association not only share in the profits of this entire business, but also have their butter fat manufactured and marketed at actual cost. Will you, as a cream producer and a clear-headed business man, join with us in the movement for co-operation and control of our products? Why not reap our legitimate profits from our cream? Why let them go to enrich a corporation or combination? Why not be our own masters?

SEND FOR FULL PARTICULARS

Write today for prospectus of the company and full particulars of our plan for mutual help. Find out why the combination paid on an average 5 and 6 cents more for butter fat in Central Iowa than was paid in Nebraska and other states. Find out how to keep your profits in your own pockets.
