Wouldn't this jar you? Bro. Hicks, astronomer, tells us that during the recent earthquake at San Francisco we were jarred about four hundred miles farther south. Now, on Saturday, April 13, we had ice three quarters of an inch thick, and Wednesday it snowed, so we think Mr. Hicks is entitled to another guess.

Havelock Gets a Slap, Also.
According to the Lincoln Journal it is expected that an order will be issued in a few days transferring the supply department of the Burlington at Havelock to Lincoln, putting it under Storekeeper J. H. Waterman, and making Storekeeper Ellis at Havelock, a general foreman, probably in charge of distribution of supplies at that place. This is to follow the change which took the supply department from Omaha, moved part of the forces to Chicago and part of them to Lincoln, and put the distribution of fuel in charge of the Lincoln storekeeper.

Last Friday night was very cold, and fruit buds that could withstand such a freeze, ought to be classed in the hardy list. Not many we talked with Saturday morning held out hope for a big fruit crop, but it being so dry is favorable for a part of a crop.

Cured of Rheumatism.
Mr. Wm. Henry of Chattanooga, Tenn., had rheumatism in his left arm. "The strength seemed to have gone out of the muscles so it was useless for work," he says. "I applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm and wrapped the arm in flannel at night, and to my relief I found that the pain gradually left me and the strength returned. In three weeks the rheumatism had disappeared and has not since returned." If troubled with rheumatism, try a few applications of Pain Balm. You are certain to be pleased with the relief which it affords. For sale by F. G. Fricke & Co. and A. T. Fried.

"The Girl of the Golden West."
Among a number of other characters that have rarely, if ever, been put upon the stage, "The Girl of the Golden West," which comes to the Parmelee April 23, numbers one that is especially distinctive because of the absolute perfection with which it is drawn. This character is Billy Jackrabbit, an Indian hanger-on of the camp. Because he is true to life, Billy Jackrabbit is anything but the "noble red man." His one ambition is to exist without labor, and in the least troublesome way. The Indian is present in the cast of characters because Billy Jackrabbit is a real Indian and not the hero-worshiper's ideal aborigine, and the picture he draws is in some ways a shock to those whose ideas of Indian character have been taken from books in which he is credited with numerous virtues.

BRAINSTOM AGAIN ATTACKS

Don Despain Makes More Threats Against His Superior Officer.
A special from Lincoln to the World-Herald reports that Don Despain has relapsed into another brain storm, and is making more threats. Don is one of those Smart Ales, who think that business would stop at the state house capitol, if it were not for him. The special continues:
"The second brainstorm of Don C. Despain, clerk of the bureau of labor, took place in the state house this afternoon. With his face white with anger he went into the office of Deputy Auditor Cook to protest against the removal of the labor commissioner's office to the third floor.
"If I have to move I will fix you when the proper time comes," he declared.
"Better put that complaint in writing," twitted Cook, alluding to brainstorm No. 1, the McMullen episode, when Despain wrote a letter to the representative which caused a legislative row.
"The altercation ended in the withdrawal of Despain after he accused Cook of "using his influence" to have the labor office relegated to the third floor. The secretary of agriculture will use the room to be vacated by the labor commissioner.
"The legislature eliminated Despain from the salary list. His activity today was taken to mean that he had hopes of succeeding to the office of deputy labor commissioner now held by Bert Bush of Omaha."

Funeral of Mrs. Frank Janda.
The last sad services over the remains of Mrs. Frank Janda occurred this morning at 10 o'clock at the Bohemian Catholic church, Rev. Hanck officiating. Many friends and relatives were in attendance, and by their beautiful floral offerings evidenced the esteem in which the departed was held during life. After the services at the church the funeral procession conveyed the remains to the Holy Sepulcher cemetery, where interment was made.
The pall bearers were Frank Janda, Omaha; Frank Vihlidal, Morse Bluffs; Thomas Janda, South Omaha; Charles Vitousek, John Janda and Cyril Janda.

Schiele-Weber Nuptials.
The home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Weber was the scene of a pretty wedding last evening when their daughter, Miss Clara, was united in marriage to Frank A. Schiele of Omaha, at 8 o'clock by Rev. W. F. Bradley. The ceremony was a very simple one, and was witnessed by only a few intimate friends and relatives.

After a few enjoyable hours in this city, Mr. and Mrs. Schiele departed on Burlington train No. 13 for Omaha, where they will be at home to their friends in a short time, and where the groom has a lucrative position with the Union Pacific railroad company. The Journal joins the many friends of the young couple in wishing them a happy wedded life.
