

GRATEFUL MEN AND WOMEN PRAISE PE-RU-NA.

MRS. ELLEN NAGLE

Mrs. Ellen Nagle, 414 1/2 St., Green Bay, Wis., writes: "I have often heard Peruna praised and it is more widely known here than other medicines, but I never knew what a splendid medicine it really was until a few weeks ago when I caught a bad cold which settled all over me. "The doctor wanted to prescribe, but I told him I was going to try Peruna and sent for a bottle and tried it. I felt much better the next morning and within five days I had not a trace of any lameness or cough."

HON. C. C. BROOKS

Hon. C. C. Brooks, Mayor of Sunbury, Ohio, also Attorney for Farmers' Bank and Sunbury Building and Loan Co., writes: "I have the utmost confidence in the virtue of Peruna. It is a great medicine. I have used it and I have known many of my friends who have obtained beneficial results from its use. I cannot praise Peruna too highly."

MRS. H. A. S. MARSH

Mrs. H. A. S. Marsh, 2128 Reservoir St., Los Angeles, Cal., President Woman's Benevolent Association, writes: "I suffered with la grippe for seven weeks, and nothing I could do or take helped me until I tried Peruna. "I felt at once that I had at last secured the right medicine and I kept steadily improving. Within three weeks I was fully restored, and I am glad that I have that truly great remedy a trial. "I will never be without it again."

Suffered With LaGrippe.

Mrs. Sue M. Morris, 2214 Patterson St., Nashville, Tenn., writes: "Last fall a severe attack of malarial fever laid me up for some months. My condition was serious for a time and the doctor who was attending me did not seem able to cope with the trouble. "A neighbor advised me to let the doctor's prescription alone and try Peruna, extolling its virtues to the skies, and I am now ready to do the same, for in three days I was much better and in ten days I was able to be up and in two weeks every trace of malaria had left my system. "I now use Peruna off and on when in need of a tonic and it braces me up wonderfully."

"The Doctors Gave Me Up." Mr. Lewis Kitchen, Huntington, Ohio, writes: "I cannot thank you enough for the good your Peruna has done me. About six months ago I could not leave my bed, and the doctors gave me up saying that I had consumption and could not live. Then a friend recommended Peruna to me, and I commenced using it. "When I started to use your Peruna I weighed 117 pounds, and now I weigh 122 pounds. I had been sick for ten years, and was so sick I could not turn over in bed when I began the use of Peruna. I think it is the greatest medicine of its time. "I am now feeling well and hearty and would not be without Peruna."

Weak and Nervous.

Mr. Charles Brown, Rogersville, Tenn., writes: "I feel it my duty to write you a few words in praise of your Peruna. I have tried many different remedies, but have found that Peruna is the greatest tonic on earth, and a perfect system builder. "A friend advised me to take Peruna for indigestion, and it cured me in a short time. I was very weak and nervous, could sleep but little at night, but Peruna cured that tired, all-gone feeling, and made me feel like a new man, so I heartily recommend it to all who are weak and run down. Peruna will give new life and energy. I cannot speak too highly of Peruna, and will not forget to recommend it on every hand. I will answer any letter from those desiring to know what Peruna has done for me."

Systemic Catarrh.

Miss Marie Lesser, 928 W. 36th street, Chicago, Ill., writes: "I am glad to give a good word for Peruna, and I hope that all who see this who are troubled with systemic catarrh as I was for years, will profit by it. I had tried many remedies, but none did more than give me temporary relief and some did not even do that. I took Peruna at the suggestion of a friend and was more than pleased and surprised at the results. I am now perfectly well and strong."

Catarrh of the Stomach.

Mr. Christian Hofmann, R. F. D. 1, Slaton, Pa., writes: "For many years I suffered with catarrh of the stomach. I was coughing day and night. After having tried three doctors and many remedies, one of your almanacs came to my hand, and I bought some Peruna. So far I have taken six bottles, and I have not suffered with catarrh this summer. I am cured and Peruna did it. I give Peruna to my children when they feel bad and you should see how healthy they are."

Nose, Throat and Stomach.

Mr. Delbert B. Craft, Lowell, Ind., writes: "For a long time I suffered with chronic catarrh of the nose, throat and stomach. I would continually take cold and my stomach was in bad condition. I truly suffered untold misery. I took various medicines and tried the treatment of several physicians, but I felt no better. A friend advised me to take Peruna. I wrote to Dr. Hartman, who prescribed treatment. As soon as I commenced to take Peruna I was surprised at the relief it gave me. I kept on taking it until I had taken thirteen bottles and was cured."

True Cause of Disease.

In these days almost every ailment is supposed to be caused by disease germs. The medical profession as well as the people, seem to have gone mad over the germ theory of disease. The universal fear and dread of disease germs is becoming a very serious matter to the welfare and happiness of the people. Dr. Hartman has consistently contended through all the rise and spread of the germ theory, that most diseases are caused by climatic influences. For instance, catching cold is responsible for more than one-half of the illa to which human beings are subject. Danger of Neglected Colds. A person catches cold easily, thinks nothing about it, neglects it, when it finally becomes settled in some organ of the body, and chronic disease is the result. A few doses of Peruna in the beginning of the cold would have saved months of suffering, as well as great expense for treatment. Peruna is a reliable relief for cold. Almost every body knows this. Instead of trying to dislodge or kill some imaginary germ, if Peruna was used at the proper time its tonic properties and antiseptic qualities would soon convince the patient that he has found the right remedy. A multitude of letters are received testifying to this fact. Keep Peruna in the house. Use it whenever cold or climatic affections assail, and sickness in the household will become greatly lessened, if not entirely prevented.

FOOT BADLY CRUSHED

At about four o'clock Friday afternoon, while at work in the shop yards, Walter Cummings had the misfortune to get his foot mashed in such a way that it was necessary to have the member amputated. Many of the draw heads are loose and do not strike squarely as intended they should, when the coupling is to be made. While a national law has compelled the equipment of all cars with automatic couplers and at a height which same shall be from the track, it has not so arranged things that they are at all times kept in that repair which insures safety to the ones operating them. While in the act of coupling switch engine No. 500 to a box car, the draw-head of which did not strike that of the engine squarely, Mr. Cummings suffered the accident. As is the practice, the draw-head of the car had to be pushed over in order that it might hit the place of contact—the draw-head of the engine. As it was raining at the time, Walter's shoe was wet and when he placed his foot against the draw-head to push it over, his foot slipped as the engine rocked, he being on the foot board, his toe up to the instep passed between the draw-heads, crushing his foot in such a manner that all of the flesh was stripped from the fore part of the foot. Engine No. 500 having a tank and the engineer not being able to see Mr. Cummings, thought everything was all right and kept pushing, thus holding Walter's foot in the vice which the two couplings made, so he could not get it out, neither could he reach out side the space between the car and engine to signal the engineer, but when he did stop, supposedly from someone's signal, and was taking the slack, Walter pulled the lever and released his foot. After getting his foot out from between the bumpers, on the other foot he got out clear of the cars, and gave a signal for the engineer to stop, which was the first that he knew anything was wrong. Mr. Cummings was brought to the station on the engine and immediately removed to the office of the company physician where the Drs. Livingston assisted by Dr. Cook, performed the operation, the left foot being taken off at the instep, Albert Fricke administering anesthetic. After which the unfortunate young man was conveyed to a room at the Perkins hotel. This morning after having come out from under the influence of the drug, Walter, when seen by the reporter, was resting easy, bodily, though the foot was causing him considerable pain. He could feel the foot still, and said that it felt like he was pressing it against a fork handle or something which had a small end, similar to what a fork handle would have. Walter is a young man aged about twenty-one years, and has been a switchman in the yards but a few months. While this is so, everyone of the trainmen whom he met say he was a good yard man. And all who know him regret his misfortune and feel thankful it is no worse.

Drank Washing Powder

Will Garren's little son Roy (one of the twins) about two years old, found a quantity of Washing powder Monday afternoon, and childlike he drank it without asking any questions. Soon after he was suffering great pain, his mouth being severely burned. Medical attention was secured as soon as possible and prompt action prevented more serious results. Will said the little lad did not ask for any more of the washing powder.—Union Ledger.

"Tell the Truth"

This is very good advice if only adhered to. In some sections of the county it is reported that there are fifty or more cases of smallpox in Plattsmouth. There never was a time when there were over thirty, and many of them are released from quarantine, and not one new case reported. There has been no serious cases, or one even where the patient was compelled to keep his or her bed. There is no more danger in taking the smallpox in coming to Plattsmouth than there is in going to any other town in the county. We doubt if there is a half dozen cases at present in the city. "Tell the truth" and shame the liar.

WILL SUPPORT GOOD MEN

In the beginning we announced that we expect to take part in politics but that we would be thoroughly non-partisan. That "a man's honesty and capability and not political beliefs, should be the requisite for holding office." We still think so, and in order that men so fashioned might be candidates we suggest a republican candidate for assessor. It is with great confidence in meeting popular sentiment that we suggest to the democratic brethren two candidates for their ticket. One is a splendid young man who has "made good." His qualifications, gentlemanly courtesy, honesty and integrity entitles him to the nomination and re-election. We refer to Clerk Rosenkrans. The other is as good and capable, and knows more about the county treasurer's office than any man who ever stood behind the counter—Frank Schlater. The new primary law bars us from helping nominate them at the primary, but we can help elect them or any other good man. And we defy democrats or republicans to nominate rotten men that we cannot help defeat.—Nebraska Register.

LIGHTNING'S FREAKS HE HAS MADE GOOD

Miss Ruby Hiner Victim of a Serious Shock

During the flurry which threatened a storm last Saturday night, when the flashes were shooting in zigzag pathways across the skies, and when it looked fearful and as though there would be a howling storm upon us in a moment, Mrs. Jesse Hiner and daughter, Ruby, were hastening from town to their home on Day between Eighth and Ninth streets, when they had gotten to the gate and Miss Ruby had taken hold of the latch to open it there came a bolt of lightning which hurled her through the gate into the yard in an unconscious condition.

Jesse Hiner, her father, who had gone home a little earlier, was endeavoring to unlock the door which opens very hard. Mrs. Hiner, assisted by Herman Toekoetter, who was passing, ran and picked up the unfortunate girl, calling to her but with no answer, and carried her to the house and rubbed and chapped her hands and face in an endeavor to bring her to. Mr. Hiner, who had not gotten the door open, grabbed a pail and securing some water from the well, bathed her hands and face, which, after a time, brought about returning consciousness. This morning Miss Ruby was feeling very badly, and when she attempts to stand upon her feet, grows dizzy and cannot remain standing.

Dine in the Country

At the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clotfelter, three miles west of Mynard, were gathered yesterday a few friends to partake of their hospitality and enjoy a friendly visit. Spring chicken was just coming into style—being the first ones ripe—and the sumptuous dinner served was fit for just such a gathering, where friends meet friends with the genial flow of mirth and good will. After the dinner had been discussed to a certainty, music and games and social conversation occupied the attention of the guests during the remainder of the day. Those meeting around the festal board were: Charles Clotfelter and family, Thomas South and family and C. P. Richards and family.

Industry and Will-power Work Together Successfully

In "The Winning of the West" from the pen of that eminent and voluminous writer, and the advocate of a "Strenuous Life," Theodore Roosevelt has omitted a chapter or two, which touch on the struggle and the successes of some of our citizens. The story introduced the subject of our consideration in the arena at this point some thirty years ago, and he has been schooled in the ways of the sons of the Golden Rod state. Growing to manhood under the best of home influences and imbued with the value of industry by both father and mother, he was well fitted to grapple with the questions which must bob up for final adjudication at his hand sooner or later.

About a decade ago, with his family, he moved to Missouri and battled with the adverse conditions existing there for some time, to return and cast his eyes over the field here for something with a promise and also a promise that he could claim. And the way he has claimed this promise, and made the elements of it really his, is the keynote in the success of every man's life.

Our friend concluded to become a jeweler, and borrowing enough money to take a course in a watch-making school in Omaha did so, and after, with nothing but some old tools—because he could not buy new ones—embarked in the business some eight or nine years ago in the room now occupied by Bookmeyer as a cigar store, using only part of the room, the rest being used for a barber shop and a sewing machine agency. From the little bench at one window and no facilities to do business with, he has worked away, been persistent, always courteous and attentive to business, and upon every job that came to his hands he threw his best efforts, with the result that in course of a year or so he was able to carry a little stock, and from time to time he increased, until today if you will step into his store on the corner of Sixth and Main streets, you will be confronted by a well selected stock of up-to-date jewelry and its kindred lines, all of which is owned and without a cent indebtedness, by our friend J. W. Crabb, wearing that smile that wont come off, the insignia of success, won through adverse circumstances.

John, we congratulate you in that you have wrested success from seemingly an unpromising field to begin with. Now Plattsmouth is all right; it has been proven over and over again, more can succeed here if they only will. There are many things waiting and very impatiently, too, for the touch of the magic hand which shall transform them into success. Now who will be the magician?

Improving Nicely

J. R. Vallery, from near Mynard, came in Saturday and went to Omaha, where his daughter, Grace is in the Emmanuel hospital, having been operated on a few days since for appendicitis. She is getting along nicely and has been attended by her mother and two sisters. The sisters returned home yesterday bringing a request that the father come up. Her mother has been by her bedside every day, and she has had the best of care. The many friends of Miss Grace will be pleased to know that she is progressing nicely.

IS THE DIVISION COMING BACK?

Indications Rather Point in That Direction. It is not the Journal's intention to excite Plattsmouth citizens in referring to a matter in which hope has long been deferred, but less stranger things have happened than the Burlington division returning to Plattsmouth.

A visit to the depot between the hours of six and seven o'clock in the morning would almost convince anyone that the division had already been re-established in Plattsmouth. With men traversing from one train to another, engineers waiting for their engines to come up from the round house, and conductors getting their trains ready to go out, assumes an aspect which causes a gentle reminder of former days in the old town.

Two freight and one passenger crews already lay over here, who go out about the same time in the morning—the Burlington freight to Lincoln and passenger to Omaha and Great Northern for Fremont and Sioux City. These several crews make considerable difference in the maneuvering about the depot and around the hotels and eating houses. It is rumored that soon two other freights will lay over night in Plattsmouth, and a high-up official, here last week, remarked that it would not surprise him to see this town made a general division point in a few months. People of Plattsmouth, if all this proves true, will receive with joy this news.
