Good Clothes Exhibit Worth the Attention of Every Man

WHO HAS SPRING THINGS TO BUY

The New Styles are ready and you'll never have a better opportunity to see all the good things at once.

The man who buys early has the advantage of variety to choose from and he gets more use of his clothes.

We show any number of exclusive weaves and patterns—fancy cassimeres, worsted, chevots—the new stripes and checks, quiet plaids and neat mixtures, and the best values in blue and black suits to be found anywhere.

Many of our garments are from the workrooms of A. B. Kirschbaum & Company, Philadelphia and New York—the largest and best-equipped tailoring establishment in the United States.

There are points about the inside tailoring of these clothes that we can't expect the average buyer to appreciate until he wears them; but no man can fail to note the fit and fine appearance of such suits the instant he tries them on, and their superiority to the general run of clothes for which the ordinary clothing store will ask him just as much, or even more money.

We never tried harder in our lives, worked longer hours, or looked over more goods, than we did this Spring in getting together this stock of clothing and men's wear.

We have gone to the best markets, the best makers, and we believe we have "the pick" of the country's best merchandise. We wanted every article to reflect credit on this store and on the man who buys here.

Now we ask you to come in and see what we have done and give us your trade if you find we deserve it.

THE PRESBYTERY ADJOURNS

Every Session Well Attended and Meeting Was a Grand Success.

TO MEET AT ALEXANDRIA NEXT YEAR

Delegates Express Much Appreciation of the Entertainment Provided During Their Short Stay in Our Little City.

The popular meeting, a joint session of the Presbytery and the Ladies Missionary Society, held Wednesday evening in the Presbyterian church, was by far the best attended and most interesting of the several sessions held in this city. The delegates, after partaking of supper served in the basement of the church by the ladies of local missionary society, assembled in the church room proper, where, beginning at 7:30 o'clock, they were joined by a large number of Plattsmouth people, who soon occupied all available seats.

Short exercises preceded the address of Mrs. M. L. Lee, president of the Minneapolis Presbyterian Society, who presented in an interesting manner the work of the home board, mentioning what has been accomplished in the various parts of the United States, and the work that is in progress. Mrs. Lee was a very able speaker, and inspired the audience with much enthusiasm.

The address in the interests of Freedmen's Work, by Rev. S. W. Pringle of Auburn, was highly instructive and vividly outlined the present status of the negro. The speaker gave many statistics showing that the work in the south has not been in vain, and that better results are yet to be obtained in that field. The audience was favored with special music during the session last evening, an organ solo, and a vocal solo being rendered by Rev. J. H. McConnell of Hebron, and a solo by B. A. McElwain.

An excellent address by Rev. Long, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church of Lincoln, who spoke on foreign missions, was much enjoyed, as was also a short talk by Rev. Marshall, who is home from six years in India.

The latter part of the evening was devoted to hearing reports of various committees, of ministers without charges, and to the election of trustees and temporary clerk.

Among other matters to be disposed of was the case of Rev. Carl G. A. Hullhorst, M. D. of Lincoln, who has repudiated all doctrines of the church, and who was suspended about a year ago, pending final action which was taken last evening. Mr. Hullhorst, formerly a Presbyterian minister, and now a practicing physician in Lincoln, has been writing articles under an ecclesiastical cognomen, and action was taken last evening dismissing him from the ministry. Another case to be considered was that of a young man named Wedge, of Lincoln, who was examined for licensure, and was taken under care of the ministry.

The Presbytery adjourned last evening until Thursday morning, when a short session was held to dispose of unfinished business, and to hold the closing exercises. The Presbytery adjourned to meet next year at Alexandria, Neb. Nearly all the delegates returned to their homes today, well satisfied with the successful meeting held in this city.

Body of Snider Found.

Sheriff Quinton returned last evening from Louisville, where he was called to hold an inquest over a floater, identified as the remains of John Snider, which was found in the Platte river one hundred yards west of the Missouri Pacific bridge at that place. The body was badly decomposed, and was discovered by John Koop, Will Gentry and Chas. Carter, who will share the $150 reward offered for the recovery of the body. Chas. H. Staley, a cousin of the deceased, who has been assisting with the search for the body, since Snider fell in the river at South Bend on the 24th of February, was present at the inquest, and took charge of the remains, which were shipped to DeWitt for interment.

The jury holding the inquest found that John Snider came to his death by accidental drowning in the Platte river. A check for $90 issued by the Rock Island railway company, and several dollars in silver were found upon Snider's body, which was easily identified by the cousin.

Married in Omaha.

Among the marriage licenses issued in Omaha yesterday, appears the names of a Plattsmouth couple, Will F. Warja and Aitia Warner. After the ceremony it is understood that the young couple went east on a wedding trip. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Warja and is an employe of the Burlington shops, where he has many friends who will congratulate him upon the happy event. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Warner, and has many friends in this vicinity.

A Convincing Argument.

The main banana dealer in Plattsmouth is John Schiappacasse. The other day a wholesale dealer from Omaha gave him a call. John complained that bananas were too high to make anything on them at 20 cents a dozen at retail. The Omaha man said he could, and to prove that John was mistaken he proposed to count a bunch, and took them all off the stem. The bunch cost John $2 at wholesale, and when they got through counting there were exactly twelve dozen. John knew what was what, and asked the wholesale dealer how he expected him to make any money out of such a proposition after paying the freight. He had no more trouble in convincing the wholesale dealer that the wholesaler was the one that made the profit.

When you fool John Schiappacasse on fruits, you will have to get up early in the morning.

Straight Ahead.

If you wish to attain a certain object, try to reach it by a straight road. Have only this one object in view and give it your undivided attention. If you wish to cure a diseased organ of your body, select a remedy which will act directly on it. The experience of others will often prove of the greatest value to you. It has been shown that in diseases of the digestive system Triner's American Elixir of Bitter Wine is the only remedy having a direct effect on the same. It is composed of bitter herbs, the action of which on the stomach has been known for centuries, and of pure wine, which give tone to the whole system. It is therefore indicated in bodily weakness, loss of appetite, inactivity of the stomach and of the intestines, in indigestion, constipation, tiredness, drowsiness, uncleanness of the complexion and in other maladies resulting from a disturbance of the digestive system. PRESBYTERY IS IN SESSION

Twenty Seventh Annual Meeting of Nebraska City District Opened at the Presbyterian Church

TUESDAY EVENING AT 7:30 O'CLOCK

Nearly One Hundred Ministers and Ladies of Missionary Societies Present at Interesting Meeting

The twenty-seventh annual spring meeting of the Nebraska City Presbytery, and of the Ladies Missionary society opened at the First Presbyterian church in this city at 7:30 o'clock last evening under very favorable conditions, nearly one hundred delegates of the Presbytery, Missionary society and of the Christian Endeavor society being present, besides a large number of the people of this city.

The sermon delivered by the retiring Moderator, A. R. Des Jarden, Ph. D. of Pawnee City, was a very able effort, and drew forth many compliments from the appreciative audience. The speaker dwelt upon the importance of knowing how, when and where to serve, and that if there were more active Christians among the church members the world would be much better.

Following the sermon, the election of Rev. M. W. Lorimer of Utica, Neb., to the position of Moderator, occurred. Mr. Lorimer with a few well chosen remarks, thanked the assembly for the honor conferred upon him. The address of welcome was delivered by Rev. J. H. Salsbury, on behalf of the committee of arrangements and devotions of which he was chairman. Mr. Salsbury expressed much satisfaction at the large attendance, and at the conclusion of his remarks invited the assemblage to the basement of the church, where a reception to the delegates was tendered by the ladies of the local missionary society. Several very enjoyable moments were spent getting acquainted with the delegates and listening to solos by Miss Lucile Bates and Mr. McConnell.

The meeting adjourned last evening until Wednesday morning, when the ministers assembled at the church to hold a session lasting from 8:30 o'clock until 11 o'clock and the ladies gathered at the Methodist church to hold a separate meeting.

Wednesday Morning Session

Devotional exercises were in progress for half an hour at the meeting of the Presbytery, and was followed by the reception of new and corresponding members, the granting of letters of admission, and reading and approval of the record.

The appointment of temporary committees, call for papers and reference of papers to various committees, and reference of sessional records to committees, occupied the greater part of the morning. The nominations of commissioners to the assembly, was also taken up and the following were placed in nomination: Rev. Lucas Abels of Hickman; Rev. Funk of Minden; Dr. Boyle of Lincoln; Dr. Bailey of Bennet; Elders, S. M. Philpot of Humbolt; O. D. Thygesen of Utica; John A. Aten of Alexandria and W. B. Hunter of Fairmont. From the above gentlemen the commissioners were elected at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

At 11 o'clock a joint meeting of the Ladies Missionary society and Presbytery occurred in the Presbyterian church, a special order of business was the temperance address delivered at that hour by Dr. Edwin R. Worrell of the Chicago Presbytery. The address was very edifying and was much enjoyed by the large assembly. Mr. Worrell is field secretary for the synods of the middle west, and is a very able and entertaining speaker.

The noon hour brought to a conclusion a very enjoyable morning for the delegates, who were invited to the basement, where dinner was prepared and served by the ladies of the home missionary society. The basement was very attractively arranged with potted plants and flowers, and this part of the day's meeting was far from the least enjoyed by the delegates.

Afternoon Session.

After partaking of an excellent repast, the Presbytery again convened at half past one o'clock in company with the lady delegates present from the several towns, villages and cities in the district. Short devotional exercises and a number of hymns preceded the regular order of business. A report on the work being done by the young people of the church was made by Mrs. John Creighton of York, Neb., Presbyterial Secretary of Young People's work. This was followed by an interesting address by Mrs. Elizabeth Conklin of Omaha, synodical secretary of Young People's work.

The report of Reverend W. M. Lorimer of Utica, chairman of Presbyterial committee on Sunday school work, showed that much advance had been made and that brilliant results are looked for in the near future. Following Mr. Lorimer, Mrs. J. H. Salsbury of this city, secretary of Sunday school and band work, made an encouraging report on the present conditions and future possibilities.

The remainder of the afternoon session was devoted to reports of synodical missionary and Sunday school missionary work, and hearing representatives of colleges, and examinations of candidates.

The popular meeting, a joint session, will be held at the church this evening, and an interesting program will be rendered.

MAIL SERVICE MEN ANGRY

Strenuously Object to Working With Negro Clerks.

Railway mail clerks who were working out of Lincoln are much disturbed over having to work with colored men in the service, according to the Journal. The race question is assuming proportions that may bring on serious trouble later on. Discussing the matter one of the clerks says: "Two colored railway mail clerks are now employed on the runs out of Lincoln. The men have not yet been assigned to regular runs. They are used where they are needed. The two negroes now in the service are nice, clean, gentlemanly fellows, capable of doing the work as well as many other substitutes. There would be no objection to their taking places in the service if they could be given runs by themselves. The objection comes when white men must ride, work and associate with them in the same car. The white men are willing to treat the negroes civilly and give them all the privileges demanded, but they do not want to work with them. The prejudice of race exists and they make no pretense of hiding it. One of the clerks has refused to remain on duty with a colored man and he is now awaiting discipline from the department. Other clerks are awaiting the outcome of this breach."

Bright Prospects for Peace.

A special from Chicago, under date of yesterday, says: "A settlement of the controversy between the western railroads and their conductors and trainmen seems nearer tonight than at any time since Commissioners Knapp and Neill have interceded in behalf of peace. After delivering the ultimatum of the general managers to the representatives of the men this afternoon, a long conference was held and the final result was that the labor leaders came to an agreement which they requested the two government officials to deliver to the managers tomorrow. While it is not known officially the exact nature of the basis of settlement agreed upon by the men, it was stated by a man in authority that the prospects for a peaceful settlement of the difficulty were bright tonight. It is generally believed that the general managers have made slight concessions."

Death of Pioneer Railroader.

The Lincoln Journal in speaking of the death of one of the Burlington employes says: "The death of James H. Dailey in this city yesterday recalled to the old time railroad men a striking figure in the early history of the Burlington west of the river. For thirty years Mr. Dailey was connected with this road, and he left his position with the company only after age and infirmities made it difficult for him to perform his duties.

"Mr. Dailey died Tuesday night at his home, 1441 M street. He was born in County West Meath, Ireland, in 1840. He came to America when very young and settled in Missouri with his parents. During the civil war he was a troop wagonmaster, and after its close he engaged in boating on the Missouri and Mississippi rivers. In 1886 he moved to Omaha, where he was employed by the Union Pacific to take charge of transfer gangs. This was before the bridge was built when it was necessary to transfer the traffic over the river. After that he took a position with the Burlington, remaining with that company until 1900. At that time he was roadmaster of a large Burlington mileage west and northwest from Lincoln.

"Mr. Dailey married Margaret Ann McLean in St. Louis in 1886. He is survived by ten children. Mr. Dailey has made his home in Lincoln for many years, and served four terms as a member of the city council."

MRS. THOS. WILES DEAD

End Came About 3 O'Clock Wednesday Morning After Short Illness With Typhoid Fever.

In the death of Mrs. Thomas Wiles, which occurred about 3 o'clock Wednesday morning at their home west of this city, after a brief sickness with typhoid fever, and of which mention was made in last evening's issue of the Journal, this community is called upon to mourn the loss of another of its most highly esteemed pioneer settlers. Although Mrs. Wiles has been sick for about two weeks, she was not bedfast until about one week ago, and the news of her demise comes as a great shock to the many friends. The fatal illness it is thought was contracted during a recent visit in Kansas.

The deceased was a native of Gentry county, Missouri, where she was born in July 1848. Her maiden name was Barbara Linville, and at about eight years of age, she together with her parents, removed to Mills county, Iowa, where she resided for about eighteen years. During her residence in Mills county she united, when about 18 years of age, with the Christian church, in which she has been a faithful and active member. In about January of the year 1868, she was joined in marriage to Thomas Wiles, who with his parents was then living in Mills county. A short time after this union the young couple removed to Cass county, settling on the farm west of this city in Plattsmouth precinct which Thomas Wiles' father had purchased from the Indians in the year 1854.

On the old home place they have continued to reside for the past thirty-nine years, winning the love and respect of their neighbors, accumulating considerable wealth, and rearing a family of four children, three sons of whom one, Tom, died during early childhood, and one daughter.

The children are: Rev. Lorin M. Wiles of Burlington, Kans.; Mrs. Grace Wiles Finch of Topeka, Kans., and Cash L. Wiles, who resides on a farm near this city.

The last tributes will be observed at the home Friday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock, Rev. A. L. Zink, pastor of the Christian church officiating, and interment being made in the Oak Hill cemetery.

Those desiring to view the remains are requested to do so between the hours of 12 and 2 o'clock, as after that hour the casket will be closed.

Removes $5,000 Limit.

By the passage by both houses of Harrison's bill doing away with the $5,000 limit of damages for the accidental death of a person, the legislature has given another blow to the railroads. As most of the accidental deaths in Nebraska, especially those from which damage suits arise, occur through the railroads, the measure will cost them thousands of dollars annually in increased judgments.
