The Burlington Crop Report.

The Burlington railroad crop report, the first of the season, issued yesterday says: "Abundant moisture during the autumn and early winter has kept the soil in fair condition generally throughout Nebraska."

"Winter wheat has gone through the winter in good shape and in all parts of Nebraska is in generally good condition at this time. The acreage does not seem to be materially increased in southern Nebraska, but in southwestern portions it is considerably larger."

"No damage has resulted to the crop from any insect of pest nor from unfavorable weather conditions. Indications for a good crop are as good as could be possible."

"Acreage of oats is quite large and much barley is being sown."

A Model School

Nebraska City is to be congratulated on securing a Toland school, they are strictly high grade and prepare their students for the most difficult positions. They are also of great value from a financial standpoint, their students spending thousands of dollars annually. Elsewhere will be found an announcement of the Nebraska Business University.

CONVENTION ADJOURNS

Evening and Closing Sessions Largely Attended by Our Citizens

TO MEET IN LINCOLN, NEB., NEXT YEAR

Delegates Return Home Highly Pleased
With the Entertainment Provided in Our Little City

The missionary session of the annual meeting of the Nebraska Missionary society of the second district, held last evening at the Christian church, was exceptionally well attended. The services opened with devotions conducted by J. C. Jacobs of Nebraska City, and was followed by an excellent address on "Christ's Scheme of Conquest," delivered by H. H. Harmon of Lincoln, Neb. Mr. Harmon is a very able speaker and his address was highly appreciated by the large audience. "Nebraska Missions" was the subject of an interesting as well as edifying address made by W. A. Baldwin, which concluded the evening session.

The Bible school session held this morning, witnessed the closing of a successful as well as profitable convention. The reports of various committees were heard, and the election of officers for the ensuing year occurred. Those selected were: President, H. G. Wilkinson of Havelock; vice president, J. B. White of Elmwood; secretary, E. G. Hamilton of Unadilla; superintendent of Sunday school work, J. W. Hilton of Bethany; superintendent of Christian Endeavor work, Paul E. Meyers of Omaha.

Among the excellent addresses on the program for the morning session was "Our State Paper" by J. D. Austin; "The Supreme Purpose of the Bible School" by J. B. White; "The Bible School Centennial Aim" by C. W. Longman, and "Bible School Round Table" by E. L. Rouse. These contributed much to the enjoyable meeting held during the morning. The next annual meeting will be held in Lincoln, Neb.

After the closing devotional services the meeting adjourned at noon today, most of the delegates returning home on the afternoon trains, high in their praises of the kind treatment received while guests in our city.

Interstate Trouble.

C. V. Clarence of Union, Neb., came to Glenwood last Friday and wanted Deputy Sheriff Dalton to turn over to him the horse that Art Thomas recently bought at a mortgage sale, claiming the animal on a mortgage executed by George Miller.

Mr. Dalton declined to this and the next day Clarence returned with the sheriff from Cass county and again demanded the animal, but without avail. It appears that a mortgage given in Iowa should be as good as one executed in Nebraska.

Miller's propensity for executing mortgages on his horses may lead to serious interstate trouble between Iowa and Nebraska.—Glenwood (Ia.) Tribune.

Whose Fault is It?

If a merchant does not give you what you asked for but substitutes something else you did not want and which you know will be of no use to you, whose fault is it? You feel disgusted because you allowed an unscrupulous man to cheat you. We know many instances where our friends asked for Triner's American Elixir of Bitter Wine, but received an entirely different article which not only did not help them, but often injured their system. This Triner's remedy for the stomach and for the digestive organs in general, is the only one of its kind, whose purity was guaranteed to the government under Serial Number 346. You are perfectly sure in using this remedy. It should be taken as soon as you do not feel as well as usual, because often a single dose will dispel the indisposition. In nervousness, paleness, indigestion, flatulence, nausea, heaviness after meals, in diseases of the stomach, the intestines and the blood you can always rely on Triner's American Elixir of Bitter Wine. There is no better family remedy. At drugstores. Jos. Triner, 799 So. Ashland Ave. Chicago, Ills.
