Good Times.

What do we call good times? The majority of people holds that it means good wages or success in business, plenty of money. A closer inspection will show that money easily earned is just as easily spent, that having it we are seeking exhausting entertainments, that we give not enough care to our health and so are more often attacked by diseases. People with good business sense always lay aside a part of their earnings and also do not expend all their vital strength. Should they be attacked by an indisposition, Triner's American Elixir of Bitter Wine will quickly dispel it and prevent it to develop into a serious sickness. Even while enjoying perfect health we should take an occasional dose of this remedy in order to uphold our strength and energy. This purely vegetable remedy, containing not the slightest particle of a deleterious nature, is valuable in all diseases of the digestive system, even those of long standing. Whoever needs a strong stomach, a good appetite, a clear complexion and a strong body, should use it. At drug stores. Jos. Triner, 718 So. Ashland Ave., Chicago, Illinois.
