Your Bank

We want the people of Murray and vicinity to understand that this bank was established for their convenience and that we render ever service, consistent with good banking, to the community and especially to our patrons.

We have fire and burglar proof vaults, in addition to which we carry ample insurance. The responsibility and individual wealth of our stock holders are far in excess of our deposits and every means is taken to safeguard the money and interest of our depositors.

Don't think you are too poor to have a bank account—the man on daily wages or small salary can derive proportionately more benefit from a banking connection than a wealthy man can.

Remember that we are here to accommodate you so don't feel any hesitancy about calling on us

Dr. Brendel and family are the proudest people in this part of the country, and we believe they have just cause for the same over the appearance of their beautiful Murray home. The house has just been treated to a new coat of paint, and can truly be classed as one of the prettiest in this part of the county.

Miss Eva Allison returned home from Guthrie, Okla., Tuesday, where she has been teaching school for the past winter. She will remain at home for the summer vacation and return in the fall. ## THE WHITE CLOVER ROUTE

Several Head of Cattle Die From Eating It

Dr. Barnes was called to the home of Miles Standish last Friday to see some cattle that were sick, and Mr. Standish was unable to determine the cause. Several head had previously died very mysteriously, and Miles thought it was about time to call in someone who could tell the cause of their death.

A few weeks ago the Journal cautioned the farmers to keep their stock off of fields of white clover, as there were many cattle dying from the effects of eating it. Now, we have an incident closer to home. Dr. Barnes says the white clover did the work, and he thinks it a good idea to again caution the farmers. Several head of Mr. Standish's cattle were afflicted when Dr. Barnes arrived at his farm, and he found Miles considerably worried, but soon relieved the afflicted cattle, and cautioned him to in the future beware of white clover.

TO BUILD NEW SCHOOL HOUSE

District No. 7 Votes $1,800 for That Purpose

The parents of district No. 7, have evidently got tired of sending their children to school in a dilapidated old shell that is hardly suitable to stable horses, and at the annual meeting recently held voted to bond the district in the sum of $1,800 to build and furnish a new house. There was only three votes against the proposition.

The Journal is pleased to learn that this district is to have a new house, and we are also pleased to note with what unanimity the voters declared in favor of it. There has been talk for some time of condemning the old shell. District No. 7 is one of the largest districts in Cass county, and at present has one of the poorest (if not the poorest) school houses in Cass county.

W. M. Dull, George W. Shrader and George S. Ray were selected as a building committee, weand understand they will proceed to erect the new house immediately and endeavor to have the same in readiness before cold weather again arrives.

In the judgment of the Journal there are three things essential to a community—good roads, good school houses and churches. Some of the more energetic farmers of district No. 7 have been dragging the roads to some extent, which has done a great deal of good. With a little more such work, together with their new school house, they can boast of being right up-to-date.

A Most Pleasant Affair.

The following account of a social event that occurred at the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. Alf Nickels on Thursday, June 29th, which came several days ago, and should have appeared in the weekly edition of the Journal last week, but was mislaid. The event was given in honor of their cousins, the Misses Ethel and Lucy Owens of Kansas City, Mo.: One of the most enjoyable features of the day was an elegant dinner consisting of all the good things imaginable, which had previously been prepared by the hostess, and to which it is needless to say all did ample justice. The afternoon was spent in music and social conversation, and passed entirely too quickly for those present and when the hour of departure arrived it was with considerable regret that the guests repaired to their various homes.

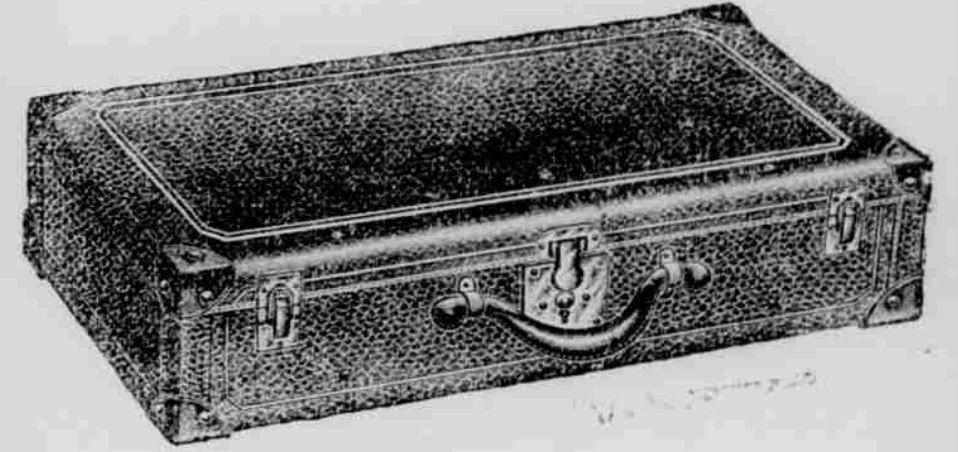

Those present were: Mesdames Robert Good, George Ray, R. R. Nickels, Frank Albin, Misses Bertha Nickels, Elizabeth Oliver, Edith Albin, Esther Ray, Lucy and Ethel Owens, Mrs. J. D. Wordeman, Leigh, Neb., and Mr. and Mrs. Alf Nickels and family.

Travis pronounced the magic words that bound them for life. Both parties are and have been residents of this county for many years, and have a host of friends in southern part of the county where they are best known.
